Information for Shoppers by Mail.

DROP US A POSTAL

Where goods are to be shipped to Flag Stations, always send sufficient money to prepay charges.

Do not order goods unless you send the money. It is only a waste of time.

Writing Orders—When sending Orders write plainly your name, Post Office and Province, stating the exact amount of money enclosed, how you wish goods sent, and if necessary your nearest Express Office or Railway Station.

When shipping instructions are not given, we use our best judgment as to the cheapest mode of sending.

Do not mix Orders with other Communications—If you are sending for samples or prices, or writing about other matters at the same time of sending an order, write for them or about them on a separate sheet and sign both, giving your name and address in full on each.

Head your letter with your Post Office only. Do not give the name of your residence as it is apt to cause confusion.

A lady should always sign herself Mrs. or Miss, and sign exactly the same name and initials to every communication.

When Ordering Samples—State, if possible, what you require, particularly in dress goods, as we have an immense variety, and to send samples of all would mean an enormous expense, whereas if we have an idea as to quality, color and price desired we would be more likely to send a suitable selection.

Important—When ordering from samples always enclose the sample selected or a part of it with the Order, and separate from other samples returned. Always state whether we may substitute in case goods ordered have been sold out. A SECOND CHOICE WILL FACILITATE THE FILLING OF AN ORDER IN SUCH CASES.

Terms—Money must accompany all Orders. If goods are to be sent by Mail, enclose sufficient for postage. (See postage rates.)

It is better to send too much than too little, and if any is over after filling an Order it will be returned.

How to Send Money—We prefer that money be sent to us by Post Office Order, as they are absolutely safe and the cost is small. They may be had at nearly every Post Office. (See Money Order Rates.)

We will accept private Cheques on Banks if marked by the Bank.

We send samples and prices of cut goods free of charge.

We will cut or divide goods in any quantity to suit purchaser.

We make no charge for cases or packing.

We send Butterick's Patterns, Fashion or printed books of any kind Postpaid.

Our prices are strictly net to all, do not ask for discounts or commission.

Always register letters containing money.

Keep a copy of your Order when you send it.

Always give the same Post Office address.

Bank Drafts is an excellent way of remitting for those in reach of them.

When none of these can be had, send by Registered Letter or Express. Avoid sending money unregistered.

Amounts smaller than $1.00 may be enclosed in 1 cent stamps.

Acknowledgment of Orders—Should you not hear from us within a reasonable time after sending an Order, write us, giving full particulars, stating how you addressed it, how much money you enclosed and whether stamps, bills or Post Office Order, and repeat the Order as near as possible.

Each Order when received is numbered. This number is entered on our acknowledgment, to which customers should always refer in any correspondence relating thereto.

Complaints—When you receive your goods if they are not satisfactory, or if there is any complaint to make concerning them, do not delay writing, as it will be easier for us to look up the matter at once.

The greatest care is used in filling Orders, but if an error is made we will investigate and rectify if notified within a reasonable time.

We guarantee to take back or exchange goods at your expense if unsatisfactory, providing they are returned in good condition.

Garments made to order are not returnable.

How to Return Goods—When the parcel is securely wrapped and carefully addressed, place the name and the address of the sender in the upper left hand corner, with the word from before it. This will enable us to identify the parcel at once. Then write particulars as to your wishes concerning the goods returned, and mail to us in separate envelope or Postal Card. Do not enclose correspondence with parcel returned, as it is against the rules of the Post Office.

When returning samples do not seal them. Tie them so that inspection may be made by the Post Office authorities if necessary, and besides, if sealed, you will have to pay letter rate, that is, 3 cents an ounce; whereas, if not sealed, the rate will be 1 cent for 4 ounces.

Note—Correspondence enclosed in an open envelope will not come for 1 cent. Whatever is deficient is charged double to us.

Parcel Post Rates—Parcels weighing five pounds or less can be sent by Mail at a cost of 1 cent an ounce. Should purchase weigh over five pounds, it can be made up in two or more parcels.

We register all parcels going outside of Ontario, unless otherwise requested. (Patterns and samples excepted.)

Note paper, envelopes and blank pads, or blank books of any description are mailed at the rate of 1 cent an ounce. Please note that we do not pay postage on these lines.

Canada's Greatest Store.

