PREFACE.

THO' I am not infenfible, that there are divers very valuable Performances of the like nature already extant, which reffect an Honour and Credit on the Profeffion which the refpective Authors have fo induftrioufly attempted to advance ; and that fuch a fmall Tract as This may at firft fight appear needlefs at leaft, if not impertinent, through the Obfcurity of the Compiler; yet as the Works of the Former are for the moft part too prolix, too expenfive, and principally calculated for the Practice and Improvement of young Ladies of affluent Fortunes; and as I have crouded a great Variety of very ufeful Materials into a narrow Compafs, in order to render the Price of it as eafy as poffible, and within the Reach of that Clafs of People, for whofe Service it is more immediately intended, I flatter myfelf that I am under no Ne ceffity of making any formal Apology for my prefent Undertaking.

Since the Number, however, of Servants (both Male and Female) throughout his Majefty's Dominions is very large, and the Welfare and Felicity of moft Families, in a great Meafure, depend on their difcreet Deportment, I think it a Duty incumbent on me to make my Addreffes to the Latter in particular, and to beg of them to take into their ferious Confideration that low State of Life in which Providence has placed them, and the feveral little menial Offices, which they muft, and ought without Reluctance to perform.

They fhould reflect, that they are but Servants, and that their daily Subfiftance is wholly dependent on their Superiors; that in Gratitude, therefore, they ought at all Times, and on all Occafions, to be very Induftrious, Faithful, and Honeft in every Truft repofed in them, whether their Mafters or Miftrefles be prefent or abfent; that they ought to act fincerely, and without Diffimulation or Eye-Service; to make it their principal Study to give all the Satisfaction in their Power; and to have fuch a frict Guard over all their Actions, as to do Nothing, either by Night or Day, that they are confcious to themfelves, will give the leaft Difguft.

By fuch a dutiful and difereet Deportment, they may not only, with juft Grounds, hope to obtain a good Character; but what is ftill more valuable, they will in reality deferve one; than which Nothing can more effectually contribute towards their Eftablifhment with Credit and Reputation.

By fuch a Praife worthy-Conduct they will fecure to themfelves an univerfal Refpeet, and lay a folid Foundation for their future Happinefs, when they fhall attain to a maturer Age, alter their Condition, and become Mothers and Miftrefles of: little Families themfelves.

And if what I have here offered, may contribute in the leaft towards fo important and valuable an End, I fhall think thefe few Leifure-Hours 3 Amujements very beneficially beftowed.

A Summary of the late

MARRIAGE ACT

WITH

Infructions how tomarry purfuant thereto.

ARRIAGE being one of the moft important Events of Life, and the End to which the Attractions of Beauty, the Arts of Drefs, and the internal Accomplifhments which heighten and famp a Value on thefe Charms, principally lead, every Law relating to this great Tranfaction muft be confidered, not only as a Matter of Curiofity, but as ant Affair of fuch Moment as to deferve to be particularly and carefully attended to. And indeed, fince the Marriage State, when wifely entered upon, is the Source of the trueft and moft folid Happinefs, every unmarried Lady mult look apon the Forms of Admifion into it as fomething in which fhe is peculiarly concerned. On thefe Confiderations we have thought it neceflary to lay before our fair Readers a View of the new Reguladions made in the late ACt, to prevent the great Mif. thiefs and Inconveniencies that have arifen from Clandefline Marriages; and as all Acts of Parliament are neceffarily expreffed in the Forms of Law, which to thofe that are unacquainted with them appear ambiguous and perplexed, we thall here endeavour to be as intelligible as pofible, and, in the plaineft Terms, let them fee what it enjoins, and what it prohibits.

After the 25th of March 1754, Banns of Matrimony are to be publifhed in the Parifh-Church, or fome Publick Chapel, belonging to the Parifh in which the Parties dwell: This is to be done on three Sundays preceding the Marriage, during the Time of Morning-Service, or or if there be no Morning-Service, in the Evening-Service, immedtately after the Second Lefion.

- If the Parties dwell in different Parifhes or Chapelries, the Banns are to be publifhed in both; and where both, or either of the Parties, live in a Place included within the Limits of no Parinh, and having no Church or Chapel in which Banns have been ufually publifhed, then the

[ vi ]

Banns are to be publifhed in fome Parifh. Church or Chapel adjoining; and their Publication is to be performed by the Minitter in the fame Manner as if either of the Perfons dwelt in fuch adjoining Parifh. The other Rules prefcribed by the Rubric, prefixed to the Office of Matrimony in the Book of Common Prayer, relating to the Publicarion of Banns, and the Solemnization of Matrimony, not altered by this Statute, are fill to be obferved; and the Marriage is to be folemnized in the ParifhChurch or Chapel where the Banns were publifhed.

If Notice in Writing be not delivered to the Minifter, containing the Chrifian and Surnames of the Parties, the refpective Places of their Abode, and the Time of their having dwelt in them, at leaft feven Days before the Time required for the firft Publication of the Banns, the Minifter is not obliged to publifh them.

Though one or both of the Parties are under Age, and have not obtained the Confent of the Parents or Guardians, the Minitter fhall not be liable to Ecclefiaftical Cenfures for folemnizing the Marriage after Banns are publifhed, unlefs he fhall have Notice of their Diffent; and if their Diffent, or that of one of them, be openly and publickly declared, at the Time of the Publication of Banns, the Banns are to be void.

No Licence is to be granted for the Solemnization of Marriage in any other Church or Chapel, befides the Parifh-Church or Public Chapel belonging to the Parifh or Chapelry that has been for four Weeks before the ufual Place of Abode of one of the Perfons to be married; or where both or either of the Parties dwell in any Place that has no Church or Chapel in which Banns have been ufually publifhed, then it is to be folemnized in the Pa rifh Church or Chapel adjoining to fuch Place, and in no other.

Nothing contained in this Act is to deprive the Archbifhop of Canterbury, and his Miniftry, of the Right of granting Special Licences to marry at any convenient Time or Place.

If the Solemnization of Matrimony be performed in any other Place befides a Church or Public Chapel, unlefs by fpecial Licence from the Archbifhop of Canterbury, or without public Banns, or a Licence from one who has Authority to grant it, the Marriage is to be void, and the Perfon folemnizing it adjudged to be guilty of Felony, and to be tranfported for Fourteen Years to fome of his Majelty's American Colonies; and Profecutions for fuch Eelons may be commenced any Time within the Space of three Years after the Offence is committed.

This Act declares, That it thall not be neceffary in Support of a Marriage that has been folemnized under Publication of Banns, to give Proof of the actual Dwelling of the Parties in the refpective Parifhes or Chapelries in which the Banns were publifhed; or where the Marrisge is by Licence, to give Proof that the ufual Place of Aboue of one of the Parties was for four Weeks before, in the Parifi or Chapelry where the Marriage was folemnized; nor in either of the faid Cafes can any Evidence be received to prove the contrary in any Suit relating to the Validity of fuch Marriage.

Where either of the Parties, not being a Widow or Wilower, is underAge, Marriages folcminized without the Confent of the Father (if living) or of one of the Guardians, and where there are no Guardians, of the the Mother, if the be living and unmarried, or of the Guardian appointed in Chancery, are to be void.
a. But in cale any fuch Guardian or Mother be non compos mentis, or in Parts beyond the Seas, or refufe or withhold his or her Confent to a proper and fuitable Marriage, the Party may apply by Petition to the Court of Chancery, which is to proceed upon fuch Petition in a fumnary Way; and where the propofed Marriage appears to-bo proper, that Court is to declare it to be fo, by an Order, which is to be deemed as effectual as if the Guardian's or Mother's Confent to fuch Marriage bad been obtained.

No Suit thall be had to compela Celebration of Marriage upon Pretence of any Contract, whether the W ords of the Contract were in the prefent or future Tenfe.

All Marriages are to be folemnized before wo Witneffes, befides the Miaifter, and an Entry is to be immiediately made in the Regifter, exprefly mentioning whether it was celebrated by Banns or Licence, and if by Lin cence, and both or either of the Parties be under Age, the Confent of the Parents and Guardians is alfo to be entered, and figned by the Minifter, by the Parties married, and the two Witneffes.

[ viii ]

Any Perfon who fhall infert in fuch Regiter any falle Entry, relating to a Marriage, or deftroy any Regifter, or Book of Marriages, with Intent to break any Marriage, or to fubject any Perfon to the Penalties of this Act, he is to be adjudged guilty of Felony, and to fuf fer Death without Benefit of Clergy.

This Act is not to extend to the Marriages of any of the Royal Family,

Nor is it to extend to Scotland, nor to any Marriages folemnized beyond the Seas; nor to Marriages among 2uakers, when both Parties profefs themfelves $2 u$ uakers; nor to $\mathcal{F}$ ews, when both Parties profefs the $\mathcal{F}$ erwi乃 Religion.

This AEt is appointed to be read by the Minifter in all Parifh Churches and Public Chapels, immediately after Morning-Prayer, or after Evening-Prayer, if on that Day there be no Morning-Service, on fome Sunday in each of the Months of September, Oitober, Noverwber, and December, in the Year 753 ; and afterwards, at the fame Times, on four feveral Sundays in each Year, viz. the Sundays next before the 25 th of March, the 24 th of Fune, the 2gth of September, and the 25 th of December, refpectively, for two Years, to be computed from fanuary 1754.

Plain Inffructions and Directions to be obferved by fuch Perfons, who are defirous to take on them, after the twenty-fifth of March 1754, the Holy State of Matrimony.

1. Let the Parties, when they have agreed to be Married, if by Banns, give Notice thereof to the Minifer of the Parih wherein they sefide, in fome fuch Form of Words as thefe which follow :

To the Reverend Mr. A. of the Parifh of $B$. Rev. Sir.

I$C . D$, the Son of E. F. purpofing Giod willing as foon as may be, to folemnize Marriage with $G H$. spinfter, both of this Parim, defire that you would on Sunday the fourteenth of this Inttant, it being feven Days Notice, purfuant to the late Statute made for the Prevention of Clandeffiue Marriages publifh or caufe to be publimed the Banns between us Two then, and likewite on the two fucceeding Surdays.

\text { C. } D \text {. and } G, H \text {. }

Wote, It would be better that both the Parties abont to contract Marriage do Sign the Notice, though one is fufficient.
2. Let the intended Bridegroom give this Notice himfelf to the Minifter, though it is not abfolutely material ; for it will be fufficient to give it to his Curate, or in Cafe he has no Curate, to his Clerk or Sexton ; but the fure? Way, and which I would earnefty recommend, is to give it into the Hand of the Minitlers of the Parifh, or leave it with his Wife, or one of his Family, at the u't al Place of his Refidence.
3. But in Cafe, the Minifter is not reffent in the Parifh wherein you dwell, in that Cafe it will be full as well to write the Notice as above, and leave it with ths: Clerk or Sexton in the Parifh in which you dwell.
4. But if you live in a Parifh which is united to ancther, a there are feveral in London, then you may chi f: which Church you, will have the Banns publifhed at, only you are to obferve, that the faid Church is adjoin $n$ r to the Extraparochial Precinct in which you dwell; but here alfo the Banns are to be publifined three Sundays fuccefiively.
5. If you live in 2 Parifh wherein are feveral Chapels or Eate, in this Cafe you may caufe the Banns to be publifhed in either of the faid Chapels; and here you will chufe that which belf fuits your Convenience.
6. Now if you are minded to be married by Lice c: that mult be taken qut at the Commons in the fame Manner as has been heretofore uled; in this Cale you moft go to the Minifter of the Parih wherein you live, or to the Minifter of any one of the Chapels thereit, four Weeks before you can be Married, let him know where both Parties live, that he may if he pleafes enquire afier you.
7. But lattly, if you are minded to be married by a fpectal Licence, you muit apply to the Preiogative Coure in Doczors Commons, either by yourfelf, Stiomey or Prectar; by which Means your Mariage may be confommated with as much Expedition and Privacy, (and in whatever Place you pleafe) as you can defire.

FEMALE EDUCATION.

> Art and afrduous Care muff join To make the Works of Nature ßine.
 A KE a Survey of human Nature, whilf yet in its favage and uncultivated State, how very few Degrees do we find Man remov'd from the Brute Creation? All his Defires take their Spring from Appetite, and all his Actions, notwithftanding his boafted Rationality, are determin'd by Principles that differ only in Name from what we term.In ftinct in the animal World.

His Happinefs, according to his deprav'd Notion of Things, confifts in the unlimited Gratification of all his Senfes, and his fupreme Felicity in yieiding to the Dictates of his moft unruly Pafions; if he reftrains either the one or the other, it is either owing to Whim, Caprice, or fome neceflary, and perhaps, confitutional Impediment, or to the Force of a long Habit, affum'd out of Neceffity, or by Accident : But Reafon or Intellect has nothing to do in the Election; he is totally ignorant of the moral Fitnefs of Things, and fumbles upon Right and Wrong, Good and Evil, without either Choice or Defign.

As all his Defres are dietated by his animal Necellisies; fo all his Gratifications, all his Enjoyments are fenfual, momentary, and confus'd. When Hunger prompts, like other Beafts of Prey, he fatiates his Appetite on the Spoils of fuch Animals as his Sirengh or Cunning enables him to get the Maftery of, and is at open and declar'd War with every Thing, whether of his own, or any other Species, that oppofes the Gratification of his Appetite, Luft, Hatred, and Revenge.

He herds, it is true, with his Species; but it is in a Kind of unfocial Union, enjoying as few of the Bleffings of rational Society, as any other Herd of wild Beafts, that keep together by Inftinct, and hunt in Droves, for the more eafy Conqueft of fuch Animals as they are accuftom'd to devour. 'The Connection between the Members of the different Herds are exactly the fame, and the Motives of Union perfectly fimilar, viz. Appetite, Luft, and the more ealy Defiruction of each their proper Piey.

How few, and how fmall are the Glimmerings of Ra . tionality, that are difcoverable in this unculivated State of human Nature! and how little Reafon have we to exult over the brute Creation, on account of our boafted Reafon, whilit it yet remains a mere unactive Faculty, and lifelefs Principle, invelop'd in Senfe and Ignorance!

There is nothing that Man attempts by the Force of this Faculty in Embryo, but is executed to greater Perfection by the Inftinct of the animal Creation. The Brutes are as ingenious in the Indulgence of their Appetites, and tafte of every fenfual Gratification with as high a Relifh, as any erect Savage upon Earth; are as fagacious in providing for their Neceffities, feem to have as much Fore-thought of future Contingencies and probable Wants, and are as indufrious in finding out Means to prevent them; and even in Works that may, with fome kind of Propriety, be term'd Works of Art, the four-footed Beaft excels the Man; Birds, and even Infects may teach him Arts, which Reafon, in its higheft Elevation of Improvement, can fcarcely imitate.

How clumsy and rude are the Huts of mon ravage Nations, compar'd with the curious Workmanfhip in the King's-Fi/ber's Nett! and how much more Induftry, Forecalt, and, if I may be indulg'd he Term, Skill in Architecture, is vifible in the Structure and Situation of thole watery Retreats, built by the inimitable Beaver, than in the Confruction of the Palace of an Indian King!
The rude Savage may rob and plunder, but cannot imitate the delicate Labours of the induffrious Bee ; and all his Forethought cannot provide better againft future and probable Contingencies, than the despicable Pismire.

How difficult is it then, in fuch a State, to determine the Preheminence between the Man and the Brute! fince the one difcovers fo little of the Use of Reafon, that the very Exiftence of the Faculty may with forme Shew of Probability be call'd in Quellion!

How few are the Ideas, how vacant muff that Mind be, that has no Subject of Reflection, no Object of Ratiocination, but the fame Succeffion of Wants, Supplies and Gratifications, that alternately fucceed one another, without the fmalleit Variation, through the largett Periods of Time!

How ignorant are they of every Object about them, when all they are folicitous about is, whee the what they fee are fit Subjects to gratify their Lusts, Paffions, or Appetites! How grofs are all their: Conceptions, and how different from Truth are all their rude Conjectures, about the Manner or Cafe of their own Exiftence, or of that of every Thing about them !

The Intellect is buried in Senfe, and they can look no farther into the Original of Things, but what they think they can difcern by the Aid and Affiftance of their grofieft and mort delufive Senses; their Paffions and their Fears, not their Reafon, fuggefted to them the firft Notions of Religion, and rais'd up Deities, fuitable to their gross Ideas of Things. Divinity was afcrib'd to Subjects the molt absurd, the moot flocking to Nature ; and divine Adoration paid by Man to $\mathrm{Ob}_{-}$ jects capable only of creating Horror, Contempt, and Deteftation.

As the Object of their Worhip was horrible; fo its Rites were, for the moft part, horrid and impious likewife. Their Pagods were confecrated to Vice; and fome of their Acts of Devotion were no more than repeated Scenes of Luft and Lewdnefs; fo that in this Cafe, where they would pretend to betray the greateft Tokens of Rationality, they offer'd the groffeft Affrone to the reafoning Faculty, difcover'd more of the Brute than the Man, and acted rather like Lunaticks, than Creatures actuated by the Principles of Reafon.

In thefe firt Ages of Ignorance and Stupidity, and in thefe Corners of the World, which are at this Day invelop'd in Darknefs, how unfociable, rude, and brutally untractable do we find them! How frong their Paffions, and what Slaves are they to their unruly Apperites! How triffing their Motives to either Anger or Hatred! And yet how implacable, how fierce, and monftroufly cruel are they in their Revenge!

They have no Pleafure from Reflection, no Joys but what are tumultuary, and are utter Strangers to Tranquillity; unlers in fome of them it is imitated by a fupid Kind of Inanity, or a heavy, lumpifh Habit, not to be mov'd even by Paffion or Appetite.

In this State, what a difmal, ufelefs, and mifchievous Animal is Man! Yet fuch he is, and fuch he muft have ftill remain'd, unlefs Learning and Science had taught him to exert his reafoning Faculty, that lay a lifelefs Embryo, buried in Earth and Senfe, till by Degrees, Knowledge dawn'd upon the Soul, warm'd his lopg chill'd Faculties, and enabled her to unfold and exert her intellectual Powers.

Then it was that in Proportion to his Advances in Knowledge, he ceas'd to be the Brute, and commenc'd Man ; then he came under the Predicament of a rational Creature, conceiv'd the firf Notions of moral Reatitude, the Caufe, Manner, and End of his Exiftence.

Senfe, Appetite, and the tumultuary Paffions then began to lofe their Force, and to own the Dominion of the Intellect. Then new Ideas, new Wonders, new Worlds,

(5)

Worlds, ravifh'd the Mind ; and Difcoveries the mof interefting, rais'd new Notions of Felicity, taught them the End of their Exiftence, and pointed out Means of Happinefs fuitable to a rational Creature.

To a Mind thus long invelop'd in Senfe and Ignorance, how tranfporting mult be the firft Difcoveries of the fupreme Author of his Being! I mean, fuch Dif. coveries as human Nature is capable of making, without the Affiftance of Revelation. Though the firft fell infinitely fhort of the laft; yet what a Joy muft thefe diffure over a Mind totally overwhelm'd in Ignorance; when inftead of Stocks, Stones, Monfters, Demons, and every Thing fhocking, to which he has been accuftom'd to pay Adoration, he fees a Dawn, a Glimmering of real Divinity; and from a Contemplation of his Works, can trace his moft amiable Attributes of infinite Goodnefs, Mercy, and Beneficence!

How muft fuch a Chain of Thinking diffipate the: gloomy Horror that formerly brooded on the inactiveIntellects, and infpire them with Notions of Felicity fuitable to a rational Creature! a Felicity, to which: neither Senfe, Paffion, Luft, or Appetite, can in the fmalleft Degree contribute!

How quickly is the vacant Mind filld with new Ideas, new Conceptions, new Subjects of Reflection and Ratiocination, to amufe the ever-thinking Soul! Subjects, to which it was before an utter Siranger ${ }_{p o}$ though the moft interefting, and the moft conducive to its real Felicity!

When Learning has fpread her Influence on the Soul, by which I always mean Science and real Knowledge, fhe wakes, as from a Dream, and begins to be acquainted with herfelf, her Powers, her Connections, and Relations to Things without her, and learns that firft and greateft Branch of human Science, a Knowledge of herfelf.

How large and interelting is this new Subject of Reflection, and what a Change muft it operate upon the: whole Man! and what Contempt mult he feel, and: what Havock muft it make upon all his former Notions of Religion and Happinefs !

(6)

In Proportion as Men advance in this Science, partiticular Perfons become virtuous and pious ; and in Proportion as it diffus'd itfelf over the Bulk of Mankind, Vice began to give Way, and Notions of Religion, more rational than the former Impieties, prepar'd the Minds of the Gentile World for the Propagation of the Worfhip of the true God, when promulgated by the Gofpel-Difpenfation : Būt when, after the firf Ages of the Church, Learning began to decay, and Darknefs and Ignorance fpread itfelf over the Face of the Earth, Error, Superftition, and Idolatry, mingled themfelves with the true Religion, robb'd it of its Purity, and once more involv'd Mankind in Vice and Ignosance, where they remain'd for feveral Ages, 'till an Itch of Knowledge feiz'd particular Perfons, and Learning, by Degrees, was recover'd, and enabled to exert its Influence on the Mind of Man; then the Clouds diffipated, and a Reformation of Religion and Manners follow'd, shat does Honour to Reafon and Humanity.

Thus the firt and greateft Advantages of Learning. are, that without it our reafoning Faculty would be ufelefs and unactive, and by it we attain to the Knowledge of a Deity, of Ourfelves, and of a true Religion; which even without its continu'd Aid, would, according to Experience, dwindle into Error and grofs Superftition.

Learning, however, has not only provided for the great and interefting Concerns of our Felicity, but has contributed to every Part of our rational Enjoyments. It has found out new Bonds, new Motives, and more univerfal Ties of focial Union. It has founded the Connection amongft Mankind, not only on the felfifh Bafis of our Want of the Aid and Affifance of one another, but added to the focial Link, that amiable Motive of univerfal Benevolence towards our FellowCreatures.
'Tis Iearning that gives a Check to the brutal Refentment of the fierce Savage, fmooths his rugged Brow, prepares his Mind to quit his unreafonable Hatred, and join in focial League with Nations, againft whom he has made War for Ages, without any other Motive than hereditary Spite and Malice.

(7)

Learning has improv'd the Laws and Policies of particular Communities; and from the Ruins of Anarchy, or lawlefs Tyranny, has rais'd in moft Nations fuch Laws and Policies, as give Security to Individuals, Peace to the general Body, and diffufive Juftice to all Ranks and Degrees of Men.

In Times of Ignorance, Force and Fraud determin'd Right and Wrong, and Property fignified nothing without Power and Poffeffion: Now, however, Force and Violence give Place to wholfome Laws, and Juftice and Property are determin'd by known and eftablifh'd Maxims, and the eternal Principles of Right and Wrong. This puts the Weak, the Infant, the Poor anid the Rich upon the fame Footing ; fince the Principles of Right and Wrong are adapted to Cafes, and. not to the Circumftances of Perfons.

Learning, however, has not only contributed to the Security and Improvement of the great Concerns of Society, her interior Laws and Policies, in banifhing rude Cuftoms, and introducing Order, Decency, and Regularity in the Morals and Manners of the Generality of People, but affifting the liberal and mechanic Arts, has improv'd our Relifh, Tafte, and Enjoyment of Life, and furnifh'd the Mind and Body with Pleafures, which, when not purfu'd to Excefs, cheer and enlarge the Mind, and frengthen every mental and corporeal Faculty.

How rude were our Manners, how uncouth our Dref3, almoft naked, how uncomfortable our Habitations, and how coarfe and homely our moft delicate Entertainments, 'till aftronomical Learning became more aniverfal, and brought the Art of Navigation to its prefent Achme and Perfection! Then a new Scene of Correfpondence open'd amongt Mankind, and improv'd the general Union, by which Means we imported, not only Commodities of all Kinds, but whole Arts from diftant Nations; and from a rude, naked, and favage People, became polite, rich, and powerful, and added to all the Neceffaries of Life, every Convenience that could render the Enjoyment of it agreeable.

Thefe are the Advantages of Learning to a whole People ; but to enumerate thofe it conveys to individual Perfons Perfons would be an endlefs Labour. We fhall only fay, that he who is poffefs'd of true Science has within himfelf the Spring and Support of every focial Virtue, a Subject of Contemplation that enlarges the Heart, and expands every mental Power; a Subject that is inexhauftible, never fatiates, but is ever new, amufing, ufeful, and interefting.

It is a fure Foundation of Tranquillity amidf all the Difappointments and Torments in Life; a Friend that can never deceive, that is ever prefent, to comfort and affift whether in Adverfity or Profperity; a Bleffing that can never be ravih'd from us by any Cafualty, Fraud, Violence, or Oppreffion, but remains with us in all Times, Circumftances, and Places, and may be had Recourfe to, when every other earthly Comfort fails us.

It flamps an indelible Mark of Preheminence upon its Poffeffors, that neither Chance, Power, or Fortune can equal in others, that are void of this ineltimable Blefing. It gives real and intrinfic Excellence to Man, and renders him fit for the Duties of focial Life. - It calms the Turmoils of domeftic Life, is Company in Solitude, and gives Life, Vivacity, Variety, and Energy to focial Converfation. In our Youth, it calms our Paffions, and employs ufefully our moft active Faculties, and is an inexhauftible Fund of Comfort and Satisfaction in old Age, when Sicknefs, Imbecillity, and Difeafes, have be-numm'd every corporeal Senie, and rende'd the Union betwixt Soul and Body almoft intolerable, without this mental Gratification, this intellectual Balm, from whence a Mind, poffers'd of real, ufeful, and extenfive Science, can draw Comfort, Serenity and Tranquillity, by the Force of Thinking, in the moft excruciating Pains of either Stone or Gout.

- Now, notwithitanding all that has hithero been advanc'd in favour of Learning in general ; we no ways think it abfolntely requifite for any Man, much lefs for any Woman to be fo thirfly afier Knowleoge, as not to fit down contented, till they have gain'd a general Infight into every Branch of police Literature. What we aim at is thus much only, that all Perfons of what Denomination or Sex foever fhould be ambitious of attaining fuch Qualifications, as may render them moft ufeful in that paryicular Station of Life in which Providence has caft them.

Having premis'd thus much, we fhall devote the remaining Part of this preliminary Difcourfe, to the peculiar Service of the Fair Sex, and fhall therein take the Liberty of pointing out to them, not only thofe Accomplifhments which are within their Reach, but fuch as muft neceffarily be put in Practice, if they ever expect to fhine, and live with any tolerable Degree of Credit and Reputation in the World.

The firft Qualification therefore requifite to make Beauty amiable, and without which it is rather a Difgrace than an Ornament to the Poffeflor, is VIRTUE.

