MESSRS. J. & J. TAYLOR, GODERICH, December 15th, 1864.
Safe Manufacturers, Toronto.

GENTLEMEN,—The Safe I purchased from you, some ten months ago, was most severely tested in the late fire here, which destroyed my stock and store, together with the Bank of Montreal and other buildings, on the night of the 12th instant. The Safe stood near the centre of the building, and was exposed to a most intense heat for at least ten hours, and, from its external appearance, must have been red hot for a considerable time: yet I am pleased to state, that when it was recovered from the ruins and opened, its contents, consisting of a large number of account books and valuable papers; also, bank bills, notes, &c., amounting to eight thousand dollars ($8000), were all found in a good state of preservation.

You will please send me another Safe of the same size; and, in the meantime, the old one having done its duty faithfully, I will ship it to you in a few days as a trophy.

Yours, &c., WM. E. GRACE.

The undersigned were present, and saw the safe opened, and have much pleasure in testifying to the above.

PREFACE.

In the bringing out of this, the first, edition of the Counties of Lincoln and Welland, and Town of St. Catharines Directory, the publishers beg to assure the public that every effort has been made to render it a complete index to the professional, commercial, manufacturing, and farming communities of the Town and Counties; and though it is next to impossible in a work of this nature to have it entirely free from error, they feel that their experience and success hitherto in the Directory line should satisfy their patrons that nothing has been left undone compatible with an early issue and accuracy that could be desired, even by professed fault-finders.

Several new features have been introduced into this work which need not be enumerated here, and the publishers desire to present their acknowledgments to the many gentlemen, both in the town and counties who have so promptly furnished them with so much useful information, which would otherwise have involved much time and expense to procure. They also beg to acknowledge their gratitude for the patronage and encouragement received from the commencement at the hands of the professional, mercantile, manufacturing and farming interests, both of St. Catharines and the counties, and they trust the advertisers will find their investments as profitable to them as the work will be useful to the thousands of readers who will have occasion to consult it.

Lastly, they wish to say to those whose names may unwittingly have been left out, that they will gladly make all emendations and corrections in the next edition.

TOWNS AND VILLAGES,

COUNTY OF LINCOLN.

ST. CATHARINES.

THE Town of St. Catharines is situated in the township of Grantham, county of Lincoln, on the Welland Canal and Twelve-Mile Creek, four miles from Port Dalhousie, the point at which the Canal connects with Lake Ontario. The town lies beautifully on a tract of table land above the valley through which the canal is cut, and surrounded by a section of country unsurpassed in the province for fertility and cultivation. In point of commercial importance, it ranks at the head of the towns in Western Canada, being the chief point on the Welland Canal, which unites the great chain of western inland seas with Lake Ontario; thus giving an unbroken line of communication by water from Lake Superior to the Atlantic seaboard, and thence to every commercial metropolis in the world. It also derives great advantages from its railway communications,—the Welland Railway having its head office and works here, and the Great Western Railway having a first-class station within a mile of the town. The Welland Railway runs parallel with the Welland Canal, and during the season of navigation, has a line of propellers running from Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, and intermediate ports, connecting at Port Colborne with the railway, where all freights are transhipped, and forwarded to Port Dalhousie, the northern terminus of the road, and thence shipped again for the various ports along the shores of Lake Ontario, the St. Lawrence river, and the Atlantic seaboard. The Company has an elevator at Port Colborne, and one at Port Dalhousie, each capable of containing a hundred thousand bushels of grain.

The Great Western Railway, going east, brings St. Catharines within half an hour of the New York Central Railroad, with its many connections throughout the United States, and an hour of Buffalo, thus giving to the traveller a choice of routes to any point west or south, not forgetting the New York and Erie Railway, as a short, cheap and pleasant route to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and points further south; while going west from St. Catharines, on the Great Western Railway, we pass through Hamilton, on the main line, to Paris, Brantford, Woodstock, London and Chatham, to Detroit, — there again making connections further west. At Hamilton, the traveller for Toronto, Kingston, and Montreal, takes the Toronto Branch line, and arrives at those places without delay. Hence it will be seen that St. Catharines is unsurpassed in Canada for the facilities it offers both to the traveller and the shipper, for transit either by rail or water.