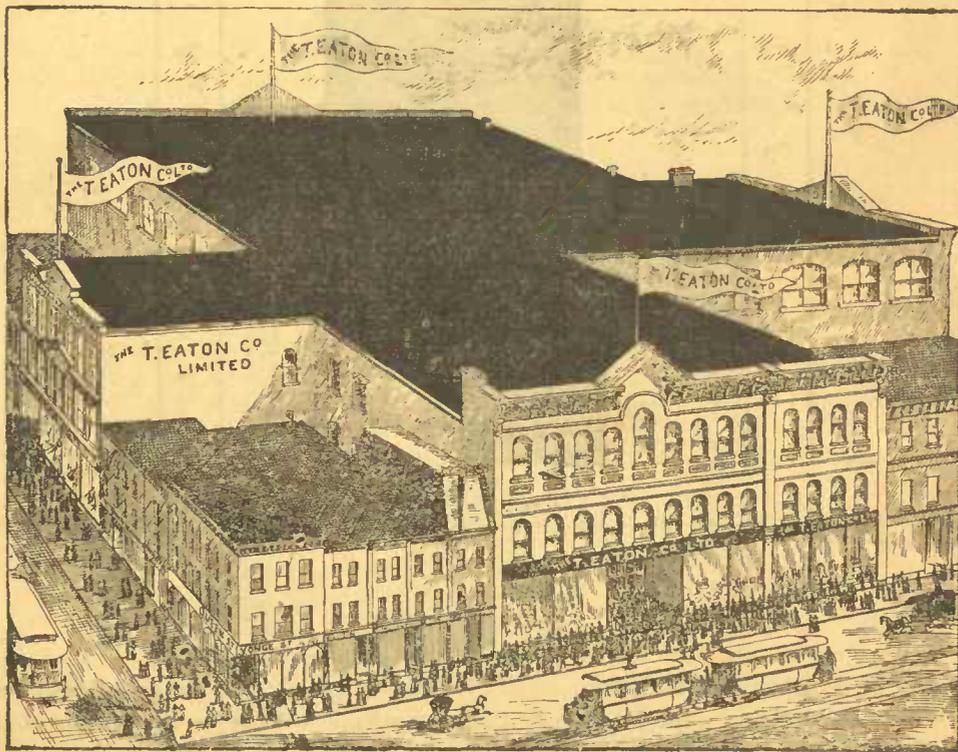

IN presenting our customers with a new and revised catalogue for Spring and Summer, we want to emphasize the fact that goods are exactly as represented. The fixed purpose of this store is to assemble under one roof trustworthy goods from the actual producers in all parts of the world, and distribute them at the lowest prices possible. The larger the business, the smaller the commission. The more we grow, the cheaper we can afford to sell.

The store is big now, but it promises to be very much bigger.

The handsome new addition, illustrated on page 3, is a step in that direction. In spite of our wealth of room, many departments have been cramped for selling space. They want a chance to expand.

We're going to let them grow all they possibly can.

With the completion of this new building the View of Store facing on Yonge, Queen, James, and Albert Streets.

Faithful adherence to this principle has multiplied this business seven times during the last ten years, and the trade increase continues constant and steady.

We are reaching towards perfection in business methods—not expecting to reach the goal by chance, but by doing things in the proper way at the proper time.

store now faces on four streets, with entrances on all sides. That fact is very significant.

“Goods well bought,” they say, “are half sold.” We have a large force of experienced buyers, who visit the European and American markets at regular intervals in search of new goods. We aim to buy direct from the makers, and so save all intermediate profits. Storekeeping here means making connections between manufacturer and consumer, and distributing only guaranteed goods at the very smallest margin of profit.

In addition to sending buyers to Europe, we have a permanent London office, with an experienced representative in charge. This fact explains the promptness with which we get new styles and late novelties fast as introduced.

That's what we mean by direct importations. How can we do it? Why we do it; that's all. And here. The more people expect, the better we are pleased and the greater our effort.

We're all the time improving the store service and adding to the attractions.

The place at the top was hard to reach, but the power that won will retain by commanding—will command by right. Nobody questions our imperial position in the light of recent developments.

Our aim has been to produce not only the best store, but to put into it the best goods at low prices. The several departments are under the control of technical skill and high mercantile ability, insuring uniform methods and an ever-enlarging success.

PLAN OF STORE.

next to not going, is sending somebody else. Ben. Franklin once remarked: If you want anything half done, send somebody; if you want it well done, go yourself.

We go. We've our own buyers—men of experience and careful judgment, and what they choose you're almost sure to want. It used to be that we had to take what wholesalers happened to have. Now we buy when and wherever we please, with a sole regard to this business, which means to your interests.

Expectation cannot be set too high for service

We want no faults to go undiscovered, and wherever mistakes occur we ask shoppers to kindly make them known. Sales have grown vastly, and unfavorable criticisms are fewer than ever before. But human limitations sometimes defeat our purpose, and those who have grievances will oblige us by notifying the managers.

Last year we strengthened the organization by adding

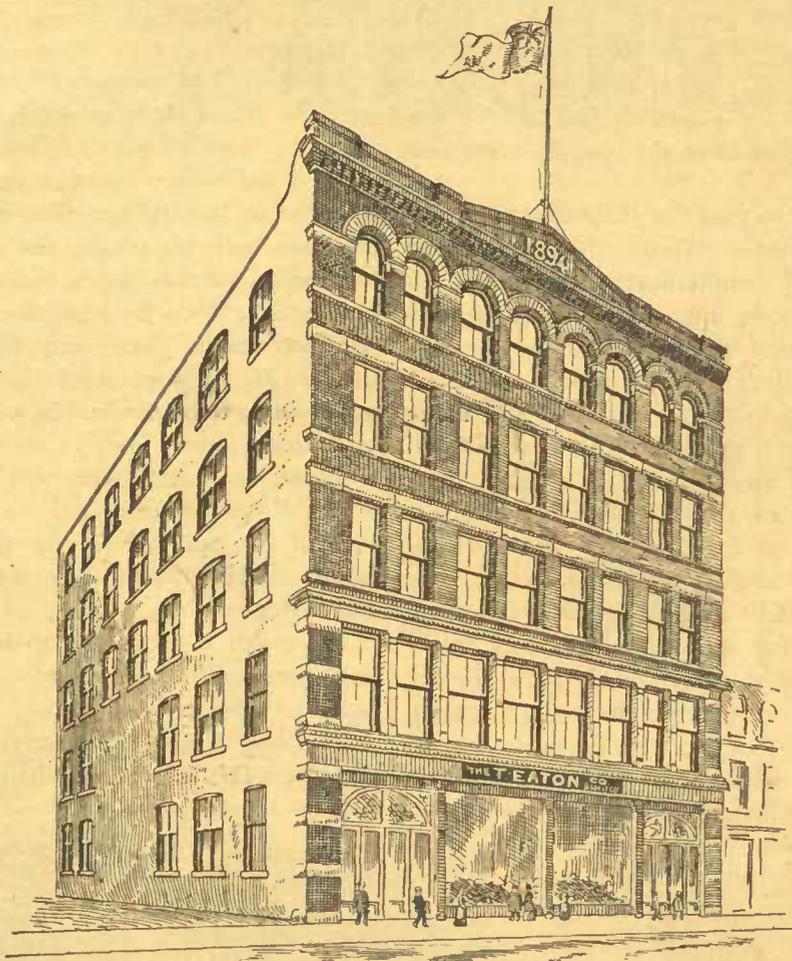

- A New Pneumatic Cash System,
- A Sprinkler System of Fire Protection, and much new machinery. In numerous ways the service has been improved. The store represents a village of busy people, with its own electric light plant, miles of streets all roofed over, acres of selling space and miles of pipes with pneumatic carriers.