This, I think, is abfolutely neceffary in all Perfons, of every Age and Condition, to make them agreeable, and recommend them to the Efteem and Approbation of every Man of Senfe. An handfome Courtezan is not only a very mean, but a coniemptible Creature ; the Beauty of her Face, inftead of excufing her Folly, adds to the Deformity of her Character, and whoever is acquainted with the one, can take but little Pleafure in the other. If the has receiv'd any Advantages from Nature or Education, her Abufe of thefe tends to aggravate her Guilt, and render her more odious and difagreeable. In fhort, the moft celebrated Countefs at Court, that has loft her Innocence, will appear no lefs unamiable in the Eyes of a difinterefted Spectator, than the meaneft Proftitute in Drury-Lane.

The fecond neceffary Qualification is 'Modefty ; by which I underfand, not barely fuch a modeft Depor:ment as becomes all Perfons of either Sex alike, but withal a certain graceful Bafhfulnefs, which is the peculiar Ornament and Characteriftick of the Fair Sex.

There is a Degree of Boldnefs very allowable and even praife-worthy in a Man, which is quite unnatural in a Woman; in the one, it denotes Courage, in the other, an impertinent Haughtinefs and Affurance. The more feminine Softnefs any one has in her Countenance, the more infufferable is her mafculine Behaviour. Her good Qualities (in cafe the has any) will be generally unobferv'd, very feldom, if ever, approv'd of, and never commended; and notwithflanding, in all other Refpects, fhe may be perfectly amiable, yets for Want of a becoming Modefty, fhe will appear completely difagreeable.

The third Thing requifite is good Senfe; Beauty, without this Gift of Nature, is perfectly infipid; and however it may raife our Compafion, it can never make a Man an Admirer of the Poffeffor of it. Her very Looks will betray her Weaknefs, her languifhing Airs and forc'd Smiles will give a Difguft to the molt exquifite Features and the faireft Complection; and when once fhe begins to fpeak, her Charms vanifh in an Inftant. To be charm'd with the Beauty of a Fool, is a Mark of the moft egregious Folly.

Good Nature comes next in order to good Senfe: the former being as ornamental and graceful to the Mind, as Beauty is to the Body. It fets Virtue in the moft amiable and advantageous Light, and adds a peculiar Grace to every other good Quality. It gives the finifhing Touch, the laft curious Stroke (if I may be indulg'd the Expreffion) to an handfome Face, and spreads fuch an ergaging Sweetnefs over it, as no Art can equal, nor any Words (how exprefive foever) can perfectly defrribe.

On the other Hand, the Frowns of Morofenefs and Ill-nature, difgrace the fineft Countenance; for even the Wrinkles of old Age cannot render it fo homely and ceform'd. A Termagant, tho' as beautiful as an Angel, is univerfally hated and avoided. The very Sight of her is odious, and her Company is not with any Patie ce to be fupporied.

The laft Qualification requifite to make Beauty amiable is good Bree ing. As a precious Stone, when unpolifh id appears rough, and has very little, if any, Effect upon the Eye; fo Beanty, without any female Accomplifhments to recommend it, makes but an awkward and difagreeable Figure. Nature, indeed, is at all Times the fame ; but does not difcover her Beauty, or difplay herfelf to Advantage, till refin'd and improv'd by Art. Tho' a genteel Deportment, it is true, cannot alter the Shape and Complexion of a fine Woman ; yet it is abfolutely requifite to make them agreeable.

(II)

All the great and laudable Qualifications above particularly fpecified, namely, Virtue, Modefty, Good Senfe, and Good Nature, without this laft will- avail but little. 'Tis not fufficient that a young Woman has good Features, and a comely Perfon, unlefs fhe knows how to fet them off to the beft Advantage; nor will any Accomplifhments make her completely agreeable, unlefs they be properly improv'd by a well-directed Education.

The Acquifitions therefore mof requifite to make her the Ornament of her own Sex, as well as the Pride of Ours, are thefe that follow. In the firlt Place, fhe fhould be able to read with Propriety and a grod Grace ; to wite a neat legible Hand; to have a tolerable Infight in o the firt Rudiments of Accounts, and the Method of keeping a proper Diary; and in the next, to know how to lay her Money out with judgment abroad; to be converlant, in fhort, with all the various Branches of Cookery, Confectionary, Efc. at home; and to be dextrous in the Art of Carving at Table, in private or publick, whenever Occafion fhould require it : And for her more eafy and expeditious At:ainment of thofe abrolutely neceflary Qualificatious, we have drawn up the few following Sheets, which we flatter ourfelves will prove highly wor hy of her Perufal, and be thought no improper Pocket-Companion for the molt able and experienced Houlewife.

Of the ALPHABET, or CHARACTERS made ufe of in Printing, with their refpective Powers or Sounds.

THERE can be no Edifice erected without a Foundation. Every Young Woman, therefore, who is defirous of attaining to a compleat Knowledge of her native Language, muft, in the firt Place, make herfelf Miftrefs of the Letters, whereof all the various Words made ufe of in that Language are compos'd.

Thefe are in Number twenty-fix, and are to be confider'd in their Form, their Nature, and their Force.

And firft, we are to exhibit their feveral Forms, both great and fmall.

ay, bee, fee, dee, ee, et, jee, aith, i, jay or jee, kay, ell, em, en, o, pee, cu, ar, efs, tee, yu, vee or ev, double yu, eks, wy, zad or zed.

The Alphabet is divided into Vowels and Confonants; the former fignifying a fimple Sound ; and the latter founding with, or in Conjunction with another.

The Vowels are five, viz.
$a, e, i, o, u$; and $y$, and $w$, when us'd for $i$, and $u$, are likewife Vowels.

Note, $i, u$, and $i v$, are fometimes Ccnfonants, and then the two firt change their Form, and are expreffed thus, $j$, v.

The Confonants are in Number twenty one, viz. $b, c, d, f, g, h, j, k, l, m, n, p, q, r, s, t, v, w, x, y, z=$ five whereof, viz. $l, m, n, r$, and $s$, are call'd Liquids or Half Vowels, as having a Kind of imperfeci Sound of themfelves.

Sometimes there are double Characters made ufe of in Printing, the Principal whereof are thefe that follow.

LESSON II.

Of Diphthongs and Triphthong.

ADiphthong is fo called, when two Vowels come together, and are not feparated or parted in the Pronunciation; but the Sound of them is perfectly united; as in the following Words, beard, fret, people, which are pronounc'd, herd, sweet, people; and not divided thus, beard, fwee-et, pe-o-ple.

There Diphthongs are divided into proper and improper. The former are twelve in Number, wiz. ai, ci, $o i$, and $u i, a u, e u, o u ;, e e, o o ; e a, o a$, and oi. The latter feven, viz. $a y, c y, o y, u y, a z v, e r v$, and $o z v ; y$ and $w$ being us'd in the Room or Stead of $i$ and $u$ at the Ends of Words.

The Diphthongs ae and oe which have particular Characters (viz,,$x$ ) are not properly Englijb Dishthongs, but more peculiar to the Latin Tongue; for which Reafon for the generality we both write them with a fingle $e$, and pronounce them as $e$. As for Infrance, Equity, Female, Phenix, which in Latin are always written AEquitas, Farina, Pbocmix; yet in borrow'd Words, indeed, especially in proper Names, we make use of them to denote their Original, as in FLeas, AEtna, Oeconomift, &c.

Sometimes, 'ti true, two Vowels come together and are not Diphthongs, but mut be parted, as in there Words following; ea are divided in Cre-a-tor, O-ce-an, The-a-tre, &c. ci in De-i-ty, A-the-ijm, A-the-ij-ti-cal, &c. co is no Diphthong in Sur-ge-on, Pi-ge-on, Dungedon, scr. on are feparated in Co-ac-ti on, Co-ad-ju-tor, and oe in co-e-qual, co-e-ter-nal, &c. ie are parted in Au-di-ence, bu-ri-ed, 2ui-et-nefs, &c. wi in Fru-i-ti-on, Gra-tu-i-ty, pu-if-fant, &c. ce in pre-e-mi-nent, re-e-dify, re-en-ter, &cc. and oi in going, dozing, &c.

As to Triphthongs, they but very feldom occur, and are but fix in Number, viz. eau, icu, lew, quai, nay, and roy. As in thee Words, Beaux, pronounced Bozen; lieu, adieu, pronounced $l u$, ad; View, pronounced $V u$; quaint, pronounced quaynt; Quay, pronounced Gee; Buoy, pronouc'd Boy.

( 15 )  LESSON III.

Of Syllables; with proper Rules bow to divide them.

置 ${ }^{\mathrm{T}}$T is absolutely neceffiary, both for true Writing and Reading, to underitand the Nature and proper Divifion of Syllables.

A Syllable is either a Vowel or Diphthong founding by itself, or join'd with one or more Confonants in one Sound, ard pronounced with one Breath.

As each of the five Vowels make one perfect and diftinct Sound, any of them may be, and each of them frequently is a Syllable; as in the Words following, a-bufe, ever, i-mage, over, u-fu-ry. So likewife mot of the Diphthongs, as for Inftance, author, eu-nuch, owner, aider, oy-fter, ca-ter, &cc.

Note, $a, i$, and $o$, are Words as well as Syllables, and the two latter when fuch, mut be Capitals; as I am the Lord. O God, have Mercy upon us. As to a it is never a Capital, but at the Beginning of a Sentence.

Note, Many Consonants with one Vowel or a Diphthong, may make but one Syllable only; as for Infiance in the following Words Length, Strengit, Streights, &c.

Rules for the Divifion of Syllables.

I. If two Vowels come together in a Word, where they are no Diphthong, but both are to be fully found. ed, they muff be parted, as in the Words following, Diet, Dieter, Trial, Tri-umph, coequal, co-e-ternail, &c.
II. If the fame Confonant be doubled in the Middle of a Word, they muff be divided, as in ac-cozint, Em-met, im-menfe, Otter, ut-ter-moft, &c.

III A Confonant coming between two Vowels muff be join'd to the latter, as in $A$-mitty, de-li-ver, $E$-minonce, not $A m-i-t y$, del-i-ver, Em-i-nence.
IV. Two Confonants between two Vowels separate themfelves, one to the former, the other to the latter Syllable; as in Fortune, far-tber, Farthing, &cc.
To there Rules, however, there are the following Exceptions; viz, the Lettet $x$ mull be join'd to the

( 16 )

Letter before it, as in $O x-e n$, E.x-er-cife, and not O-xen, E-xer-cife. The true Reafon whereof is this, $x$ is $a$ double Confonant, and has the Sound of $c$ and $s$ which cannot begin any Syllable. Another Exception is, no two or three Confonants which can properly begin any Engli/h Word muft be feparated in the Middle of a Word; for which Reafen in the Words agree, beflow, refirain, you muft divide them thus, a-gree, be-fiow, re-ftrain, and not ag-ree, bef-tow, reft-rain, becaufe or, $\beta$, and $\operatorname{fr}$ begin divers Words, as will appear from the two following Tables.
T A B L E I.

Some Words may, and frequently do, begin with two Confonants, and others with three ; the former are thirty in Number, viz.

Of Words beginning with three Confonants, whick are nine only in Number, viz.

Nate $_{2}$

Note, all thefe maft be fpeit together, and not divided unlefs in compound Words, where each fimple Word muft retain its own Letters, as in dij-clofe, aijmifs, tranf-pofe; and not di-fclofe, di-fniifs, tran-fpofe.

To conclude, take this for a general Direction, that Syllables are to be divided in fpelling, in the fame Manner as they are in fpeaking.

LESSON IV.

Some curfory Obfervations on the feveral Letters contain'd in the preceding Alphabet.

$A$is loft in the Words Diamond, Parliament and Pbaraob; which are pronounc'd Di-mond, Par$t i-m e n t, F a-r o$. And one of the $a$ 's is not founded in Balaam, Canaan, Ifaac, which are Hebrew Names, and pronounc'd Ba-lam, Ca-nan, I-fac.

Note, this Letter a has four feveral Sounds, viz. long in the Word bate, fhort in Hat, open in balf, founded babf, and broad in tall, founded taul.

Is loit in Words of one Syllable after the Letter m, as in Lamb, dumb, Tbumb, &c. which are pronounc'd Lam, dum, Thum; it is loft likewife whenever it precedes the Letter $t$, as in Debt, Debtor, doubtful, which: are pronounc'd $D_{e t,}$, Det-tor, dout-ful'; and ferves often: to lengthen only the Words like final e, as in the Words climb, Tomb, Womb, which are founded clime ${ }^{2}$. Toom, Woom.

C,

Is founded hard like $k$ before the Vowels. $a, o, u$, as in Cart, Colt, Cup; as alfo before the Confonants $l$ and: $r$, as in Club, climb, Cruft, Crofs, &c.

When $c$ however, precedes an Apoftrophe, in which. Cafe the Vowel e is cut off, it is pronounced foft like. $s$, pranc'd for pranced, advanc'd for advanceds which. are founded prabnf, advabnft.
$C$ is likewife foft and founded like $s$, before the: Yowels $e, i$, and $y$, As for Inftance Cedar, Circle, Cyder, which are pronounced Se-dar, Sur-cle, Syder.
When c precedes $k$, it is always perfectly loft, as in Crack, check, Cbick-en, Cleck, cluck, &c. and is either C 3 10.ft loft or very obfcure in the Words Viffuals, Verditi, Indietment ; they being generally founded Vittels, Verdit, Inditement.
$C$ is likewife either loft, when the Confonant $\int$ precedes it, as in Scene, Scepter, Science, which are pronounc'd Seen, Septer, Sience; or elfe affumes the hard Sound of $k$, as in Sceptic, Sceleton, Scepticijm, which are pronounc'd Skeptic, Skeleton, Skeptif $\int$ fim.

Cb, tho' a double Character, is but one Letter, and has a peculiar Sound to itfelf; as in Cburch, Chappel, Cbamber, &c. It affumes fometimes the Sound of $k$, as in the Words Cbaos, Cbaracter, Cborus, &c. as alfo in moft foreign Words, as in Cbemift, Cboler, Melancholly, &c. which are pronounc'd Kymmift, Koller, Mallankolly; but more particularly in proper Names, as in Antioch, Archilocbus, Archimedes, &c. which are founded Antiok, Arkillokus, Arkimedes.
$C h$, however, is pronounc'd in moft Words deriv'd from the French, like $\beta$, as in Cbaife, Chagrin, Macbine, \&c. which are pronounc'd Shaize, Shagreen, MaBeen. Sometimes it affumes the Sound of $q u$, as in: Cboir and Cboirifter, which are pronounc'd 2uire and Quirrifer. And lafty, it is perfectly loft in the Words Drashm, which is. founded Dram.

Lofes its Sound in Wednefday and Ribband, thofe: Words being pronounc'd Wenfday, Ribbon. And when an Apoftrophe precedes $d$, it lofes its own Sound, and affumes that of $t$, in the following Words, blefed, kifed, dijmifeet, which are pronounc'd bleft, kift, difmijt. $E$,
Has a long Sound; as in the, thcfe; and a fhort one in tbim, then, when, &c, $E$, when it precedes $a$, and conflitutes the Diphtheng ea, lofes its Sound in dear, foar, death, breath; which are pronounc'd deer, feer, detb, breth.
$E$ is quite iof when an Apofrophe is fubrituted in its: Place, as is common in fuch Words as take the Termination ed; as fear'd for feared, beaw'd for beaved, Barv'd for farved, &c.

Its Sound likewife is very obfcure in fuch Diffyllables as end in $\epsilon n, l e$, and $r e$, as in fodd'n for fodden, eat'n for eaten, bitt'n for bitten, handle, mangle, dandle, metre, Lucre, Mire, Fire. The Reafon, however, of fuch Obfcurity or Lofs is, becaufe $l, n$, and $r$ are Liquids or Half Vowels, and have an imperfect Sound of their own, as has been before obferv'd.

19)

Obferve the $e$ final in Words of more Syllables than one is loft, and ferves only to lengthen the Sound of the laft Syllable, as in adbere, adore, aflure, &c. It retains, however, its long Sound in fuch Monofyllables wherein there is no other Vowel, as be, me, 乃e, &c.

There are fome Exceptions, indeed, where e final does not lengthen the Syllable; as in come, fome, one, none, which are founded cum, fum, woun, nun.

Is fometimes founded like $v$, as in the Word of, which is pronounc'd oree, and when 'tis doubled it has 2 fine Afpiration, as in fand off, which is founded auve.

When Words of the fingular Number have $f$ in the laft Syllable, they change it into $v$ in the plural, as Wife, Wives, Knife, Knives, Calf, Calves, &c.
G,

Is founded foft like $j e$ and $j i$, before $e, i$, and $y$; as in Gem, Ginger, Gypfy. There are fome few Exceptions, however, as in the Words get, Geefe, Gift, gild, which are founded hard.

This Letter is likewife pronounc'd hard before $e$ and $i$, in moft proper Names deriv'd from the Greek or the Hebrew, as in Geba, Gideon, Gennefaret th.
It is founded hard likewife in the Words following, Aagger, Dagger, bigger, Finger, Singer, &c.

It is founced haid likewife when it precedes the Vowels $a, o$, and $u$, and the Confonants $l$ and $r$, as in Gafp, Goofe, Guff, Glafs, Grafs, &c.

This Letter $g$ lofes its Sound when it precedes the Letters $m$ or $n$, as in Flegm, Gnat, gnafb, which is pronounc'd Fleem, Nat, nafh, and in the Word Sign, and its Compounds, a Defign, confg $n$, refign, & $2 c$. which are founded Syne, De-fyne, con-dyne, re-fyne.

It affumes the Sound of fhort $u$ in Dove, Lave, Boave, &cc and is pronounc'd Duve, Luve, Burve.

It fometimes founds like the Vowel $i$ in Women, and is pronounc'd Wimmin; and fometimes like 00 ; as in Tomb, Womb; and is pronounc'd Toom, Woom. And fometimes again as the Vowel $u$; as in done, doff, comfort, which are pronounc'd dun, duft, cumfort.

And the Sound of o is loft in the Word Damofel, which is pronounc'd Damzel.

Lofes its Sound when the Letter $\int$ follows it, as in Pfalms, Pfalter, Pfalmift, which are pronounc'd Sablms, Sablter, Sablmif.

It lofes its Sound likewife when the Letter $m$ precedes it, as in Prefumption, Attempt, Temptation; which are pronounc'd Prefumbon, Attemt, Temtafion.

Ph,
Tho' a double Character, is but a fingle Letter, and affumes the Sound of the Letter $f$, as in Pblegm, Pbanatic, Pbrenzy, which are pronounc'd Flecm, Fanattic, Frenzy.

In Words, however, where ph can properly be divided is retains its natural Sound; as in Shep-berd, upbold, &c.

Is never written without $u$; and in Words deriv'd from the French it affumes the Sound of $k$, as in the Words antique, oblique, fique, &c. which are pronounc'd antike, oblike, pcek.

Tho' two Characters are but one Letter, and the bwhich follows it has no Sound at all, as in Rheum, rbeumatic, Rbetoric, &cc.

Tho' the Sound of this Letter is naturally foft, yet it is pronounc'd hard like $z$, in the following Words, Hands, Bands, Wands, &cc, as alfo in all Words ending in fion as, Perfuafion, Delufion, Confufion: The Sound however is foft, in cafe a Confonant precedes it, as in Conruerfon, Dimenfon, Commiffon.

This Letter is hard likewife in \{everal Words of one Syllable only, as in Rofe, Profe, Caufe, Paufe, which are prononnc'd Roze, Proze, Cauze, Pauze.

This Letter is likewife perfectly loft in the Words Ifle, Ifand, Vifount, &c. which are pronounc'd Ile, Iland, Vicount.
Note, all Words ending in foon are founded as foon; as for Inflance, Commifion, Compafion, Conrverffon, which are pronounc'd Commifbon, Compafbon, ConverfBon.

All Words ending in tion, as thofe in fon are founded alfo like Soon, as Vexation, Commiferation, Converfation, &c which are pronounc'd Vexafbon, CommiferaBoon, Converfaßon. Otherwife however it retains its own Sound, as in Fefivity, Befiality, Contexture, Mixture, &&.

(23)

$\tau h$,
Tho' a double Character is but a fingle Letter, and is founded hard, as in thee, thofe, them, &c.

$V$,

Call'd Vee, or $u$ Confonant, always precedes a Vowel, as in Virtue, Vice, very, vaft, &cc. and is as widely different from the Vowel $u$ in regard to its Sound and Form, as any other Letter throughout the Alphabet.

W .

Is fometimes a Vowel and fometimes a Confonant; the former when it is us'd for the Letter $u$, and the latter when it begins, either a Word or a Syllable, as in War, Warmth, Wafte, &c. fomerobat, fomerwhere, elferwbere, &c.
$W$ lofes its Sound when it follows either $\int$ or $r$, as in the Words, Sword, fwooning, Wretch, worefing, which are pronounc'd Sord, funing, Retch, refing. It lofes its Sound likewife when it precedes the Letter $b$, as in Whore, wbori/b, Whoredom, which are pronounç'd Hore, borifh, Horedom.

w h,

Tho' a double Character, is but a fingle Letter, and feldom if ever occurs in any Words but what are purely Englijß; fuch as white, where, Wheat, wowich, &cc. and then in segard to the Sound or Pronunciation of it, the $b$ precedes the $w$, as bwite, bwere, brweat, brich, &c.

$X$,

Is a double Confonant, and is founded like cs or $k s$; as Example, cxecute, Exercife, are founded Ekfample, exkfecute, Eckferjize.

r_{3}

Is, as we have before obferv'd, fometimes a Confonant and fometimes a Vowel.

Note, however, that it is always a Confonant when it begins either a Word or a Syllable, and always a Vowel when it ends either the one or the other.

Z,

Is a double Confonant, and includes in it the Sound of ds, as in Zone, Zealot, Zodiack, &c, which are proneunc'd Dfone, Dfeelo, DJodiack.

(24)

Notc, tho it may precede any one of the Vowels, yet it can never follow or precede a Confonant.

LESSONV.

Three general Rules to be obferv'd, in order to Spell and write any Englifh Words correctly.
I. DEFORE you write down any Word, pronounce it to yourfelf as clear, plain, and diftinct as pofibly you can, giving each Part its full Sound, and then enter it down according to the longeft, hardeft, and karheft Sound, as I-ron, not Iurn, Lant-horn, not Lantern, Cab-bage, not Cabbidge.
II. Make yourfelf Miftrefs of the preceding Leffon, and obferve with Attention how the Vowels and Confonants are pronounc'd in various Words, as well foreign as Engiif $h$, and write them down accordingly. Be careful, however, to obferve where any Word keeps its Sound, and where it varies it.

Mark likewife, very diligently, what Letters are filent, or not founded in any Word, but infert them in your Writing, tho' they are omitted both in Reading and Speaking.

III Always confult the following Dictionary, or any other, if you have one more copious, till you are fo well vers'd in your Orthography, as to be able to enter any Article whatfoever, without having any Recourfe to either.

LESSON VI.

Some particular Rules to be obferv'd for Spelling and Writing any Englifh Words correcily.
I. LL proper Names of Perfons, Towns, Cities, Rivers, Seas, Ships, $E^{\circ}$ c. muft begin with a Capital.
II. The firft Word of a Bill, Book, Letter, Note, or Verfe, muft likewife have a Capital at the Beginning.
III. A Capital Letter mult always follow a full Stop.
IV. When you quote any Paffage out of an Author, (tho' the firft Word does not follow a full Stop) it mult begin wish a Capital.
V. When a fhort Sentence is diftinguifh'd by being printed entirely in Capitals, you may take it for granted, that there is fomething contained in it more obKervable than ordinary; as, JESUS, KING OF THE JEWS.
VI. And lafly, you muft take Care never to infert a Capital in the Middle of a Word; as for Inftance, fhould your Name be Elizabeth, you muft never write ElizaBeth.

A D DITIONAL RULES.

Notwithflanding a great Part of our MotherTongue is very irregular; and for that Reafon, there is fcarce any Pofibility of comprizing it within the Compafs of any Set of Directions whatroever; yet we prefume the following may prove of fome Service and Advantage to a young Beginner.
I. Take Notice, that tho' the Lettet $c$ generally precedes a $k$; as thick, Stick, Cbick, &c., yet it mult never be inferted between two Confonants; as Wink, Stink, Sink, not Winck, Stinck, Sinck.
II. Obferte, however, if a Confonant precedes the Character $c h$, the $c$ mult be inferted, as in $T_{\text {ench, }}$ Wench, Wrench, \&c.

Obferve likewife, that the Character $c b$, if it ends a Word, or follows a fhort Vowel, it for the Generality admits of the. Letter $t$ before it, as in the Words Watch, catch, fetch, &c.

There are fome few common Words, however, that are an Exception to this general Rule; as for Inftance, rwbich, much, touch, &c.
III. For the Generality the Letter $d$ flould be added before $g$, in cafe the $g$ has a fhort Sound after a fhort Vowel; as for Inftance, Ledge, Ledger, Lodge, Lodger, Hedge, Hedger, &c.
IV. When Words have a long Vowel before a fingle Confonant, you muft always give them an $e$ filent at the End of them ; as Life, Wife, Strife, &c.
$V$. The filent $e$, however, muft very feldom be written after a Syllable made long by a Diphthong, or after a double Confonant; as receiv-ing, belico-ing, conceiv-ing, Blef-sing, ad-dref-sing, Wed-ding, &c. and not receive-ing. be-lieve-ing, con-ceive-ing, Blefe-ing, addrele-ing, Wedde-ing.

There are fome Exceptions, however, to this general Rule; for e final mult be inferted after the foft $c, g$, or $\delta_{3} x, z$, or $\sim$ Conionant, as for Example, bence, Fence, range, Arange, Moufe, Houfe, brouze, rouze, Helve, Sbelve, \&c. but it is abfolutely needlefs, where two Confonants of the fame Sort come toge her, as Inn and add, not Inne or adde, except in tome few proper Names.
VI. When the Letter $g$ founds hard after a long Vowel, in the End of a Word, ue muft be added to it, as in Fatigue, Intrigue, Vogue, Rogue, &c. and not Fatig, Intrig, Vog, Rog ; ue mult likewife be added to the hard $g$ in all foreign Words; as in Dialogue, Apologue, Catalogue, Prologue, Epilogur, &c.
VII. $G b$ is written for hard $g$ in the Words following, viz. Gbof, Ghittar, ghafty, &c. and $g u$ is writien for hard $g$ in Guilt, Guile, Guide, &c.
VIII. The Pronoun $I$ and the Interjection O, (as we have hinted before) muft be always written with a Capital.
IX. When the Letter $k$ ends a Word with a fhort Vowel before it, then the Letter $c$ muft precede the $k$, as in Stock, Block, Cock, &c. the Letter $k$, however, may with Propriety be omitted in the End of fuch Adjectives as are deriv'd from the Latin, as in Dramatic, Tragic, Comic, &cc.
$\dot{L}$, a double $l l$ is always us'd at the End of a Monofyllable after a fingle Vowel ; as Ball, call, fall; Bell, fell, Well; Mill, fill, Will; Roll, Poll, Toll; full, dull, Bull, \&c. but if a Diphthong precedes $l$ in Words of one Syllable, then a fingle $l$ only follows, as Sail, fail, rail, Seal, focl, deal; Soit, toil, foil; Wool, Fool, Sout. \&c.

