NOTICES BY THE PRESS.

The Canada Railway and Steam Navigation Guide.—The first number of a new monthly periodical, bearing the above title, has reached us. It is precisely what it purports to be, and we regard it as the best publication of the kind ever attempted in this Province. No traveller on Canadian Railways or steamboats should be without it; in fact it is a vade mecum for everybody, and contains a large amount of valuable information. The price is only 7½.—Hamilton Spectator.

"The Canada Railway and Steam Navigation Guide.—This is the title of a new monthly publication, the first number of which is before us. Such a work has been long wanted in Canada, and we trust that it will receive that support which will enable the publishers to carry it on successfully. It is a valuable book for every traveller to possess, containing, as it does, the time and fare of every railway now open in Canada, duration of transit, and all matters connected with railway and steam travelling, with a great variety of general information useful to the public. It is published (revised and corrected) on the first of every month, and may be had of Thomas Coombe & Co., price 7½.—Middlesex Prototype.

The Canada Monthly General Railway and Steam Navigation Guide.—Such is the name of a very useful monthly publication, got up in Toronto, corresponding to Bradshaws English Railway Guide. The very low price of 12 cents, and the very great want of such a companion to the travelling public, will we trust ensure its support, and reward the enterprising publishers. To be had at Thomas Coombe, & Co., Dundas Street, London.—Herald.

We have received the first number of the Canada Railway and Steam Navigation Guide. It is a small book price 12 cents, after the plan of the English Bradshaw. It contains Railway time-tables, and much information concerning the towns and villages on the various lines. It is a complete travellers vade mecum which no traveller should be without.—Bramford Herald.

The Canada Railway and Steam Navigation Guide will be sold to tens of thousands, being an indispensable requisite to travellers whether on business or pleasure. The arrangement is excellent and the topographical information interesting, our town receives a favorable notice:—Bramford Expositor.

This valuable little book will prove of invaluable service to commercial men and travellers generally.—London Free Press.

It contains all requisite information for travellers, with a large variety of local general and valuable information. It is neatly printed in pocket form, and most prove a highly useful and interesting companion.—Windsor Herald.

TOPOGRAPHICAL NOTICES.

Niagara Falls Suspension Bridge.—The Great Western Railway commences at this celebrated Bridge, built by Roblin for the especial purpose of railway transit. We here only give a brief statistical account of this stupendous work of art, and will venture but a rough outline of the yet more stupendous work of nature, the Falls of Niagara close by.

The magnificent hanging bridge by which Niagara is spanned for the two-fold purpose of a railroad and a common roadway, one above the other was completed and opened to the public in October 1855, the length of span is 822 feet, its height above the water is 255 feet, it is capable of sustaining the enormous weight of 18,720 tons, yet the ordinary weight of a full passenger train is only about 200 tons! Its elegance and solidity reflect the greatest credit on the Engineer, Mr. Roblin.

Niagara Falls.—or as the Indians term it, O-ni-au-ga-rah, "The Thunder of Water," are situate on the Niagara River, which commences at Lake Erie, and discharges the waters of the great upper lakes, Superior, Michigan, Huron, and Erie, which contain nearly half the fresh water on the surface of the globe, into Lake Ontario. Niagara River, as it flows from Lake Erie, is about three-fourths of a mile wide, and has for three miles a rapid current, and then becomes smooth and placid till within one mile of the Falls. In its course, the river embraces numerous islands, among them Navy Island, famous during the Canadian Rebellion, in 1837, having been for a time occupied by the insurgents, headed by William L. McKenzie. A mile above the Falls commence the Rapids, which have a descent of about 57 feet, forming white crested breakers and a dashing and foaming torrent. The whole mighty river comes rushing over the brow of a hill, and as you look up it seems coming down to overwhelm you, and so it rushes on; whirling, boiling, dancing, sparkling along with a fearful impatience, rather than overwhelming fury; rejoicing as if escaped from bondage rather than raging in angry might—wildly, magnificently beautiful! The confusion is appalling; but as delirium often leaves the human patient just before his death, so does this water previous to its fall completely recover its tranquil character, and thus for the last hundred yards it approaches its fate with that dignity, serenity, and resignation which attend it to the very edge of the Cataract, and which faithfully accompany it in its descent. An able writer and great traveller remarks, that "the four grandest and most magnificent natural phenomena which it has been my lot to observe have been, Mount Etna in a state of eruption; the glaciers of Switzerland; a thunder storm in the Indian Ocean, and the Falls of Niagara; but in my opinion the last is by many degrees the most sublime and awfully grand of all four."