This store is often blamed for supposed interference with general business, but it grows because you want it to. The plain, common-sense policy of "the greatest good to the greatest number" is building

Ready cash is King in the markets of the world. Selling as we do, for cash only, and at one price, gives us a tremendous advantage in the race for trade. Think of a business large as this and no bad debts. Shoppers get the full benefit of small profits, because everybody pays cash here, and prices are figured on that basis.

Right methods have everything to do with success or failure in present-day business. The strength of this organization is centred in certain well-known immense successes in every large city on the continent. We're doing for Toronto what Wanamaker is doing for Philadelphia, Macy for New York, Marshall Field for Chicago, and Jordan-Marsh for Boston. Just so long as people continue to save money here will they shop here. We do the best we can by each and every customer, sell as low as we can such goods as are reliable, and—we mind our business.

principles, of which Cash and One Price is the keystone. We believe in a well-defined system of government, including all departments, in uniform methods. This protects customers against possible mistakes, and makes buying here easier and safer than anywhere else we know of.

Here we are engaged in our several ways of business at a time of the world when trade shows a remarkable tendency to pass the little near-by stores and come to the big ones. What is the reason for it?

First, the means of communication are better and quicker than ever before, apparently about as good as they can be. Second, prosperous stores increase their variety, extend their accommodations and lower their prices according to their prosperity, and make themselves known in a great variety of ways. Of course the city runs away from the country. But the fact is sharper than that: a few stores in the great cities run away from all the rest. How? Why? Is it that a leading store has better taste and judgment and credit for getting goods together, better organization for showing them and better facilities for delivering? Very likely; but is not this the principal difference: they have the attention of buyers? How do they get it? By professing to serve them well, and by doing it better than others—that is what buyers have to choose between.

So that, if we're able to sell cheapest, it is because the buying public have helped us to it by discriminating in favor of our methods and merchandise and values. And just so long as you show yourselves to like good bargains will this store aim to give them and that, too, in spite of what others may say or think.

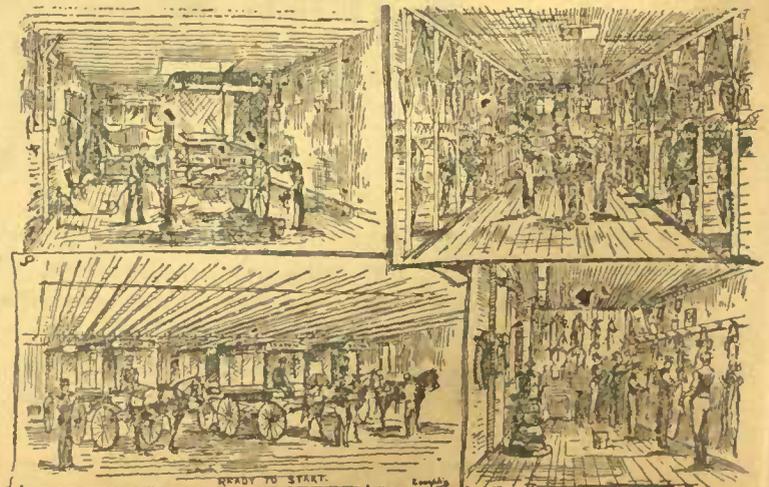

One element of our success may be summoned up in the word QUANTITY. The several stocks represent an investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Assortment must be complete at all times, and that means a constant income of new goods. Fast as one thing is sold something else steps in to take its place. One interest succeeds the other with clock-work precision and trade grows in volume all the time.

Buying in great quantities enables us to send buyers regularly to the great manufacturing centers and leading sources of supply. Prices are low in proportion as orders are great, and ready cash enables us to take advantage of trade discounts. Buying power means selling power. We sell as we buy.

The progressive merchant now-a-days must study business methods and facilities as the sailor studies his chart. He must consider whether or no it is practicable to draw to himself the people who care to be well provided with his goods, not only within three or four miles of his store, but within forty or fifty miles. Nor does he stop there. He will consider how business is done away from Toronto, beyond this cluster of population that comes to the city occasionally to buy. And he will master the problem of drawing letters from those who live too far away to come, so that he may sell to them. So much accomplished, what a field for business he has. In view of this, is it any wonder that 190 Yonge Street has evolved itself into the greatest of Canadian retail establishments.

It's worth a good deal to know how to shop by mail successfully. We're teaching it to some thousands at the present time, and would like to include you among them. First send us your name and address. The knowledge shan't cost you anything beyond your good-will.

Dress Goods Department.

DRESS GOODS are a powerful factor in this business. Counters and shelves piled high with imported novelties, representing a mint of color beauty, and, withal, the best qualities for least money. No guesswork about that. The swelling sales attest its truth most forcefully.

We won't be satisfied with any past work. The long lines of counters devoted to dress stuffs prove our devotion to the spirit of improvement. And new goods keep coming; seldom a day with nothing new on hand.

We question whether anywhere you can find as satisfactory a stock. That's the right adjective! The most reliable, the most varied, the most economical. We've been a lifetime learning the dress goods business—what to buy, what to let alone. There's no accumulation of anything save experience. The teaching of the years and the goods of the season make as happy a combination as ever invited an intelligent trade.

In dress goods of every sort we take the initiative. We give ideas, instead of receiving them. We push out for the most striking novelties, and we buy some impossible things sometimes, just to show the trend of fashion.