St. Catharines will vie with any of the larger Canadian cities or towns in the architectural beauty and design of a large proportion of its buildings, both public and private. The Town Hall, an elegant cut-stone building, erected at a cost of sixteen thousand dollars, is now having a large uniform addition put to it, to be used as a Court House and County Offices—the inhabitants of the county having decided to make St. Catharines, instead of Niagara, the county town. This addition, when completed, will make the aggregate cost of the building about thirty-two thousand dollars. The churches, the majority of which are situated on Church Street, are, for the most part, fine edifices, and finished after the modern styles of church architecture. Chief among the hotels are the Stephenson, Welland, and Murray Houses: all first-class establishments, built with a view to the accommodation of the travelling public, and fitted up in a manner to suit the tastes of the most fastidious. The Grammar School, together with the Public School buildings, are all neat and substantial brick structures; while many of the private residences have beautifully laid-out grounds surrounding them, planted with almost every variety of shade tree, and present abundant evidence of the liberality, taste, and refinement of the citizens of this flourishing town.

The water power afforded by the canal is unlimited, and has already been largely taken advantage of for milling purposes and other industrial pursuits, an account of which will be found under the proper heading.

St. Catharines possesses great attractions for the invalid as well a the pleasure-seeker and business-man, there being a mineral Well in existence here, the indisputable efficacy of whose waters have enabled the town, under the energetic efforts of Col. Stephenson, the proprietor, in an unprecedented short space of time, to attain a high rank among the watering-places on the continent. The Stephenson House, an elegant, spacious and costly structure, not excelled for comfort and accommodations in America as a first-class hotel, was built by the proprietor with a view to the accommodation of the invalid as well as transient travel. It contains a comfortable bathing apartment in the first story, and efficient bath attendants and rubbers are always in waiting to attend to the wants of the guests. An extensive verandah, and long, well-lighted halls, will permit a sufficient amount of exercise in cold and stormy weather. There are accommodations for over four hundred bathers, and a variety of douches and vapour baths, after the latest and most approved models, have been introduced. All the important and useful appliances for the employment of water in disease, usually adopted at hydropathic institutions are also provided. The well is an Artesian boring, about 600 feet deep, into corniferous limestone, capable of yielding 30,000 gallons per diem. The water is pumped up by a steam-engine, into reservoirs on the summit of the bank. In one of these it is heated by a simple contrivance, without injury to its composition, and thus distributed by pipes to the "cabinets" in the bath house. The silurian rocks of Canada afford a great number of mineral waters, reduced into three principal classes: the saline, the sulphureous, and the acid. The first of these divisions, to which this spring belongs, holds generally in solution alkaline chlorides, chlorides, iodides, bromides of calcium and magnesium, and sulphates of the alkaline earths. The following analysis, by Professor Henry Croft, of the Toronto University, shows the composition of the water:

	In 1,000.	In pint, 7 68 grs.
Sulphate of Lime	2.1923	16.836
Chloride of Calcium	14.8544	114.081

Chloride of Ammonium, Silicic Acid } a trace	.78	.30
	50.6215	388.6713

During the hostilities of 1812, the embargo upon American salt rendered it imperative for Canadians to resort to every expedient to make their own salt. Every available salt-lick was consequently laid under contribution, and salt in small quantities was manufactured at all these brine springs. A few years subsequent to the declaration of peace, a company was incorporated, and proceeded to sink a well upon the spot where one of these salt springs existed, on the banks of the Twelve-Mile Creek, within the present limits of St. Catharines. Salt was profitably and largely manufactured for some time, but hoping to obtain a more powerful brine, the depth of the well was increased to about six hundred feet, and the water of the present well was obtained, yielding a smaller per centage, and deliquescent salt, but containing a larger proportion of valuable medicinal substances. The Company dissolved, and the well passed into the hands of a gentleman engaged in the drug business, and a rude bathing-house was established in 1843. After enjoying a high local reputation for more than twenty years, the property came into the hands of the present proprietor, who has brought its healing virtues so prominently before the public.