The height of the fall is 160 feet, and it is estimated that more than a hundred millions of tons of water per hour are precipitated into the confused cauldron beneath, with a solemn and tremendous roar, ordinarily heard from 5 to 20 miles, but has in some instances been heard at Toronto, 45 miles distant; and yet at the City on the American shore, near the Cataract, there is little to give notice of its awful proximity.

The distance around the Horse Shoe Fall, on the Canada side, is 144 rods; directly across is 74 rods. Goat Island divides the river into two parts, and forms the American Fall, which, though sublime, inclines to the beautiful; while the Canada Fall, though beautiful, is characterized by an overpowering sublimity.

The number of visitors at the Falls is said to be about 40,000 annually, and the number is increasing. While curiosity constitutes an attribute of the human character, these Falls will be frequented by admiring and delighted visitors, as one of the grandest exhibitions of nature. The fashionable, the opulent, and the learned here congregate in the summer season from the principal cities in the country, from the Southern and Western States, South America, the West Indies, the Canadas, and various parts of Europe, and, indeed, from all parts of the civilized world. An American poetess has well said of Niagara :

“Flow on for ever, in thy glorious robe
Of terror and of beauty! God hath set
His rainbow on thy forehead, and the cloud
Mantles around thy feet. And he doth give Thee voice of thunder—power to speak of Him
Eternally—bidding the lip of man
Keep silence, and upon the rocky altar pour
Incense of awe-stricken praise.”

There are good hotels on both sides of the river, but the Clifton House, on the Canada side, commands the best views; and the grounds adjoining being laid out with such exquisite taste attract to this hotel visitors in search of either health or pleasure.

St. Catherines—is a town of great business, situated on the Welland Canal, that great work which connects Erie and Ontario. Many of the public buildings are of cut stone, and are exceedingly handsome. Its principal business street, however, is very ill-planned, and detracts much from the appearance of the place. The water-power is considerable, and works numerous mills for the manufacture of flour, the staple trade of St. Catherines. Hotel accommodation, until recently, has been very poor. The opening of the Stevenson House, however, in connexion with the Baths, and the Welland Hotel, has worked a great improvement in this respect, and there are few places where the man of business or the invalid is better cared for than at this, the Saratoga of Canada.

Grimsby—is situated on Forty Mile Creek, the scene of some fighting during the last American War. It is a small village of 300 inhabitants; there are two churches, grist and saw mills, brewery, &c.

Hamilton—Population 25,000—has good claim to the title of “The Ambitious City.” But twenty years ago, there were only as many shanties where now may be seen stately mansions—built of enduring stone, tenanted by its merchant princes—extensive warehouses, magnificent public buildings, and all that denotes a populous and wealthy place. It numbers five banking establishments, two Episcopal, two Presbyterian, one Free, and five Methodist churches; a Mechanics’ Hall, school-house, news-room, and an hospital. It possesses, in Burlington Bay, formed by that very remarkable tongue or slip of land which divides it from Lake Ontario, one of the finest and most secure harbours in British North America—the secret of its great trade and commerce. The Hotels are, Davidson’s and Norton’s, both excellent. The Anglo-American, a superb structure just opened, bids fair to be the best, as it is the largest, in Western Canada; and “The Florence,” also a new and well-appointed Hotel.

Dundas—Population 4,000—is situated on rising ground on the side of the mountain, and is a thriving manufacturing place, having the advantage of a stream, which flows or rather rushes with great impetuosity through its centre, working on its way numerous mills. There is a Canal from hence to Burlington Bay, enabling the manufacturers to ship their goods at their own doors. Amongst the manufactories are flouring-mills, a paper-mill, a foundry, which is an extensive establishment, where machinery of every kind and steam-engines are made to a large extent; an axe-factory, a woollen-factory, two newspapers, and numerous places of worship.

Fairchild's Creek—The station of the Galt Branch of the Great Western Railway.