You'll find the most liberal education in this department. You can learn qualities, differences, the things that go to make this desirable or that unprofitable. It does more than study fashion and effects. It aims at results. And the best result of all is—satisfaction. That comes after years of study in makes and styles. We give it because we get it.

We send samples of dress goods to any address for the asking. Here are the facts for you to go by:

Colored Silks.

The stock in this department has been selected with the greatest care, preference always being given to those manufacturers whose qualities have stood the test of actual experience, combined with perfection in weaving, coloring and designing.

In addition to the regular and more staple lines which it is only possible to quote here, we are constantly adding new novelties as they appear from the looms of the great manufactories of the world.

We are also perpetually seeking bargains that really deserve the name of bargains, not in a cheap sense, but that of being below real value. It is no exaggeration when we state that this department is equalled by but few, while at all times our prices for the same goods are invariably lower.

Print Department.

We know it is "correct" to say that we never had so much to see—never so much worth seeing; but that much is easily discounted. The plain, unexaggerated fact is that we never have paid so much attention to getting novel and exclusive designs. The results are enough to turn any woman's head.

The stock is a symposium of beauty, with colors royally rich, qualities the best and assortment unmatched. Read on:

Stamping.

This is an important department, especially to out-of-town patrons, who may have difficulty in getting this class of work. You can have a choice of about 300 designs, including about twenty styles of letters, and our prices are as low as possible, merely enough to pay for the time and material used. It has been largely patronized in the past, therefore we came to the conclusion that it's right. If you have not hitherto done so, try it, and see how this can be ordered by mail. Just state the size, price or article you want, what material you wish in it, and the style of design you want stamped on it. We can stamp linen, cotton, velvet, plush, silk, satin, felt, moleskin, flannel, cashmere, in fact almost anything.

Linen Department.

THE essence of buying wisdom lies in the direction of quality rather than price. If price were the standard of quality we'd fill the paper with prices—but it isn't.

You'll get the best Linens in Canada right here—the latest novelties—whatever is intended to win an intelligent trade.

There's lots of advertising done for know-nothing people. We're not spending a cent to catch such business. We're after the wisest—those who know good quality and good value. The shrewder the buyer the better we like it.

Ireland, Scotland and Germany contribute to the showing, and buying direct, as we do, saves all intermediate profits. When we commenced selling Linens it was with the conviction that other people knew something about them. We fixed a policy. It was—reliable goods, a perfect understanding with each customer, and lowest-notch prices. We've hammered away at those three things, and we're not through yet. We'll keep on this line, if it takes a jubilee—pounding out the one idea: "We know what we sell, we know the quality's right and the price reasonable."

Flannels.

How many really know the difference between flannel that's all wool and flannel that's part cotton? The inference is one-half the shoppers have never yet learned, and their only safeguard is in buying from a store they have full confidence in.

We write it of everything else as well as flannels—nothing shall be bought or sold by us that is not up to our quality standard, in every respect dependable and good. If shoddy merchandise should creep into the store by mistake, we will make good our guarantee to you that everything shall be exactly as represented.

Cloak Department.

LET your mind run the gauntlet of new wraps and jackets, and then see how nearly we toe the fashion line with them all. It's a natural conclusion of such business as we do, that the entire range of overgarments for this Spring and Summer should be a step in advance of anything in the past.

Our appeal is that we have saved you money by purchasing in big lots. Our money is made in the advantage we thus secure—that is, in our buying. We aim to make our money that way. We cut the rich manufacturers' profit down when we go to them with a big order in one hand and cash in the other. If one won't take our offer another will.

Many stores are reaching out for your trade. Natural enough each thinks its stock better than anybody else's, and you've the alternative of shopping and shopping until you come across what suits you, without regard to such claim. We're doing the bulk of the business. We've the goods here to keep right on doing it. Our expectations are high enough to cover a generous trade.

There's no reason why anything you need can't be ordered satisfactorily by mail with these prices to go by. If you write us intelligently, clever clerks will choose to the best possible advantage.

Gloves.

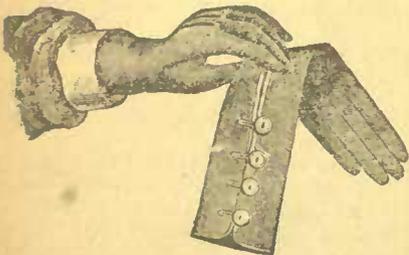

THE great bulk of Gloves worn nowadays are made in great factories. Some of the makers use good skins and do good work, but most of them cheapen their product in every possible way. By cheapening it we mean that they put a good-looking finish on an inferior skin, so that the glove can be sold for more than its worth. Competition between nine-tenths of the makers is on this point—how much can be saved in the quality without showing.

Most glove stores buy by looks; they know very little of skins and work, still less of the factory tricks by which bad gloves are made to pass for good ones.

We're bold enough to add that nothing below the level of honest skins and work is in our stock.

Handkerchiefs.

Belfast is the centre of the world for linen handkerchiefs. Fifteen years ago not a cotton or a cotton-and-linen handkerchief was made in Belfast; now more than half that are sent out from that city are either cotton or cotton mixed.

Cotton has crept into some of the very fine things, but you don't suspect it until the wear and wash test shows the cheat.

For the person of taste who wants a snow-white handkerchief, soft and silky, one that will not wash or turn yellow with use—linen is the best.

We began by selling nothing but linen as linen. We keep to it.

This year our importation of pure linen goods has been larger and more varied than ever before. All sorts, at these prices:

- Ladies' pure linen, hem-stitched, 3 for 25c, 2 for 25c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c each.

The logic of common sense speaks strongly in favor of the mail order system. It has been our careful study and proves itself a true source of economy to thousands of customers living at a distance. Possibly you among them.