St. Catharines is distant from the Suspension Bridge, 11 miles; Hamilton, 33 miles; Toronto, 72 miles by rail, and about 33 miles by water. Mails daily, and money order office. Population, about 10,000.

MINERAL WATERS

ST. CATHARINES, CANADA WEST.

THE remedial value of Mineral waters in the treatment of many types of chronic disease, is at the present day fully recognized in this quarter of the globe, and the history of ages the most remote evinces that if has always been highly appreciated in the old world. The practice ot resorting to baths, and potations of natural springs for curative purposes, is both sanctioned and recommended by the Medical profession at large. Artificial imitations of waters beyond our reach have also been enrolled among the medicinal agents of our time.

Since the number of visitors to the St. Catharines well has increased steadily every year, and the reputation of the Spa is well established, it is thought that a brief account of the nature and properties of the waters may prove acceptable to medical practitioners and invalids.

SAINT CATHARINES, upon the line of the Great Western Railway of Canada, eleven miles West of Suspension Bridge, Niagara Falls, is a beautiful and flourishing town, situated about three miles from Lake Ontario, upon that portion of land which separates the two Lakes, Erie and Ontario. It is easily accessible from all directions, by Railway or Steamboat; distant from Buffalo, N. Y., forty-two miles, by Buffalo and Lake Huron and Welland Railroads; thirty-six miles from Hamilton, via Great Western, and forty miles from Toronto by Port Dalhousie or Niagara Steamer. St. Catharines numbers above 7,000 inhabitants. With an unrivalled water-power at command, and facilities for shipping productions, both by water and rail, of the highest order, it promises to become at some future day the Manchester of its region.

A combination of favorable circumstances, in climate and locality, together with the indisputable efficacy of the waters, have enabled this place, in an unprecedented short space of time, to attain a high rank among the watering-places of America.

THE SEASON

Extends from the first of May to the last days of November. The proprietor of the "Stephenson House" has completed arrangements to enable invalids to use the waters within the building throughout the winter months. A comfortable bathing apartment has been fitted up in the first story of the hotel, and the services of efficient bath attendants and rubbers have been secured. An extensive verandah and long well-lighted halls will permit a sufficient amount of exercise in cold or stormy weather.

THE HOTEL.

The "Stephenson House" may now claim a favorable comparison with any similar establishment upon this continent. In construction, proportions, and general commodiousness, it will be found to afford every requisite for the accommodation of all classes of visitors.

THE BATHS

The thermal establishment originally constructed to furnish baths for 200 persons daily, has recently been more than doubled in extent, and a variety of douches and vapor baths, after the latest and most approved models, have been introduced. All the important and useful appliances for the employment of water in disease, usually adopted at Hydropathic Institutions, are also provided.

THE WELL.

Is an Artesian boring, about 600 feet deep, into corniferous limestone, capable of yielding 30,000 gallons per diem. The water is pumped up by a steam engine into reservoirs upon the summit of the bank. In one of these it is heated by a simple contrivance, without injury to its composition, and then distributed by pipes to the "cabinets" in the bath-house.

CHEMICAL COMPOSITION.

The silurian rocks of Canada afford a great number of Mineral Waters, reducible into three principal classes—the saline, the sulphurous, and the acid. The first of those divisions, to which this spring belongs, holds generally in solution Alkaline Chlorides, Chlorides, Iodides, and Bromides of Calcium, and Magnesium and Sulphates of the Alkaline earths. The following analysis, by Professor Croft, of Toronto University, was effected in the summer of 1853:—

Sulphate of Lime	2.1923
Chloride of Calcium	14.8544
Chloride of Magnesium	3.3977
Iodide of do.	0.0042
Bromide of do.	62
Chloride of Potassium	0.3555
Chloride of Sodium	29.8034
Chloride of Ammonium, Silicic Acid,	78
	50.6215
Loss	1.0670
	51 1885

This analysis establishes a similarity approaching to identity of composition with some of the most important and fashionable German Spas, those of Kreuznach, the muriated saline waters of Wiesbaden and Kissengen, and the waters of Salins, in the Jura, France. In the source of these waters we may discover the cause of the complete and thorough solution and blending of their constituents, so as to produce a perfect and homogeneous whole; they are filtered through miles of solid rock, subjected to additional atmospheric pressure, and stored up for ages in the chasms and caves in which they originally accumulate. These circumstances may account for the fact now very generally admitted, that no solutions artificially prepared will produce equal medicinal effects.