Paris, with the Upper and Lower Town, contains about 3,000 inhabitants; so called from its contiguity to beds of gypsum or plaster of Paris. It possesses a considerable amount of water-power, which works numerous mills. There are two foundries, a tannery, machine shop, distillery, saw-mill, &c. There is a comfortable hotel, "Barry's," at the station; and although in the town, half a mile from the station, the accommodation for travellers has been on a very low scale, it can now boast of an hotel, "Westring's," second to none in Canada. The Buffalo and Lake Huron Railway intersects the Great Western at this point.

Princeton is a small but rapidly rising village, containing about 400 inhabitants. It has one good hotel close to the station; the rest are badly kept.

Woodstock, a county town, well situated on rolling ground, is only of twenty years' standing, and contains about 3,000 inhabitants. It may be called a town of magnificent distances; east and west Woodstock forming a street upwards of a mile in length. The vacant spaces, however, are fast being filled up with stately edifices, and it will thus in a short time become one of the handsomest thoroughfares in Canada. In this locality, noted for its handsome country seats—and indeed all the way from Hamilton, a distance of fifty miles,—the land as seen from the road (the railroad for the most part passes through a new country) is rolling and well cleared of trees and stumps, presenting more the appearance of merrie England than any other section of the Province. The town contains numerous churches and a Mechanic's Institute, and the public buildings generally are handsome and substantially built. It has a very commodious and well-conducted hotel, "Matson's;" "Montgomery's" is also good.

Beachville, situated on the Thames, has two churches, Episcopal and Presbyterian, a grist mill and saw mill, a carding machine, tannery and distillery. It numbers about 400 inhabitants.

Ingersoll, formerly an Indian village, now contains about 2000 inhabitants. A small arm of the Thames runs through it, and furnishes some water power, by which several mills are worked. Since the opening of the railway it has risen in a surprising manner; and the town, which before then had a very dingy appearance, the houses being of wood and wanting paint, is now gay with white brick, and the streets resound with the hum of an enterprising population. The hotels are indifferent—the best is Carrol's.

London, if not, like her English namesake,

————— The great resort
Of all the earth—chequered with all
Complexions of mankind—

is nevertheless a very stirring business place, and presents another instance of the energy and enterprise of the Canadian. Ten years ago, this then very small village of wooden houses was entirely burned down, and now on its ashes is raised a most flourishing city, containing four banks, several wholesale houses, fifteen churches, many of them handsome structures, and the English Church having a fine peal of bells; life and fire insurance offices, breweries and distilleries. It has three newspapers and several good hotels, the best being "The Robinson Hall" and "The City." Population nearly 15,000. It is well watered by the River Thames, which, however, is only navigable up to Chatham, sixty miles distance. The Port Stanly Railroad here joins the Great Western, and will be opened about the 1st of August.

Chatham possesses the great advantage of a navigation, and is therefore a place of considerable business. It contains eight churches; and being the county town of Kent, it has a court-house, a very handsome building, several grist and saw mills, wollen factory, two foundries, &c. Steamers ply between Chatham, Detroit, and Amherstburg. The chief hotels are the Royal Exchange and the Chatham Arms. Population about 4,000.

Windsor, opposite Detroit, prettily situated on the banks of the River, is a place of considerable business, and is rapidly increasing in wealth and population, owing to the advantage it has of being the Western terminus of the Great Western Railroad. Of course Windsor must have a "Castle," and the Hotel of that name will be found excellent.

Windsor is situate in 42° and Quebec in 46° degrees of North Latitude, and it will thus be seen that a considerable portion of Canada is nearly 10 degrees further south than England, which is in 51½ degrees, so that all other circumstances being equal, Canada would have the same climate as Spain and mild and genial Italy. We just mention this, because in England and elsewhere and among emigrants a very general notion prevails, that Canada is situate somewhere very near the North Pole.

Detroit, is a little beyond our limits, yet the design we had in view at starting would scarcely be complete without a few words upon a City so famed and so near to us. It is situate on high ground opposite Windsor, the River running between the two, and has a commanding appearance. Detroit, has very long and remarkably wide and handsome streets, and on either side some superb buildings. It was first settled by the French, then it fell into the hands of the British, who ceded it by treaty to the United States. It was the scene of some fighting in the war of 1812, when it was captured by the British, but recaptured by the Americans in the following year. The Central Michigan Railroad commences at this point. Detroit has many excellent Hotels, The Biddle House, Johnson's Hotel, Michigan Exchange.