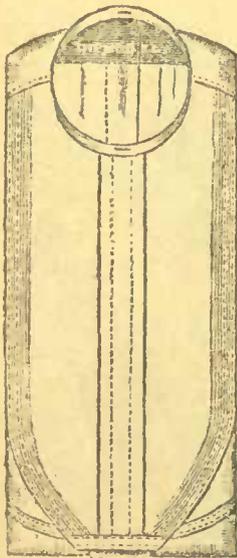

Men's Furnishings.

YOU men fight shy of buying where women buy so much. Think there must be something womanish about it. And yet, which makes the pennies buy more? And is it always woman's sagacity or do the "dry goods profits" figure in the consideration?

We sell ready-made clothing and furnishings and boots for men just as we sell ribbons for women. Put our best energy into buying right, and sell as we buy.

There are a few, a very few, people who think we keep too many things. They're mostly the people who keep the same things themselves, and who don't like the "dry goods" prices. There are many, a great many, people who wish we kept everything. They do like the dry goods prices. We're after the many.

It isn't the keeping much that affects you so much as that the more one gets together, provided they know how to buy, the cheaper they get them, and the cost of doing the business as a whole is less than doing it in several parts. They don't have to make a profit off any one thing. That keeps prices down, and prices tell in a business like this.

Men's Underwear.

When ordering by mail, describe as nearly as possible what you require. In Underwear, when ordering, say whether small men's, men's, or large men's; also if balbriggan, natural wool, merino, heavy wool, or medium weight. Shirts—neck measure, laundered or unlaundered, white or colored. In Boys'—age and about the price you wish to pay. In ties—whether made up or four-in-hand, light or dark pattern. Collars are all made to go over the same sized shirt. Say if you order a 15-inch neck in shirt, a 15-inch collar will fit, and kindly go by the above prices, as we can fill them to the very letter. If you go by these directions, we have no hesitation in saying that we can suit you just as well as if you were here to select goods yourself, or probably better. If you chance to get anything not to suit you, send it back, and we will either change it for you or refund the money if not satisfactory.

Hats and Caps.

When ordering by mail kindly describe as nearly as possible what you require, give us the size of head in inches around where the hat sits, around the forehead. There are about two sizes difference in an English and American hat, strange to say, so it would be much safer to give it in inches if you are not aware which of the two hats you have been wearing; English hat is the larger; also whether stiff hat, clerical, wide brim hat, fedora, large or small shape, young man, middle-aged person or old gentleman, lady or boy, peak cap, 'varsity, straw hat or sailor, and about the price you wish to pay, and we can suit you equally as well through our Mail Order System as if you were here to select goods yourself. If anything should turn out unsatisfactory, return it, and we will either exchange it or refund the money. Silk hats ironed and done up free of charge.

Boots and Shoes.

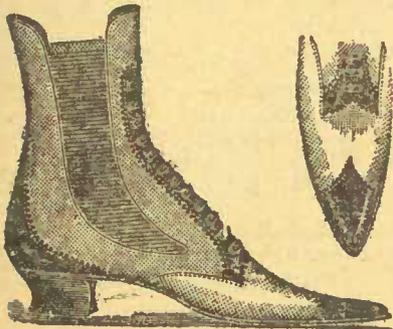

WE sell all kinds of boots and shoes for men, women and children at dry goods prices.

In a great business like ours price tells. The little business depends for success on its local influence and the region that it serves. The great business is above locality, and serves many only by reason of serving the many well. So that the great business whose prices rule "lower," is the store where the million trade. The claim is made that prices at this store and that are always, without exception, the lowest. That's a claim that never can be made with absolute truth without the maker knows the price of every article out of a million and a half dollars' worth of stocks. We claim—and when we claim, we know what we're talking about—that if a woman has $20 to spend she can make it go farther here than in any store in the country. Every day we get dozens of instances that a dollar's buying power is greatest here.

A great business comes not by favor. It isn't built on personal influence. It gains what it deserves. Price tells.

Silverware Department.

It looks like sterling silver, but it isn't. It'd pass for the real anywhere, because the patterns are novel and unique, and most of them copies of the highest priced goods.

That's our silverware.

You don't know the richness and beauty that can be put into silver-plate, if you hav'nt seen this particular showing. We could'nt get better nor prettier for the money. It's odd enough to deceive even the experienced into the idea that it's solid silver, and good enough to guarantee.

Musical Goods.

Musical Boxes.

There is no article made where the maker has the same latitude to deceive as in musical boxes, i.e., by means of a large fancy box, with little or no interior, or works of the poorest description. Buyers of this class of goods soon find out their mistake, which causes nothing but disappointment and loss of money.

All musical boxes in this column fully warrant their being classed under the heading of musical goods, being of the same celebrated make as the other lines before enumerated, viz., "The Excelsior"—and each instrument bears the registered label.

The accuracy of our mail order organization during recent years is well known. A blunder occasionally—the means are human—but so seldom that the department is known as having a model system. Success proves it. We shall lift it this year above its own level, so that what has been good service before—far above the average—will be excellent now.

Toilet Department.

We carry a very full stock of Toilet requirements, such as Brushes and Combs, Manicure Appliances, Perfumes, Toilet Waters, etc.

Brushes and Combs.

Hair brushes—We carry a very large and well-assorted stock of hair brushes, and when ordering give as full a description of the style of brush as possible, whether hard, medium or soft bristle, and whether a lady's or a gentleman's brush. In the cheaper brushes we usually recommend a medium hard bristle up to 50c, but over 50c you are safe in taking whichever you may desire. State whether a wooden or celluloid back in prices over $1.00. The prices range as follows: 25c, 35c, 40c, 45c, 50c, 75c, 85c, $1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2.00, 2.25, 2.50, 3.00, 3.50.

