THE NEW "REVOLUTIONARY" PRESSURE ON THE ALLIED POWERS IS DICTATED BY THE MOSCOW LABOR FAKERS, IN THE INTERESTS OF THE STALIN-HITLER PACT

TORONTO: Canadian anti-war fighters may well be a little bewildered by the speed with which the ex-Communist Party of Canada has reversed its pelicy, begun speaking in "revolutionary" phrases, and met repressions by the capitalist state. Sincere fighters against the criminal war between robbar empires must ask themselves why, two months after its outbreak, these Stalinists belatedly reat their breasts, and denounce the Allies and the war. Their first ardent support of the"democracies"in the "just war against fascist aggression" is withdrawn. dropped like a hot potato. Some may wonder if the Communist Party is at last keeping a secret promise, so often hinted at by the leaders in the inner circles of the party, that, when" the crisis" came, they would let go full blast tee sent out its first press release on with the Leninist program of social revolution? interial bloc, that of Ancies

--- NEW TURN DICTATED BY STALIN ---

To accept the latest propaganda twist of the Stalinists at its face value would be a grave error. One has but to study the files of the Clarion since war broke out; to realize that the CP of C is merely parrotting its sister parties of the ex-Communist International. Throughout all its apparent inconsistencies, the CP. is consistent only in its role of foreign agency of the Kremlin crew of labour fakers.

The pivot of the new turn was the Stalin Hitler pact, which was a thundercolt to Stalins own parties abroad, and for a few days. left them speechless. But the alibi machine was soon oiled up again; One day after Hitler invaded Poland, Tim Buck was spinning a fine web of apology about the pact, hailing it as a tremendous blow for peace "which would weaken the aggressor and prevent war".

A CONTENDIT LE PRAUD -- NOT A MISTAKE

In its recent "Peace" leaflet, the Communist Party of Canada indulge in some spurious self-criticism, stating it was "mistaken in the first weeks of the war in creating the illusion that this could be made a different kind of war". These opportunist illusions, the leaflet contin ues, "could only help the capitalists to effecte the confusion necessary for them to carry through their imperialist aims against the people".

On The Bandwagon Of "Democratic" Imperialism. But the collective security line of the Comintern that led at first to its support of this 'different kind-of war" was no mistake. elique that rules Russia was trying to line up the so-called democracies behind it in order to maintain itself in power. That is why the Soviet clique ordered the national sections of the Comintern to woo their capit alist governments, to give up the class struggle for Socialism and in it place tie themselves up with such bees politicians as Herridge or King. The ber scarats in the Seviet Union sold out the international revolutio in the nope of vinning support of one imperial bloc, that of Anglo-French conitalism.

The sale victors in this strange love-match were the English and French bosses; the Stalinsits everywhere exhorted the workers to act res pectable and support boss parties. Stalin had tied the workers down to one imperialist camp in the vain hope that his services would be recognised in the form of an alliance with this capitalist bloc.

Handspring Over To Fascist Imperialists. The Stalin-Hitler pack signified that Stalin had switched his allogiance from the "democratic" to the fascist imperialist gang. He had never really believed in all that both of at ileological war between "democracy" and fascism. to the Stalinazi pact, the CP had soft pedalled on its criticism of the democrusics, today in obedience to the demands of their new ally they tone down their criticism of Hitlerism.

This now fake turn to the left is nothing more than a means of aiding Hitler. Instead of wooing the democracios the task of the various sections of the Communist Party, tools in the hands of the Soviet clique, lies in embarrassing the "democracies" This is why the Stalinists condemned the Allies for not accepting Hitler's peace overtures based on his own terms

A Workers' Peace

The workers and farmers want peace but not on Hitler's terms; nor for the matter on the conditions that the Allies would lay down. They want a peace that they themselves will impose on the capitalist' slavedrivers of both imperialist camps; a peace that can be brought about only by the socialist revolution.

The Communist Party is just as incapable today of paving the way (Concluded - page 4, col.2)

That is why the demand of CCF Alderman Atkin son of Windsor, and certain conservative trade unionists, to suppress the CP of C must be condemned.

The Socialist Workers League denounces the Kremlin's attempt to use the militant'anti-warrsentiment of labour as a pawn in Stalin's chess game with the imperialists of both camps, Allied and German, in turn. Let no one be fooled by the fake left turn of the Communist Party.

THE INVASION OF FINLAND

As we write, the invasion of Finland by the armies of the Soviet: Union continues and it is impossible to foretell the conclusion of this new adventure of the Kremlin clique. To revolutionary socialists: however, the issues at stake are clear,

Logical Outcome of

Foreign Policy The attack on Finland flows logically from the previous policies of Stalin that we have always condemned. All thru the opular Front period of the Kremlin's foreign policy we pointed out that Stalin's courtship of the "democracies" must inevitably end in a flasco. The Communist Parties every: self from any future imperialist where were employed as tools of the: ruling classes. In France the Stal -: inist inspired popular front succeeded in braking a revolutionary upsurge that threatened to sweep the bosses into the garbage pile.

On the very eve of the crisis cracies" Stalin hurwiedly lined himself up with the destinies of the opposite imperialist gang and signed a pact with Hitler. In his: invoterate bureaucratic style this : new move was perpetrated without so: much as a friendly warning to the various sections of the Communist International, much less on their advice. Thus the American Daily Worker was innocently able to denounce the official news of the Stalin-Hitler pact as a Trotsyist lie --- until master Stalin sent the word along to the U.S. that the pact was a fact.