Wellington Square—a singular name for a village, which at the time it was laid out, eighteen years ago, consisted of a few miserable shanties. It is now a place of importance, but wanting a good harbour, its rise is not very rapid. Its chief advantage consists in having a fine country at its back, and in being the port for Hamilton during the winter, when the Bay is locked up by the ice. Steamers then run from Toronto and Niagara to the Square, from whence passengers and goods are conveyed to Hamilton by the Railroad.

Bronte—A small village of about four hundred inhabitants, chiefly occupied in the lumber trade. It has a cloth factory, a grist mill, and three churches.

Oakville is a place of considerable business. It was formerly an Indian Reserve, which being sold by auction, was purchased by a spirited individual, Mr. Chisholm, who built a harbour, which in the course of a short time attracted a number of vessels. Its population is about a thousand. It has five churches, a foundry, temperance hall, and brick school house.

Port Credit—so named, it is said, because in early times the fur traders met the Indians at this spot, and delivered to them on credit the goods for which the following year they received the value in skins. It is now a large shipping place, having at its back a great extent of fertile and well cultivated country.

Toronto, the Metropolis of Canada and the seat of its Government. It was founded by Governor Simcoe in 1794; it was then a mere swamp—a tangled wilderness, the haunt of the bear and deer—but there was a fine harbour, and this gave the idea of a city. It progressed slowly, and numbered only 3,000 in 1813, when it was taken and burned by the Americans. Its name then was York. Twenty years ago it had only 4,000 inhabitants, its subsequent progress having been more rapid than any other city in Canada; and at the present day, its population being about 60,000, it exceeds in the number and grandeur of its public buildings any town or city of the same size in either Europe or America. The situation of the city is on a gentle rise to the rear; but as the approaches by steamers are in low situations, and not calculated to give a favourable impression to the visitor for the first time, we advise him to make a short stay, a few days or a week, and the many objects of interest he will meet with will, we assure him, cause no regret that he has followed our advice. He will be well cared for at Russell's Hotel, The Clarendon, The American, Sword's, and Lamb's, all excellent; and at the Wellington, very good and moderate.

Buffalo is situated on the north-eastern extremity of Lake Erie, and at the commencement of the Niagara River. It was laid out in 1801, and grew slowly until 1812, numbering at that time 100 houses. It now became a military post, and in December, 1813, was burned by the British, with the exception of two buildings, in retaliation for the burning of Newark, now Niagara, by the Americans. It gradually recovered from this calamity; but 30 years ago it contained only 4,000 inhabitants, and at the present day it is a magnificent city of upwards of 80,000 souls! Its greatness—like Detroit and Chicago—must be attributed to its being on the highroad from Europe to the Far West—a highroad travelled annually by hundreds of thousands of emigrants, who pass through Buffalo—the great toll-gate between the East and the West. There are many excellent Hotels in Buffalo, among which we may mention the Mansion House and the Wadsworth House.

Dunville—situated on the Grand River, at a point where it is intersected by the feeder of the Welland Canal. It is a place of considerable business, and contains a population of about 1,500; several grist and plaster mills, and a tannery.

The Welland Canal is one of the many works of the same kind of which Canadians may be proud. This Canal affords a passage for sloops and schooners of 125 tons burden, around the Falls of Niagara, and connects Lake Erie with Lake Ontario. It is 42 miles long, 56 feet wide, and from 8½ to 16 feet deep. The whole descent from one Lake to the other is 334 feet, which is accomplished by 37 locks. It has a deep cut through the mountain ridge 45 feet deep. This Canal was completed in 1829, at a cost of $1,000,000.

Brantford, beautifully situated on the Grand River, and named after Brant, the renowned Chief of the Six Nations Indians, who, with his tribe, steadily supported the Crown during the American War. In "Gertrude of Wyoming," he is alluded to in disparaging terms:—

"The mammoth comes—the fiend, the monster Brant."