THERAPEUTIC ACTION OF MINERAL WATERS.

The greater number of mineral waters produce an excitement which arouses the vitality of the tissues, by communicating to the constitution strength sufficient to effect certain necessary transformations. After the judicious use of mineral waters for a few days, what may be designated a thermal fever is set up, marked by sleeplessness or drowsiness, depression of spirits, prostration of strength, loss of appetite, great increase of pre-existing pains, the re-appearance of former distressing symptoms. This condition of the system, managed with prudence and tact, will be gradually dissipated, carrying frequently with it the original disease. After a morbid condition, which has worn out the body and left a sort of langaor in the organism, mineral waters will be found most useful. Mr. Constantine James says:—"The action of certain mineral waters has been compared, with some reason, to that of nitrate of silver. You touch, for instance, the engorged conjunctiva with the stick: the eye becomes red, weeps, its sensibility increases, then it heals. In the same way with the mineral water; it acts by determining a substitutive re-action. But if, in place of a simple engorgement of the mucous membrane, you have a disorganization of the eye, the cauterization can only hasten the progress of the disease." When a lesion, therefore, is too profound, we may often substitute, by the imprudent use of mineral waters, for a chronic incurable disease, an active state, also incurable, but advancing rapidly to a fatal issue. In order to derive benefit from mineral waters—first, the patient must not be too weak for re-action after the crisis; secondly, the patient must not be affected with disease of the heart, or large blood-vessels; and lastly, the patient must not be threatened with congestion of the brain, or subject to violent hæmorrhages. Muriated saline waters are adapted to the treatment of affections of the mucous membrane, chronic indigestion, rheumatism, gout, and rheumatic or gouty neuralgia, tumors, or chronic engorgements of the viscera, and various chronic inflammations of the uterine system.

SPECIAL APPLICATIONS.

Saline medicines generally promote the transpositions termed endosmosis and exosmosis; in this way the St. Catharines waters are conducive to the various compositions and decompositions constantly proceeding during life; readily absorbed, they are conveyed by the circulation into every organ and tissue, and by facilitating the excretions, they remove congestions of various internal organs, and exercise a salutary influence in a great variety of disorders. This influence is exerted in a manner intermediate between that of diet and medicine, no artificial combinations of similar ingredients being so congenial to the stomach, so prompt and energetic, but yet so unirritating in their action.

Their taste is intensely saline, and to many persons disagreeable; but all unpleasantness rapidly leaves the palate, there being no apres-gout. The bath, we naturally expect, should act principally by cutaneous absorption; yet the question of absorption of the mineral constituents of any bath is by no means settled, experiments so far having proved unsatisfactory and contradictory. Experience having demonstrated their value, their mode of action cannot be discussed here. It is only in rheumatism or obstinate skin diseases that baths of very long duration or high temperature are employed, and these are never followed by any permanent want of reaction; on the contrary, the St. Catharines baths are refreshing and invigorating, leaving after them a delightful, soft and moist condition of the skin. The effects produced by the St. Catharines water, hereafter mentioned, follow the alternate use of baths and drinking, or either alone, occasionally of both combined.

By removing impurities quickly from the principal passages, the St. Catharines water is remedial in local fulness of blood in the liver, spleen and mesenteric glands, and other contents of the abdomen. On this account, in the various diseases consequent upon the fevers of marshy districts, or in malarious poisoning, the eliminative properties of the waters have proved eminently beneficial. In obstruction of that particular function, the origin of so much suffering to females, they are most useful, as long as the reproductive forces are not too much sunk.

In the treatment of Gout and Rheumatism in all its forms, the St. Catharines water has acquired a well-merited celebrity. Neuralgia, arising from the presence of the morbific matter in the circulation, which gives rise to those diseases, or from exposure to miasma, has been very generally promptly cured.

THE CONCENTRATED WATER.