If Words have more Syllables than one in them, then $l l$ muft not be us'd, but the fingle $l$ only; as in merciful, painful, diftruffful, &c.

Whenever a W ord or Syllable begins with a $q$, write a $u$ immediately after it; as in Quefion, acquaint, &c.

Make ufe of $q$ inftead of $k$ where Words are deriv'd from the Latin, ending in quus; as oblique, antique, and not oblike, antike, &c.

Oblerve

Observe a long $\int$ is never us'd at the End of a Word', either in Printing or Writing, but $f s$, as in Mas, Pass; Dress, Press; Bliss, $K i f s ;$ Lops, profs; Buff, puls, \&c.

There are Several Exceptions, however, as to this general Rule; for the Monofyllables hereunder written muff end with a fingle $s, \pi i z$. as, yes, is, us, \&c. So likewife when $s$ or es is added to a Word in order to make it a Plural; as Name, Names; Hand, Hands; Wand, Wands; Lafs, Lades; Houfe, Houses; Church, Churches, \&c.

When Engli/b Words end with the Sound us, they mull be felt with the Diphthong ours, as gracious, prescious, conscious, &c.

Make ufo of the Letter $x$ rather than $\subset$, in fuck Words as are derived from the Latin, wherein the $x$ is inferred; as in the Words Connexion, Crucifixion, which are more proper than Connection and Crucifiction.

When a Verb ends with a $y$, it retains it before its Termination; as defray, Defroyer, defiroying, defroyed; Employ, Employer, employing, employed, Employment, &cc.

LESSON VII.

Of the Characters, Points, or Stops, made UTe of to denote the Intervals, or proper Diftances f Time which are to be obferv'd in Reading.

N Writing and Printing there are four Stops of the Voice, viz.

\left(, \begin{array}{l}
\text { a Comma } \\
(;) \text { a Semi colon }
\end{array}\right\}\left\{\begin{array}{l}
(:) \text { a Colon } \\
(,) \text { a full Stop, } \\
\text { Point, or Period. }

There Marks are intended to flew what Paufe or Reft is to be made in Reading, where they occur in one Sentence.

At a Comma, reft only while you can fay privately to yourfelf one; at a Semi-colon, pause whilft you can fay one, two, deliberately ; at a Colon pause till you can tell three or four; and at a full Stop, or Cole of a Sentence, tell five.

There are befides the fe Stops of the Voice, two Marks or Notes of Affection; one whereof is call'd a Note of Interrogation, marked thus (? ), and the other other a Note of Exclamation, mark'd thus (!) and thefe require the fame Paufe in Reading as at a full Stop.

(28)

The former is made ufe of when any Queftion is. afked; and the latter, when any fudden Paffion of the Mind is express'd.

To thefe Stops of the Voice and Notes of Affection, there are twelve other Marks of Diftinction made ufe of in Printing; which are thefe that follow, viz.

| An Apoftrophe ; | An Index |
| :---: | :---: |
| An Afterifk * | An Obelifk + |
| Brackets [] | A Paragraph |
| A Caret 1 | A Parenthefis |
| An Ellipfis - | A Quotation |
| An Hyphen - or = | A Section § |

The firf, viz. the Apoftrophe (') is ufed when fome Letter or Letters are left out; as in't for in it; I wwon't for I will not; tho' for though, &c.

The fecond, call'd the Afterick or Afterifm () has a peculiar Reference to fomething, either in the Marpin cr at the Bottom of the Page. And where divers Allcrifms occur, as $\boldsymbol{}^{* * * *}$, there is either fomething defficient in the Senfe, or fomething too immodeft to be infered.

The third, call'd Brackets [ ] , are but feldom us'd. and when they are, 'tis either to include a fingle Word or two of the fame Signification with which they fand, and may be ufed in their Room or Stead; or elfe to include fome Part of a Quotation.

The fourth, call'd the Caret ( A ), is frequently us'd in Writing, indeed, when any Word or Words happen to be omitted, and are inferted above; but they very feldom occur in any printed Book.

The Ellipfis, or fifth Mark (-), is us'd when Part of a Word is omitted to conceal the Senfe of it, as in M-n-try for Miniftry, $P$ - $t$ for Parliament, and D-of C- $d$ for Duke of Cumberland. 'Tis us'd likewife when fome Part of a Sentence or Verfe is wanting or omitted.

The fixth, called the Hyphen ( - ), is made ufe of either to unite two Words together, as House-Keeper,

(29)

Ale-Conner, Inn-Holder, &c. or in Cafe one Part of a Word ends a Line, and the other begins the next, the Hyphen denotes, that the Syllables fo parted muft be join'd in Reading

When the Hand ( $\mathbb{R}^{20}$ ) is made ufe of, 'tis to de: note, that there is fomething more worthy of the Reader's Notice than common.

The eighth Mark, call'd the Paragraph ( © ), is chiefly us'd in the Bible, and denotes, that a new Subject is entred upon.

The ninth Mark, call'd the Parenthefis ( 1 , is us'd like the Brackets, to include fomething that is not abfolutely neceffary to the Senfe, but introduc'd only to explain it, and if left out, the Senfe will be no Ways interrupted.

In the Reading of a Parenthefis, the Reft, or Paufe, at each Mark, is only as a Comma, and two Commas are frequently fubftituted in their Stead.

As to the Obeliik, or Dagger ( $\dagger$ ), the tenth Mark, it is only made ufe of by Way of Reference to fomething either in the Margin, or at the Bottom of the Page.

The revers'd Commas, call'd the Quotation-Mark, fhews, that the Lines fo diffinguifi'd are an Extract from fome Author verbatim.

The Twelfth and laft Mark, call'd the Section ( $$$ ), is made ufe of to divide the Chapters of any Book into diffinct Parts, and anfwers the fame Purpofe as the Pa -ragraph-Mark beforemention` ( T! ) does in the Bible.
There are fome few other Marks made ufe of in Reading; fuch as the Dialyfis, which is (.) two Dots over a Vowel, to denote, that it muft not be join'd with the Vowel that precedes it, and for that Reaion that both are no Diphthong; the fingle Accent as ('), and the double Accent as ("), the long Accent as ( -), the thort Accent as ( ${ }^{\circ}$ ), and the Circumflex as (1); but as thefe Marks belong to fingle Words only, and not to Sentences, and are only made ufe of in Books for the Help of Children to alcertain their proper Power or Sound, and never made ufe of in any others, we imagine, that they are foreign to our prefent Purpofe, as being of little or no Service to thofe for whofe Improvement this little Pocket Companion is principally intended.

Having

Having proceeded thus far, in the firf Brauch of this our new Undertaking, for the Practice and Improvement of our female Pupils in the Knowledge of their Mother-Tongue, we flatter ourfelves, that the following curfory Remarks of the late celebrated Dr. Watts, on the important Advantages of Reading and Writing, will be look'd upon, not only as an entertaining, but inftructive Conclufion.
"The Knowledge of Letters (fays that ingenious "Author) is one of the greatef Blefings that ever " God beftow'd on the Children of Men. By this or Means, we preferve for our own Ufe, through all our " Lives, what our Memory would have loft in a few r: Days, and lay up a rich Treafure of Knowledge " for thofe that fhall come after us.
"By the Arts of Reading and Writing, we can fit
" at Home, and acquaint ourfelves with what is done in " all the diftant Parts of the World, and find out what " our Fathers did long ago, in the firt Ages of Mankind.
"By this Means, a Briton holds Correfpondence with "his Friend in America or Fapan, and manages all " his Traffick. We learn by this Means, how the old "Romans liv'd, how the ferws worhipp'd: We learn " what Mofes wrote, what Enoch propnefied, where or Adam dwelt, and what he did foon after the Crea"tion; and thofe who fhall live when the Day of "Judgment comes, may learn, by the fame Means, " what we now fpeak, and what we do in Great Bri"tain, or in the Land of Cbina.
"In Mort, the Art of Letters does, as it were, re" vive all the paft Ages of Men, and fet them at " ance upon the Sage; and brings all the Nations " from afar; and gives them, as it were, a general " Interview: So that the mof diftant Nations, and " diftant Ages of Mankind, may converfe together, " and grow into Acquaintance.
" But the greateft Bleffing of all, is the Knowledge or of the Holy Scriptures, wherein God has appointed " his Servants, in ancient Times, to write down the "Difcoveries which he has made of his Power and " Jultice, his Providence and bis Grace, that we, who sc live near the End of Time, may learn the Way to "Heaven and everlafting Happinels. "Thus Letters give us a Sort of Immortality in a this World, and they are given us in the Word of " God, to fupport our immortal Hopes in the next. "Thofe therefore who wilfully neglect this Sort of "Knowledge, and defpife the Art of Letters, need as no heavier Curfe or Punifhment, than what they "chufe for themfelves, (viz.) To live and die in Ig"f norance, botb of the Things of God and Man.
"If the Terror of fuch a Thought will not awaken "the Slothful, to feek fo much Acquaintance with ${ }^{*}$ their Motber-Tongue, as may render them capable of "t the Advantages here defcrib'd; I know not where "to find a Perfuafive, that fhall work upon Souls that " are funk down fo far into brutal Stupidity, and fo "6 unworthy of a reafonable Nature."

ART of WRITING.

1 Sort Poetical Address to our Female Pupils, on the important Advantages arifing from the USE of the Pen.

E fpringing Fair, whom gentle Minds incline, To all that's curious, innocent, and fine,
With Admira ion, in your Works are read, The various Features of the twining Thread. Then let the Fingers, whofe unrivall'd Skill Exalts the Needle, grace the noble Quill. An artlefs Scrawl the blufhing Scribler fhames, All hould be fair, that beauteous Woman frames; Strive to excel, with Eafe the Pen will move, And pretty Lines add Charms to infant LOVE.

Instructions for young Practitioners in the Art of WRITING.

* Otwithfanding the Practice of various Hands may be of fingular Service to young Gentlemen, who are brought up to various Employments; and tho' Command of Hand, or, as 'tis generally G 2 call'd, ealld, Striking, may be of fome Service, by way of occafional Decorations; yet there is but one Hand abfolutely requifite for young Women to improve themfelves in, and that is the Round Hond, which is much preferable to the Italian, tho' formerly, indeed, the latter was in high Repute amonglt the Ladies ; neither is there the leaft Neceffity for our Female Pupils in parricular, to practife any ornamental Flourifhes whatfoever; fo that all they are under an indifpenfible Obligation to learn, in regard to Penmanflip, lies in a very narrow Compars; for if they can but once attain to make their Writing look fair and legible, 'tis as much as is required at their Hands.

Sbort Rules for learning to Write.

TO write true, is to keep a due Proportion between the Letters.
Draw two Lines at a fmall Diflance with a Pencil, and let the Letters fill up the Space.

There are two Sorts of Letters; fome keep within the Lines, and others exceed them.

Of the former Sort are thefe that follow, viz.

a, c, e, i, m, n, o, r, u, w, x, v, z .

The following are of the latier Sort, viz.

b, d, f, g, b, j, k, l, p, q, l, t_{2} y,

Obferve, the Letter $c$ if it be carried on, 'tis o; Gring the Stroke down again, 'tis $a$; carry the $a$ above the Line 'tis $d$; carry it below the Line frait, 'tis $q$; turn it at the End, 'tis $g$; begin the $c$ with a longer Stroke, and 'tis an $e$.

The Letter $i$, if it be carried above the Line, 'tis $t$; if it be doubled, 'tis $u$; if this $u$ falls below the Line, 'tis $y$; and if this $y$ wants the firft Stroke of it, 'tis $j$, or what is call'd jod $i$.
$l$, if it be turn'd roundifh, conftitutes a $b$; if this be below the Line, 'tis $f$, and if it tuin the other Way, it is $\delta$.
$n$, if it fops at the Top, 'tis $r$; if there be three Strokes, 'tis $m$; if the firt Stroke goes below the Line, it forms a $p$; if it turns up again it conflitutes a $w$; if it be carried above the Line with a Bend, 'tis an $b$; and if the $b$ be turn'd in the Middle, 'tis a $k$.
$x$ is two $c$ 's turn'd the wrong Way ; $z$ and fhort $s$, bear fome near Similitude.

The Method to attain the Art of Writing foon, is to practife frequently on the following Letters, $c, i, l$, $u$; for from them you form all the reft; as for Inftance,

From $c$; you form $0, a, d, q, g, e$.
From $i ; t, u, v, y, j$.
From $1 ; b, f, f$.
And from $n ; r, m, p, u, w, h, k$.
In writing great Letters or Capitals, the principal Stroke is a long $S$; with a true and eafy Bend, it makes the $A, B, D, F, H, I, K, L, P, R, S, \mathcal{T}$.

Obferve, thofe who write but feldom, lofe their Hand by taking off their Pen at every Letter, and by writing with a quick Stroke or Jerk; in order therefore to prevent fuch an ill Habit, ufe yourfelves to write feveral Letters at a Time, without taking off the Pen; for the more you can accomplifh this, the more you will command the Pen.

As the fair Sex can with Eafe procure good Pens, I fhall not trouble them with any unneceflary Directions how to make them; but 'tis highly requifite, however, that they fhould be inftructed how to hold them in a proper Manner, and how they ought to fit, when they are determin'd to practife.

Rules for bolding the Pen.

I. Hold your Pen with the Thumb and two firft Fingers of your Right-Hand, fo as that your fecond Finger's End may reach juft to the upper Part of the Hollow, or Scoop of your Pen; and that your Pen may reft on that Side of your fecond Finger (near the Nail) which is next your firf Finger.

1I. Your firt Finger's End mult reach juft as low as the Top of the Nail of your fecond Finger, and lay hold, or prefs on that Part of the Barrel of the Pen, which is next your fecond Finger.
III. Your Thumb (almoft extended ftrait) mult lay hold, or prefs on that Side of the Barrel of the Pen that is next it, and will then reach to the Top of the Nail of your firt Finger.

(66)

IV. Your Pen and Hand thus ordered, your Pen will be held on the right Side of it, (almof under the Barrel) by the End of your fecond Finger near its Nail.
V. On the right Side (almoft on the Back of the Barrel) it will be held by that Part of your firf Finger, which is neareft your fecond Finger.
VI. On the left Side (about an Inch and a Quarter from the Point of the Nib) it will be held by the Ball of the End of your Thumb, traverfing flant-wife oppofite to the End of your Thumb-Nail; and the fea. ther'd Part of your Pen will pafs between the upper and next Joint of your firf Finger; and the Hollow, Scoop, or Opening of your Pen, will be hid from your Sight.

V $$$ I. The Hollow (or Palm) of your Hand, will. be almof directly againft your Paper.

VIII, Your third Finger muft bear on your Paper, with that Joint of it which is next to its Nail.
IX. The Ball of your right Hand (near ycur Wrift) mulf not (nor any Part of your Hand, but the beforemention'd Joint of your litile Finger) touch the Paper.
X. And lafly, your Pen and Hand order'd according to there Directions, you will find the Paper and Defk on which you write, will be borne on by nothing elfe but the Nib of your Pen, the lowermof Joint of your little Finger, that Part of your right Arm, which is between your Wrift and Elbow ; and by the Thumb, Fingers, and Part of the Arm, near the Elbow of your left Hand; on which, and the Seat you fit on, the Weight of your Body fhould reft.

THe next Article to be learn'd is, how to fit commodioufly, when you are difpos'd to write; and for that Parpofe obferve the following Directions.
I. Let the Height of the Flat of your Defk, where. an you lay your Book or Paper, te about two Foot. three Quarters from the Ground; the Height of your Seat one Foot three Quarters; let your Seat's Edge be diftanc'd from the Edge of the Defk (which comes mext your Body) half a Foot.

( 67 )

II. Let the Room for your Knees and Legs to come under your Defk, be one Foot.
III. Lay your Book or Paper, on which you write, Atreight before you.
IV. Let the Elbow of your right Arm be diflanc'd from your Side about four Inches.
$V$. Let your Body be nearly upright, and right againft your Book or Paper; and if you fuffer any Part of it to touch the Edge of your Defk, which it is beft to avoid if you can, let it be but flightly.
VI. Let the Weight of your Body reft on your Seat and your left Arm ; and hold your Paper or Book faft down, on which you write, with the Thumb and four Fingers of your left Hand.

When you have, by the Infructions above, learn'd how to hold your Pen, and to fit in a proper Pofition, endeavour to make your Writing as legible as poffible ; and for that Reafon never out of any Vanity or Affectation of making it look fine, add Sprigs to your great Letters, or throw any unneceffary Strokes amongft your fmall ones; but make your Fulls and your Smalls very fmooth and clear; make your circular Strokes in your Letters without Corners or Flats, and the rightlin'd ones without Crookednefs; keep fuch a Diftance between your Letters, that the Whites between each of them may be as exact as is confiftent with Practice; and take the fame Care with refpect to the Diftance of your Words and Lines; for the Beauty of Letters confifts in the well adjufting of their Parts, well performing the Strokes of which they are compos'd, and placing them to the beft Advantage.

And laftly, take care that all fuch Letters as have no Stems, be made as nearly of a Heighth as you can ; and the fame Letters in the fame Piece of Writing, as near as may be, of the fame Proportion; and always remember to perform as much of a Word as you can in one continued Stroke.

Instructions for making of Figures.

THE making of Figures well is as neceffary as the making of Letters well; for, without Figures, no Affairs in common Bufinefs can be tranfacted; and, therefore, I would advife all my Female Pupils, in general, to make their Figures in the moft graceful Manner they poffibly can.

Obferve, that Figures, when rang'd in Columns in Books of Account, fhould be made upright; but when mix'd with Letters, in Writing, they fhould fand fomewhat leaning. And let this be a ftanding Rule, that your Figures be made confiderably larger than your Writing.

Now to this fecond Branch of our new and ufeful Undertaking, we fhall only add fome proper Copies for the Imitation of our Female Pupils, and fome few familiar Letters, to inftruct them how to exprefs themfelves with Propriety, when they make their Applications to their Equals or Superiors, if Occafion offers, by Way of epiftolary Correfpondence.

The particulas Copies then that I would recommend to their Practice, on their firf Entrance into the Art of Penmanhhip, are the four fingle Lines hereunder written; fince each of them is fo contriv'd, as to contain the whole Alphabet within itfelf, by which Means, they will infenfibly, as well as expeditioufly, acquire a competent Knowledge of the Ufe of the Pen.

The four feveral Copies are as follow.
I. Prize exquifite Workmanfhip, and be carefully diligent.
II. Knowledge fhall be promoted by frequent Exercife.
III. Quick-fighted Men by Exercife will gain Perfection.
IV. Happy Hours are quickly follow'd by amazing Vexations.

When our Female Pupils, however, have fpent a fufficient Time in tranfcribing the above Lines, and have, by Practice, made the whole Alphabet eafy and familiar to them, then thofe artificial Copies fhould be laid afide, and others fubftituted in their Stead, which are more interefting and inftuctive; for Quintilian, who was one of the moft able and experienc'd Preceptors of the Age wherein he liv'd, and was for making the mott of every Thing in the Education of Youth, exhorts all Writing-Mafters, in the frongeft and moft engaging Terms, never to give their Scholars any idle, filly Copies, which have little or no Meaning in them; but on the other Hand, to be very careful in recommending to their Practice fuch only as contain'd in them the highef Regard for Virtue, and the utmoft Abhorrence and Deteftation of Vice; for what is learn'd whilh in our younger Years, finks deep into the Memory, adheres to us till old Age comes upon us, and has a prevailing Influence over our Conduct to the very Day of our Deceafe.

In order therefore to anfwer fo valuable an End, we fhall make it our Bufinefs to lay before our Female Pupils, a complete Set of Alphabetical Copies, both in Profe and Verfe; each of which fhall contain fome fententious Precept, or Maxim; and fuch other Rule of Life, as if frequently copied, and treafur'd up in their Memories, fhall not only contribute in a great Meafure to their Succeís here, but what is of infinitely greater Moment and Importance, to their Happinefs hereafter.

Select Prudential Maxims, in Proje and Verse; alpbabetically difpos'd for the Eaje of Young Womens Memories, and their. fartber Improvement in the Art of WriTING.
Firft Set, in fingle Lines.

Y
Youth take, like tender Twigs, the Bow; And as firft-fafhion'd always grow.

Z
Zeal, when with too much Heat it burns, Soon to religious Phrenzy turns.

Seleci Counsels; or, Rules of Life; in Profe: Without Regard to alphabetical Order.

1. O your own Work, and know yourfelf. 2. Let Reafon go before every Enterprize, and Counfel before every Action.
2. Be not diverted from your Duty, by any idle Reflections that the filly World may make upon you; for their Cenfures are not in your Power, and confequently fhould be no Part of your Concern.
3. Rell fatisfied with doing well, and leave others to talk of you what they pleafe.
4. Pitch upon that Courfe of Life which is the moit excellent, and Cuftom will sender it the moft delightful.
5. Never defer that till To-morrow which you car do To day ; nor ever do that by Proxy which you can do yourfelf
6. Re at Leifure to do Good; and never make Bu. finefs an Excufe to decline the Offices of Humanity.
7. Forget the Faults of others; but always remember your own.
8. Hear no Ill of a Friend; nor fpeak any of an Enemy: Believe not all you hear, nor report all you believe.
9. Always confider, that there is nothing certain in this mortal State ; by which Means you will avoid being tranfported with Profperity, and being dejected in the Day of Adverfity.
10. Make yourfelf agreeable, as much as poffible, to all; for there is no Perfon fo contemptible, but it may be in his Power to be a fincere Friend, or an inveterate Foe.
11. In the Morning, think what you have to do: and at Night, afk yourfelf what you have done.
12. Never reveal your Secrets to any, except it be as much their Intereft to keep them, as it is yours, that they fhould be kept. Only truft yourfelf, and another thall never betray you.

(74)

14. Shun the leaft Appearances of Evil, that you may not be fufpected; and if you cannot avoid both, chufe rather to be fufpected, when you do not deferve it, than to do Evil, without being fufpected.
15. Be content in that Station Providence has allotted you; for Serenity of Mind is the moft precious Jewel of human Life.
16. Difdain not your Inferior, tha' poor; fince he may poffibly be your Superior in Wifdom, and the noble Endowments of the Mind.
17. Never indulge yourfelf in Sloth; for Idlenefs is the greatef Prodigality; it throws away Time, which is invaluable, in refpect of its preeent Ufe; and when it is pait, can never be recovered by any Power of Art or Nature.
18. Beware of Oftentation ; an accomplifh'd Woman conceals volgar Advantages, as a modeft Woman hides her Beauty under a carelefs Drefs.
19. Never fpeak reproachfully of any Perfon whomfoever; for fuch Injuries are very feldom, if ever, forgotten; and may pofibly prove au Hindrance to your Preferment.
20. Be very cautious in believing any Thing ill of your Neighbours; but be much more cautious of making hafty Reports of them to their Difadvantage.
21. Do nothing but what is Praife-worthy; nor be puff'd up with popular Applaufe; entertain Honour with Humility, Poverty with Patience, Bleffings with Thankfulnefs, and Aftictions with Refignation.
22. Let Virtue and Innocence accompany your Recreations; for unlawful Pleafures, tho agreeable for a Moment, are too often attended with bad Confequences, and inftead of relaxing the Mind, plunge us into an Abyfs of Trouble and Vexation.
23. Give your Heart to your Creator; pay due Reverence to your Superiors; honour your Parents; give your Bofom to your Friend; be diligent in your Calling, let your Station in Life be what it will; give an attentive Ear to good Advice, and be benevolent to the Poor.
24. Queftion not the Truth of what God has thought fit to reveal to you, however intricate and myfterious ; myfterious; fince he requires our Affent to nothing that is contradictory to Reafon, tho' he does to fome Truths that are above it.

(75)

25. And laftly, put forth all your Strength in honouring of God, and doing his Commandments; for that Time fhall end in a bleffed Eternity, that is prudently and zealoufly fpent in the Service of the Supreme Being.

Select Counsels; or, Rules of Life; in eafy Verfe: Witbout Regard to alpbabetical Order.1. IIRST honour God, and next thy Parents And deal to all Men their peculiar Due.

2. Abfain from others Goods ;-- Let not thy Mouth Be prone to Lies; but always utter Truth.
3. Bear not falfe Wi nefs; let thy Words be juft ; Preferve thy Chaftity, and keep thy Truft.
4. Let Juftice in thy Meafures fill prevail ;

Equal thy Ralance; even be thy Scale.
5. What the kind Hand of Juftice gives receive, And with thy deftin'd Lot contented live.
6. To rob the Hireling of his Due abhor ; And never in the leaft affict the Poor.
7. Let public Love infpire each gen'rous Soul; And ev'ry Part be ufeful to the Whole.
8. Shun Av'rice ; from whofe fatal, fertile Root, All the malignant Kinds of Evil fhoot.
9. Speak what thon know'ft is right:---And forn to ufe Words fuited to the Times for fordid Views.
10. If Wifdom, Strength, or Riches be thy Lot; Boalt not; but rather think thou haft them not.
11. Be all thy Paffions with the Mean endow'd; Nothing too great, too lofty, or too proud.
12. In all thy Taik be Moderation had;

The Mean is beft ; for all Exiremes are bad.
13. Repine not at thy Neighbours Good, nor rail: No envious Thoughts th' immortal Minds affail.

( 76 )

14. Be always temp'rate; fhameful Deeds efchew; Chufe not with Mifchief, Mifchief to purfue.
15. Let Juftice vindicate thy Goods or Life:

Soft Words are ufeful: Strife engenders Strife.
16. Truft not too rafhly; but thy Faith fufpend, Till thou haft certain Knowledge of the End.
37. Exact not from a poor Man (tho' thy Right) A Debt, with Rigour, to the utmof Mite.
18. Be not too fparing; know thou'rt mortal made ; Nor can thy Wealth be to the Grave convey'd.
19. By adverfe Fortune be not quite fubdu'd; Nor too much lifted up with Joy at Good.
20. Shun mad, vain-glorious Boafts; and be thy Tongue
With Modefty, that ufeful Beauty, hung.
21. Conceal no Fraud; for both are equal Thieves, Who fteals the Goods, and who, when ftol'n, receives.
22. Labour, and let thine Hands procure Relief Of all thy Wants :-An idle Nan's a Thief. 23. Let Rev'rence of thyfelf thy Thoughts controul, And guard the facred Temple of thy Soul.

Proverbi.

Sincerity is true Wijdom.

霷NTEGRITY, in regard to Succefs in Bufinefs, without ary other Confideration, hath many Advaniages over all the fine and artificial Ways of Diffimulation and Deceit: It is much the plainer and eafier, eafier, much the fafer, and more fecure Way of Dealing in the World; it has lefs of Trouble and Difficulty, of Entanglement and Perplexity, of Danger and Hazard in it: It is the horteft and nearelt Way to our End, carrying us thither in a direct Line, and will hold out, and lait longeft. The Arts of Deceit and Cunning continually grow weaker, and lefs effectual to thofe that ufe them: Whereas Integrity gains Strength by Ufe; and the more and longer any Man practifes it, the greater Service it does him, by confirming his Reputation, and encouraging thofe with whom he has to do, to repofe the greateft Truft and Confidence in him, which is an unfpeakable Advantage in the Bufinefs and Affairs of Life.