Babies' brushes, 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c, 50c.
 Wire brushes, 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c, 50c.
 Celluloid bristle hair, plain and fancy backs, 60c, 75c, $1.00, 1.25, 1.50, 2.00.
 We keep the sets of celluloid to match, viz.: brush, comb and mirror—also nail trimmers and polishers, etc. The wooden backs can be had in the same way ; for instance, we can give you a bristle brush for 25c, a mirror for 10c, and a comb for 5c, making a set for 40c ; and can give them up to $5.00 or 6.00, according to your wish.

Palmer's Patent Arrowwanna Hammocks.

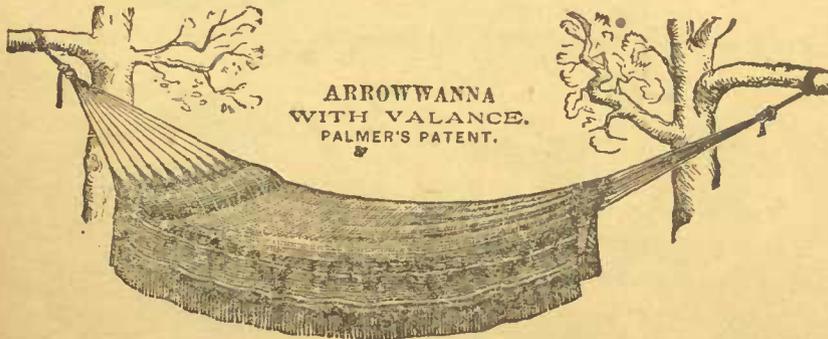

The superiority of these inventions, comprising all the requisites of a perfect hammock, will be apparent upon investigation.

The theory upon which they are made gives greater strength and durability than can be obtained with the same amount of material by any other method. The novelty and comfort of the pillow and spreader cannot but be appreciated. They are highly ornamental and as well adapted for in-door as for out-door use. All hammocks are tested with weight of two persons.

NOTE.—All the below hammocks are with pillow and spreader. Sizes given are measurements of the woven part of the hammock.

This coffee-pot is strong and well made, and handsomely nickel-plated. Parts cannot possibly get out of order.

Tinware.

The Albert Raisin Seeder.

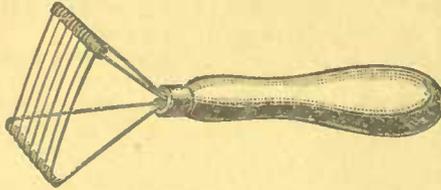

Fig. 1.

A simple device, that, with a little practice, will enable one to seed a pound of raisins in less than ten minutes. The simplicity of its construction, and its low price, together with the perfection and ease with which it performs a work ordinarily irksome and tedious, commends it to every housekeeper in the land, as well as all restaurants, pastry cooks and hotels. A child can use it.

Directions—Pour BOILING WATER over the raisins and let them stand about a minute to prevent them sticking to the wires or hands. Spread the raisins, while wet and warm, on the table, bread-board, or any hard, flat surface, and press the wires down upon them, with the wires lengthwise of the raisin (Fig. 2); use a slight rocking motion and just sufficient pressure to force the seeds through the wires. To remove the raisin, draw it toward the end of the wires, lifting it at the same time (Fig. 3). Experience shows that the knack is readily acquired upon seeding half a dozen raisins. It is absolutely necessary to use boiling water to obtain the best results. Do NOT TRY TO SEED A DRY RAISIN. Price 7 cents.

The Daisy Lamp Attachment.

Can be placed on any size or shape lamp glass without any danger.

For heating food or water on top of a lamp

GOOD FOR SICK-ROOMS.

If the lamp glass is hot, warm the ends of the wire before placing it in the glass. Don't let any cold water drop from the vessel you are using on the lamp, and you will never crack the lamp glass. Show it to your neighbors.

Patented June, 1887, Sept., 1889.

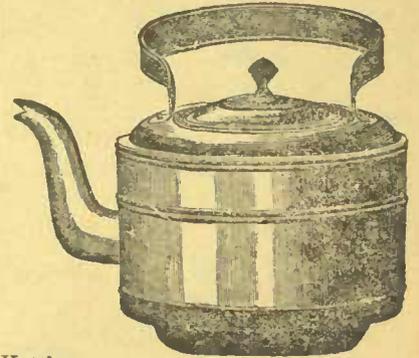

No smoke.

Price 10 cents.

Gas Stoves.

These stoves are made with one and two burners. They are the handsomest, cheapest, most economical and best stoves ever produced for the price.

The stoves have been tested, and have been found when burning at their fullest capacity to consume not more than 7 feet of gas per hour, at a cost of one cent, with gas at $1.50 per 1,000 feet.

The gas fuel, if properly used, is much cheaper than either coal or oil, saying nothing of the conveniences and advantages of having no ashes, no dust, no trouble or delay.

Gas Stove, 2-burner, $2.25.
2-burner, all highly polished and nickel plated, always clean and bright, $2.75.

"Rapid" Gas Stoves.

The top plate surface in these stoves is much larger than is made by other manufacturers. It will accommodate a wash boiler, and more and larger cooking utensils will rest securely on its surface, than on any other flat or boiling gas stove. The stoves are sufficiently high to allow of whatever they may stand upon to be kept tidy and clean without moving the stove. The deflected heat will not do any harm to whatever the stove may stand upon.

Gas Stove, 1-burner, 70c.

Gas Stove, 1-burner, $1.85.

"Rapid" Gas Stoves, 2-burner, $3.75 ; 3-burner, $5.50.

The "Silver" Central-Draft Oil Stove.

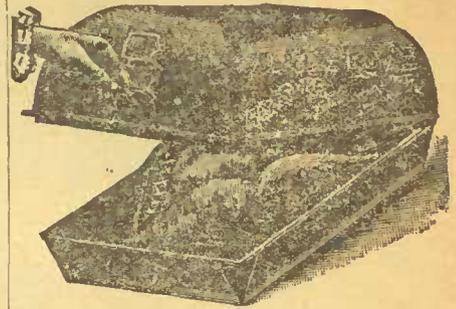

These central-draft oil stoves are specially constructed for giving the most intense heat with the least consumption of oil.