This mother water resembles much the mutter-lauge supplied by the salt-works at Kreuznach. It is one of the most certain diuretics discovered; externally, it is also a mild and efficacious counter irritant. The bath, and cautious internal use of this prepared water, is used in all diseases springing from a scrofulous origin. In many cases of glandular and cutaneous affections, scrofulous joints and maladies of the eyes, nose or ears, a course of this water has produced a total change in the appearance, and restoration to health.

In conclusion, invalids must not be discouraged if these happy results do not follow as promptly as they may have been led to expect. Occasionally these waters, as well as all the remedies it has been permitted to man to adapt to the relief of his physical sufferings will fail; often their influence is only felt after ceasing from their employment; and sometimes in obstinate cases, the full benefit can only be derived by their judicious continuance for a number of years. The free use of the water, either internally or as a bath, immediately after the fatigues of a long journey, is positively unsafe. Drinking should always be commenced with in small quantities, and, when possible, under the direction of a Physician. Believing that Mineral Waters offer useful resources to medicine, this effort has been conscientiously made to submit briefly the claims of a watering place already popular to the notice of those engaged in the search for relief of their own infirmities or those of others.

NIAGARA.

An incorporated town, formerly called Newark, and the county seat of the county of Lincoln, situated at the confluence of the Niagara river with lake Ontario, in the township of Niagara. It lies beautifully on a level plain, surrounded by a good agricultural country; and being one of the most healthily situated towns in the province, is much resorted to in the summer season, by families having spare time and spare money, for its quiet, as well as its fresh and invigorating breezes. The fishing in the vicinity is excellent; and white fish, bass, perch, pickerel, and pike are caught in great abundance.

Niagara is one of the oldest settlements in Upper Canada; and, previous to the removal of the government to York (now Toronto), was the residence of Governor Simcoe. It has been the scene of many stirring events during the early history of the country; and on the night of the 10th December, 1813, it was laid in ashes by General McClure, commanding the United States army, while on his retreat from the province. At one time it was a place of considerable commercial importance, being the terminus of a railway running from Fort Erie, a village lying immediately opposite Buffalo, U.S., but after the establishment of the Welland Canal, and the crisis of 1857-8, trade began to decline, and St. Catharines, being situated immediately on the canal, it began gradually to assume the position in the shipping and agricultural interests, that the failures of '57-8 had lost to Niagara. The Niagara Harbour and Dock Company, also, formerly did a large business: many first-class vessels having been built here, and at their ship-yard at Chippawa; but owing to the same causes which interfered with the prosperity of the railway, its financial affairs became in an embarrassed state, and the whole establishment was sold by the sheriff, and passed into private hands. Ship-building is still carried on to some extent, and last summer, the elegant and fast steamer, City of Toronto, was built here, for Captain Milloy, to take the place of the steamer Zimmerman, (which was destroyed by fire the previous season,) on the route from here to Toronto.

In 1863-4, the railway was again revived, under the auspices of the New York and Erie Railway, and it is now entitled the Erie and Niagara Branch of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway. The road-bed of the old road was purchased, the track relaid, and the rolling stock put on ready to commence operations this coming season. It is in contemplation to erect a railway bridge across the Niagara river from Buffalo to Fort Erie, in connection with this company, giving a direct line of communication, by the Erie Railway, from the coal regions of Pennsylvania to Niagara, making this a coal depot for all the ports on the northern shore of lake Ontario, as well as their tributary towns in the interior.

A little below the town, on the point, commanding the mouth of the river, and immediately opposite Fort Niagara, is Fort Mississauga, and a short distance above, are the ruins of old Fort George. About the centre of the town, the court-house and town-hall are situated, while the jail is about three quarters of a mile to the south. The court-house is a substantial building, of cut-stone, and an ornament to the place. Niagara contains five churches, all good structures, and one (the Church of England) was erected as early as the year 1794. The hotels are good, and the private residences are mostly neat and substantial; and some of them display considerable taste and skill in their surroundings.

Niagara is distant from St. Catharines, 12 miles, daily stage on the route; Clifton, 14 miles; Hamilton, via St. Catharines, 45 miles; Toronto, by water, 35 miles—steamer City of Toronto plying daily on the route. Mails, daily; and money order office. Population, about 2000.

