MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

“TORONTO signifies, in Indian language, a place of meeting. And it is not improbable that the spot once called Little York, now the City of Toronto, was a chosen spot for the Courts and Councils, or rather the Council Fires, of the “Aborigines.”

The city of Toronto, formerly called the town of Little York, was incorporated under the Act 4th Wm. IV. chap. 23, passed by the Legislature of Upper Canada, 6th March, 1834, intituled “An Act to extend the limits of the town of York, “to erect the said town into a city, and to incorporate it “under the name of The City of Toronto.”

* The reasons for incorporating the town of York, and altering its name, are recited in the preamble.

The 1st clause repeals all such acts, and portions of acts likely to interfere with the operations of this act, so far as they relate to th city of Toronto.

2nd. Limits of the city and liberties, commencing at the distance of one chain, on a course south 16 degrees east, from the south-westerly corner of lot No. 2, in the 1st concession from the bay, in the township of York; thence southerly, in the direction of the side-line between lots 2 and 3 in that concession, to the distance of 500 feet from the point at which the said line intersects the margin of the water on the shore of lake Ontario; thence westerly through the waters of lake Ontario, following the curvatures of the shore and keeping always 500 feet from the margin of the water, till the point is attained, that is 500 feet from the north-westernmost point of the peninsula forming the harbor; then across the water to a point where a line drawn southerly from the north-easterly corner of Park lot No. 29, in the direction of the easterly boundary line of the said Park lot, intersects the margin of the water on the shore of lake Ontario; thence northerly along the said line so drawn, to the allowance for road between the Park lots and the 2nd concession from the bay; thence easterly along the said north side of the allowance for road to the easterly shore or waters edge of the river Don; thence southerly along the easterly edge of the river Don to the point where the waters edge intersects the southerly side of the allowance for road in front of the first concession; thence easterly along the south side of the said allowance for road in front of the said first concession to the place of beginning, except the lands that have been conveyed to the University of King’s College.

* The entire act would occupy too much space in a work of this nature, it is therefore here presented in a condensed form.

3rd. Limits of the City, commencing at the distance of 1 chain on a course north 74 degrees east from the south east angle of Park lot No. 3, in the township of York ; thence south 16 degrees east upon a continuation of the allowance for road between Park lots Nos. 2 and 3 to the waters edge of the bay in front of the town of York ; thence westerly along the waters edge of the said bay to the point at which the westerly limit of the allowance for road between Park lots Nos. 18 and 19 in the said township of York being produced southerly intersects the said waters edge ; thence northerly in the direction of the said westerly limit of the said allowance for road to the distance of 400 yards north of the northerly boundary line of Lot Street ; thence easterly parallel to Lot Street to the easterly boundary line of the allowance for road between Park lots Nos. 2 and 3, thence south 16 degrees east along the easterly boundary line of the said allowance for road 400 yards more or less to the place of beginning ; and that the said city be divided into five wards, to be called respectively St. George's, St. Patrick's, St. Andrew's, St. David's, and St. Lawrence.

When Bouchette, the Surveyor General, under the orders of Governor Simcoe, then residing at Niagara, surveyed, in 1793, York harbor; the scite of Toronto was a covey for wild fowl. Two Missisauga families were the only inhabitants; and when the Governor paid a visit in the following summer to determine on the future Capital of Upper Canada, his residence was a canvas-covered dwelling. The census of the city in the year of its incorporation (1834) was 9,254, and last year it had increased to 15,436, while this year it is estimated that it will be between 17, and 18,000, so that it has nearly doubled its population in the short space of nine years. It now contains several Banking, Insurance, and other Companies, churches, and chapels &c., a college and university, most excellent markets supplied with the best of meat and vegetables at very cheap rates. The streets are spacious and well laid out, intersecting each other at right angles, are well lighted with gas, and before the expiration of this year every house can be supplied with the purest water from the water-works now nearly completed.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

A Letter with one enclosure is double ; and with two or more, if it does not weigh an ounce, is treble. Letters weighing an ounce are chargeable with four single rates ; and for each quarter of an ounce above that weight, a single rate is charged.

Letters mailed for the United States must be paid to the lines, and those intended for Europe via New York or Boston, must be paid to those places respectively.

The postage on letters intended for England to go by the Halifax Steamers, can be paid or not, at the option of the sender ; due notice is always given at the Post Office, and in the public Papers, of the time of closing the mail by these steamers. The mail for them that goes by way of Boston, (and on which the postage to Boston must be paid,) is in general made up about a week after that which goes by Halifax.

Newspapers, Magazines, and other Printed Papers not subject to letter postage, must be paid at the time of mailing at the rate of one penny per sheet, or for every 16 pages ; otherwise they will be charged full letter postage.

Newspapers published in the Colony can be sent to Great Britain either by way of Halifax, Boston, or New York ; by Halifax they are free of postage if sent within seven days from the date of publication,—by New York, or Boston, the sender must pay two pence on each paper. It is recommended that the name and address of the party for whom they are intended should be written on the margin of the Paper as well as on the wrapper or cover in which they are enclosed ; this ensures their delivery in case of the cover becoming destroyed ; but it is to be particularly observed that newspapers intended to go free via Halifax, must have no mark, initials, or date on the directions, but the address merely, or they will be chargeable with full letter postage.