For both cooking and heating, this stove will excel any two-burner oil stove with 4½-inch flat wicks now on the market, and will consume, when burning at its full capacity, less oil than any 4-inch single burner oil stove, one quart of oil lasting six hours.

The burner gives absolutely perfect combustion, and if kept clean, will give off no more odour than the most expensive parlor lamp.

Price, . . . $2.75 each.

"Royal" Self-Basting Roaster and Baking Pan.

"Worth its weight in gold."

It will make tough meats and poultry tender, and save at least one-fourth the nutriment of the food, that is generally lost through steam and evaporation. Everything baked or roasted in the pan will be healthier and more digestible, as it will retain all its sweetness, flavor and nourishment.

After putting the Baker and Roaster in the oven, no attention need be given to basting or turning. A poor cook cannot spoil the food. If it is allowed to remain in the oven longer than the usual time, no matter; the steam will keep the food moist, sweet and fresh.

The scientific principle is: The steam arising from whatever is confined in the Baker and Roaster is absorbed again into the food and acts as a basting, and in doing so makes the food more juicy, rich and tender. As there is no evaporation, no drying up or burning, there will consequently be no shrinkage or waste—this will often result in a saving of more than one-fourth the food—a saving sufficient to pay for the Baker many times over during the year, to say nothing of making the food more palatable and nutritious.

Baking Cabinet.

THIS is a new idea, of which we have sole control. It is really necessary to a thrifty house-keeper—the most useful piece of furniture ever put together.

The above cut gives an idea of its utility—closed, it looks like a secretaire. The front sloping flap falls down on the two arms which pull out on either side of the cabinet, and forms the bake board, in front of which you see several drawers. The top centre one is divided into six partitions for spices, and the flap which is open in the centre at back of bake-board is for dipping down into flour bin, which is the big top drawer of cabinet, below which are three other drawers which may be used for either meals or groceries. In a few words it carries out the grand idea of "A place for everything, and everything in its place."

This cabinet is as well made and finished (except for ornaments) as any sideboard. The case is of hardwood, and the interior made of the best basswood, finely finished.

The price is $8.00, a grand investment for any and every housekeeper.

Refrigerators.

These are strongly made of hardwood, artistically panelled, lined with galvanized iron, fitted with patent refrigerator locks and finished in the natural wood, making an exceedingly handsome appearance; are very economical in use of ice, being tapped at drip pipe to prevent ingress of warm air, and have met with every approbation by users. $9 and upward.

Vases and Ornaments.

It would be impossible for us to describe our display of these beautiful goods, so suitable for presents on all occasions. One reason is, the stock is always changing. As the stock decreases, so it is filled up with the latest and best designs and shapes. You can see here numerous specimens from such renowned factories as Doulton's, Minton's and the famous Haviland. The prices on these goods, of necessity, are high; but we have got them down to dry goods profits, and that must mean a great saving to purchasers.

Then we have thousands of vases which, though they do not bear the trade mark of the above-mentioned factories, yet are so beautiful in design and decoration as to vie with those celebrated makes in their beauty. The following are a few lines:

Royal Chelsea vases, Royal York decoration, 75c to $3.50 each.
 Royal Chelsea vases, decorated flowers, lined out gold, $1.00 to 15.00 each.

Baby Carriages.

THIS line of goods has always drawn our special energy and ideas, the result of which was an enormous turnout of these very necessary and beautiful goods last year—a turnout that was never before known in Canada, but we are opening out this season feeling that it shall not remain a record, for we have a lot of new patterns, and we intend giving better value in the way of finish to the carriages, and prices are lower; i.e., better value is given for the price paid. Our space is too limited to mention but a few lines.

The average weight of our carriages when crated for shipment is fifty pounds. We make no charge for crating carriages.

Chenille Portieres and Heavy Curtains.

THE large variety of patterns and colors we carry in Chenille Curtains, prevents us from enumerating but a few, which gives only a faint idea of the immense assortment we show in these goods. Although every effort has been made to procure the finest fabrics in the market, and the most careful discrimination has been exercised in the selection of our styles and colors, we have by no means neglected the element known as "Popular Goods at Popular Prices." When ordering curtains please state whether for folding or single doors, and also the predominating tints in the furnishings of the room, which will enable us to select harmonizing colors.

Carpet Department.

THE question of home adornment will engage the earnest attention of every wise housekeeper. No ambitious person will be satisfied to let spring come and go without making some changes, some improvements. Why not think about it now, look at goods, compare qualities, watch colors and blend the whole in one harmonious reality? Carpets are things one has to live with. How important then that they be agreeable comforts.

Extensive buying in carpets gives us power. Direct dealing with leading manufacturers insures to our trade the newer, better styles. We've been long enough in the business to know when and where to get none but the best.

Take account of linoleums, oilcloths and all the cheaper reliable grades together with luxurious carpets, and it makes the stock admitted and admired on all sides. And aren't you glad to know that we guarantee every yard to be as good as represented.

Directions for Measuring.

Parties sending plans by mail should follow these general directions for measuring: Draw a complete diagram of the rooms or spaces to be carpeted, as nearly correct in shape and proportions as possible.

Measure with a rule or yard stick in preference to a tape line, and state dimensions in feet and inches.

Measure from the straight side, and give length and depth of all windows, doors and other recesses, jogs, etc., separately; also extreme length and extreme breadth, to prove correctness of the shorter measures.

In measuring bay windows, the diagram should be accurate, with depth, width and length of beveled sides exactly stated.

If a room be narrower at one end or side than at the other, give the two measures from opposite corners diagonally.