(77)

If a Man, indeed, were to deal in the World for a Day only, and fhould never have Occafion to con. verfe with Mankind any more, fhould never more fand in Need of their good Opinion or good Word, it were then no great Matier (as to the Concerns of this Life) if a Man flould fpend his Reputation all at once, and venture it at one Throw; but if he be to continue in the World, and would have the Advantage of Converfation whilft he is in it, let him make ufe of Truth and Sincerity in all his Words and Actions; for nothing but this will laft and hold out to the End: All other Arts will fail, but Truth and Integrity will carry a Man through, and bear him out to the very lait.

Proverb II.

Be content in that Station wbich Providence bas allotted you.
T $T$ is a celebrated Thought of Socrates, that if all the Misfortunes that attend Mankind were to be caft ino a public Stock, in order to be diffributed amongft the whole Species, thofe who now thought themfelves the moft unhappy, would prefer the Share they are already poffeft of, before that which would fall to them by fuch a Divifion.

Horace, indeed, has carried this Sentiment fill farther, and afferts, that the Hardhips or Misfortunes which we lie under are more eafy to $u$ s, than thofe of any other would be, in cafe we could change Condition with him.

From whence arife thefe two Lefions of Infruction, namely; that 'tis a Sin, in the firf Place, to repine at our own Troubles, whatever they be, or to envy the Happinefs of our Neighbour, however feemingly great. And in the next, that we ought never to think too lightly of another's Complaints ; but to regard the Sorrows of our Fellow-Cceatures with Sentiments of Humanity and Compaffion.

Proverb III.

Excefs kills more than the sword.

THERE is no Character more difpicable and deform'd, in the Eyes of all reafonable Perfons, than that of a Drunkard; neither is there any Vice that has fuch fatal Effects on the Minds of thofe who are addicted to it. The fober Man, by the Strength of Reafon, may keep under, and fubdue every Folly to which he is moft inclin'd ; but Wine difcovers every little Flaw, every little Seed that lies latent in the Soul; it gives Fury to the Paffions, and Force to thofe Objects which are apt to produce them. Wine heightens Indifference into Love, Love into Jealoufy, and Jealoufy into Madnefs. It often turns the Good-natur'd Man into an Idiot, and the choleric Fool into an Affafin. It gives Bitternefs to Refentment, makes Vanity infupportable, and difplays every little Spot of the Soal in its utmof Deformity. The Habit, moreover, of drinking to Exceis, befides the ill Effects abovemention'd, has a bad Influence on the Mind, even in its fober Moments ; for, by infenfible Degrees, it not only impairs the Memory, but weakens the Uncierftanding.

Proverb IV .

Cut your Coat according to your Cloth.

THIS is a thort Leffon of Advice to all Mankind in general, and directs them to have a frict Eye over their Conduct, to keep an exact Balance between their Incomes and Difbarfements; and never to let their Vanity and Pride fo far overcome their Reafon, as blindly to run in Debt, and reduce themfelves by their bad Oeconomy to Poverty and Difgrace.

(79)

Proverb $V$.

Induftry is all in all.

THE Hufbandman returns from the Field, and from manuring his Ground, ftrong and healthy, becaufe innocent and laborious. You will find no Diet-drink, no Boxes of Pills, nor Galley-pots amongft his Provilions; no, he neither peaks, nor lives French; he is not fo much a Gentleman, forfooth. His Meals are coarfe and fhort; his Employment warrantable; his Sleep certain and refrefhing, neither interrupted with the Lafhes of a guilty Mind, nor the Aches of a crazy Body ; and when old Age comes upon him, it comes alone, bringing no other Evil with it, but itfelf. But when it comes to wait upon a great and worfhipful Sinner, who for many Years together has had the Reputation of eating rwell, and doing Ill; it comes (as it ought to do to a Perfon of fuch Quality) attended with a long Train of Retinue, as Rheums, Coughs, Catarrhs and Dropfies, together with many pinful Girds and Achings, which are at leaft call'd the Gout.
How does fuch a one go about, or is carried rather, with his Body bending inward, his Head fhaking, and his Eyes always ruacering (inftead of weeping) for the Sins of his ill-fpent Youth? In a Word, old Age fiezes upon fuch a Perfon, like Fire upon a rotten Houfe ; it was rotten before, and muft have falln of itfelf; fo that 'tis no more than one Ruin preventing another.

A temperate, innocent Ufe of the Creature, never caft any one into a Fever or a Surfiet. Chaftity makes no Work for the Surgeon, nor ever ends in Rottennefs of Bores. Sin is the fruitful Parent of Difempers, and ill Lives occafion grod Phyficians.

From a Gentlewoman in the Country to a Mercbant's Lady; in favour of a Wet-Nurse.

Madam,

ABOUT a Week ago you defir'd me to enquire in my Neighbourhood, after fome Wet-nurfe of Credit, that had but lately lain in, for the Suckling of Mifs Nancy. I have found One accordingly, whofe Hufband has the Character of a very honeft and good. natur'd Man ; and tho' but a Butler, is much belov'd and refpected in the Family where he has been retain'd for fome Years. The young Woman likewife is a Favourite with his Miftrefs, who will give her the beft of Characters. She has a fine Breaft of Milk, is perfectly neat, tho' plain, very lively, and as healthy as you can wifh. I no ways doubt. but when you fee her, you will be pleas'd with her Appearance.

Notwithftanding their Circumfances are fomewhat narrow, they live above Want, and as her Hufband is a very fober Man, fo he is exceedingly fond of little Children, as well as of his Wife.

They have no Superfluities, 'tis true, about them; but what they have is neat and decent.

She propofes to wait on you one Day this Week, and when you come to talk with her about Particulars, I doubt not, but that you'll find fuch ready and pertinent Anfwers, as will give you perfect Satisfaction. You may depend upon it, that the is a Woman of Integrity, and would fcorn to impofe upon you. In Short, Madam, I don't know any Perfon more capable of anfwering your Purpofe, and 'tis with Pleafure I embrace this Opportunity of recommending One, who is truly deferving, and One on whole Care and Conduct you may rely with Safety.

Madam,

HE lat Time we drank Tea together, you intimated to me, that you was at a great Loft for a thorough Cook. The Bearer hereof has liv'd five Years in a Merchant's Service, and would not have remov'd, but that the was unfortunately feiz'd with the Small-pox, and has fince been in the Country for the Recovery of her Health. She is now perfectly well, and no ways disfigur'd by that malignant Diftemper. She has made, 'tis true, her Applications to her late Miftrefs, to be receiv'd into her Family again; but the Lady happen'd, it feems, to be provided to her entire Satisfaction. She is very ready, however, and willing to give her the bet of Characters. You may depend on it, from me, that the is frictly honeft, perfectly fober, of a very obliging Difpofition; and, in short, every Way well qualified for the Performance of what the promifes to undertake. If you pleafe to give yourfelf the Trouble of paying a Vifit to her former Miffrefs, I doubt not in the leaft, but fhe'll confirm what I have here ventur'd to fay in her Behalf. Honoured Father and Mother, SERVICE, you are fenfible, is no Inheritance, and tho' I have no Diftafte to the Place I have now been in for thefe five Years paft; yet, methinks, I fhould be glad to fettle in the World, and live free from Dependence, in cafe that fhould be my happy Lot. I have now Addrefles made to me by one Mr. Meanrwell, a Freeman of the City, and in a reputable Way of Bufiners. He has liv'd in the Neighbourhood many Years, and has the general Character of a very fober, diligent Man, and an excellent Artift in his Pro. feflion, which is that of an Upbolder. My Mafter and Miftrefs, by whom I flatter myfelf I am well belov'd, and who wifh me well, perfuade me very ftrenuoufly to embrace the Offer; neither am I myfelf any ways averfe to fuch a Change of my Condition. However, I have fufpended my Anfwer, till I can hear from you. If therefore you approve of his Propofals or not (which I have fent you enclos'd) let me hear from you in a Poft or two, and I'll give him an Anfwer without farther Hefitation. Be aflur'd, however, that notwithflaiding ftanding he has but little to expect, either from me, or any of my Friends, as I have long fince taken the Freedom to tell him the Truth; yet I will not abfolutely conclude on any Thing in his Favour, till I have your joint Approbation; for I am determin'd ever to fubfcribe myfelf,

As we live at too great a Diftance to pay you a perfonal Vifit, we fhall freely fubmit the Conduct of the whole Affair to your own Prudence and Difcretion. You are old enough to make Choice for yourfelf; and 'tis evident, by your Precautions, that you have taken it into your ferious Confideration. As you are fo perfectly well fatisfied with your Lover's Character; as your Mafter and Miftrefs feems to confirm it; and as you have fuch a fair Profpect of Succefs by your joint Endeavours; we hereby give you both our Bleffings, and our free Confents. All that we are forry for is, that we can make your intended Hufband no fuitable Return, Let us know, however, when your Marriage fhall be actually confummated, and we will ftrain a Point in your Favour. We will contribute at leaft fomething towards Houfe-keeping. Pray prefent our Love and Refpects to him, tho' unknown. ## ART of NUMBERS.

ARITHMETICK is the Art of working by Numbers.
Properly fpeaking, all Operations in Aritbmetick are nothing elfe but Addition and Subtraction; for Multiplication is frequent Addition, and Divifion is frequent Subtraction.

The Valuing or Reading of Numbers is call'd No. tation, or Numeration.
In Valuing of Numbers, only three Places are peculiarly to be regarded; namely, Units, Tens, and Hundreds; for all Places exceeding thefe three have only new Names added to them.
Make a Comma, therefore, at eyery third Place (be the Range of Figures ever fo long) from the right Hand; which three Places make a Period, and are always Units, Tens, and Hundreds fingly ; or with their new Names.

Obferve the following Scheme.

123,456,789

> Which muft be read thus:

One Hundred twenty three Millions, four Hundred fifty-fix Thoufand, feven Hundred and Eighty-nine.

By which it appears, that 789 , is the firt Period, or Period of Units; 456 , the fecond Period, or Period of Thoufands; and 123 , the third Period, or Period of Millions.

And fo on as far as you pleafe; as for Example;

123,456,789,987,6 ; 4,32 \mathrm{~T} .

Which muft be read thus, One Hundred twenty: three Quadrilliors, or Millions of Millions of Millions of Millions ; four Hundred fifty-fix Trillions, or Midlions of Millions of Millions ; feven Hundred eighty. nine Billions, or Millions of Millions; nine Hundred eighty feven Million, fix Hundred fify-four Thoufand, three Hundred and twenty-one.

Of A.D DITION.

ADdition is the Gathering, or Collection of divers Sums into one.

> Rule the First.

Obferve the true Places of each particular Sum, by Setting the Units of all the Paits under each other, and the like of the Tens, and Hundreds, &c.

As for Inftance:
Suppofing the Sums underneath to be either Pounds, Shillings, or Pence, or any Thing elfe. $A$ being the right Nethod of Difpofal, and $B$ being the erroneous Way.

A\left\{\begin{array} { l }
{ 2 5 6 } \\
{ 4 1 } \\
{ 3 2 }
\end{array} \quad B \left\{\begin{array}{l} 256 \\
32
\end{array}\right.\right.

By which it appears, that in the erroneous Method there are 657 Pounds, Shillings, or Pence, fet down more than what ought to have been, which muft be carefully avoided.

Rrle the Second.

It the whole of any Row cannot be exprefs'd by one Figure, fet down the laft only, either Figure or Cypher, and carry the Number on to the next Row; and fo to the End of the Sum.
Example.

791 The firf Row from the Bottom to the Top is $235,3,1$, which make 9 ; fet down therefore your 5 nine, as being a fingle Figure; then fay, two - and nine make eleven, which not being capable 819 of being exprefs'd by one Figure only, but thus (ii) fet down only the laft one, and carry the other 1 , to the next Row; and then fay, one that I borrow'd, and 7 makes 8 , which makes the whole 819, as in the Miargent.

(9I)

Example II.
489 The firft Row from the Bottom to the Top is.
$6561,6,9$, that is fixteen ; fet down fix and carry 321 one. The next Row being 2, 5,8 ; fay one - that I borrow'd and 2 is 3 , and 5 is 8 , and 8 is 1466 fixteen, which fixteen, as they cannot be exprefs'd by one fingle Figure, but thus (16) fet down the 6 and carry one to the next Row. Then fay, one that I borrow'd and 3 is 4 , and 6 is 10 , and 4 is 14 ; which, as you have no farther to proceed, mult be fet down 14; fo that the whole makes 1466 .

In the Addition of Numbers of various Denominations, fet down that which remains, exceeding the next Integer, and carry that Integer on. But before you begin to practife, make yourfelf Miftrefs of the feveral Tables annex'd to this Compendium.

\begin{array}{cc}
\text { EXAMPLE. } \\
\text { l. } & 5 \\
\hline & 8 \\
3 & 7 \\
9 & 18 \\
\hline & 9 \\
\hline 13 & 06 \\
\hline
\end{array}

Say nine and fix is fifteen, which being three Pence over the Shilling, fet down 3, and carry one; then fay, one that I carried, and 18 is 19 , and feven is 26 , which being fix Shillings over a Pound, fet down fix, and carry one. Then fay, one that I carried, and nine is ten, and three is thirteen, which, as you have no farther to proceed, muft be fet down 13. So that your whole Sum amounts to 13 l .6 s 3 d .

To prove any Sum in your Addition to be right, (be it longer or fhorter) is either to work the Sum upwards firt, and downwards afterwards; or elfe, to feparate the uppermof Line, as in $A$ in the following Sum; caft up the Reft, that is, $B C$, which make up the Sum $E$, which, when added to $A$, will be equal to $D$. As for Infance.

Of SUBTRACTION.

THIS takes the lefer Number from the greater, that the Difference may be known.

Rule.
The lefer Sum muft always be the lower; but if any Figure of the lower Sum be greater than that above it, ten is to be borrow'd, and in your Mind to be fet before the upper Figure; for which ten, or Figure 1, muft be paid to the next Figure below.

Thus 2 from 1 cannot be fubtracted; borrow ten, therefore, and fay, 2 from 11, and there remains 9 ; one that I borrow'd, and 5 make 6 ; then fay, 6 from 2 cannot be fubtracted; but borrow ten, as before, and fay, 6 from 14, and there remains 8. One that I borrow'd, and fix make 7 ; feven from 2 cannot be fubtracted; borrow ten, therefore, as before, and fay, 7 from 12, and there remains 5. One that I borrow'd, and 3 make 4 ; then fay, 4 from 7 and there remain three; which when fet down will make 3589 .

Add the Subtractor $B$, to the Number fubtracted $D$; and they muft be equal to the Total $A$.

\begin{aligned}
& 3652 B \\
& 35^{29} D \\
& \hline 7241 A

In Sums of divers Denominations, borrow the next Integer.

1. s. d. Example.

576 Begin thus :. 7 from 6 cannot be fubtracted;
397 then borrow an Integer from the next Row, which is one Shilling, or twelve Pence, 11711 which added to 6 make 18 Pence; then fay, 7 from 18 and there remains 11 ; then one Shilling, that I borrow'd, and 9 are 10 , ten ten from 7 cannot be fubtracted, borrow, therefore, the next Integer, that is one Pound, or 20 Shillings, which put to the 7 make 27 Shillings: Then fay, 10 from 27, and there remains 17 Shillings. Then go on, and fay, one I borrow'd, and 3 make 4; 4 from 5 and there remains one; making in the whole, as in the Margent, il. ifs. in $d$.

(93)

Of MULTIPLICATION.

MUlTiplication is infead of frequent Addition.

Peculiar Care mutt be taken to place the Produd right.

> RULE.

Let each Multipicator go through all the Figures of the Multiplicand.
The firft Figure of each Product muft begin at the Place belonging to its Maltiplicator, reckoning from the right Hand; and every Figure muft fand directly under the Figure above it.

> Example.

456 Multiplicand
${ }_{23}$ Multiplicator
1368 Product firt
912 Product fecond
10488 Total.
The Product of 3 muf begin directly under the Figare 3 ; the Product of 2 directly under it, and be carrried on in a ftraight Line; as in the following Example ample of $A$, which is plac'd right, and $B$, where the Figures are falfely difpos'd.

| True | Falfe |
| ---: | ---: |
| $A 446$ | $B 456$ |
| 23 | 23 |
| 1368 | 1368 |
| 912 | 912 |
| 10488 | 2280 |

From whence the Lofs arifing from the Mifplacing of the Figures evidently appears; the right Difpofition of them, therefore, as we have before obferv'd, ought to be your principal Care.
If there be Cyphers at the End of either the Multiplicand or Multiplicator, mifs them, and only fet the Products in their proper Places, and add all the Cy phers at the laft.
Example.

When a Place is only advanc'd by a Cypher make a Dot.

P_{\text {ROOF. }}

Subtract each Product but the Firft from the Total, and the Remainder will be equal to the firft Product.

Or, if the Total be divided by the Multiplicator, the Quotient will give the Multiplicand.
Or, if the Total be divided by the Multiplicand, the 2uotient will give the Multiplicator.

(95)

Of DIVISION.

DIVISION is frequent Subtraction, which takes the Divifor from the Dividend, as often as it can; fo that the Number found is call'd the 2uotient.
ExAMPLE.
3) 6 (2: That is to fay, how many Times can three be taken out of 6? Anfwer, Twice only.

Rule.
When a Sum is to be divided by a fingle Figure, afk how many Times that Figure is contain'd in the firft Figure or Figures that are greater than the Figure propos'd? In the Quotient write down that Anfwer: Then multiply the Divijor by that Quotient, and fet it under the Figures of the Dividend; then fubtract it from that Dividend, fetting the Remainder underneath; draw a Line above it, and bring down the next Figure, and work it as before.

The following antient Memorial Difich comprehends the whole Work of Divifion in its proper Order.

Firft afk bow oft? In Quotient Anfwer make; Then multiply, Subtract; a new Dividual takes Remains $\begin{gathered}\frac{21}{21} \\ \text { RULE. }\end{gathered}$

If any Figures remain, they muff be reduc'd to $D_{e}$ nominations of a leffer Quantity, if you will go on to divide them.

The whole Divifor muft always be taken together ; and the Figures of the Dividend mult be reckon'd from the Left-Hand.

\begin{gathered}

\text { EXAMPLE. } \\

Try whether the Divifor 34, can be found in the two firft Figures; if not, add the next, and call them an Hundred forty-two, $\xi^{\circ} c$.

If the Divijor confifts of more Figures than two, make a Table as hereunder.

| $708) 41127($ | $708-1$ |

|  | $1416-2$ |
| $2124-3$ |  |
| $2832-4$ |  |
|  | $3540-5, \sigma^{\circ} c$. |

Proof.
If the Divifor be multiplied by the Quotient, or the 2uotient by the Divifor, the Product mult be equal to the Dividend, only remembring to add to the Product the Figures that remain, or it will want fo much of the Dividend.

Here follows one general Rule to be obferv'd throughout all the various Branches of Arithmetick.
Wherever you find it difficult to Work any large Sum, try a little one firt, and do it by thefe Rules; and the fame Method of Working, which inftruct you in the leaft, will direct you likewife in the Execution of the largeft Sum whatever.

REDUCTION.

REDUCTION, or altering the Names of Numbers, is either frequent Multiplication, or frequent Divifon.

N . B

(97)

N. B. If you want to make your Numbers more, it is Multiplication, i. e. Reduction defcending; if you want to make them lefs, 'tis Divifon, or Reduction afcending.

Rule for the Firft.
Multiply the given Number by the Integers contain'd in one of that Number; as,

How many Fartbings in five Sbillings? Multiply the given 5 by 48 , the Number of Farthings in a Shilling. Rule for the Second.
Which tells how many greater are contain'd in the lefs Denomination; as,

How many Sbillings in 240 Farthings? Divide the given Number 240 , by that Number which makes up an Integer of the Sum fought; as, divide 240 by 48 , the Number of Farthings in a Sbilling.

The Divifor, or Multiplier, mult always be an 1 n teger of the Sum fought; and if any remain, they are of the fame Nature with the Words of the Queftion.

THE

I NSTRUCTIONS

For the judicious Choice of all Kinds of Provifions.

BEEF.

THE beft Ox-Beef will always have an open Grain ; it will have likewife an oily and tendersmoothnefs, in cafe it be young; when you find it fpungy and rough, you may depend upon its being old. The Neck, however, and the Brifcuit, and fuch other Parts as are more fibrous than the reft, will be rougher than in any other Parts, notwithftanding the Meat be young. If 'tis good fpending Meat, the Lean of it will be of an agreeable Carnation red Colour, the Fat of it rather white than yellow, and the Suet perfectly white.

If you propofe to buy Cow-Beef, you'll find the Grain of it not fo open as the former; the Lean will be of a paler Hue, and the Fat confiderably whiter. Before you fix upon the Price, make a Dent upon it with your Finger, with fome Strength, and in cafe 'tis young, the Impreffion, in a very little Time, will not be dilcern'd.

As to the Grain of Bull-Beef, it will be clofer and finer, and the Colour of a lefs pleafant red, and tho ${ }^{\circ}$ harder to take Impreffion, will rife fooner. The Fat of it will have a rankifh Smell, and be very grofs and fibrous. It will be exceffively tough, in cafe it be old, and tho' you pinch it hard, 'twill fcarce take any Impreffion. The Colour of it, on the other Hand, if it be be frefh, will be very lively, but dark and dufky, if it be ftale; you'll find it likewife moitt and clammy. If it happen to be bruis'd, the Part fo injur'd will look black, or at leaft of a dark dufky Colour.

P O R K.

BEFORE you buy it, pinch the Lean of it between your Fingers, and you'll find it break, if it be young; the Fat of it too, like Lard, will be foft and pulpy; and your Nails, when you nip the Skin of it, will make an Imprefiion: On the other Hand, if the Lean be tough, and the Fat fpungy and rough, you may affure yourfelf 'tis old. The fame Judgment is to be form'd of it, when the Rind is flubborn, and your Nails will not eafily enter it.

In cafe 'tis either a Boar, or a Hog that has been gelt when at full Growth, you'll find the Flefh rougher and harder than common; the Skin of it will be thicker, the Lean of an unpleafant red, and the Scent of it very rank.
To find out whether it be frefh or ftale, try the Springs or Legs, by putting your Fingers under the Bone that fticks out; and by fmelling to your Fingers afterwards, you'll difcover with Eafe, whether 'tis any ways tainted; befides, if it be ftale, the Skin will be clammy, and warmifh, but if new, 'twill be fmooth and cool.

Never buy any Pork, when you find a Quantity of Kernels in the Fat of it ; for then 'tis meally, and carefully to be avoided.

M UTTON.

TO chufe any Part of the Sheep, take fome fmall Part of the Flefh between your Fingers, and pinch it ; you may conclude 'tis young, if you find it tender, and foon returns to its former Place; but 'tis old, in cafe it wrinkles and fo remains. If it be young likewife, the Fat will part from the Lean with Eafe; but 'twill fick clofer, and be very clammy and fibrous, if it be old.

When you find the Fat fpungy, the Lean rough, and of a deep red, and won't rife when you have made an

(105)

Impreffion on't: Add to this, if the Grain be clofe, depend on't tis Ram-Mutton.

If the Lean be of a paleih Colour, and the Fat rather yellow than white; if you find it loofe at the Bone, and when fqueez'd, fome Drops of Water iffue from it, you may reafonably fulpert that the Sheep had the Rot. If you would purchafe a Fore-quarter, caft your Eye on the Vein in the Neck ; if you find it ruddy, and of a Sky colour, 'tis frefh ; but 'tis near upon the Taint, if it be yellowifh; and depend on't, 'tis actually tainted, if it be green.

If you want the Hind quarter, fmell under the Kidney, and if the Scent be faint, or any ways difagreeable, 'tis ftale; and 'tis the fame, if you try the Knuckle, and find it's more limber than ordinary.

If you would buy a Fore-quarter of Lamb, obferve the Neck Vein ; if you find it yellowifh or greenifh, depend on't, if it be not actually tainted, it is very near the Point ; but if the Vein be of an azure or Skyblue Colour, 'tis perfectly fweet and good.

If you want the Hind-quarter, try the Knuckle, and finell under the Kidney. If the former be limber, and a faint Scent arifes from the latter, be affur'd 'tis ftale, and not for your Purpofe.

If you want only a Lamb's Head, obferve whether the Eyes are funk or wrinkled; and if fo, 'tis ftale; but new and fweet, if they are plump and lively.

V E A L.

IF you would purchafe a Shoulder, confult the Vein of it; for if it be either of a green, yellow, or blackifh Colour; or if it be more foft, clammy, or limberer than ordinary, 'tis ftale; but if it be of a bright red, 'tis frefh, and but newly kill'd. It is upon the Point of Tainting, if not aclually tainted, when you obferve any green Spots about it. However, let your Smell be your Guide; for 'twill fmell mufty if it has been wrapp'd up in wet Cloths.

If you want a Loin, fmell under the Kidney; for it always taints there firt. And if you find the Flefh of it flimy and foft, 'tis then flaie; if a Neck or a Breaft, they taint at the upper End firft, if they appear yellowifh lowifh or greenifh; and if you find the Sweet-bread on the latter clammy, never buy it. The Leg will be ftiff in the Joint, if but newly kill'd; but in cafe 'tis limber, and the Flefh clammy, and has green Spots intermix'd with yellow upon it, 'tis fale, and good for little. Take Notice, the Flefh of a Cow. Calf is not of fo red a Colour, neither is it fo firm grain'd as that of a Bull-Calf, And as to the Fat of it, 'tis not fo much curdled.

B R A W N.

7 O form a right Judgment of Brawn, as to its Age; if you perceive the Rind to be exceffively thick, depend on't tis old ; but if moderate, it is young. And you may take it likewife for granted, that 'tis Barrow, or Sow-Brawn, and not of a Boar, in cafe you find both the Rind and the Fat tender.
VENISON.

BEFORE you buy a Haunch, a Shoulder, or any other flefhy Part of the Sides, take a fmall fharppointed Knife, and thruft it in where you think proper, and inftantly draw it back; then apply the Blade to your Nofe, which will infallibly difcover whether 'tis rank or fweet.

If you would purchafe any other Part, firt obferve the Colour of the Meat; for it will be blackifh, and have yellowifh or greenifh Specks in it, if it be tainted; if you find the Flefh tough and hard, and the Fat contracted, you may take it for granted that 'tis old.

WE STPHALIA HAMS.

TRY them with a fmall tharp-pointed Knife, as is directed above for Venifon; and when you have drawn it, if you find the Blade has a fine Flavour, and the Knife be but a very little daub'd, yos may con. clude the Ham is fweet and good; but if your Knife be all over fmear'd, has a rank Scent, and a Hautgout ifiue from the Vent-hole, 'tis certainly tainted.