PORT DALHOUSIE.—An incorporated village, situated on Lake Ontario, at the mouth of Twelve-mile Creek, and the deboucher of the Welland Canal into the lake. It was first settled about the year 1776, and originally laid out by Mr. N. Pawling; and the post office was established in 1830, and Mr. N. Pawling was appointed first postmaster; but the present official is Mr. John H. Martindale. It is the northern terminus of the Welland Railway; and besides its freight depot, the company has a large elevator, with storage capabilities for a hundred thousand bushels of grain. Port Dalhousie is a port of entry; and the value of exports for the year 1863 was $85,046, while the value of imports for the same year was $428,366, and the amount of duties collected was $32,347. The number of vessels passing through the canal for the same year was 6899, and the tolls on the same amounted to $28,312.18. At the entrance of Twelve-mile Creek, a good harbor has been constructed, where vessels can find a safe refuge in all seasons. The canal affords excellent facilities for manufacturing, and there are several mills in successful operation. Besides, the village contains two ship yards, seven stores, a good common school, with an avarage attendance of 180 pupils, Rev. Mr. Arthurton, Miss Gregory, and Miss Abbey, teachers. There are also three churches, viz., Church of England, erected, in 1834, of frame, at a cost of about $1000, and having a capacity for seating 300 persons, Rev. Alexander Dixon, incumbent; Canada Presbyterian Church built, in 1850, of frame, at a cost of $1000, Rev. R. F. Burns, pastor, and the Catholic Church, a frame building, costing about $300, Rev. Father Grattan, Dean. There is a lodge of Good Templars, numbering 90 members, which meet in the Templar's Hall, Richard Wood, W.C.T.; A. A. Smith, Secretary. The hall was built in 1863, at a cost of about $400. Port Dalhousie is distant from Niagara, the county town, 12 miles; St. Catharines, 4 miles; and Toronto, 31 miles by water, and 76 by rail. Daily mails, with money order office. Population, about 800.

QUEENSTON.—A post village, situated on the Niagara river, seven miles from its mouth, and eight miles from Niagara Falls, just at the foot of the rapids, where this wonderful stream widens into smooth water, and thence, after madly dashing and roaring through the precipitous and rocky gorges that form its banks from the Falls, it demurely and placidly finds its way to Lake Ontario. Queenston was first settled in 1792, and lies just at the foot of the chain of hills that skirt along from the extreme western part of Lake Ontario, around on the south to the Niagara river, overlooking that magnificent plateau of land lying on the western bank of the river, which is not inaptly termed, the garden of Canada West. The village was laid out by the Hon. Robert Hamilton and Mr. Dickson, and occupies quite a prominent place in the early history of Canada. The scenery in the vicinity is very beautiful, and there are many places in the neighborhood well worthy of the attention of the pleasure-seeker. The summit of the mountain overlooking Queenston, was the scene of a severe engagement between the British troops under the command of the brave General Brock, and the United States troops, on the morning of October 13th, 1812, in which the British troops were eventually successful. Early in the engagement, General Brock received a fatal shot in the breast, while rallying the grenadiers, who had been severely repulsed. Shortly afterwards, General Sheaffe arrived on the ground with a small reinforcement, assumed the command, and after a fierce contest against superior numbers, finally put the enemy to flight, driving them down the mountain in the greatest possible confusion. Many of them, hoping to reach the opposite shore, ran into the river, and thus found watery graves, while upwards of nine hundred others were taken prisoners. On the site of the spot where General Brock lost his life, a monument was erected to his memory, which was destroyed in 1841, and rebuilt about the year 1854. The present structure is a sightly piece of architecture, and shows the great estimate that was had of him by the people for whom he so generously gave his life in defending. Several years ago, a Suspension Bridge was built across the river, connecting Queenston and Lewiston, on the American side, but in the winter of 1863-4, during a violent gale, the ice was driven out of Lake Erie in such quantities, that the river was gorged at this point, and the ice cut several of the cables which stayed the bridge, and the wind capsized it, as it were, turning it completely over, and it is now a useless and unsightly ruin, swinging high over the water like a narrow piece of netting. Queenston is a station on the Erie and Niagara branch of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, and contains a post office, James Wynn, postmaster ; three stores ; one school, with an average attendance of 75 pupils ; three religious denominations, viz., Church of England, Rev. Mr. Van Linge, incumbent, using the Presbyterian Church ; Presbyterian, church erected in 1848, of frame, capable of seating 200 persons, no settled pastor ; and Baptists, church built in 1842, of stone, Rev. Mr. Stone, minister. Queenston is distant from Niagara, the county town, 7 miles ; St. Catharines, 11 miles, and Clifton, 7 miles. Mails daily. Population about 400.

