Let us go and have a nice walk
I shall be ready to go very soon
I will give you a singing thrush
Did you ever see a wild pigeon
Let us get ready to go to church
Are you going off by the train
Let us go and see your pony

TRAP AND BALL.

Do not ride in that dirty old cart
I saw a hawk catch a little bird
There will be a storm very soon What a fine sunny day it is Come and look at my white cat
John, look at this pretty picture
Will you come with me to school

Go to bed. It is late. Give me my cap. Go to sleep. Good night. It is time to rise. Get up. Dress yourself. Wash and comb. Take a walk. Now sit still. Read your book.

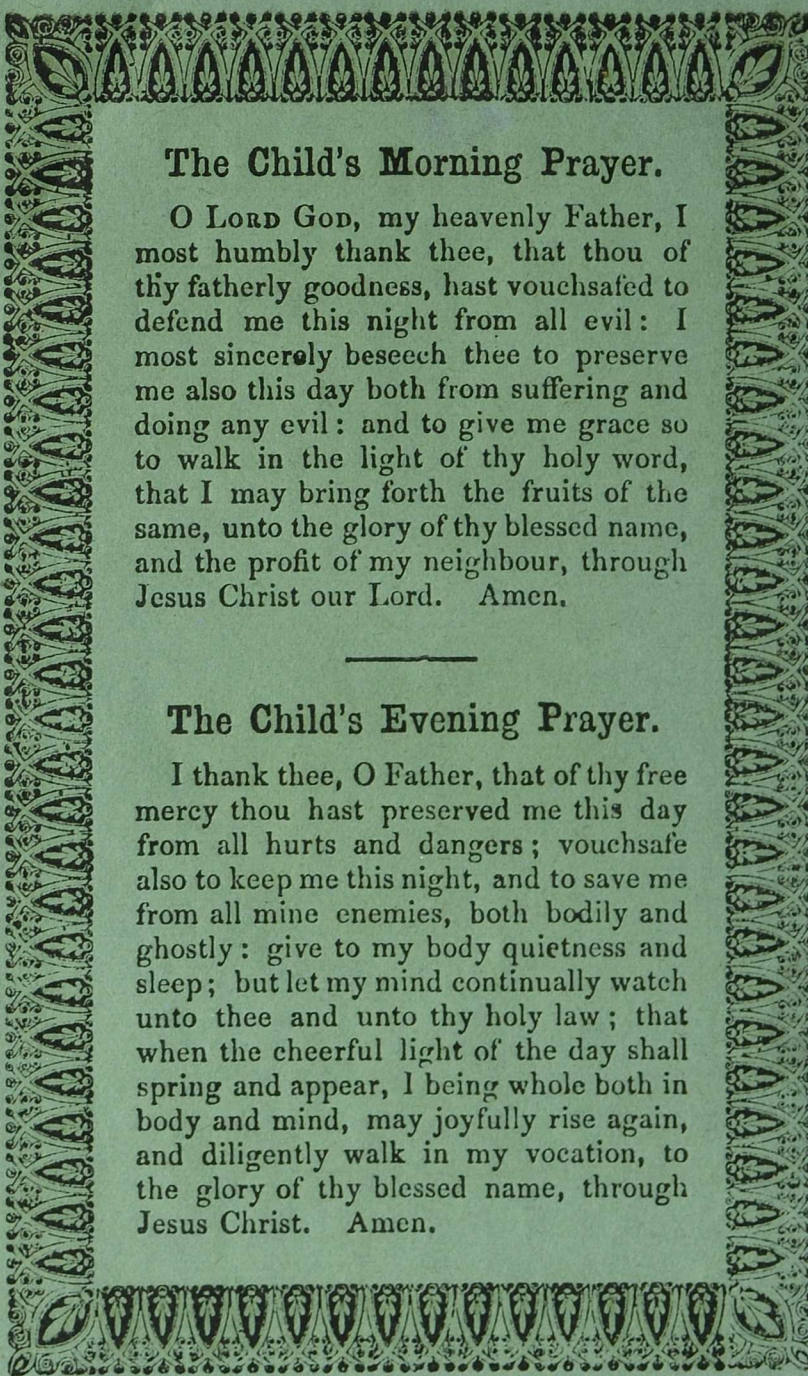

DUCK.

Learn your task. Go to play. Where will you go. What shall we do. It is cold, It is warm. What is your name. What do you do. Let us run a race. Let us take a walk. Sit down here.

The first thing I noticed was a strong sense of direction. I felt as if I were being led by an invisible hand. The atmosphere was serene and peaceful.
I had never before experienced such a sense of calm and well-being. It was as if I had found a new world, a place where I could truly
relax and let go of all my worries and troubles. The scenery was breathtaking, and the people were friendly and welcoming. I felt like I had found a home.
I had found a place where I could truly
be myself.

The Child's Morning Prayer.

O LORD God, my heavenly Father, I most humbly thank thee, that thou of thy fatherly goodness, hast vouchsafed to defend me this night from all evil: I most sincerely beseech thee to preserve me also this day both from suffering and doing any evil: and to give me grace so to walk in the light of thy holy word, that I may bring forth the fruits of the same, unto the glory of thy blessed name, and the profit of my neighbour, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Child's Evening Prayer.

I thank thee, O Father, that of thy free mercy thou hast preserved me this day from all hurts and dangers; vouchsafe also to keep me this night, and to save me from all mine enemies, both bodily and ghostly: give to my body quietness and sleep; but let my mind continually watch unto thee and unto thy holy law; that when the cheerful light of the day shall spring and appear, I being whole both in body and mind, may joyfully rise again, and diligently walk in my vocation, to the glory of thy blessed name, through Jesus Christ. Amen.