But some years afterwards Campbell was obliged to apologize to Brant's son, who happened to visit London; as it appeared, on satisfactory evidence, his father was not even present at the horrible desolation of Wyoming. This much is due to the memory of Brant, who was a brave warrior and a steadfast ally of the British, and always exerted himself to mitigate the horrors of war.

Brantford, until the opening of the Great Western Railway, was a great wheat market, the streets being crowded with hundreds of waggons daily; but that Road created other markets, and to this extent, the Town has suffered. It has, however, other sources of prosperity. There is no place in the Province which commands such extensive water power, and which is made available for the working of numerous Mills. The Iron Foundries, Machine Shops, and Potteries are on a large scale, and have caused the place to be regarded as the Birmingham of Canada. It has a goodly number of Churches of various denominations, and one of the largest and handsomest Hotels in the Province—"The Kirby House." "Tripp's" is also good. Population about 6000.

Chippawa—The Erie and Ontario Railroad, commencing here, was constructed, like the Welland Canal, to connect the two lakes by avoiding the Falls of Niagara. It is situated just above the Falls on the Chippawa Creek, a muddy stream which, running into the Niagara River, flows without being permitted to mix with the pure stream until falling with it over the precipice, forms that broad red border so observable in connexion with the green curtain of the Falls. Here, on the 4th July, 1814, an obstinate and bloody contest waged between the British and American Troops, which resulted in the complete victory of the latter. The British lost 514 men; the Americans 328. Chippawa contains several churches, foundries, and mills, and is a place rising in importance. A steamboat runs daily to Buffalo.

Clifton House—The station for visitors to the Falls on the Canada side. A little back is Drummondville, a very pretty village close to Lundy's Lane, the site of the famous battle in the last war. The scenery around is grand and wild in the extreme; and being within a mile of the Falls, the village is selected by visitors who wish for quietude and who can occasionally be gratified by the "hubble,, bubble, toil and trouble" scene of confusion raging a little distance off.

Queenston—A small village at the head of the navigation of the Niagara River, and noted as the scene of the sanguinary action called "The Battle of Queenston Heights." A magnificent column has just been erected—in place of one some years ago destroyed by a miscreant of the name of Lett—to the memory of General Brock, who fell gloriously whilst rallying his men on to victory. The column was designed by William Thomas, Esq., of Toronto. It is executed wholly of Queenston stone, and is surmounted by a statue of the Hero. Its height is 185 feet; and the only column in Europe which is higher is that in London, erected by Sir Christopher Wren, in commemoration of the great fire in 1666, which is 202 feet. A beautiful suspension-bridge connects Queenston with Lewiston. The principal buildings of Queenston were burnt during the last war, from the effects of which the town has never recovered.

There are few spots in the world where so many objects of interest may be visited in a morning's drive as in the seven miles from the Falls to Queenston. When the ear is tired with the deep thundering tone of Niagara, let the tourist take a carriage at the Clifton House and visit the quiet village of Drummondville and the Battle-Field of Lundy's Lane; a little to the right and he comes to the terrific whirlpool, almost as tremendous as the Mælstrom of Norway, where logs and trees are whirled round for days in its outer circles and finally drawn down perpendicularly with great force and shot out again at the distance of many rods. Pursue the banks of the river to Queenston; ascend the Heights and the Monument, and you have a view of the surrounding country unsurpassed for magnificence by any on the American continent. Cross the river by the Queenston suspension-bridge, and return by Lewiston and the American side of the river to the Clifton. A new country like Canada cannot boast of many noble Gothic Cathedrals, schools of painting, works of art, and old associations, but to the lover of the picturesque and beautiful there is nothing comparable to this one excursion in the whole of Europe—nor perhaps in the civilized world.

Niagara—situated at the mouth of the river, and is a place of much business and resort. It is one of the oldest settlements in Upper Canada, and was for a short time the metropolis. On the opening of the Welland Canal it lost much of its business, St. Catharines being more central for the boat traffic; it is, however, now fast resuming its former prosperity; ship building is largely carried on and engine making, and there are some extensive carriage-factories. It has its newspaper, a bank, and six churches of different denominations. The land all around is particularly fertile, and the district of Niagara is proverbial as being the garden of Canada. Hotels—Strong's, and Moffit's. A little below the town is Port Mississauga, and on the opposite shore the Americans have a fort called Fort Niagara.