TOWNSHIP OF GRANTHAM.

THE township of Grantham is bounded on the north by lake Ontario, on the east by the township of Niagara, on the south by the township of Thorold (county of Welland), and on the west by the township of Louth. This township contains 23,415 acres; and is, with the exception of a narrow ridge along its south-west border, situated below the mountain. The first settlements were made in 1784, when the land was selling at sevenpence half-penny per acre. In 1817 it contained about 1200 inhabitants; and in 1850 its population had reached 2887, which had increased to 3956 in 1861. The Welland Canal runs through the township, and St. Catharines is also situated in it. The farms are under a high state of cultivation; and the land is generally level; the soil, loamy; and the timber, a mixture of hardwood and pine, the hardwood predominating. From the the crop of 1851, 28,498 bushels of wheat, 16,424 bushels of barley, 7440 bushels of peas, 45,688 bushels of oats, 57,822 bushels of potatoes, 77,014 lbs. of butter, 1060 lbs. of cheese, and 9088 lbs. of wool were produced.

CHIPPAWA.—An incorporated village, situated on both sides of the Chippawa, or Welland river, at its junction with the Niagara river, in the townships of Stamford and Willoughby, county of Welland, and a station on the Erie and Niagara Railway. The first settlement was made in the part of the village now lying in Willoughby township, by Thomas Cummings, in 1783. John Burch, who settled there in the same year, was the first to build a mill on the site now occupied by that of Mr. Street, on the Niagara river, a short distance above the Falls, the power as now, being furnished by the river. The township forming now a part of the incorporated village of Chippawa, was laid out by the Government in 1787, and up to that time, there were about ten families in the whole township. On the 5th of July, 1814, while the American war was being carried on, between England and the United States, an obstinate and sanguinary battle was fought between the American forces, under the command of Major-General Jacob Brown, and the British, commanded by Major-General Riall, (who was afterwards taken prisoner at the battle of Lundy's Lane, on the 25th of July, 1814.) James Cummings, now a resident of Chippawa, was on General Riall's staff, as assistant quarter-master general, with rank of captain. Chippawa contains a large distillery, owned by Messrs. Macklem, Thomas & Co., erected in 1852, of brick, at a cost of about $50,000, and employing 35 men, and turning out 1200 gallons of whisky per diem; two tanneries, one owned by John Bartle, which has been in operation about forty years, containing 38 vats, employing five men, and turning out leather to the amount of about $10,000 per annum; a steam planing-mill, and sash, blind and door factory, owned and carried on by Thomas Davidson, built in 1858, of frame, employing an engine of six horse power, and five hands, and turning out manufactured goods to the value of $10,000 per annum; one steam-cabinet manufactory, owned by Michael Urlocker, built of frame, two stories in height, employing an engine of eight horse power, and four hands, and turning out work to the value of $8,000 per annum; one foundry, two saw-mills; one saddlery, two waggon shops, and eleven stores. The village also contains two common schools, with an average attendance of about 150 pupils, William Gerard, and Mr. Smith, teachers, one separate scoool; three churches, viz.:—Church of England, erected in 1860, at a cost of about three thousand dollars, and will accommodate three hundred persons, Rev. Donald McLeod, incumbent, Thomas C. Street and R. H. Kirkpatrick, wardens; Presbyterian (Church of Scotland,) erected about 1853, of frame, costing about two thousand dollars, and will seat about three hundred persons—no settled pastor; Episcopal Methodist, erected of frame, at a cost of about one thousand dollars. Chippawa is distant from Welland, the county town, 13 miles; and from Niagara Falls about two miles. Mails daily. Population about 1,222.