When several connecting rooms or spaces are to be carpeted with the same pattern, more detailed measures should be taken, and all passages and doorways fully shown.

Measures for bordered carpets should be very exact.

Indicate front of house on diagram of each floor, and the direction you wish pattern to run by the figure of an arrow.

Measure stairs on the wall side, giving the entire length, with half a yard added for slips. Wide steps at bottom can be mentioned separately.

Wall Papers.

Directions for Measuring a Room for Wall Paper.

Add together number of feet around the room, then multiply by height, deduct 20 feet for each door and window (if room is wainscotted deduct 10 feet for each door and window), and divide by 30 for brown papers, 33 for white, gold and embossed, 40 for English sanitary, and 50 for 30 inch Ingrains, which will give the number of single rolls required. For ceilings multiply length by width, and divide as above.

Furniture Department.

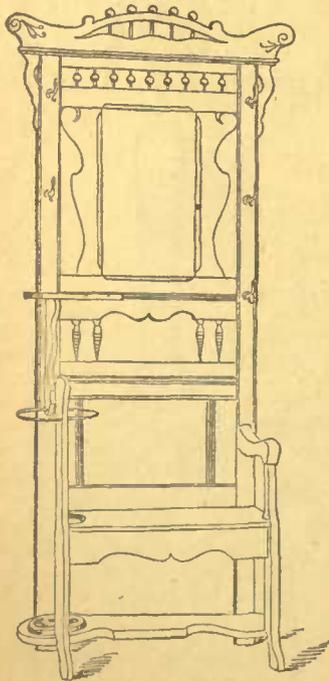

THE topic is house-furnishing; the text, furniture; the application, this stock; the emphasis, low prices. It is encouraging to watch the growing tendency to larger home comfort, and gratifying to assist in the general up-building of home life. A store cannot be sincere in the interests of its customers without enlarging the possibilities of ready money, and the consequent improvement of general conditions. Life is broader, deeper, richer to-day than it ever was, thanks to progressive retailing and progressive manufacturing.

Yes! furniture is here, and other stocks outside the realm of dry goods. Good furniture, made strong and stylish enough to sustain our reputation for first-class merchandise. The temptation is the other way. Everything nowadays must be cheap. But weakness at any point here would prove fatal to the entire business. Worthless goods are out of the question. Goodness and cheapness must go hand in hand.

The design of this series is to include no books except such as are peculiarly adapted by their high tone, pure taste, and thorough principle to be read by those persons, young and old, who look upon books as upon their friends—only worthy to be received into the family circle for their good qualities and excellent characters. In view of this design, no author whose name is not a guarantee of the real worth and purity of his or her work, or whose book has not been subjected to a rigid examination, will be admitted into the "Lily Series."

McBride's All Kinds of Dialogues.

These Dialogues fully bear out their title in the diversity of subjects which they present, and at the same time provide excellent practice for the exercise of such dramatic possibilities as may exist in young folks of ten to sixteen years, and even in persons of still older growth. By H. Elliott McBride.

They are all well adapted for School Exhibitions and other Juvenile Entertainments.

Paper binding 25c, postage paid.

Holmes' Very Little Dialogues for Very Little Folks.

Containing forty-seven new and original Dialogues, with short and easy parts, almost entirely in words of one syllable, suited to the capacity and comprehension of very young children, from four to ten years of age. By ALICE HOLMES. The Dialogues embrace subjects which are easily understood by small children, expressed in their own quaint and cunning style of talk, and infantile ideas.

Paper binding 25c, postage paid.

Dick's Comic Dialogues. A collection of easy and very effective dramatic Dialogues, bright, witty, and full of droll "situations."

Some of these Dialogues introduce French, Irish, Darkey, and other Dialect characters, and are all specially adapted for Parlor performance by young people from fourteen years of age and older, and are calculated to develop dramatic talent with the least possible difficulties attending scenic arrangement and costumes.

Paper binding 25c, postage paid.

Kavanaugh's Comic Dialogues. Containing a varied selection of original and very amusing short and easy Recitations and Dialogues, within the capacity of children from seven to ten years of age. By MRS. RUSSELL KAVANAUGH. They are specially designed for Sunday-school and other Exhibitions, and include appropriate matter for Christmas, May, and similar festival occasions. Small children will find no difficulty in learning the Pieces.

A CHAIN OF STORES

A VILLAGE of busy people, all under one roof, including over

1,200 Employees

AN Organization representing Half a Hundred Different Departments, each complete in itself, making a perfect "Chain of Stores."

AMONG OTHERS WE MENTION

The Book Store.

All kinds of Books at dry-goods prices, including standard works in complete assortment and new books fast as issued. All prices marked in plain figures. No fancy profits.

The Clothing Store.

Tailor-made Clothing, in all sizes and styles, for men and boys, ready-to-wear. Stylish as possible; reliable beyond question; positively the lowest prices of any store.

The Housefurnishing Store.

Everything needed in the home, whether Carpets, Curtains, Furniture, Pictures or Wall Papers. All the comforts of home and less to pay than anywhere.

The Crockery Store.

A great big basement filled with the newest and best styles in Crockery, Glassware and Kitchen Utensils, bought direct from the makers, to sell at dry-goods prices.

The Bicycle Store.

Direct importations of first-class Bicycles and general Sporting Goods, with all intermediate profits saved in the buying, and such selling prices as will tie your trade to us.

The General Store.

Things that usually sell in a drug store, such as Patent Medicines. Things that always sell in a grocery store, such as Teas and Coffees. Things of every sort that you seem to want, at our prices.

The Dry Goods Store.

Everything that a self-respecting dry goods store should keep, including Mantles and Millinery. Sending buyers to Europe continually keeps us in close touch with the leading fashion centres.

The Shoe Store.

A complete assortment of leading Canadian and American Shoes, for men, women and children, all sizes and styles. We miss nothing for which there is a demand.