Kingston, situated at the eastern extremity of Ontario, has an excellent harbour defended by a series of Martello towers, composed of well-cut limestone. Here is the principal naval dockyard in the Province, and the public buildings in the Town, particularly the market house are all of stone and worthy of admiration. Kingston became great in the time of the late war with the United States, but for years after peace returned, its prosperity diminished. It has, however, taken a fresh start under happier auspices, and is now the principal entrepot of trade between Upper and Lower Canada. Pop. about 16,000. Hotels, The British American, The City, and The St. Lawrence.

Brockville, a flourishing town of about 8,000 inhabitants, it has many fine buildings, and its trade is considerable. The Grand Trunk Railway is completed thus far, and those splendid Steamers the Canada and America, and the Royal Mail Steamers connecting the Montreal travel with Toronto and Hamilton at this point, must add greatly to the prosperity of the Town, at least for the ensuing season. The chief Hotels are Wilson's, and Mackenzies.

A few miles west of this is that remarkable group called the Thousand Islands of the mighty St. Lawrence.

Montreal, The chief seat of the commerce of Canada, Population about 60,000. Its situation is very commanding, and a stranger on viewing it from the River, with its extensive line of quays and warehouses, the handsome Bonsecours market, and the fine towers of Notre Dame, at once concludes he is approaching a great and magnificent City, nor does a more intimate acquaintance disappoint. The objects of interest are great and varied, and will well repay a residence of a few days. The chief Hotels are St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal House, Ottawa, and Western Hotels.

Quebec, the Gibraltar of the American Continent, being naturally as well as artificially a very strong fortress, situated on the summit of Cape Diamond, 340 feet above the St. Lawrence. The Town extends in a N. E. direction down to the water's edge. The houses are wholly built of stone, and the public buildings are substantial and handsome. The population is about 45,000. Quebec after being alternately in the hands of the English and French, was taken from the latter in 1759. The British and Canadian forces under General Wolf, attacked and defeated the French under Montcalm, on the heights of Abraham, Wolf fell in the moment of victory, and Montcalm who was wounded expired soon after. A monument was erected inscribed to the "Immortal Memory of Wolf and Montcalm." (See Smith's Canada.) The Hotels are Peacock's, O'Neil's, The Albion, The Ottawa, and the City.

We have thus traversed a considerable portion of one of the largest rivers in the world, noticing some of the principal Towns on its banks, and we close for the present with a few remarks on the River itself, which forms the boundary line for a considerable distance between Canada and the United States. Its remotest source is the St. Louis, an affluent of Lake Superior. It receives different names in different parts, of its course being at first as we have seen, the St. Louis; between Lake Superior and Lake Huron the St. Mary; between Lakes Huron and Erie the St. Clair and Detroit; between Lakes Erie and Ontario the Niagara; and from Ontario to Montreal, the Iroquois from Montreal to the sea being the St. Lawrence properly so called. Its entire course then from the St. Louis to the sea, the intervening Lakes being mere enlargements of its bed, is upwards of 2,000 miles, at its source it is 1192 feet above the sea, giving an average fall of 6 inches per mile, tho' this fall is unequally distributed owing to the many cataracts and rapids along its course, on the Niagara River the descent in 35 miles is at least 334 feet 164 of which are contributed by the Great Falls, and the rapids between Kingston and Montreal are so numerous, and the descent so great, in a comparatively short distance that an extensive line of Canal navigation has been cut to enable vessels to avoid them. These magnificent works, the Beauharnois, Cornwall, Lachine, Rideau, and St. Lawrence Canals, together with the Welland Canal, form an enduring monument, to the energy skill, and enterprise of the Canadian people. The basin of the St. Lawrence is said to contain more than the half of the fresh water on this planet, and it has been curiously calculated that there is sufficient to envelope the entire earth with a watery covering 3 inches in depth.

ONTARIO, SIMCOE, & HURON RAILROAD.