Village Council and Officers for 1865.—Council meets in the Town Hall once a-month. Reeve, John C. Kirkpatrick. Councillors—Dr. R. Aberdeen, John Bartle, James F. Macklem, John Flett, jun. John Rapelje, Clerk. R. H. Kirkpatrick, Treasurer. Joel Lyons and Thomas Davidson, Assessors. John Rapelje, Collector.

CLIFTON.—An incorporated town, situated in the township of Stamford, county of Welland, at the eastern terminus of the Great Western Railway, and a station on the Erie and Niagara Railway. The town lies just on the summit of the left bank of the Niagara River, about two miles below the Falls. The Suspension Bridge one of the architectural wonders of the age, connects the Great Western Railway with the New York Central Railroad on the opposite side of the river, and thence to all points east and south in the United States. Clifton was laid out in 1847, by Philip Bender, the late Samuel Zimmerman, and Harmonius Crysler. The post office was established in 1854, with Gilbert McMicken as postmaster; but William Patrick is the present official. In 1856 it was incorporated as a town, and now contains twenty stores; several good hotels; one common school, with an average attendance of 200 pupils; one separate school, average attendance, 50 pupils; two churches, viz: Presbyterian Church, building erected in 1857 of brick, at a cost of $7000 with a capacity for seating 500 persons; and Roman Catholic Church, built in 1860, of brick, at a cost of $2000, and a capacity for seating about 300 persons. Two miles above the town of Clifton, and a few hundred yards below the great Horse-shoe Fall and Table Rock is situated the Clifton House, a hotel well and favorably known throughout Canada and the United States as a first class house, having ample accommodations for a large number of guests. During the summer months omnibusses and hacks run from Clifton to the falls at all hours, a drive, which for the picturesque beauty and grandeur of its scenery is unsurpassed. Near the Table Rock, the Niagara Falls Museum, owned by Thomas Barnett, is situated. It is a large and substantial stone building, elegantly fitted up and containing upwards of ten thousand specimens of birds, animals, minerals, fish, Egyptian relics, mummies, &c. A most beautiful view of the cataract and surrounding scenery is to be obtained from the top of the museum. Mr. Barnett also supplies visitors with dresses and guides for going under the falls. The water works which furnish water to the town of Clifton and the Great Western Railway are situated within a few rods of the Table Rock, and were built by the late Samuel Zimmerman. The water is conducted through iron pipes a distance of two miles. The works are now owned by George Bender and Zenas B. Lewis. The town of Clifton is distant from Welland, the county town, 16 miles; St. Catharines, 12 miles; and from the Town of Niagara, 12 miles. Daily mail. Population about 1500.

Town Officers.—Council meets first Monday in each month at the town hall. Mayor, William Willey; Reeve, Alanson Biggar. Councillors—North Ward—Thomas Wilson, S. S. Skinner, James M. Burns. TOWNSHIP OF WAINFLEET.

THE township of Wainfleet is bounded on the north by the townships of Gainsborough (county of Lincoln) and Pelham, on the east by the township of Humberstone, on the south by Lake Erie, and on the south-west by the township of Moulton (county of Haldimand). It contains 51,879 acres; and the first settlement was made in the year 1800. The soil varies in quality, much of it being clay, and the timber a mixture of hardwood and pine. In the south and centre of the township is a large tamarac and cranberry swamp, which extends into Moulton, county of Haldimand, on the west, and into Humberstone on the east. The Grand River feeder of the Welland Canal runs through the centre of the township. In 1861 it contained 2316 inhabitants; and from the crops of that year were produced 5309 bushels of fall wheat, 17,903 bushels of spring wheat, 9850 bushels of barley, 3754 bushels of rye, 16,586 bushels of peas, 42,497 bushels of oats, 14,529 bushels of potatoes, 8920 lbs. of maple sugar, 22,905 gallons of cider, 7999 lbs. of wool, and 69,905 lbs. of butter.