Stalin Ignores

Working Class The common element to be found: in Stalin's flirtations with both of the imperialist camps is his complete ignoring of the third camp: --- the comp of the international working class. All the steps that : that the rulers in Moscow have taken show their feer of relying on the workers of the world to defend the Soviet Union, A percesitic caste existing on the backs of the workers of the Soviet Union can no more trust ito fite to the hands of the interpational prolotarist ... then it can to the workers of Russia It depends on the might of the GPU. the army and bureaucratic manquevers behind the backs of the workers.

The Stalinist clique finds itself caught in its own meshes. Fearing, as it does, to place its safekeeping in the hands of the workers, it nevertheless distrusts its new ally, Hitler. The clique realizes full well that the Pact will become a scrap of paper the moment it pleases Hitler to launch an attack against the SovietUnion. Stalin therefore is forced to engage in military adventures to protect himinvasion.

This is the key to the whole war in Finland. If Stalin had looked to the workers to defend the Soviet Union by revolutions in the more advanced countries, the present military campaign against Finland that culminated in the war, con- would never have been necessary. In vinced of the perfidy of the "demo-: a frenzy of despair, unable by the very nature of his regime to look to the workers for protection and suspicious of the good intentions of Hitler, Stalin uses the only weapons at the disposal of a dictator --- the army and police. Viewing the invasion of Finland in this light we can easily understand that it was merely a logical continuation of the policies that the Kremlin clique has been pursuing for more than a decade.

Invesion of Finland

Bureaucratic We are opposed to the invasion of Finland just as we condemn every other bureaucratic move that the rulers of Moscow set in motion. Neither the international proletariat nor the workers of the Soviet Union were consulted. The whole working class movement on the contrary was disoriented and thrown into confusion. Instead of explaining the invesion to the workers of the world as a military necessity for the protection of the Soviet Union and rather than call on the (contid on page 6)

(cont'd from page 5) workers of Finland to rise up and overthrow their own capitalist masters -- both of which steps were taken by Lenin and Trotsky when the: revolutionary armies invaded Georg-: in and Poland after the October revolution-Stalin merely exhorts the Finnish workers to ... overthrow their Premier!(sic) Stalin fears a workers revolution in Finland just : as much as he does Hitler, A rev- : olution in Finland would infuse new: blood into the workers of the Soviet Union, give them fresh courage to put an end to the Stalinist rule of terror. Caught in a trap. Stalin can offer the Finnish : workers only a "democratic republic: that promises to introduce progressive land reforms etc.

Stalin Alienates Workers Since the Stalinist clique must refrain from moving the Pinnish workers to revolution and could not offer the workers a real : explanation for the invasion. Stalin employed an old expedient: patent lies, the most facile weap- : ized a war by determining who is on of a degenerating bureaucracy. ufactured or magnified until the "honor" of the Soviet Union lay at : with Finland does not change the ized the hollowness of his claims the very moment he put them forward: against the Soviet Union. As this his tactic differed from that of Hitler only in their more glaring crudeness. The direct result of these fraudulent explanations for the invasion was to alienate the workers of. Finland and to rally them around the Finnish capitalists: Forced by the very nature of his rule to use totalitarian tactics. Stalin at the same time lost the only ally that he might have had in: workers to overthrow the Kremlin

War Is Against

Soviet Union Opposed as we are to the invasion of Finland in this bureaucratic fashion, revolutionary soc- : ialists must still make a Marxist analysis of the situation as it Soviet Union and Finland takes on the character of an imperialist war: cracy perverts the militaricy of the against the U.S.S.R. No one can Believe that Finland would dare to have resisted the Red Army without the reassuring support of one bloc of imperialists, in this case Britain and France. In actual fact we must recognise that the fight the Finnish bourgeoisie is wagin against the Soviet Union represents the initial, as yet tentative, move of the imperialist powers a ainst the victory won in the October Revolution. The nature of the attacks launched in the censored press indicates only too clearly what the war-lords have in mind. As Chemberlain informed the House of Commons on Nov.28: "None of us know how long this war will last, in what direction it will develope or when it is ended, who will be standing at our side and who against us. This is a clear sign that Chamber-: lain does not place as a remote possibility a realignment of forces that would see the Soviet Union on one side and all the large capital-1st powers on the other.

Marxists have never characterthe "aggressor": the mere fact that Socalled border incidents were man-: the Soviet Union Launched the init-: ial military offensive in this war stake. Even Stalin must have real-: nature of the war in the slightest. : It is basically a capitalist war war developes it may give the Allie an opportunity to come to terms with Germany, on condition that a general offensive be launched by both Germany and the Allies against : the Soviet Union.

THE WAR NOBODY WANTS

* organ of revolutionary * Marxism, November 1939 When We Reflect on the puzzlement, and  even impatience, of very many persons that the second world war, in its first seven weeks, failed to get really going, we should begin by noting what has neverthehappened: One nation, of 36,000,000 inhabitants, has been wiped off the map. Three others have been reduced to satellites, provinces even, of a greater power. According to some estimates, the destruction of building railroads, highways, tilled fields, and so on, has equalled that of the western campaign during the entire four years of the first world war. The loss in ships has been at a rate above anything reached in the first world war until February, 1917. There have been, at a minimum, several hundred thousand casualties. To regard all this as merely a preliminary by-play is simply indirect recognition of the universal understanding that this new war is the most terrible event in the history of humanity, compared to which the first world war was not much more than a dress rehecroal.
