

THE WORLD TURNED UPSIDE DOWN.

LONDON AND OTLEY :
WILLIAM WALKER AND SONS.

GOOSE STEALS THE FOX.

And now, with wondering eyes, we see
The goose his captor mocks:
When Reynard comes to steal the goose,
Miss Goosey steals the Fox.

SHEEP TURNED SHEPHERD

The Shepherd used to watch his sheep,
But now it is not so:
The Sheep turns shepherd o'er
the men,
Driving them to and fro.

ASS GOING TO MARKET

But who can keep from laughing now?

Behold! the stupid Ass
First drives his master to the town,
Then home again they pass.

DOG AND CAT.

Greater wonders have we here
For lo ! the cat and dog
Have hired a boat to have a ride,
And o'er the waters jog.

OLD AND GRANDFATHER

The world's turned upside down, you see,

For here the little boy
Has got his grandpapa in strings,
And leads him like a toy.

HORSE BECOME RIDER.

Resolved to try a novel
scheme,
The Horse has turned the tables ;
and first he rides his owner
out,
Then puts him in the stables

BIRD TURNED SPORTSMAN.

Here we have another change,
For lo ! the Bird began To wander in the woods and fields,
Shooting both dog and man.

RABBIT TURNED COOK.

Our servants roasted rabbits
once,
Hanging them on hooks,
But in the picture, you perceive,
Rabbits roast their cooks.