ENGLISH GAMMONS.

O chufe thefe, take the fame Methods as with the above mention'd Hams. In regard, however, to the other Parts, try the Fat, if it feels oily and

(107)

and looks white, and does not crumble; if the Flefh bears a good Colour, and fticks clofe to the Bone, 'tis good; but if the Lean has any yellow Streaks in it, 'tis then rufty, or at leaft will be fo in a very fhort Time.

B UTTER.

DON'T truft wholly to your Tatte when you go to buy Butter; but try in the Middle, and then you can't well be impos'd on, if your Smell and Tafte be both good.

CHEESE.

IN the Choice of Cheefe, Regard mult be had to the Coat of it; beware of Worms or Mites, if your Cheere be old, rugged, dry at Top, or rough-coated; 'tis fubject to Maggots, if it be moift, fpungy, or full of Holes. If on the Outfide there be vifibly a Part rotten or decay'd, try the Depth of it; for the greater Part may be conceal'd within.

E G G S.

TO know the Goodners of an Egg, clap your Tongue to the great End; if you find it has any Warmth, depend upon it 'tis new, but on the other Hand, 'tis bad, if it be quite cold.

Another Way.

To difcover whether an Egg be good or bad, put it into a Pan of cold Water; if it falls directly to the Bottom, 'tis frefh; if it fwim at the Top, depend upon it 'tis rotten.

TURKEYS and TURKEY-POULTS.

IF they are Cocks, and young, their Legs will be fmooth and black; and their Spurs will be fhort; but if you find their Eyes funk in their Heads, and their Feet dry, they are ftale; but if their Eyes are lively. and their Feet limber, then they are new.

Make the fame Obfervation with regard to the Hens; but remark farther, that they will have foft and open Vents if they are with Egg; but a clofe hard Vent, if not.

As to the Poults, they are known the fame Way, and you can't be deceiv'd in their Age.

A COCK, HEN, $\xi^{\circ}$.

IN the Choice of a Cock, obferve his Spurs, and if they are fhort and dubbed, then he is young. If you find them either par'd or fcrap'd, you may juftly be jealous of a Fraud. His Vent will be open if he be ftale ; but hard and clofe if he be new.

The Newnefs or Stalenefs of a Hen may be known by her Legs and Comb; if they are rough, fhe's old; but if fmooth, fhe's young.

> G E E S E, Tawe or Wild.

THEY are young if their Bills be yellowifh, and they have but few Hairs; but if their Bills be sed, and their Feet full of Hairs, then they are old; they are limber-footed when new; and dry-footed when ftale.

D U C K S, Wiid and Tame.

DUCKS are thick and hard on the Belly, when fat; but otherwife, they are lean and thin. They are limber-footed, if new, and dry-footed if ftale. Take Notice, that the Foot of a true WildDuck is reddifh, and fmaller than that of a Tame one.

If their Vents be falt, they are new; but if they be green and oper, then they are ftale. If you find their Crops full, open their Mouths and fmell; for in that Cafe they will be apt to taint there.

W O ODCOCKS and S NIPES.

Oodcocks are hard and thick, in cafe they are fat; and they will be limber-footed, if they be new; but dry footed if stale. If they have fnotty Nofes, or their Throats are muddy, they are good for little.

DOVES and PIGEONS.

TURTLE-Doves are diftinguifh'd from others by a Ring round their Necks, of a purple Colour; and in all other Parts are generally white.

Stock Doves are larger than Ring-Doves. The Dove-houfe Pigeon has red Legs if he be old; if full in the Vent and limber-footed, it is new ; but if its Vent be flabby and green, its ftale.

Hares, Leverets, and Rabbits.

VHEN'Hares are new, and juft kill'd, they will be whitifn and ftiff; but their Flefh in moft Parts will appear of a blackifh Hue, and their Bodies will be limber, when they are ftale. They are old, when the Cleft in their Lips extend themfelves, and L their

As to Rabbits, they will be limber and flimy, when they are fale; but white and fliff if they be new. Their Claws and Wool will be fhort and fmooth, in cafe they be young; but long and rough if they be old.

If your Joint be larger than ordinary, take care to lay a good Fire to cake; and keep it always clear from Afhes at the Bottom.

When you imagine your Meat half done, move the Spit and the Dripping-pan at fome fmall Diftance from the Fire, which you muft then ftir up, and make it burn as brifk as you can; for obferve, the quicker your Fire, the better and more expeditioufly will your Meat be roafted.

> To roaft Ribs of Beef.

For the firf Half Hour fprinkle your Meat with Salt ; then'dry and flour it ; after that, take a large Piece of Paper, and butter it well; when you have fo done, faften it on the butter'd Side to the Meat, and then let it remain till your Meat is enough.

To roaft a Rump, or Sirloin.
Don't falt either of them, in the Manner you do your Ribs; but lay them at a convenient Diftance from the Eire; then batte them once or twice with Salt and Water, but afterwards with Butter; then flour them, and keep conftantly bafting them with what drops from them.

Take three Spoonfuls of Vinegar, about a Pint of Water, a Shallot and a fmall Piece of Horfe-radifh; add to thefe two Spoonfuls of Catchup, and one Glafs of Claret; bafte it with this two or three Times; then ftrain it, and put it under your Meat, garnifh your Difh with Horfe radifh and red Cabbage.

To roafi Mutton and Larab.

Make your Fire quick and clear before you lay your Meat down; bafte it often, whilft it's roafting, and when almof enough, drudge it with a fmall Quantity of Flour. If it be a Breaft, remember to take off the Skin before you lay it down.

> To roaft Veal.

If it be a Shoulder, bafte it with Milk, till 'tis near half done ; then flour it, and bafte it with Butter. If you intend to ftuff it, take the fame Materials as yous would for a Fillet.

The Ingredients for a Fillet are thefe that follow; take what Quantity you think proper of Thyme, Marjoram, Parlley, a fmall Onion, a Sprig of Savory, a fmall Quantity of Lemon-peel, cut very fine, Nutmeg, Pepper, Mace, Crumbs of Bread, three or four Eggs, a Quarter of a Pound of Marrow or Butter, with Flour intermix'd, in order to make it fliff; put one Half of your Stuffing thus prepared, into the Udder, and diftribute the Remainder into fuch a Number of Holes, as you think convenient to make in the flefhy Part.

If you have the Loin to roaft, cover it over with a clean Piece of Paper, that as little of the Kidney Fat may be loft as poffible. If it be a Breaft, it muft be cover'd with the Caul; and the Sweet-bread muft be faftened with a Skewer on the Backfide. When 'tis near enough, take the Caul off, and bafte it, and drudge it well with Flour.

Serve it up with a proper Quantity of melted Butter, and let your Difh be garnifh'd with Lemon.

( 116 )  To roaf Pork.

When your Pork is laid down, let it be at fome Difance from the Fire for a while, and take care to flour it pretty thick. When you find the Flour begins to dry, wipe it perfectly clean with a coarfe Cloth; then take a fharp Knife, if it be a Loin, and cut the Skin a-crofs. After you have fo done, raife your Fire, and put your Meat nearer to it than before ; bafte it well, and roaft it as quick as you can.

If it be a Leg, you muft make your Incifions very deep. When 'tis almoft ready, fill up the Cuts with grated Bread, Sage, Parfley, a fmall Quantity of Le-mon-peel cut fine, a Bit of Butter, about two or three Eggs, and a little Pepper, Salt and Nutmeg mix'd together. When tis full enough, ferve it up with Gravy and Apple-fauce.

If you intend to roaft a Spare-rib, you muft bafte it with Butter, Flour, and Sage, fhred very fmall. When enough, fend it to Table with a proper Quantity of Apple fauce.

To roaf a Pig.

Before you pat your Pig on the Spit, let it lie for about a Quarter of an Hour in warm Milk ; then take it out, and wipe it perfectly dry. Then take about a Quarter of a Pound of Butter, and about the fame Weight in Crumbs of Bread, a fmall Quantity of Sage, Thyme, Parlley, Sweet Marjoram, Pepper, Salt and Nutmeg, and the Yolk of two or three Eggs; mingle thefe all well together, and few it up in the Belly. Af. ter this flour it very thick, and then put it on the Spit; and when you lay it to the Fire, take care that both Ends of it burn clear; or elfe hang a flat Iron on the Middle of the Grate till you find they do. When the Crackling begins to grow hard, wipe it clean with a Cloth, that has been purpofely wetted in Salt and Water; then bafte it well with Butter. As foon as you find the Gravy begin to run, put a Bafon or two into the Dripping-Pan to catch what falls. When your Pig is enough, take about a Quarter of a Pound of Butter, and clap it into a coarfe Cloth, and after you have made your Fire perfectly clear and brilk, rub your Pig with it all over, till the Crackling is quite crifp, and then take it from the Fire.

Before you take it from the Spit, cut the Head off firft, and then the Body into two Parts; after that cut the Ears off, and place one at each End; as alfo divide the under Jaw in two, and place one part on each Side. When Marters are thus far prepar'd, melt fome good Butter, mix it with the Gravy, the Brains when bruifed, and a fmall Quantity of Sage, fhred fmall, and then ferve it up to Table.
To roaft a Hare.

Take Half a Pound of Suet, and fhred it very fmall; add to it the fame Weight of Crumbs of Bread, fome Thyme flared very fmall, and fome Parfley; then take a reafonable Quantity of Salt, Pepper, Cloves, Mace, and Nutmeg, and pound them all together in a Mortar ; add to this three dried Mufhrooms, fhred likewife very fmall, two or three Eggs, two Spoonfuls of Catchup, and a reafonable Glais of Claret; intermix all thefe together, and few them up in the Hare's Belly; when fpitted, lay it down before a now Fire, bafte it with Milk till it becomes very thick; after this make your Fire burn brifk and clear, and let it roaft about half an Hour, bafte it with Butter, and drudge it with a little Flour.

To roaf Venifon.
In the firft Place, prepare fome Vinegar and Water to wafh your Venifon in, and dry it aferwards with a clean Cloth; then either cover it with the Caul, or with Paper very plentifully buiterd; lay it down before a clear Fire, and keep bafting it with Butter till 'tis almof enough; after this, take a Pint of Claret, and put fome whole Pepper, Nutmeg, Cloves and Mace to it, and boil them all together in a Saucepan ; pour this Liquor twice over your Venifion. After that, take it up; and after you have ftrain'd it, ferve it up in the fame Difh as your Venifon is in. Then place a fufficient Quantity of Gravy on one Side of your Din, and fweet Sauce on the other. To roaft Rabbits.
When they are laid down, bafte them well with good Butter, and then drudge them with Flour. If they they be young and fmall, and your Fire clear, they will be enough in about Half an Hour ; but ifthey are large, give them a Quarter of an Hour's roafting longer. Before you take them up, melt a proper Quantity of good Butter; and when you have boil'd their Livers with a Bunch of Parfley, and fhredded them fmall, put one Half into your Butter, and pour it under them, and referve the reft to garnifh your Difh.

(118)

> To roaf Mutton, Venifon-Faßsion.

Take a Hind-Quarter of Mutton that is fat, and cut the Leg as you would a Haunch of Venifon, then rub it well with a proper Quantity of Salt petre, and hang it up for two or three Days in fome moif Place; but wipe it, however, with a clean Cloth, at leaft twice a Day, After this, put it into a Pan, then boil a Quarter of an Ounce of All-fpice in a Quart of Claret, and pour it boiling hot into your Pan; then let it ftand cover'd for two or three Hours. Thus prepar'd, 'tis ready for the Spit; lay it to the Fire, and keep conftantly bafting it with Butter and fome of your Liquor. It will be ready in an Hour and a Half, if your Fire be cleat, and your Joint but of a moderate Bignefs. When taken up, fend it in to Table with a proper Quantity of Gravy in one Bafon, and fome fweet Sauce in the other.

To roaft Pigeons.

Take fome Parlley, and cut it fmall, then take a little Pepper, Salt, and a fmall Piece of Butter, mix there all together, and put them into the Bellies of your Pigeons, tying the Neck-Ends tight; faften one End of another String to their Legs and Rumps, and the other to your Mantle piece; keep them conftantly turning round, and bafte them well with Butter. When enough, ferve them up, and they'll fwim with Gravy. To roaft a Goofe.
Before you put it on the Spit, take a fmall Onion and a little Sage; chop them fmall together; then take fome Pepper and Salt, and a Bit of Butter, and when you have mingled thefe well together, put them into the Belly of your Goofe. When 'tis thus prepar'd, lay it down to the Fire; in a few Minutes after, take a Piece of white Paper, fet it on Fire and finge your Goofe with it, then drudge it with fome Flour and bafte it with Butter. When you find the Leg tender, ${ }^{\text {" }}$ t tis enough ; then take it up, and pour two Glaffes of red Wine through it, and then ferve it all up together in the Difh, and fet a Bafon of Apple-fauce on each Side of it.

> To roaft a Turkey.

Before you lay it down, take about a Quarter of a Pound of lean Veal, a fmall Quantity of Thyme, Parfley, fweet Marjoram, fome winter Savory, a fmall Quantity of Lemon-peel, and one Onion fhred fmall; add to thefe, a graied Nutmeg, a fmall Quantity of Salt, a Dram of Mace, and Half a Pound of Butter ; pound your Meat as fmall as poffible, and cut your Herbs likewife very fmall; when your Materials are thus prepar'd, mix them all together with two or three Eggs, and as much Flour or Crumbs of Bread as will make the whole of a proper Confiftence. Fill the Crop of your Tnrkey with thefe favory Ingredients, after that, lay it down at fome fmall Difance from the Fire. In about an Hour and a Quarter it will be enough, if it be of a moderate Size; but if very large, allow it a Quarter of an Hour longer.

To roaft Woodcocks and Snipes.
Put them on a little Spit proper for the Purpofe, toaft part of a three-penny Loaf brown, and put it in a Difh, which you muft fet under your Birds; bafte them well with Butter, and let the Trail drop on the Toalt. When they are enough, put the Toaft at the Bottom of your Difh, and your Birds upon the Toalt. Take care to have about Half a Pint of gocd Gravy ready to pour into the Difh, and ferve them up.
N.B. Never take any Thing out of a Woodcock or Snipe; nor ever put any Ingredients into the Bellies of your wild Ducks, as you do either into tame ones or into Geefe.

General INS TR UCTIONS in regard to Boiling.

KNOW the Weight of your Meat before you put it into your Pot. Be your Joint fmall or large, allow a Quarter of an Hour for every Pound. Take care before you put your Meat in, that your Pot be perfectly neat and clean, as well as the Water that you put in to it. When your Water begins to fimmer, fkim it well, for a Scum will always rife; and if, thro' Careleffnefs, you let it boil down, your Meat will be black, or of a dingy Colour.
$N$. B, You muft put all Meats that are well falted into your Water whilf 'tis cold ; but your Water muft boil firt before you put in your frefh Meats, of what Nature or Kind foever.

To boil a Ham.

Put your Ham into a Copper, in cafe you have one; let it lie there for three or four Hours fucceffively, before you let your Water boil, but keep fcumming it all the Time notwithtanding; after that, make your Copper boil, and then, in an Hour and an Half, it will be enough, in caie it be but fmall; and two Hours will be fufficient if it be large.

> Te boil a Tongue.

If your Tongue be falt, put it into your Pot over Night, and don't let it boil till about three Hours before you intend to ferve it up. However, take care that it boils all thofe three Hours; if frelh out of the Pickle, two Hours; but let your Water boil before you put it in.

To boil Houre-Lamb and Fowls.
Boil your Lamb and your Fowls in a feparate Pot; Fupply them with plenty of Water, and be careful to take off the Scum when you fee any rife. Never boil them in a Cloth; for they'll be both whiter and fiveeter without. Allow a Quarter of an Hour for a fmall Chicken, and twenty Minutes to a large one. Half an Hour to a middling Fowl; an Hour to a fmall Turkey, or a fmall Goofe; but if either be large, keep them on the Spit an Hour and an Half.

To boil a Haunch or Neck of Venifon.

Let it lie for a Week in Salt ; then flour a Cloth well, and boil your Meat in it ; for every Pound allow a Quarter of an Hour's boiling For Saufe, boil fome Cauliflowers in Milk and Water, and pull them into little Sprigs; boil fome fine white Cabbage likewife, and fome Turnips cut in fquare Pieces, and fome Beet-root cut in long narrow Slips. Have fome Turnips, likewife, marfh'd wih a little Cream and Butter, Let your Cabbage, when boiled, be beat in a Sauce-pan with a Bit of Butter, and a fmall Quantity of Salt; Jay that next the Cauliflowers, then the Tuinips, then the Cabbage, and proceed in that Manner till your Difh be full. As to the Beet-root, difpofe of it in fuch Places where your own Fancy directs you. Set fome melted Butter in a Bafon on one Side in cafe it fhould be wanted.
N. B. A Leg, or Neck of Mutton cut Venifon-Fa.. fhion, and drefs'd the fame Way, is a polite Difh enough. This will eat very agreeably, if harfh'd or broil'd the next Day with Gravy and fweet Sauce.

To boil Chickens with Bacon aud Cellery.
Put two Chickens in a Pot by themfelves, and boil them as white as poffible. In another Pot boil a Piece of Ham, or good thick Bacon. Have likewife two Bunches of Cellery boiled very terder; then cut them about two Inches long, all the white Part; put it, in the next Place, into a Sauce-pan, with about Half a Pint of Cream, a Bit of Butter roll'd in Flour, fome Pepper and Salt; take it off from the Fire feveral Times, and fhake it well. When 'tis fine and thick, lay your Chickens in the Difh, and pour the Sauce in the Middie, that the Cellery may lie between the Fowls, and garnifh your Difhes with Slices of Ham or Bacon.

Chickens with Tongues.

Boil fix Chickens very white, and fix Hog's tongues boil'd and peel'd, a Cauliflower boil'd whole very white in Milk and Water; have fome Spinnage, likewife, boil'd green ; then let your Cauliflower be placed in the Middle, the Chickens clofe all round, and the Tongues round them, with the Roots ou: wards; difpofe of your Spinach in little Heaps between the Tongues; garnifh your Difh with fmall Pieces of toafted Bacon, and lay a fmall Bit on each of the Tongues.

To boil a Duck, or Rabit, with Onions.

Let your Rabit, or Duck, be boiled in plenty of Water; and as Skim will always rife, be fure to take it off; for if it boil down,'twill either blacken, or difcolour, at leaft, your Meat: Give them about Half an Hour's boiling. As for your Sauce, firlt peel your Onions, and as you peel them throw them into cold Water ; then take them out, and cut them into thin Slices; boil them in Milk and Water, and fkim the Liquor. They will not require above Half an Hour's boiling. When they are enough, throw them into a clean Sieve in order to drain them; then, when you have chopt them fmall, put them into a Sauce-pan, dult them with a little Flour, put two or three Spoon-fuls of Cream to them, a large Bit of Butter, ftew them over the Fire all together ; and when they are fine and thick, lay your Duck, or your Rabbit into your Difh, and bury it, as it were, with your Sauce. If it be a Rabbit, cut the Head in two, and lay the Parts fo divided on each Side the Difh. If it be a Duck, for Change, make the following Sauce.

Cut an Onion fmall; then take hilf an Handful of Parlley, clean pick'd and well wafh'd; let it be chop'd fmall ; cut a Lettuce likewife fimall; then take about a Quarter of a Pint of good Gravy, and a Lump of Butter roll'd in Flour; fqueeze fome Lemmon juice into it, and add a little Pepper and Salt ; ftew thefe altogether for about Half an Hour; then enrich it with tive or three Spoon-fuls of red Wine.

To boil Pigeons.
Let your Pigeons be boiled by themfelves for about a Quarter of an Hour. Then boil a proper Quantity of Bacon, cut fquare, and lay it in the Middle of your Difh. Stew fome Spinach to lay round, and lay the Pigeons on the Spinach; garnifh with Parfley dried crifp before the Fire.

To boil Pheafants.

Let them have a good deal of Water, and keep it boiling. Half an Hour will be fufficient for fmall ones; but allow three Quarters, if your Pheafants are large. Let your Sauce confift of Cellery ftew'd with Cream ; add to it a fmall Lump of Butter rolled in Flour; when you have taken them up, pour your Sauce all over them. Garnifh your Difh with Lemmon.

> To boil Woodcocks, or Snipes.

Boil them either in Beef-gravy, or good ftrong Broth made in the beft Manner; put your Gravy, when made to your Mind, into a Sauce-pan, and feafon it with Salt ; take the Guts of your Snipes out clean, and put them into your Gravy, and let them boil; let them be covered clofe and kept boiling, and then ten Minutes will be fufficient. In the mean Time, cut the Guts and Liver fmall. Take a fmall Quantity of the Liquor your Snipes are boil'd in, and few the Guts with a Blade of Mace. Take fome Crumbs of Bread (about the Quantity of the Infide of a fale Roll) and have them ready fried crifp in a litt'e Frefh-butter; when they are done, let them ftand ready in a Plate before the Fire.

When your Snipes, or Woodcocks, are ready, take about Half a Pint of the Liquor they are boil'd in, and put in two Spoon-fuls of red Wine to the Guts, and a Lump of Butter roll'd in Flour, about as big as aWalnut; fet them on the Fire in a Sauce-pan. Never fir it with a Spoon, but fhake it well till the Butter is all melted; then put in your Crumbs ; fhake your Sauce-pan well; then take your Birds up, and pour your Sauce over them.

To boil Rabbits.

Trufs them, and boil them white and quick. For Sauce, boil and fhred the Livers, and fome Parfley fired fine; and add to them fome Capers; mingle all thefe with about Half a Pint of good Gravy, a Glafs of white Wine, a little Mace, Nutmeg, Pepper, and Salt; a Lump of Butter about the Bignefs of a Walnut roll'd in Flour; let it all boil together till 'tis thick, then take up your Rabbits, and pour your Sauce over then. Garnifh with Lemon.

To boil Soals.

Make your Soals clean ; lay them for two Hours in Vinegar, Salt, and Water; then dry them in a Cloth; when you have fut them into your Sauce-pan, put to them a Pint of white Wine, a Bur.dle of Sweet-herbs, an Onion fluck with Cloves, fome whole Pepper, and a fmall Quantily of Salt. Cover them, and ler them boil. Take them up when they aie enough, and lay them in jour Difh; Atrain your Liquor, and thicken it up with Butter and Flour. When your Sauce is ready, pour it over your Fifh. Garnifh yous Difh with Slices of Lemon, and fcrap'd Horfe raddifh.
N. B. You may drefs a fmall Turbut the fameWay.

> To boil Mullet, or any Kind of Fifh.

For Sauce, take a Pint of Oyfers with their Liquor, a Lobfter, or a Parcel of Shimps bruis'd or trimm'd, fome white Wine, an Anchovy or two, fome large Mace, a Nutmeg cut in Quarters, and a whole Onion. Boil thefe all up together; thicken it with Butter, and the Yolks of Eggs. Pour this upon Sippets, and garnifh yoar Difh with Lemon.

To broil Steaks.

Firft, have a very brifk and clear Fire ; take care that your Gridiron be perfectly clean; put it on the Fire, and take a Chafing-Difh with a few hot Coals in it. Put your Difh upon it that is to receive your Steaks; then take the beft Rump Steaks you can get, about Half an Inch thick; put fome Pepper and Salt upon them ; lay them on the Gridiron ; take a Shalot or two, or an Onion, and fhred them fine to put in your Difh. Never turn your Steaks till oneSide is near done; then upon turning the other Side, you'll foon perceive a fine Gravy lie upon your Steak, which you muft be careful to preferve; when your Steaks are enough, take them carefully of the Gridiron, that none of your Gravy be loft. Have a hot Cover rea. dy, and ferve them up with the Cover on.

I $\%$. B. Never bafte any Meat on the Gridiron; for by that Means it will be both burnt and finoak'd, and unfit to be ferv'd up to Table.

To fry Beef-Steaks.

Beat your Steaks well with a Rolling-Pin; fry them in Half a Pint of Ale that is not bitter; and whift they are on the Fire fhred a large Onion frall, a little Thyme, fome Parfley fhred fimall, fome grated Nutmeg, and fome Pepper and Salt; roll all together with a Lump of Butter, and after that in a little Flour; put this into your Stew-pan, and fhake a!l together ; when you find your Steaks tender, and your Sauce of a proper Thicknefs, ferve it up.

A fecond Way to fry Beef-Steaks.

Cut the Lean by itfelf, and with the Back of a Knife, or a Roller, beat them well ; take no more Butter to fry them in, than what will juft moiften your Pan; pour out the Gravy as it runs out of the Meat ; turn them often ; let your Fire be gentle ; fry the Fat by itfelf, and lay it upon the Lean. Put a Glafs of red Wine to the Gravy, half an Anchovy, a little Nutmeg, fome beaten Pepper, and a Shalot or two, or a fmall Onios fhred fine; give it two or three boils;:
fale it to your Palate ; and when you have pour'd your Sauce over your Steaks, ferve it up to Table.

A third Way.

When you have cut your Steaks to your Mind, half broil them; then lay them into a Stew-pan; feafon them with Pepper and Salt; do but juft cover them with Gravy, and a Lump of Butter roll'd in Flour ; let them ftew for about Half an Hour; then beat up the Yolks of two Eggs; fir all together for about three or four Minules, and then ferve them up.

> To Aew Beef-Steaks.

Pepper and falt your Steaks, (which muft be cut off from the Rump) and lay them in your Stew-pan; pour in about Half a Pint of Water, a Blade or two of Mace, two or three Cloves, a Bunch of Sweet-herbs, a Lump of Butter roll'd in Flour, an Anchovy, an Onion, and a Glafs of whie Wine; cover them clofe, and let them flew foftly till they are perfealy tender; then take them out of the Pan to flour them, and fry them in Frefh-butter. Pour off all the Fat; flrain the Sauce they were ftew'd in; and then pour it into the Pan-; tofs it all up together, tull you find the Sauce is both thick and hot. If you think proper, you may add a fmall Quantity of Oyfters. Lay the Steaks into your Difh, and pour your Sauce over them. Garnifh with any Pickles that you think proper.
To fry Tripe.

Cut your Tripe into Pieces about three or four Inches long; dip them in the Yolk of an Egg, and a few Crumbs of Bread; fry them very brown; then take them out of your Pan, and lay them in a Difh to drain. Garnifh with Lemmon and Parfley.

Instructions with Regard to Greens, Roots, and other Produce of the Kitchen-Garden.

MO S T injudicious Cook-maids, for the generality, fpoil all their Materials from the Garden, by boiling them over much. All Greens of what Denomination foever fhould have a Crifpnefs; for in cafe they happen to be over-boiled, not only their Beauty, but their Sweetnefs too, is loft.

Before you put your Greens, however, into your Pot, take particular Care to pick them, and wafh them well. For fear of any Duft or Sand, which is too apt to hang round wooden Veffels, lay them always in a clean earthen Pan. Let your Greens be boiled in a large Quantity of Water, and in a Copper Sauce-pan by themfelves; for whenever you boil them with your Meat, you'll always find that they will be difcolour'd. Take Natice, that no Iron Pans are proper for this Purgof.

