Blue Ribbon Bread

Now Pussy I'm going
To bake you some bread,
For you and my dolly
Must surely be fed.

The first thing of all
Is to mix up the dough,
There's nothing successful
Without it you know.

We'll put in some flour,
And some milk and yeast,
And knead it and need it,
Oh! we'll have a feast.

And then in the bread-pan
Already to bake.
Yes, nice wholesome bread
Is much better than cake.

Now into the oven
We'll put our fine dough,
And when it comes out
T'will be whiter than snow.

Oh' pussy, just look
The bread is all done.
So light and so flakey
Now wont we have fun.

We'll put on the butter,
And spread on the jam,
And you shall know then
What a baker I am.

MY! DAT WAS
FINE BREAD

The secret I learned
At the baker's to day.
He makes the best bread
In the country, they say.