J. L. GRANT, SUPERINTENDENT.

For some unexplained, but no doubt very sufficient reason, this railway takes a most independent course, through certainly a very fine section of the country, but having, it would seem, a pious horror of anything like bricks and mortar; so that we cannot at present give even a passing notice of such places as Weston, on the one side, or Thornhill and Richmond Hill on the other, all of which are about three miles distant from the stations so named. Pursue we then the even tenor of our way till we come to—

Mail Trains, North and South, connect daily with Steamer J. C. Morrison on Lake Simcoe. Accommodation Train (North) connects on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday of each week with Steamers Buckeye State, Keystone State, Queen City and Niagara, one of which will leave upon the arrival of the Train for Chicago and intermediate ports. The Louisiana leaves every Friday evening for Green Bay. Mail Train from the North connects every evening with Steamer Europa or Champion for Oswego.

Holland Landing, on the Holland River, which empties itself into Lake Simcoe. Its population is about 1,500. There is a very extensive tannery, several steam and water power grist and saw mills and a foundry. It has a Methodist, Presbyterian, and a handsome Episcopal Church. The Railway here intersects Yonge Street, a well-settled locality, studded with fine farms, and bearing evidence of wealth and civilization, quite refreshing, after a travel of so many miles. Holland landing is famous for its annual races, held in July on a remarkably fine course. We wish we could speak well of our "entertainment." May's Hotel, from its appearance, should be placed in the class of those hotels called comfortable; but to put a worn and weary traveller into a bed swarming with bugs (mosquitoes we could do with, and there were plenty of them) and to charge him two and sixpence currency for the same, is really intolerable!

Complaining in such a case is useless: we should probably be coolly told we brought them; or perhaps the landlady would blandly assure us that there was not a single bug in the whole house! In that event Lord Erskine's reply on a like occasion might serve us—"Madam, in that you are quite right, for they are all married, and have exceeding large families."

Bell Ewart.—A branch of the Railway, about a mile long, is laid down to this port, from whence sails daily a very beautiful and well-appointed steamer, the J. C. Morrison, for Beaverton, Hatherley, Orillia and Hawkstone, affording a delightful trip round Lake Simcoe for excursionists from Toronto and other places.

Barrie.—A County Town, of about 1,400 inhabitants, finely situated on the north shore of the Kemperfeldt Bay of Lake Simcoe. It is indebted for its prosperous state to the very good farming country at its back. Land well cleared, with convenient buildings, is worth from $80 to $100 per acre, but wild land may be had for 4 dollars. In the neighbourhood are immense groves of pine, and some very fine land, growing beech, maple, elm, and hemlock. In the town a steam grist mill is much required, and it is said would be very remunerative. A handsome market-house is in course of erection; and in a very commanding position is the Episcopal Church, and near it the Methodist, Roman Catholic, & Presbyterian. There are two well-conducted newspapers, and the Hotels are numerous, and generally well kept. The Chief are the Queen's Arms, Elgie's, and the Commercial.

Collingwood.—Canada's youngest. A town of but twelve months' growth, and now contains a population of about as many hundreds! Its surprising advance is mainly owing to its being the northern terminus of the Ontario, Simcoe, and Huron Railway, which daily brings vast numbers of emigrants, who at this point are transferred to magnificent steamers, bound for Chicago and the great West. The town, as may be supposed, has a very rough aspect, but it is daily being moulded into form; and if its rapid rise continues—and there seems to be little doubt of it—it is not a very hazardous thing to prophesy, that ere long it will rival Buffalo, Detroit, or any of those other mighty cities, which have risen into importance by the aid received from European emigration. Among many sources of wealth, we note the fisheries, which are here very productive. Immense quantities of fish, principally white-fish and salmon-trout, of very superior quality (it is said about a thousand daily) are sent to the Toronto and other markets. The products of the forest also, spars and lumber for ship building, on their way to Europe, and sawn lumber, to the amount of nearly a million feet per week, destined for Chicago, furnish a profitable source of traffic to the Railway, as well as augment the wealth of the towns and villages at this end of the line, all of which are engaged in the lumbering business. Collingwood is 95 miles from Toronto. There is at present no church built, but the Episcopal, Roman Catholic, Methodist, and Presbyterian have each congregations, and service is performed in suitable buildings on the sabbath. Armstrong's Hotel is excellent, and the North American, the Collingwood, and the International are good.

[Notices of places on other Railways and Steamboat Routes are in course of preparation.]