Purpofe. Always make Ufe, therefore, either of Copper or Brafs.

Rules for duelling of Carrots.

IN the firth Place, fcrape them very clean ; and rub them well with a coarse Cloth as foo as you find them enough. After that, flide them into a Plate, and pour over them a proper Quantity of melted Butter. They will not require above Half an Hour's boiling, in cafe they be young Spring Carrots; if they are large, they will require twice that Time; but if they be your old Sandwich Carrots, you mut give them two Hours boiling at leafs.

If you think proper, you may put white Wine and Sugar in your Butter.

An Oat Pudding.

'Take two Pounds of Oats decoticated, and a fufficient Quantity of new Milk to drown it; then cake Half a Pound of Raifons of the Sun that are fon'd, and Half a Pound of Currants well pick'd ; one Pound of Sewet flred very fine, and Half a Dozen new-laid Eggs well beaten; feafon with beaten Ginger, Salt, and fome grated Nutmeg. When 'tis all well mingled together, it will be preferable to a Rice puding.

A Steak.Pudding.

Take fome Sewet fhred fmall with Flour, and mix it up with cold Water ; of this make your Cruft; feaKon it with a little Salt. Take about two Pounds of Sewet to a Quarter of a Peck of Flour. Seafon your Steaks, whether Beef or Mutton, with Pepper and Salt; make it up in the fame Manner as you, would an Appple-Pudding; tie it up in a Cloth; but let your Water boil before you put it in : If it be but a fmall Pudding, three Hours will be fufficient; if a large One, Five.

Sewet Dumplings:

Take a Pound of Sewet, four Eggs, a Pound of Currants, three Tea-fpoonfuls of Ginger, and two of Salt; and to thefe add a Pint of Milk; firft take one Half of the Milk, and mingle it as you would a thick Batter; then put in the Eggs, the Ginger, and the Salt ; and then the Remainder of the Milk by flow Degrees: together with the Sewet and Currants; and Flour, to make it like a light Pafte. As foon as your Water boils, make chem up in little Rolls, with a fmall Quantity of Flour; then flat them, and throw them into the boiling Water. Take care to move them gently, that they may not fick to each other. They will be enough in Half an Hoar, if you keep your Water boiling.

In making your Puddings of all Kinds, the following General Rules are to be objerved.

When you boil your Puddings, take particular Care that your Cloth, or Bag, be perfectly clean, and dipp'd in hot Water, and then too, flour'd very well.

If it be a Bread-Pudding, tie it loofe; but if it be Batter-Pudding, tie it clofe; and take care that your Water boils before you put it in ; move your Pudding every now and then; for otherwife it will be apt to ftick. If it be a Batter.Pudding, mix your Flout well with a little Milk, and then put your Ingredients in by fow Degrees; for by that Means it will be free from Lumps, and perfectly fmooth. For all other Puddings, when your Eggs are beat, ftrain them. If you boil them either in Wooden, or China Difhes, butter the Infide before you put in your Batter. And as to all bak'd Puddings, remember to butter yous Pan, or Difh, before you put your Puddings into it.

PIES of various Kinds.

To make a delicious, fweet, Lamb, or Veal Pye,

$S$E A S O N your Meat, whether of Veal, or Lamb, with Salt, Pepper, Cloves, Mace, and Nutmeg, to your Tafte ; but let all of them be beat very fine before you ufe them. Cut your Meat into fimall Parcels. When they are thus far prepared, make a gond Puff-pafte Cruft, and lay it into your Difh. In the next Place, lay your minc'd Meat into it, and frow over it a confiderable Quantity of fon'd Raifons and Currants, that have been wafh'd very clean, with as much Sugar as you think proper; then lay over them fome fweet Forc'd-meat Balls; and in the Summer Seafon, you may add fome Artichoak Bottoms after they have been duly boil'd; but in the Winter Seafon, fupply their Place with fome fcalded Grapes. After this, boil a few Spani/s Potatoes cut into fmall Piecos, fome candied Citron, candied Orange and Lemenpeel, and a few Blades of Mace. When you have put a fmallQuantity of Butter upon the Top of it, clofe it up, and fend it to the Oven. Before it is fully bak'd, get in Readinefs a Caudle, proper to be pour'd into it, which you muft make in the Manner following: To a Pint of white Wine, add the Yolks of three Eggs; let this be well firr'd over the Fire, one Way only, till 'tis thick; when you have taken it off, fweeten it with Sugar, and when you have fqueez'd in the Juice of a Lemon, ftir it again; and then pour it into your Pye. When you ferve it up to Table, put the Lid over it.

To make a very faroury Veal, on Lamb Pye.
When you have prepar'd a good Puff-pafte Cruft, cut your Meat into fmall Pieces; feafon it with Pepper, Salt, Mace, Cloves, and Nutmegs, well pounded, to your Palate; if you have any Lamb's-Stones, or Sweet-breads by you, let them be feafoned as your other Meat, and the whole be laid into your Cruft. Add to this, a fmall Quantity of Oyfters, fome Forc'dmeat Balls, Yolks of Eggs boil'd hard, the Tops of Afparagus, about two Inches in Length, boil'd geen; Ict your Pye be butter'd all over before you cover it ; when the Lid is on, fet it for about an Hour and an Half into a quick Oven; and before it be fully bak'd, have in Readinefs a fufficient Quantity of Liquor to pour to it, made as here under directed.

Take a Pint of Grayy, together with your OyfterLiquor, a Gill of red Wine, and a little Nutmeg grated: graced : Then beat the Yolks of two or three Eggs, and mix them well together, ftirring them over the Fire, all the Time one Way. As foon as it boils, take it off, and pour it into your Pye. Then put your Lid on again, and ferve it up to Table. As to the Quantity of this Liquor, you muft make more or lefs, in Proportion to the Bignefs of your Pye.

To make a Mutton Pye.

When you have taken off the Skin and Fat of the Infide of a Loin of Mutton, eut the Remainder into Steaks; feafon it to yout Palate with Pepper and Salt; when your Cruft is made, fill it with your Meat; after that, pour into it as much Water as will near fill the Difh ; then put on the Lid, and bake it well.

To make a Pigeon Pye.

Let your Pigeons, in the firt Place, be very nicely pick'd and clean'd; then feafon them with Pepper and Salt, either high or low, according to your Palate ; and put a good Lump of the belt Frefh-Butter, with Pepper and Salt, into the Bellies of each of shem; then cover your Difh with a good Puff-pafte Cruft; in which lay your Birds, fo feafoned as aforefaid, with their Necks, Gizzards, Livers, Pinions, and Hearts, between them; in the Middle, lay a large fat Beef-fteak, together with the Yolks of hard Eggs, more or lefs, as you fhall judge proper ; pour into your Ingredients as much Water as will near fill your Difh; then lay on the Lid, or Top-Crult and bake it well.

To make a Pigeon Pye, after the French Fafkion.

You muft fuff your Pigeons with a very high Forc'd-meat, and lay a good Quantity of Forc'd meat Balls all round the Infide; together with Artichoak Bottoms, Arparagus Tops, Mufhrooms, Truftles, and Morels ;

(140)

Morels; but feafon your Ingredients to your Palate ; though for the moft Part, they feafon very high.

To make a Giblet Pye.

Take two Pair of Giblets, that have been carefully cleaned, and put them all into the Sauce pan, except the Livers ; add to them two Quarts of Water, about two Dozen Corns of whole Pepper, three or four Blades of Mace, one large Onion, and a fmall Eundle of Sweet herbs; let them be cover'd clofe, and few'd very foftly, till they are perfectly tender; then, when your Cruft is duly prepared, cover your Difh with it ; take care to lay a good Rump-fteak at the Botion of your Difh, well feafon'd to your Palate with Pepper and Salt ; after that, lay in your Giblets and Livers, and ftrain the Liquor in which you flewd them. When you have feafoned it to your Mind, pour it into your Pye; then put your Lid on, and let it fand in the Oven about an Hour and an Half.

To make a Duck Pye.

Take two Ducks, and let them be well fcalded and cleaned; then cut off the Feet, the Pinions, the Neck and Head, with the Gizzards, Hearts, and Livers, all well clean'd and fcalded, as abovementioned ; but firft pick out all the Fat which you find in the Infide of your Ducks. Lay a good Puff-palte Cruft all over your Difh; and put your Materials into it; when you have feafoned them to your Liking, both Infide and Out, lay your Giblets on each Side of your Ducks; when you have pour'd in as much Water as will near fill your Difh, put on your Lid, and fend your Pye to the Oven; but take care it be not over-bak'd.

To make a Chicken Pye.

Take a Pair of Chickens, and cut them to Pieces; fearon then with Salt, Pepper, and a little beaten Mase. When you have made a good Puff-pafte

Cruft,

141)

Cruft, and fpread it over your Difh, lay a Forc'dmeat, made as follows, all round it. Take about Half a Pound of Veal, Half a Pound of Sewet, and the fame Quantity of the Crumbs of Bread; let all be beat fine in a Marble Mortar; feafon thefe Ingredients with a little Salt and Pepper, one Anchovy, and the Liquor be'onging to it; let your Anchovy be cut all to pieces, and add to it a little Lemon-peel, and a little Thyme fhred very fmall; and when you have mingled thefe well together, with the Yolk of an Egg, make it up into round Balls; and lay what Number of them you think proper round the Difh. Lay one Part of your Chickens over the Bottom of the Difh; and then cut two Sweet-breads into feveral Pieces; and when you have feafoned them to your Palate, lay them over your Chickens; when you have fo done, ftrew Half an Ounce of Truffels and Morels over them, together with two or three Artichoak Bottoms cut to Pieces; and, if you have them, a few Cock's-combs, and a Palate that has been boil'd tender, and cut to Pieces ; over this, lay the Remainder of your Chickens ; pour into them Half a Pint of Water or fomething more, and then put on your Lid. Let it be well bak'd, and as foon as it comes from the Oven, fill it with good Gravy ; cover it with your Cruft, and fo forve it up to Table.

To mak̉e a Goofe Pye.

Falf a Peck of Flour will be fufficient to raife the Walls of your Pye with, which muft be made juft large enough to hold your Goofe. In the firf Place, however, have ready by you a pickled dried Tongue, that has been boil'd fo tender as to peel with Eafe; cut off the Root: Then bone your Goofe, and have 'ready, at the fame Time, a large Fowl bon ${ }^{2 d}$; feaPon your Fowl and your Goofe with Half a Quarter of an Ounce of Mace beat fine, alfo a large Tea-fpoonful of Pepper beat fine, and three Tea-fpoonfuls of Salt, all well mingled together; then lay your Fowl into your Goofe, and your Tongue into your Fowl; and.
and your Goofe in the very fame Form as if it were whole. Put about Half a Pound of the beft Butter upon the Top, and then lay on your Lid. This is a very agreeable Pye, either hot or cold, and will keep fome confiderable Time.

To make a Venifon Pafty.

Bone the Neck and the Breaf, and feafon them to your Palate with Pepper and Salt; cut the Breaft into three or four Pieces; but, if you can avoid it, cut none of the Fat belonging to the Neck. Lay in the Breaft and Neck-end firft, and the beft of the Neck-end over them, that the Fat may be whole : Let your Craft be made of a rich Puff-pafte, and very thick on the Sides; as alro thick at Top; and let your Bottom be very good. Cover your Difh firft; then lay in your Ingredients; put into them Half a Pound of Butter, and not above a Quarter of a Pint of Water. Thus prepared, put on your Lid. Bake it in a quick Oven, and let it fland there about two Hours. Before 'tis ready to be taken out, fet the Bones of your Venifon on the Fire in two Quarts of Water, with three or four Blades of Mace, an Onion, a little Piece of Cruft of Bread, bak'd crifp and brown, and a fmall Quantity of whole Pepper ; let it be clofe cover'd, and boil fofily over a gentle Fire, till one Half of your Liquor is wafted; and then frain it off. Pour the Remainder into your Pye as foon as it comes from the Oven.

If your Venifon happens to be too lean, take the Fat of a Loin of Mutton, and fteep it for four and twenty Hours in fome Rape-Vinegar and red Wine ; then fpread it over the Top of your Venifon, and cover your Pafty.

Tho' fome People imagine, that Venifon can never be over-bak'd; and will for that Reafon, bake it firft in a falfe Cruft; yet the Notion is quite wrong; for thro' fuch a Practice, the Flavour of the Venifon is in fome Meafure, at leaft, loft and gone: If, however, you are defirous of having it exceedingly tender, you mult wafh it in warm Milk and Water, and then rub it with clean Cloths, till 'tis perfectly dry. When you have fo done, rub it all over with the beft Vinegar, and let it hang in the open Air. You may keep it, thus prepared, for a Fortnight, if you think proper ; but then no Moifture muft come to it; if you find there does, to prevent its decaying, you muft firft dry it well, and then ftrew Ginger over it.

( 143 )

When you are difpofed to make Ufe of it, dip it in luke-warm Water, and then wipe it dry again. Let it be baked in a quick Oven. If your Pafty be large, it will require three Hours at leaft, at which Time, it will not only be very tender, but retain its fine Plavour.
N. B. The Shoulder, bon'd, and made as above, with the Mutton-Fat, makes a very agreeable Pafty.

To make a Mutton Paity.

Take a Loin of Muton that is large and fat ; and before you bone it, let it hang for five or fix Days. Lay your Meat, when bond, four and twenty Hours in about Half a Pint of red Wine, and Halt a Pint of Rape-Vinegar ; then take it out of the Pickle, and manage it as you would do a Venifon-Pafty: Whilft your Pafty is in the Oven, boil up your Bones in the fame Manner, and fill your Pafty with the Liquor, as foon as it comes out of the Oven.

To make Minc'd-Pies, after the beft Manner.

Shred three Pounds of Sewet, and two Pounds of ftoned Raifons, as fine and fmall as pofible; add to them two Pounds of Currants, that have been carefully pick'd, waft'd, rubb'd, and dried before the Fire ; about forty or fifty fine Pippins, more or lefs, as they are in Bignefs, well par'd, cor'd, and chopp'd as fmall as can be; Half a Pound of the fineft Sugar well pounded, a Quarter of an Ounce of Mace, the fame Quantity of Cloves, and two large Nutmegs, all beaten very fine; put all thefe Ingredients into a large Pan, and mingle them all well together, with Half a Pint of Brandy, and Half a Pint of Sack. Let this be clofe ftopt into a Stone-pot, and it will be ready for your Ufe at any Time; and as good at three Months End as at firlt.

When you make it into Pies, take a fmall Difh, very little bigger, if any, than a Soop-plate, and lay a very thin Cruft all over it; over that, lay a thin Layer of your Ingredients, and after that, a Layer of Citron cut very thin; then another Layer of your Minc'd-meat, and a Layer of Orange-peel cut very thin; and over the laft a little more Meat: Squeeze Half the Juice of a fine Seville Orange, or Lemon, into your Ingredients, and add thereto, three or four Spoonfuls of red Wine; then lay your Cruft on, and let it be carefully baked. Minc'd pies, thus made, eat as finely cold as hot. In cafe you make them in Patty-pans, mix your Meat and your Sweet-meats accordingly.

Some make their Pies of a Neats Tongue peeled, and fhred as fine as poffible; or two Pounds of the Infide of a Surloin of Beef, boiled, and fhred equally fine, in order to mix with the relt of the Ingredients.

To make Tarts of divers Kinds.

IF you propofe to bake them in Patty-pans, firft butter them well, and then put a thin Cruft all over them, in order to your taking them out with the greater Eafe; but if you make ufe of either Glafs, or China Difhes, add no Cruft but the Top one. Strew a proper Quantity of fine Sugar at the Bottom, in the firft place; and after that lay in your Fruit, of what Sort foever, as you think moft proper, and flew a like Quantity of the fame Sugar over them. 'Then put your Lid on, and let them be baked in a flack Oven.
Obferve, however, that Minc'd-pies muft always be bak'd in Patty-pans; on account of taking them out with the greaier Eare, as above hinted; and puffpafte pafte is the moft proper for them. If you make Tarts of Apples, Pears, Apricots, $E^{\circ} \mathrm{c}$. the beaten Cruft is looked upon as the moft proper ; but that is fubmitted to your own particular Fancy.

( 145 )

To make Apple Tart, or Pear Tart.

Pare them firft ; then cut them into Quarters and take the Cores out ; in the next place, cut each Quarter a-crofs again; throw them, fo prepared, into a Sauce-pan, with no more Water in it than what will juft cover your Fruit ; let them fimmer over a flow Fire, till they are perfectly tender; before you fet your Fruit on the Fire, however, take care to put a good large piece of Lemon-peel into your Water. Have your Patty-pans in Readinefs, and flrew fine Sugar at the Bottom; then lay in your Fruit, and cover them with as much of the fame Sugar as you think convenient. Over each Tart pour a Tea-fpoonful of Lemon-juice, and three Spoonfuls of the Liquor in which they were boiled. Then lay your Lid over them, and put them into a flack Oven.

Obferve, If your Tarts be made of Apricots, you muft ufe no Lemon-juice, which is the only material Difference in the Manner of making them.

Obferve likewife, with refpect to preferv'd Tarts, only lay in your preferv'd Fruit, and put a very thin Cruft over them; and bake them as fhort a Time as poffible.

To nake them fill in a more agreeable Way.

Take a large Patty-pan, in proportion to the intended Size ot your Tart. Make Sugar-Cruft for it, and roll it till 'tis no thicker than a Halfpenny; then, having buttered your Patty-pan, cover it. Shape yourU pper cruft on fomething hollow contriv'd for that particular purpofe, about the fame Size as your Pan; and then mark it with a proper Iron, in what Form you think moft convenient, in fuch a Manner that it may lie hollow, and the Fruit be feen thro' it. Then let your Cruft be baked in a flack Oven, fo that it may be only crifp'd, but not difcoloured. When the Cruft is quite cold, take it out carefully, and fill it with whatever Fruit you propofe; lay on the Lid, and your Tart's made. If the Tart, therefore, be not eat, your Sweet-meat is never the worfe, and makes a genteel Appearance.

Proper Pastes for Tarts.

oN E Pound of Flour, and three Quarters of a Pound of Butter, mixed well together, and well beaten with a Rolling. pin, is fufficient for a common Cruit.

Or thas.

Take Half a Pound of Butter, Half a Pound of Flour, and Half a Pound of Sugar; then mix your Ingredients well all together; beat them with a Roll-ing-pin well, as above directed, and when rolled out thin, 'tis ready for your purpofe.

To make Puff-pafte.

Rub fine, Half a Pound of Butter, with a fmall Quantity of Salt into a Quarter of a Peck of Flour ; make your Materials up with cold Water, into a light Pafte. ## To make Green-peas Soop.

Put a Peck of there Peas into a Stew-pan, and cover them with Water; then put to them fome Salt and Pepper, a few young Onions, a little Parfley, and a Bunch of Thyme; add to thefe, a Quarter of a Pound of Bacon, and a good Lump of Butter ; then cover them, and when they have ftew'd for a fhort Time, take Half a Dozen Cabbage-Lettuces, or more, in cafe they are but fmall, and put them into the Soop, when cut into Quarters; and add to them ten or a Dozen Cucumbers, or lefs in cafe they are large, with a Handful of Purflane, together with fome more Seafoning, and a large Lump of Butter; fill your Stew-pan with boiling Water, and let your Soop ftew for two Hours or more ; and if in that Time you find your Liquor wafted away too much, throw into it a Lump of Butter, and as much more boiling Water as you fee convenient.

You may ftew in this Soop, if you pleafe, either two or three Pigeons, or a Chicken, with proper Stuffing in their Bellies.

To make a dry'd Peas-foop.
This may be made of Beef; but a Leg of Pork is the better of the two. Strain your Broth thro' a Sieve, and put Half a Pint of fplit Peas to every Quart of Liquor, or a Quart of whole Peas to three Quarts of Liquor. When you make ufe of the latter, they mult be pafs'd thro' a Cullender; but the former need not.- Cut as much Cellery into it as you think proper, into little Pieces, a fmall Quantity of Marjoram in Powder, and fome dry'd Mint. When you have feafoned it with Pepper and Salt, let it boil till your Cellery is tender.

Take Notice, If you boil a whole Leg of Pork, this is not to be done till afier your Meat is taken out of the Pot: But if you boil the Bones of Pork only, or the Hock, boil thefe Ingredients afterwards in the Liquor.

When you ferve this Soop up to Table, lay a French Roll in the Middle of it, and make ufe of rafped Bread, fifted, to garnih the Border of your Difh.

(154)

You may put, if you think proper, fome All-fpice powdered, or toafted Bread cut into Dice, into this soop, and it will be an agreeable Addition enough.

To make a good Gravy-foop.

Boil a Leg of Beef down, with a fmall Quantity of Salt, a Bunch of fweet Herbs, a few Cloves, a Bit of Nutmeg, and an Onion. Boilthree Gallons of Water down to one; then cut three or four Pounds of lean Beef into thin Slices; before you put your Meat into your Pan, put a Lump of Butter into it, about the Bignefs of an E.gg, that has been flour'd: When your Stew-pan is hot, and your Butter is properly brown'd, lay your Meat in, and having covered it, let it flew over a quick Fire; but take care to give it a Turn now and then; and ftrain in your flrong Broth, with an Anchovy or two, a Handful of Endive and Spinach, boiled green, a arained, and fhred grofs; then have forne Palates ready boiled, cut into fmall Pieces, toafted and fried. Take out your Beef, and put the Remainder all together with fome Pepper ; boil it up for about a Quarter of an Hour, and then ferve it up, with a Knuckle of Veal ; or a boil'd Fowl in the Middle of it .

To make Peas-pottage.

Boil four Quarts of Peas in as little Water as will be fufficient, till they are foft, and duly thickened; while thefe are preparing, boil a Leg of Mutton, and two or three Humbles of Veal, in another Pot, pricking them with a Knife in order to let out the Gravy; boil them in no more Water than what will jult cover them. When you have boiled out all the Goodne?s of your Meat, ftrain the Liquor, and put it into the Pulp of your Peas, and let them boil together ; then put in a good Piece of Bacon, a large Bunch of Mint, and a little Thyme. As foon as it is enough, put it into your Difh, and lay fmall Rafners of Bacon all round it ; but before you ferve it up, pour a fufficient Quantity of melted Butter into it.

To make a Rice-foop.

Pick and wafh, a Quarter of a Pound of Rice as clean as poffible, and boil it in fome Veal Broth till 'tis perfectly tender, with a Chicken, and a fmall Quantity of Mace ; then Ikim it well, and feafon is with Sals to your Palate ; then ftir in Half a Pound of Butter, and a Pint of Cream, boiled up into your Soop; when all Things are thus prepared, ferve up the Fowl and the Soop with the Crumb of a Frencb Roll.

Zo make a Soop of Turnips.

When you have prepared as much good Veal Gravy as will be requifite for your Purpofe, pare fome Turnips, and cut them into fmall Squares like Dice; let the Number be two or three Dozen, in proportion to the Size of your Difh; then fry them in either HogsLard, or Butter clarified, till they appear of a brown Colour; after this, take two Quarts of your Gravy and the Crutts of two French Rolls boil'd up together, and ftrain them well. When your Turnips are perfectly cleared from the Fat wherein they were fried, put them together, aud boil them till they be tender. A couple of roafted Ducks will be very agreeable to lay in the Middle of your Soop. You mult have a Rim for your Garnifh; and on the Outfide, feveral Pieces of Turnips cut into Squares, that have been boiled white in Broth, and betwixt each Parcel a Piece of your fried Turnips, cut in the fhape of Cockscombs. Let your Bread be foak'd in fome fine Fat and good Gravy, and then ferve it up to Table.

To make an Onion-foop.

Put Half a Pound of gocd Butter into a Stew-pan, and let it all melt over the Fire, and boil, till it makes no Manner of Noife; then take about a Dozen, or lefs, of Onions, peel'd, according as they are in Big-nefs, and cut them fmall : when thus fhred, throw them into your melted Butter, and let them fry for about fifteen or twenty Minates; then, when you have fhaken in a fmall Quantity of Flour, flir them round about; fhake your Pan, and let them fry for a few Minutes longer; then add to them a Quart, or more if you think proper, of boiling Water, and fir them round once more; then throw into them a large Piece of the Upper-Cruft of a ftale Loaf, and feaion with Salt to your Tafte; keep them boiling for ten Minutes longer over the Fire; but let them be frequently firred; then take them off, and have the Yolks of two Eggs beat fine with Half a Spoonful of Vinegar ready to put to them; ard, having mingled fome of the Soop with them, fir it well, and mix it well with the Remainder of your Soop, and fo ferve it up to Table.

To make an Egg-Soop.

When you have beaten the Yolks of two Eggs into your Difh, with a Lump of Butter about the Bigners of a common Egg, take a Tea-kettle of boiling Waser in one Hand, and a Spoon in the other. Pour your Water in by flow Degrees, and keep it firring well, all the Time, till you have put in the Cuantity of a Quart, or better; and till you find your Eggs well mixed, and your Butter perfectly melted. After this, pour all into a Sauce-pan, and ftir them till they begin to fimmer; then take it off the Fire, and pour it out of one Veffel into another, till 'tis perfectly fmooth, and has a high Froth; after this, fet it once more over the Fire, and let it remain there till 'tis perfectly hot; then pour it into yout Soop-difh, and ferve it up to Table.

To make Plumb-pcttage for Chriftmas.

Take a Leg and Shin of Beef, and boil them in ten Gallons of Water, till they are perfectly tender; and when you find the Broth ftrong enough for your purpofe, ftrain it out; wipe your Pot clean, and then put all your Broth in again; have in Readi efs the Crumb only of fix French Rolls cut in Pieces, in order to foak it in fome of the Fat of the Broth, over a Stove, for about a Quar er of an Hour; to this a d five Pounds of Currants that have been well wah'd; the fame Quancity of Raifons, and two Pound, or more if you think proper, of Prures; let the fe boil till they are fwell'd; then put to them three Quarters of an Cunce of Mace, two Nutmegs, and Half an Ounce of Cloves that have been beaten fine, and mixed with a little cold Liquor; but they muft not remain there long; when you have taken your Pot off, put in a fmall Quantity of Salt, a Quart of Sack, and another of Claret, adding thereto the Juice of two or three Lemons, and three Pounds, at lealt, of Sugar. If you think proper, you may put fome Sagoe to the reft of your Ingredients. When you have poured your Pottage into earthen Pans, it will keep a confiderable Time, and you may make Ufe of it as Occafion offers.

To make a Cake-foop, or Veal-glue, to be portabls in Boxes.

Strip a Leg of Veal of all its Skin and Fat; then take all the flefhy Part from the Bones, and boil them over a gentle Fire, fo long, and in fuch a Quantity of Waier, that you think the Liquor, when cold, will make a ftrong Jelly. If, however, you are dubious, try a Spoonful or two, and let it cool before you ftrain the whole thro' a Sieve. Whilft 'tis fettling, have in Readinefs a Stew-pan with Water, and feveral China-Cups, or Earthen-ware glaz'd; fill thefe Veffels with part of your Jelly, taken clear from the fetiling, and fet them into the stew-pan of Water; then let them boil gently in it, till the Jelly in the Cups becomes as thick as Glue; afcer this, let them fand to cool, and then turn out the Glue upon a piece of new Flannel, in order to draw out the Moifture ; turn them once in about fix Hours, and put them on 2 frefh piece of Flannel; continue turning them till they are perfectly dry; and then keep them in a warm, dry Place. In a fhort Time they will be as ftiff and hard as Glue, and may be fent away in Boxes at any Diftance whatfoever, without the leaft Damage or Inconvenience.

When you make Ufe of your Cakes, pour about a Pint of boiling Water upon the Quantity of a large Walnut, and when, by conftant flirring it in the boiling Water, 'tis perfectly diffolved, it will make a moderate Mefs of very good ftrong Broth. In regard to the Seafoning it, you may add fuch a Quantity of Salt and Pepper as may be agreeable to your Palate; for nothing of that Nature mult be put into your Ingredients that conftitute your Glue ; fince if they were, your Cakes would foon grow mufly. As your Soop, therefore, in making of it, mult have nothing favoury in it; you may add what. Herbs or Spices to it you think proper; but then fuch Herbs muft firt be boiled tender in plain Water, and that Water muft be made Ule of to pour upon your Cakegravy inftead of other hot Water. By having, therefore, a Quantity of thefe Cakes always in Readinefs, you may make a good Difh of Soop, whenever you pleafe, without the leatt Trouble or Inconvenience, by allowing only the Quantity of a large Walnut, as above directed, to every Pint of Water. If, however, you want Gravy for Sauce, you muft ufe double the Quantity you do for Soop or Broth.

For high Sauces, and fuch as have ftrong Stomachs to relifh them, you may make of Beef-gravy Cakes, initead of thofe of Veal, tho' the latter, 'tis true, are not only the moft fimple, but the eafief of Digettian.

In the making therefore of Beef-gravy Cakes, obferve the following Direction.

Take a Leg, or Shin of Beef, and prepare it after the fame Manner as above prefribed for your Veal Cakes; and by making Uie of the flefhy Parts only, and following the Method above directed, you will have a Beef-glue, which may be thought preferable to any other for Sauces, efpecially in Houfes in the Country :

( 159 )

Country; as no Flefh is of a flronger Nature than that of Beef. Some, in order to gratify the Appetites of your keen Sportfmen, will add to their Beef, the Flefh of a Brace of Hares, and of an old Cock or two, to give an additional Strength. Tho' this may be done, indeed, difcretionally ; yet take Notice, that the Stock of all thefe Cakes, Gravies, or Glues, is the firft. Thefe, however, may ftill be entiched by Chervil, Beet, Cellery, or any other Soop-herbs you think proper.

A fmall Quantity of this ftrong Soop may agreeably enough be put into fuch Sauce as you propofe, either for Flefh, Fifh, or Fowl.

To make a Breakfaft-broth.

Get the Chine of a Rump of Beef, a Neck and Knuckle of Veal, the Crag end of a Neck of Mutton, and a couple of Chickens. Pound the Breafts of your Chickens in a Mortar, together with fome Crumbs of Bread, that have been foak'd in your Broth. When you have feafoned all your Ingredients to your Palate, ftrain them thro' a Sieve, and pour your Liquor upon Crufts of Bread, that have been laid fimmering in the fame Broth.

To make white Broth.

Parboil a Chicken, or Pullet, and when you have taken the Flefh from the Bones, put it into a Stewpan over a Chafing difh of Coals; add to this, as much boil'd Cream as you fhall think proper; thicken this with Flour, Rice and Eggs, and a fmall Quantity of Marrow, in fome of the Broth your Fowl was boiled in ; then pour in about a Gill of either Sack or Mountain; and feafon with Salt and Pepper to your Palate; when 'tis thickened to your Satisfaction, ferve it up to Table.

( 160 )

To make Barley-Broth.
Set three Quarts of Water upon the Fire, and put into your Sauce-pan a Pound of French Barley; when it has boiled for fome Time, throw in fome Wholefpice, and what Quantity of Raifons and Currants you hink proper. When 'tis boil'd enough, pur a Lump of Butter and a little Rofe-water into it; then fweeten it to your Palate, and eat it.

To make Mutton-Broth.

Take about fix Pounds of a Neck of Mutton, and cut it into two Parts. Boil the Crag in a Gallon of Water ; as the Scum arifes take it off; then put in what Quantity of Sweet-herbs you think proper ; as alfo one Onion, and a large Cruft of Bread. When jour Crag has boiled for about an Hour, put in the Remainder of your Meat, two or three Turnips, fome Chives, and fome Parfley that has been chopp'd fmall; feafon it with Salt to your Palate. You may thicken it with either Bread, Oatmeal, Barley, or Kice, as your Inclination directs you. If you propofe to have Turrips for Sauce to your Meat, don't boil the whole in your Broth, becaufe is will make it too ftrong.

To make Plumb-gruel.

Take two large Spoonfuls of Oatmeal, and $\mathrm{pu}^{\mathrm{t}}$ it into two Quarts of Water, with a Blade or two of Mace, and a fmall Quantity of Lemon-peel ; ftir them all together, and let them boil for about five or fix Minutes. Then take it off the Fire, and having ftrained it, fut it into your Sauce-pan again; and add to it, Half a Pound of Currants, well wafh'd and pick'd; when it has boiled about ten Minutes, add to it a Glafs of white Wine, and fome grated Nutmeg ; then fiveeten it as you like it, aud eat it.

Some General R ULES to be obferved in the making of Soops or Broths.

IN the firft place, be particularly careful that all your Pots, Sauce-pans and Covers, be perfectly clean, and free from either Greafe or Sand; take great Care, likewife, that they be well tinn'd; for otherwife they will give your Broths or Soops a difagreeable, brafly Tafte. If you are not too much hurried, ftew your Meat as foftly as you can ; for by that Means it will not only be more tender, but have a finer Flavour.
When you make Soop, or Broth, for immediate Ufe, you muft tew your Meat foftly, and put in but a very little more Water than you intend to have Soop, or Broth. If you have an earthen Pan or Pipkin, fet it on Wood-embers, till it boils; then fkim it, and put your Seafoning into it ; after that, cover it clofe, and fet it on the Embers again, that it may few gently for fome Time. This Method, frictly obferved, will make both your Broth and your Meat alfo very delicious. In all your Soops and Broths you mult take care that no one Ingredient be predominant over the Reft ; the Tafte fhould be equal, and the Relifh agreeable to what you particularly intend it for. Take Notice, that whatever Greens or Herbs you put into your Broths or Soops, they muft all be well clean'd, wafl'd, and pick'd, before they are made ufe of.

To make Black-puddings, with Goofe-blood, after the Scotch Fafbion.
When you have kill'd your Goofe, by chopping his Head off, fave the Blood, and keep it conftantly ftirring till 'tis cold; then put to it fuch a Quantity of Gruts, Salt, Spice, and Sweet-herbs, together with fome Beef-fewet, chopp'd fine, according to your Liking. When you have taken the fkin off your Goofe's Neck, pull out the Wind-pipe and Fat. Then fill the fkin, and tie it up at both Ends. Your Pudding thus prepared, make a Pye of your Giblets, and lay your Pudding in the Middle.

To make the beft Sort of Saufages.

Take fix Pounds of the beft Pork, and clear it from all the fkin, Grifles and Fat ; cut your Meat fmall in the firft place, and afterwards pound it fine in a Mortar ; add to this Meat, when fo prepared, fix Pounds of Beef-fewet, freed from its $\mathbb{k}$ in, and fhred as fmall as poffible. Then take a large Bundle of Sage, and pick off all the Leaves, and when you have wafh'd them well, fhred them likewife very fine. Your Ingredients thus far ready, fpread your Meat upon the Dreffer, and fhake about three large Spoonfuls of your Sage all over your Meat. When you have fo done, ftrew the Rhind of a whole Lemon, fhred fmall, over your Sage; and add thereto about a large Spoonful of Sweet-herbs, fhred as fine as the Sage ; over this, grate a couple of Nutmegs, and over them, frew one large Spoonful of Salt, and two Tea-fpoonfuls of Pepper. Throw your Sewet over the whole, and mix all well together. Your Ingredients thus duly prepared, lay them down clofe in an Earthen-pot, for Ufe as Occafion offers. Whatever Quantity you take out at Times for your immediate purpofe, add to it as much Egg as will make it roll fmooth. When you have made them about the fize of a Saufage, fry them either in Dripping, or Butter, which muft be hot before you put them in, and afterwards keep them rolling about. When they are perfectly hot, and of a fine brown Colour, take them off, and ferve them up to Table.

(166)

If you don't approve of pounding your Meat in a Mortar, let it only be chopp'd fine.

You may make your very fine Saufages of Veal, managed in the fame Manner, or Veal and Pork well mingled together.

To make common Saufages.

Chop three Pounds of the beft Pork, Fat and Lean together, as fine as poffible; but firt take care to ftrip it of its fkin and Grifles; feafon it with two Tea fpoonfuls of Salt, and one of Pepper ; to which add three Tea-fpoonfuls of Sage, fhred very fine, and mingle all well together. When your Guts are well clean'd, fill them, or otherwife pot your Ingredients When you ufe them, roll them out into what fize you think proper, and fry them as above directed.

You may make very agreeable Saufages, likewife, of Beef, if you chufe it.

To make Bologna-faufages:

To a Pound of Beef, and a Pound of Beef-fewer, add the fame Quantity of Veal, Pork, and middling Bacon, neither too fat nor too lean. Chop them all together as fine as pofible. Then add to your Meat, what Quansity you think proper of Sage and Sweetherbs, fhred very fmall, after they have been well pick'd and wafh'd ; feafon your Ingredients pretty high both with Salt and Pepper. Have ready prepared fome large Guts, and fill them: When you drefs them, let your Water boil firft; and before you put them in, prick them with a Pin that the Ikins may not burf. Let them boil gently for about an Hour; then take them off, and dry them upon clean Straw.

Instructions for Potting and Collaring of Beef, Veal, Pig, Fihh, and Fowl, $\xi^{2} c$.To pot either Fowls or Pigeons.

WHE N you have cut their Legs off, draw them, and wipe them well with a Cloth, but never walh them; feafon them with Salt and Pepper pretty high ; then put them down clofe in a Pot, with as much Butter as you think will cover them, when melted, and bak'd very tender; then drain them perfectly dry from their Gravy, which is beft done by laying them on a Cloth. Then feafon them again, not only with Salt and Pepper, but with fuch a Quantity of Mace and Cloves, beaten very fine, as you fee convenient, and then pot them again as clofe as you can; clear the Butter from your Gravy when 'tis cold, and when you have melted it, pour it over your Fowls. If you have not fufficient, you mult clarify more; for your Butter muft be at leaft an Inch thick over your Birds.

Mof People bone their wild Fowl; but that particular is entirely left to your own Option.

> To pot Beef.

When you have cut your Meat fmall, let it afterwards be well beatew in a Marble-Mortar, with fome Butter melted for that purpofe, and two or three Anchovies, till you find your Meat mellow and agreeable to your Palate. Thus prepared, put it clofe down in Pots, and pour over them a fufficient Quantity of clarified Butter. You may feafon your Ingredients with what Spice you pleafe.

> To pot Venifon.

Take what Quantity of Venifon you think proper, both the Fat and the Lean together, and fpread it in a broad Pan; then ftick little Lumps of Butter all over your M at ; and when you have tied fome brown Paper over your $P \approx \mathrm{n}$, fend it to the Oven. When 'tis 1 ffic en ly wak'd, take your Meat out of the h tiquor; drain it well, and then lay it in a Difh; as foon as 'is cold, take the fkin ail off, and then beat your M at, the Fat and the Lean together, in a Marble-Morar As to the Seafoning, ufe fuch a Quancity of Mace, Cloves, Nutmes, Salt and Pepper, as is moft agreeable to your ralate. When the Butter, in which your Meat was bakd, is cold, beat a fmall Quantity of it in, to moiften it ; then put it clofe down in a a Pot, and pour clarified Butter over it.

( 168 )

Take Notice, you muft beat your Ingredients till they come to a perfect Pafte.

To pot Tongues in the beft Manner.

Boil a dried Tongue till 'tis perfectly tender, and then peel it; and have a Goofe and a large Fowl, both ready bon'd, to add to it ; take a Quarter of an Ounce of Mace, and the fame Quantity of Cloves, a large Nutmeg, and a Quarter of an Ounce of black Pepper, all beat well together; add to this a Spoonful of Salt. With this Seafoning rub your Tongue, and the Infide of your Fowl very well; and afterwards, put your Tongue into the Belly of your Fowl. In the next place, feafon your Goofe, and put your Fowl and Tongue into the Belly of it, by which Means the latter will appear as if it was never bon'd. Lay it, thus prepared, in a Pan that will juft hold it; and when you have covered it over with the belt frefh Butter melted, fend it to the Oven, and there let it ftand tor about an Hour and an Half. When 'tis fufficiently bak'd, take it out of your Pan, and drain it well from the Butter. Let it lie upon a coarie Cloth till 'tis perfectly cold; and when your Butter is cold, take the hard Fat from the Gravy, and let it melt before the Fire. When you have put your Meat into your Pan again, pour your melted Butier over it. If you have not Butter fufficient for your purpofe, you muft clarify more; for your Goofe mulk be covered at leaft an Inch thick.

This will keep a great while, eat very agreeably, and appear beautiful to the Eye, when 'tis cut down crofs-ways.

Take Notice, before the Butter is pour'd on, at your laft potting it, throw a little Spice over your Meat; for otherwife it will not be fufficiently feafoned.

Io pot Beef like Venifon.

Cut the lean part of a Buttock of Beef into divers pieces of about a pound-weight each. For the Seafoning of eight fuch pieces, take four Ounces of Saltpetre, an equal Quantity of Petre-falt, a whole pint of white Salt, and one Ounce of Sal-prunella. When your Salts have been all beaten very fine, and you have mingled them well together, rub your Beef well with them ; then let your Meat lie for four Days, but turn it at at leaft twice every Day; then throw it into a Pan and cover it with Pump-water, and a fmall Quantity of its own Brine; then let it ftand there till your Meat is as tender as a Chicken : Then drain all the Gravy from it, and fpread it abroad, that you may take away all the fkin and the finews you find amongft it. When you have proceeded thus far, throw your Meat into a MarbleMortar ; and after you have pounded it well, lay it in a broad Difh, and add to it, three QBarters of an Ounce of Pepper, a little Salt, a Nutmeg beaten very fine, and about an Ounce of Cloves and Mace. Work this Seafoning well into your Meat; and then add to it a fmall Quantity of the the beft frefh Butter, clarified, in order to render it more moift and palatable. When you have mixed your Ingredients all well together, prefs them down into Pots, as clofe as poffibe, and fet them to the Mouth of the Oven, that the Meat may fettle the better; then pour over it clarified Butter about-two Inches thick. As fool as your Butter is cold, cover your Pots with white Paper, and fit them by for UTe, as Occafion offers.

To pot Chefhire-cheefe.

Put three Pounds of the belt fort into a Moretar, and add to it about Half a pound of the belt frefh Butter you can procure. Then pound them together; and as you are beating them, pour in gradually a Gill of Sack, with about Half an Ounce of Mace, beat as fine as powder, in it. When your Ingredients are all well mingled together, pref them as clofe as you can into anto Earthen-pot. Then, when you have pour'd over it a fufficient Rantidy of clarified Butter, fer it by for Ufe in a cool place. Chehire-cheefe, thus prepared, is preferable to any Cream-cheefe whatfoever.

To collar Beef.

Strip the Akin off a thin piece of the Flank, and then beat your Meat well with a Rolliug-pin. Have in Readinefs a Quart of Petre-falt, that has been diffolved in five Quarts of Pump-water, and frained, and throw your Meat into it. There let it lie for five or fix Days; but take care to turn it every now and then: When 'is thus far prepared, take a Quarter of an Ounce of Cloves, a fall Quantity of Mace, with a little Pepper, and a whole Nutmeg, all beaten well together; add to this a Handful of Thyme, that has been ftript off the ftalks. When you have taken your Meat out of the Brine, flew your feafoning all over it; over that, lay on the fkin that you had ftript off, and roll up your Meat in it as clofe as pofible; then tie it hard with coat fe Tape, and put it into a deep Pot; and when you have added to it a Pint of Claret, fend it to the Oren, and let it be well bak'd.

To collar a Pig, or a Breaft of Veal.

Bone your Veal, or your Pig: Then with a fmall Quantity of Salt, Cloves and Mace, that have been beaten fine, a Bunch of fweet Herbs, together with fome Parlley, Pennyroyal and Sage, fhred as fine as poffible, feafon the Infide of your Meat; then roll it up in the fame Manner as you would Brawn; bind it clofe with narrow Tape, and then tie a Cloth about it; and boil it in as much Vinegar as Water, till it is perfectly tender; but before you put it in, and before the Water boils, throw into your Liquor a fmall Quantity of Salt, Pepper, Cloves and Mace, all whole. When you find 'tis enough, take your Collar out of the Liquor, and when both are quite cold, take the Cloth off, with which you boil'd your Collar, and pour the Liquor over it ; when you have covered it clofe, fet it by for Ufe as Occafion offers. If your Pickle fhould happen, in any Degree, to prove faulty, frain it firt tLro' a coarfe Cloth; and after you have boil'd and fkimm'd it, pour it over your Collar again; but not till'tis cold.

Take Notice, you muft wafh your CoHar, and wipe it dry ; as alfo your Pan, before you ftrain your Pickle; and when you have boiled it, frain it again; and when you have pour'd it, as before directed, upon your Collar, cover it up very clofe.

To collar Salmon.

Take a large Piece of Salmon, with the Tail; cut the Latter off, and when you have wahed the other well, take a Cloth and wipe it very dry. After that, wafh it all over with the Yolks of Eggs; put thereto what Quantity you think proper of Oyfers only parboil'd, the Tail of a Lobfter or two, the Yolks of three or four Eggs that have been boiled hard, Half a Dozen Anchovies, a Bunch of fweet Herbs that have been chopp'd fmall, fome grated Bread, together with a little Salt, Pepper, Nutmeg, Mace and Cloves, that have been beaten fine: Let all thefe Ingredients be work.d together with the Yolks of Eggs, and lay it all over the flefhy Part; then roll it up into a Collar, and bind it up with fome coarfe Tape; then let it be boiled in Water, and fome Vinegar, and throw into it a fmall Quantity of Salt. Take care that your Liquor is boiling hot before you put in your Collar. When you find your Liquor boils, throw into it a Handful of fweet Herbs, a little fliced Ginger, and a Nutmeg, at the fame Time with your Collar. In about two Hours it will be enough; then take it up, and put it into your Soufing-pan; and when the Pickle is cold, put it upon your Salmon, which muft fand in it till you make ufe of it. If you propofe to pot your Salmon after 'tis boil'd, you mult four fome clarified Butter over it; and take care that the Butter you make ufe of, for that purpofe, be the beft yous can purchafe.

(172)

To pickle Pork.

When you have bon'd your Pork, cut it into Pieces of a proper fize for the Pan yon propofe to lay it in; rub each Piece well with Salt-petre, in the firt place, and after that, with common Salt and Bay-falt mixed together, in equal proportions; when you have laid a proper Quantity of common Salt at the Bottom of your Pan, or Tub, cover each Piece of your Meat, likewife, with the fame Salt. After you have haid one Piece upon another, as clofe as conveniently you can, fill op the hollow places on the fides with Salt likewife. When you find the Salt that lay on the Top of your Meat begins to melt away, ftrew on more. Then fread a coarfe Cloth over your Tub, or Pan, wherein your Meat is laid, and a Board over that; and in order to keep that as c'ofe as poffrble, lay any thing that is weighty upon it. If your Meat be thus ordered, and thus kept clofe, 'twill be ready for Ufe ; and be perfectly good the whole Year round.

A Pickle for Pork, that is proofed to be eaten in a Week, or ten Days Time.
When you have boiled one Pound of Pay. falt, the fame Quantity of coarfe Sugar, and fix Ounces of Salt-petre, in two Gallons of Pump-water as long as you think proper, take your Liquor off the Fire, and when 'ti cold, fkim it. You may cut your Pork into pieces of any faze you think proper; but lay it as clofe as you can, and pour the Liiquor over it. Lay a Board over your Pan, with a Weight upon it, that as little Air as poffible may get to it ; and it will be fit for Ufe in a Week, or ten Days Time. In cafe you find your Pickle begins to foil, let it be boiled over again, and fkimm'd ; and when 'tis cold, pour it over your Meat once more.

To make Hams of Mutton, Beef, Veal, or Pork.

To make Hams of Beef.
Cut the Leg of a fall, but fat Ox, Ham-Fan fhion ; then take an Ounce of Salt-petre, an Ounce of Bay-falt, one Pound of common Salt, and the fame Quantity of the coarfef Sugar, if your Meat is but about fourteen or fifteen Pounds Weight; but if you pickle the whole Quarter, you mut add Seafoning in proportion. Rub your Meat with Half the Ingredients abovementioned; take care to have is turned once a Day at leaft, and well bated with the Pickle for a Month at leaft fucceffively. When you take it out, roll it in Saw-duft or Bran ; then hang it up in a Chimney -Corner where Wood is daily burnt, in order to be fmok'd: There let it hang for a Month. After that, take it down, and difpore of it in any dry place you think proper, fo it be not too hot, and keep it for Use as Occafion offers. You may boil any large piece of it, if you thins think proper; but the beft Way of drefling it, is to cut it into Rafhers, and broil it, as you would Bacon, with poach'd Eggs. - If you keep any part of it that has been boiled, till it is cold, it eats agreeably enough ; and will fhiver like Dutch Beef.

The fame Pickle will ferve afterwards, if you think proper, for a thick Biifcuit of Beef; but you muft let it lie for a Month in it, and rub it in the Pickle every Day. When you have boiled your Meat, thus prepared, till it is perfectly tender, let it hang up in a dry Place, and when cold and cut in Sliees, it makes a very agreeable Side-Difh for Supper.

Take Notice, A Shoulder of Mutton, laid for a Week or ten Days in this Pickle, and afterwards Wood-fmok'd for three or four Days, makes a very good Difh, when boiled with Cabbage.

To make Hams of Mutton.

Cut a Hind-quarter of Mutton Ham-fafhion; then take one Pound of coarfe Sugar, one Pound of common Salt, and one Ounce only of Salt-petre. When thefe are all well mixed, rub your Ham well with them; then lay it, with the Skin downwards, in a Tray, and bafte it for about fourteeu Days fucceffively; after that, oll it in Saw-duft, and hang it up to dy in a Chimney-Corner, where Wood-firing is principally ufed, for the fame Number of Days; then boil 1t, and let it hang in a dry Place, to be cut off in Rafhers like Bacon, as Occafion offers.

This eats delicioufly broil'd ; tho' but very indiffexently in cafe 'tis boiled.

To make a Ham of a Leg of Pork.

Cut a Hind-quarter of the beft Pork you can get Ham-fafhion; then take one Pound of coarfe Sugar, one Pound of common Salt, and one Ounce only of Salt-petre. When thefe are all well mingled together, lub your Ham with them; let your Pork lie in this Pickle for a Month at leaft; but take care to turn it and bafte it well every Day; then hang it up in a Chimney.Corner, where it may be Woodfmok'd, but have no Heat come to it ; as we have before directed, in regard to Beef-Hams. If yous propofe to keep it for fome confiderable Time, hang it up for fix Weeks, or two Months, in forme damp Place, by which Means it will become mouldy; for it will cut the finer ard fhorter for it. You muft never lay it in Water, till you intend to boil it ; and then make ufe of a Copper, if you have one, and not a Pot. Let it lie four or five Hours in the Water before it boils, and till it does, fkim your Copper every now and then. If your Ham be but fmall, an Hour and an Halfs boiling will be fufficient. If a large one, let it boil two Hours at leaft. Take your Ham up about Half an Hour before you propofe to ferve up your Dinner. When you have taken off the Skin, throw fome Rafpings that have been finely fifted all over it. Then take a large Salamander, if you have one, or otherwife a Firefhovel that is red ho', and hold over the Rafpings; and when your Dinner is ready, fift a few more of your Rafpings all over your Difh. Then lay your Ham inte it, and with your Finger, make fuch Figures all round the Edge of the Difh, as your Fancy hall direct you. - Take care that your Ham has plenty of Water always to boil in; and keep fkimming your Pot or Copper till your Water boils; and let it not boil, till your Ham has been in it for four Hours at leaft.

( 175 )

After your Ham is boiled, your Pickle will be very fit for Tongues to be laid into it for a Fortnight together ; and to be hung up for a Formight afterwards in oider to be Wood fmok'd.

One Reafon why Cork/bire Hams are preferable to moft made in London is, becaufe their Salt is larger and clearer, and gives their Meat a fines Flavour.

To make Bacon.

Take off all the infide Fat of a Side of Pork, and lay it on a Drefler, or any long Board, that the Blood may drain from it: Rub it well on both Sides with the beft common Salt, and let it lie fo for a Week; then take a Quarter of a Pound of Salt-petre, a Pint of Bay-falt, a Quarter of a Peck of common Salt, and two Pounds of coarfe Sugar, all beaten fine together. Rub your Pork well with the abovementioned Ingredients, in a Pan that will retain the Pickle, and then lay it with the fkinny Side downwards. Let it be bafted with the Pickle every Day for a Fortnight fucceffively. After that, hang it up in a Chimney-Corner in order to be Wood-fimok'd, as you would Beef. Take, care to hang it fo as no Heat can come to it, tho in a dry Place. Take Notice, That neither your Bacon nor your Hams Should ever touch the Wall, or any Thing elfe.

Before you put it into your Pickle, wipe off all the old Salt. Never keep either Hams or Bacon in a hot Kitchen; for it makes them rufty.

Instructions in regard to Pickling.

Topickle Walnuts black.

Lay fuch Nuts as are at their full Growth, but not hard, in Salt and Water for two Days, and then fhift them into frefh Water; and there let them lie for two Days longer; and alter you have fhifted them once more, and they have lain in that laft Water three Days longer, then depofit them into a Pot, or Jar, in which you propofe to pickle them. Put a large Onion ftuck with Cloves, into your Jar, when 'tis half full. To a Hundred of your Nuts, you muft throw in Half an Ounce of black Pepper, the fame Quantity of All-fpice, Haif a Dozen Bay.Leaves, a Stick of Horfe-radifh, a Quarter of an Ounce of Mace, and a Pint of Muftard-feed ; then fill your Pot, and have fome Vinegar ready boiled at Hand to pour over your Nuts. Cover them with a Plate, and let them ftand till they are quite cold; then tie them down with a Bladder and a Piece of Leather ; and in three Months, or lefs, they will be fit for Ufe. If you have any remaining the next Year, boil your Vinegar up again, and take the Scum off as it rifes. As foon as 'tis cold, pour it over your Nuts. You may add what frefh Vinegar to it you think proper.

To pickle Wainuts white.

Get as large Nuts as you can, fome fhort Time before the Shell begins to turn : then pare them very thin, till the White is vifible, and as you pare them, throw them, with a Handful of Salt, into Springwater. There let them lie for about fix Hours, and cover them with a thin Board, in order to keep them under the Water all the Time. After that, fet your Stew-pan, with clean Spring water in it, over a Charcoal-Fire ; and having taken your Nuts from their firl Water, throw them into this: Let them fimmer, but not boil, for five or fix Minutes; then have ready prepared a Pan of Spring-water, that has had a Handful of white Salt thrown into it. Take care to fir it till the Salt is all diffolved; then take your Nuts out of your Stew-pan, and throw them into the co'd Watcr, fo falted as before mentioned ; when they have food a Quarter of an Hour, cover them with a Board as before; for if they are fuffered to rife above the Water, they'll turn black. After this, take them up, and lay them on one Cloth, and cover them with another, in order to dry them; then take a foft Cloth, and wipe them very carefully; then put them into your Jar, or Bottle, with a Nutmeg fliced thin, and a few Blades of Mace. Let your Spice be duly mixed amongft your Nuts, and then pour over them a fufficient Quantity of diftill'd Vinegar ; when your Bottle, or Jar, Jar, is full of Nuts, pour fome melted Mutton Fat over them, and then tie a Bladder and a Piece of Leather over the Mouth of your Bottle, or Jar, that no Air may get to them.

To pickle Walnuts green.

Get the largeft and cleareft Nuts you poffibly can ; and when you have pared them very thin, throw them into a Pail, or Tub of cold Spring-water, that has had a Pound of Bay-falt well ftirr'd and diffolved in it. Let your Nuts lie in that Pickle about four and twenty Hours; then take them out, and put them either into a Glais-bottle, or Stone-jar; and between each Layer of Walnuts, have a Layer of Vine-leaves; and then fill up your Veffel with cold Vinegar. When they have flood all Night, pour that Vinegar from them the next Morning into a Copper Skillet, and boil up in it a Pound of Bayfalt; then pour that hot Liquor over your Nuts, and let them fand clofe tied up with a Woollen Clorh, for about a Week without opening them. Afterwards pour off that Liquor, and with a Piece of Flannel rub your Nuts perfectly dry ; then throw them into your Jar, or Glats, again, with Vineleaves, as above directed; and then pour to them a fufficient Quantity of boil'd frefh Vinegar. Into each Gallon of your Vinegar that you put into your Veffel, put a Quarter of an Ounce of Mace, the fame Quantity of Cloves, fome whole black Pepper, and ordingal Pepper, four large Races of Ginger, and a fliced Nutmeg. When you have poured your Vinegar boiling hot upon your Nuts, take a Woollen Cloth and cover them clofe. Let them fland without opening for three or four Days fucceffively. Then obferve the fame Method three or four Times. After they are thas managed, add to them a large Stick of Horfe-radifh fliced, and a Pint of Muftardfeed; and then tie the Mouth of your Veffiel down clofe with a Bladder, and a Piece of Leather over that. They will be fit for eating in about a Fortnight.

(179)

night. Stick a large Onion full of Cloves, and lay it in the Middle of your Jar. If you propofe to keep them by you, you muft not boil your Vinegar; but in that cafe, they muft lie fix Months before they are fit for Ufe.

To pickle Gerkins, or finall Cucumbers.

Put what Quantity of thefe Gerkins into a StoneJar you think proper, and as much Spring-water as will cover them : To every Gallon of Water put as much Sait as will make it bear an Egg; let it buil for a few Minutes over the Fire; then pour your hot Liquor over your Gerkins, and cover them with a Woollen Cloth, and lay a Board or a Pewter-plate over the Cloth. When you have tied them down clofe, let them frand for four and twenty Hours; after that, take them out, and lay them on one Cloth, and another over them, in or der to dry them. When they are as dry as is requifite, put them into your Jar, that has firft been wip'd with a clean Cloth ; then add to them a fmall Quantity of Dill and Fennel. To every three Quarts of Vinegar, pnt one Quart of Springwater, till you find you have Liquor enough to cover your Gerkins; you may add to your Pickle a fmall Quantity of Bay-falt, and common Salt mixed together. To each Gallon of Pickle, put a Quarter of an Ounce of Cloves, the fame Quantity of Mace, and whole Pepper, a large Race of llic'd Ginger, and a Nutmeg cat in Quarters. Let all theie boil together in a Copper Pot, and then pour them over your Gerkins. Cover them clofe, and let them ftand two Days. Then boil your Pickle a fecond Time, and pour it over your Gerkins as you did before. Take the fame Me thod a third Time. As foon as they are cold, cover them with a Bladder firft, and a Piece of Leather over that. Take Notice, Your Gerkins mult always be kept clofe covered; and when you want any for Ufe, take them out with a Spoon proper for that Purpofe.

Obferve, You muft put your Spice into your Jar with your Gerkins, and boil nothing but your Vinegar, Water and Salt, to pour over them. If Spice be boiled amongft any Pickle, it not only lofes its fine Flavour, but fpoils the Pickles.

To pickle large Cucumbers in Slices.

Slice your large Cucumbers, before they are too ripe, into a Pewter Difh: about the Thicknefs of a Crown-piece. Slice two large Onions thin to each Dozen of Cucnmbers you make ufe of, till you have fill'd your Difh. Strew a Handful of common Salt between every Layer; then cover them with another Pewter Difh, and let them ftand four and twenty Hours. After that, drain them well in a Cullender. Then put them into a Stone-Jar, and pour in as much White-Wine-Vinegar to them as will cover them. When they have ftood thus covered for four or five Hours, pour the Vinegar from them into a Stew-pan, and boil it up with a little Salt firft thrown into it. When you have put a large Race of flic'd Ginger, and an equal Quantity of whole Pepper and Mace, as much as you think proper, to your Cucumbers, pour your Vinegar that is boiling hot upon them. Firf cover them clofe, and when they are quite cold, tie them down. In three or four Days Time your Cucumbers will be fit to eat.

Topickle Afparagus

Cut off the whise Ends from the largeft Afparagus you can purchafe at Market, and wah the green Ends firft in Spring-water, and then let them lie for three or four Days in another clean Water. Then have realy by you a large Stew-pan full of Spring-water, with a Handful of Salt diffolved in it, and fet it upon the Fire. You muft put your Grafs in loofe, and not tied up, and the fewer at a Time the better, left you fhould break the Heads ; but not before your Liquor boils. When they are juft fealded, take them out, and lay them on a Cloth to cool.

As to your Pickle for them, put one Quart of Spring-water to a Gallon of Vinegar, and throw into them a Handful of Bay-falt; when they have b jiled as long as you think fufficient, put your Alpa-ragus into your Jar. ## To prickle Beet-root.

Boil your Roots in Spring-water till they are perfectly tender; then peel them with a Cloth, and lay them into a Pot, or Jar. To two Quarts of Water add three Quarts of Vinegar ; and if that will not be fufficient to cover your Roots, you muft add more Liquor in the fame Proportion. Put your Vinegar, thus mix'd with Water, into a Pan, and add to it as much Salt as you think proper; and then keep ftirring it till all your Salt is perfectly diffolved; then pour your Pickle upon your Roots, and cover the Mouth of your Jar with a Bladder, and a Leather tied over that.

Take Notice, Your Pickle muft not be boiled.
To fickle Onions.
Take what Quantity of Onions you think proper, that are fufficiently dry, and not bigger than a common Walnut ; but moft chufe fuch as are much fmaller. Take rothing of from them but their outwaid dry Coat ; then boil them till they are tender in one Water only; then drain them through a Cullender, and let them lie there till they are cold; after that, ftrip off their outward Skin till they look perfectly white, and then dry them with a fine, foft LinnenCloth. In the next Place, put them into widemouth'd Bottles fit for the Purpofe, and throw into each Bottle about half a Dozen Bay-Leaves: If your Bottle holds a Quart of Onions, you mult put to them two large Races of Ginger flic'd, and a Quarter of an Ounce of Mace. Then boil two Ounces of Bay-falt in one Quart of Vinegar, in Proportion, be the Quantity more or lefs; as the Skim rifes take it off, and then let jour Liquor fand till it is cold; and then pour it into your Glaffes. Cover the Mouths of your Bottles with a Bladder that has been dipp'd in Vinegar, and tie it down.

Obferve, As you find Pickle waftes, you mulf fill up your Bottles with cold Vinegar.

To pickle Mufhrooms white.

Cut and prime your fmall Buttons at the Bottom ; wath them in two or three Waters with a Piece of Flannel. Have in Readinefs a Stew-pan on the Fire with fome Spring-water that has had a Handful of common Salt thrown into it; and as foon as it boils put in your Buttons. When they have boiled about three or four Minutes, take them off the Fire, and throw them into a Cullender; from thence fread them as quick as you can upon one Linnen-Cloth, and cover them with another.
To make your Pickle for them, obferve the following Directions.

Put a Gallon of the beft Vinegar into a cold Still, and keep the Top of it covered with a wet Cloth. To each Gallon put a Quarter of a Pound of Mace, a Quarier of an Oince of Cloves, a Nutmeg cut into Quarters, and Half a Pound of Bayfalt. When you find the Cloth, with which you covered the Top of your Still, begins to be dry, take it off, and put on another that is wet. Take care that the Fire in your Still be not too large, for fear you fhould burn the Bottom of it. You may draw it till you can tafte the Acid, but no longer. Have in Readinefs: Several wide-mouth'd Bottles, and, as you put inyour Mufhrooms, now and then mix a Blade or two of Mace, and fome Nutmeg fic'd amongft them; then fill your Bottles with your Pickle. If youpour over them fome melted Mutton Fat, that has been well frain'd, it will keep them better than Oil. itfelf would.

To tickle Fennel.

Throw a Handful of Salt into fome Spring-water, and fet it on the Fire. When it boils, have your Fennel ready tied up in little Bunches, and juft give them a gentle Scald in your boiling Water ; then take them off, and lay them on a Cloth to dry. When they are cold, put them into proper.

Instructions for making Creams of various Sorts.

To make a Lemon-Cream.

PARE five or fix Lemons very thin, and feep them all Night in about twenty Spoonfuls of Spring-water, with their Juices Iqueezd into it ; frain your Liquor the next Morning through a Jelly-Bag into a filver Sauce-pan, if you have one near at Hand. Add to it, the Whites only of Half a Dozen Eggs well beaten, about Half a Pound, or more if you think proper, of the beft Loaf-fugar, and fet it over a gentle Charcoal Fire ; take care to keep it firring all the Time, and but one Way only; when any Scum arifes, clear it off; and when tis as hot as you can juft bear to put your Fingers into it, pour it out inta little Glafes.

Anotber Way.

Take Half a Pint of Spring-water, and fqueeze the Juice of four or five of the beft Lemons you can get into it ; add to your Juice about a Pound of the beft double-refined Sugar pounded as fine as Powder; then beat up the Whites of about feven or eight Eggs, with the Yolk only of one, and mix them with your Le-mon-water well together ; and when you have ftrain'd the whole, pour it into a Sauce-pan, (a filver One if you have it) and fet it over a gentle Fire ; keep firring them all the Time, and as the Scum arifes clear it off; then put into it the Peel of one Lemon only ; when you find 'tis very hot, but before it boils, take out the Lemon-peel, and pour it out into little ChinaBafons.

To make Orange-Cream.

Squeeze as many Seville-Oranges into a Bafon as will produce you about a Pint of Liquor; and add thereto, the Yolks of Half a Dozen Eggs, with two Thihrds Thirds of the Whites only, when you have beaten them well together; into this beat and fift about a Pound of the beft Loaf-fugar; then put your Ingredients into a filver Sauce-pan, and fet them over a gentle Fire ; put in the Peel of about Half an Orange only, and keep ftirring it all the Time one Way. When you find it is very hot (for it mult not boil), take out the Orange-peel, and pour out your Cream into China-Difhes, or little Glaffes.

To make Goofeberry-Cream.

Pick two Quarts of Goofeberries, and feald them in as much Water as will cover them; when they are enough, run them through a Sieve with a Spoon. Beat up Half a Dozen Eggs, and put them to a Quart of your Pulp, whilft tis hot; and after you have added to it about an Ounce of the beft frefh Butter, fweeten all to your Palate; then fet your In. gredients over a flow Fire, and keep ftirring them tild you find they are of a proper Confiftence ; then take them off, and let them fand by till they are near cold; after that, add two Spoonfuls of the Juice of Spinach, and one of Rofe or Orange-Flower-water, or Sack, if you like it better; and when you have flirred the whole well together, pour it into a China-Bafon. Don't ferve it up to Table, however, till tis perfectly cold.

To make Barley-Cream.

Boil fuch a Quantity of Fearl. Barley as you think proper to ufe, in Milk and Water, till 'tis perfectly tender; then, having ftrained your Liquor from it, put your Barley into a Quart of Cream. Set them over the Fire, and give them a gentle Boil; then beat up, with a Spconful of tine Flour, and two Spoonfuls of Rofe or Orange-Flower-water, the Yolk of one Egg only, and the Whites of five or fix; after that, take your Cream off the Fire, and mix your Eggs with it gradually; then fet your Ingredients on the Fire once more, that they may thicken. When you have fweeten'd the whole to your Palate, pour it into fmall China-Bafons; but don't ferve it up to Table till 'tis perfectly cold.

To make Almond-Cream.

Put Half a Nutmeg grated, a Bit or two of Lemonpeel, and a Blade of Mace, into a Quart of Cream, and fweeten it your Palate; then boil them all together ; in the mean Time, get in Readinefs a Quarter of a Pound of blanch'd Almonds that haxe been well beaten up with Rofe or Orange-Flower-water, and nine Eggs, likewife, well beaten and ftrain'd to your Almonds, which, when well beat together, and rubb'd through a coarfe Sieve, muft be mingled with your Cream. Then pour all your Ingredients into a Saucepan and fet them over the Fire, and give them a gentle Boil, ftirring them all the Time one Way only. When 'tis enough, take it off, and pour it into your Cups, or Bafons ; but don't ferve it up to Table till tais perfectly cold.

To make blanch'd Cream.

Take a Quart of the fweetell and thickeft Cream you can get; then, when you have fweetened it to your Palate with double-refined Sugar, and put in what Orange-Flower or Rofe-water you think proper, fet it on the Fire to boil; in the mean Time, beat up the Whites only of about eighteen or twenty Eggs with a little cold Cream; then ftrain them, in order to take out the Treddles ; and when your Cream boils, pour in your Eggs, and continue ftirring them one Way only, till it comes to a perfect Curd ; then take it off the Fire, and pafs the whole through a Hair Sieve. After that, beat it well with a Spoon till tis quite cold; and then 'tis ready to be ferved up to Table.

> Anotber Way.

Take a Pint of the fweeteft and thickeft Cream you can get, and fweeren it to your Tafte with dou-ble-refined Sugar; then grate a fmall Quantity of Nutmeg into it, and add one Spoonful of Orange.

(205)

Flower and Rofe-water mixed, and two Spoonfuls of Canary; after this, beat up four Eggs with one Half of their Whites, and mix them with your Cream: Then pour the whole in o a Sauce-pan, and let it fland over a gentle Fire till it comes to a proper Confifterce ; but take Care all the Time to keep flirring it one Way only. Have your Cups in Readinefs, and fill them while your Ingredients are warm; but don't ferve them up till they are perfectly cold.

To make Ratifia Cream.

Boil fix large Laurel-Leaves in a Quart of the fweeteft and thickeft Cream you can get; but throw the Leaves away as foon as they have been boiled long enough. In the mean Time, beat up the Yolks only of five or fix Eggs with a fmall Quantity of cold (ream, and as much double-refined Sugar as will be agreeable; when you have thickened your Cream with your Eggs, fet the whole once more over the Fire, but ake care that it does not boil, and keep ftirring it all the Time one Way only. Whilf 'is hot, pour it into your Clina Bafns; and as foon as it is perfectly cold, it is fit for Ufe.

To make whipt Cream.

Beat up the Whites only of elght Eggs in Half a Pint of Sack, and put to them a Quare of the fweeteft Cream you can get; when you have flirred them all up together, add as much double-refined'Sugar as will fuit beft with your Palate. If you like it perfumed, you may feep a little Mulk or Amber-greafe, tied up in a Rag, in your Cream. Have a Whifk in Readinefs, with fome Lemon-peel tied up in the Middle of it, and whip your Cream up with it. Take off the Froth with a Spoon, and put it into your Glaffes, or Bafons.
$N$. B. If you defign to fend up any fine Tarts to Table, this whipt Cream is very proper to be laid oves them.

To trake whipt Syllabubs.

Grate the Peel of two Lemons into a Quart of the thickeft and beft Cream you can get; add thereto, Half a Pint of Sack, and the Juice of two Serville Oranges, and Half a Pound of the beft Loat-fugar ; pour your Ingredients into a broad Pan or deep Difh, and whifs them very well ; have in Readinefs by you, fome red Wine, or Sack, that has been fweetened to your Palate, and put what Quantity (more or lefs) as you think convenient, into your little Glaffes; then as the Froth rifes from your whipping the other Ingredients, take it off with a Spoon, and put it gradually into your Glaffes, till they are as full as they can well hold. Take Notice, Thefe Syllabubs will not keep long, and therefore, make but little more than what you propofe fhall be eaten in a few Days. It is cuftomary with fome People, to make ufe of Cyder fweetened initead of Wine; but in fhort, any Wine you like beft, and fiveetened to your Palate, is proper for the Purpofe. Others again, make ufe of Lemon, or Orange-whey, made after the following Manner. Take about a Quarter of a Pint of Milk and fqueeze the Juice of an Orange, or Lemon, into it; a foon as your Curd is grown hard, clear the Whey from it, and fweeten it to your Tafte. As to your colouring of it, you may make ufe either of the Juice of Saffron, Cochineal, or Spinach, according as your Inclination directs you.

To moke everlafting Syllabubs.
To five Pints of the thickeft and beft Cream your can procure, add Hialf a Jint of Rbeni/b, the fame Quantity of Sack, and the Juice of two or three Sewille Oranges, according as they are in Bignefs. Sweeten there Ingredionis with at leaft a Pound of double-refned Sugar, that has been pounded to Powder and well fifted; whilk all well together with a Spoonful of Rofe or Orange-Flower-water, for the Compafs of about Half an Hour without Intermifion; thene take off the Froth and fill your Glaffes with it.

(207)

Thefe Syllabubs will keep a Week or a Fortnight, and are better the Day after they are made than to be ufed immediately. The beft Method, however, of whipping a y Syllabubs, is to have ready by you a large Chocolate-Mill which fhould be referved for that particular Purpofe, and a large deep Bowl to perform the Operation in ; your Froth will by that Means be not only fooner raifed, but will fand much ftronger.

Of the Thin that is left at the Bottom, you may make, if you think proper, a very fine Flummery.

When you are fo inclined, you muft have in Readinefs by you a fmall Quantity of Calf's-Foot-Jelly, both boil'd and clarified; as foon as 'tis cold, take the Fat off, and clear it with the Whites of Eggs ; and run it through a Flannel-Bag; then mix it with what you referved from your Syllabubs. When you have fweetened it with double-refined Sugar to your Tafte, give it a Boil; then pour it into large China-Cups, or Bafons. Turn it out when 'tis quite cold, and your Flummery is made.

To make a fine Syllabub from the Cow.

Sweeten a Quart of Cyder, or what Wine you pleafe, with double-refined Sugar to your Palate, and grate a Nutmeg into it ; then milk the Cow into your Liquor. When you have thus added what Quantity of that warm Milk you think proper, pour Half a Pint, or more (in Proportion to the Quantity of Syllabub yon make) of the fweeteft Cream you can get, all over it.

This Syllabub may be made at Home, without going to the Cow, if you think proper. You muft take care, however, to have your Milk as new as you can, and, when you have fet it over the Fire till 'tis Bloodwarm, pour it out of a Tea-pot, or any other Thing of the like Nature; and by holding your Hand very high, it will raife as good a Froth as if milk'd from the Cow.

Instructions for making feveral Sorts of Fiummeries.

To make Flummery with Oatmeal.

PUT what Quantity of Oatmeal you think convenient into a Pan that is both broad and deep, and cover it with Water; and after you have flirred at well together for fome confiderable Time, let it ftand for twelve Hours; then clear off your firf Water, and add frefh to your Oatmeal; and fhift it thus orce in twelve Hours feveral Times; then ftrain your Oatmeal, thro' a coarfe Hair-fieve, into a Sauce-pan, and fet it over the Fire. Take care to keep firring it with a Stick all the Time till it boils to a Confift. ence; then pour it out into Difhes; as foon as "tis cold, turn it out into Plates, and add to it what Wine, Beer, Milk, or Cyder, you think proper, and fweeten the whole to your Palate with double-sefined Sugar.

Take Notice, A great deal of Water mult be put at firft to your Oatmeal, and when you pour off your laft Water, you muft pour no more frefh Water on, than will juft be fuficient to frain your Oatmeal off. Some Ieople let their Oatmeal ftand in Water eight and forty Hours ; and others for three Days fucceffively, only oblerving to fhift their Waters every twelve Hours ; but that is juft as Fancy directs, and as the Perfons that are to partake of it loves it either tart or Sweet.

Grotes, however, that have been once cut, do better than Oatmeal. Every Time you add frefh Water, take care to flir it well together as you did at firft.

To make French Flummery.
Beat Half an Ounce of Ifinglafs very fine, and flir it insto a Quart of the thickeft Cream you can get ; let it boil for about a Quarter of an Hour over a gentle Fire ; bat take care to keep it ftirring all the Time: When you take it of the Fire, fweeten it with dou-ble-refin'd Sugar to your Tafte, and add to it an equal Quantity of Rofe and Orange-Flower-water; a Spoonful of each will be fufficient. Then ftrain it off, and pour it into Bafons or Cups, or what you pleafe; as foon as 'tis cold, turn it out on Plates. This makes a very handfome Side-Difh. You may add Wine, Cream, or Cyder to it, when you eat it, as you pleafe, and fweeten it with Loaf-fugar to your Palate.

(209)

When you ferve it up to Table, lay bak'd Pears all round your Difh.

Flummery, thus made, not only looks pretty, but eats very agreeably.

To make Harthiorn-Flummery:
Take Half a Pound of the Shavings of Hartfhorn, and boil it in three Pints of Water till 'tis reduced to a Pint; then ftrain it thro' a Sieve into a Bafon, and let it ftand there till 'tis almoft cold ; then fet it over the Fire again; and as foon as you find it diffolved, add Half a Pint of the thickeft Cream you can get to it, that has been fealded and grown cold again, a Quarter of a Pint of White-Wine, and two Spoonfuls of either Rofe or Orange-Flower-water. Sweeten it with double-refined Sugar to your Palate, and keep beating it for at leaft an Hour and an Half without Intermiffion; for otherwife it will neither mix well, nor look agreeably to the Eye: Before you put your Flummery into your Cups, dip them in Water, for otherwife it will not turn out as it fhould do. This Flummery may be eaten with either Wine or Cream, fweetened with double-refined Sugar to your Palate.

When 'tis ferved up to Table, let fome blanch'd Almonds, that have been cut into long narrow Bits, be fluck upon the Top of $i$.

Instructions for making divers Sorts of Jellies.

To make Harthorn-Jelly.

PU T Half a Pound of Harthorn into three Quarts of Water, and boil it till it turns to a Jelly over a flow Fire. Strain it before it grows cold ; then put it into a Sauce-pan that is very well tinn'd; then add to it about a Pint of Rhenif Wine, and a Quarter of a Pound of double-refined Sugar; when you have beat up the Whites of near Half a Dozen Eggs into a Froth, flir all the Ingredients well together, that the Whites may be well mixed with your Jelly. When it has boiled for a few-Minutes, add to it the Juice of three or four Lemons; and then give it another Boil for about two Minutes. As foon as you find it very well curdled, and very white, have in Readinefs your Jelly-bag laid over a China-Difh; pour your Jelly suto i and back again. till 'is' as clear as Rock-waser. Thus duly prepared, fill your Glaffes with a clean Spoon. Have ready for the Purpofe fome of the Rhind of your Lemons, pared as thin as pofiible; and as foon as you have half filled your Glafes, throw your Pecl into your Difh, or Bafon, over which your Bag is laid, and by that Time all your Jelly is run out, it will appear of a fine Amber Colour. As there is no certain Rule to be prefcribed for putting in your Ingredients, you may put what Quantity of LemonIuice and Sugar is moft agreeable to your afte; but, in the Opinion of mof People, they are good for wery little, unlefs they are very fweet.

To make (alf's-Feet Jelly.
Put two Calves Feet into a Sauce-pan with a GalIon of Water in it; let it boil over a gentle Fire till your Liquor is reduced to one Fourth of its Quantity, and then Arain it; when it has food till 'tis cold, fkim fkim off all the Fat that will lie on the Surface of it as clean as polibly you can. When you take up your Jelly, if you find any Sediments at the Botiom, make no ufe of them; bu put your clear Jelly into a Saucepan, and add to it about a Pint of Mountain Wine, Half a Pound of double-refined Sugar, and the Juice of four large Lemons Have in R adinefs the Whites of about Half a Dozen Eggs, or more, if you think proper, that have been well worked up with a Whifk; add them to the reft of your Ingredients in your Sauce pan, and keep flirring them all well over the Fire till they boil. In a few Minutes 'twill be enough. Have in Readinefs a large Flannel Bag, and pour your Liquor in directly ; and as it will foon run thro', pour it in again, till you find it run perfectly clear ; then take a large China-Bowl, with the Peels of your Lemons cut as thin as poffibly may be, and let your Jelly run into that Bowl; for the Peels will not only give it a fine Amber Colour, but a Flavour likewife. Eill your Glafles with a clean Silver Spoon.

To make Currant-Jelly.
When you have ftrip'd your Currants from their Stalks, throw them into a Stone Jar ; and when you have flopp'd the Mouth of it as clofe as poffible, fet it into a Kettle of boiling hot Water that rifes to Half-way of your Jar; when it has flood over the Fire in fuch boiling Water for Half an Hour, take it off, and frain off all the Juice you find in it thro' a Hair-fieve. Put a Pound of double refined Sugar to a Pint of yoúr Juice; and then fet your Ingredients over a quick, clear Fire, in a Bell-metal Skillet, and keep ftirring them till all your Sagar is well diffolved; then, as you will find a Scum arifes, take it very carefully and cleanly off; when your Jelly is fufficiently fine, pour it into Gally-pots; when tis cold, have fome white Paper in Readinefs cut of the exact Size of the Mouths of your Pots; then dip thofe Papers into a fmall Quantity of Brandy, and lay your Jelly upon them; then cover the Miouths clofe with white Paper, that has had Holes frick'd through it.

You may put fome of your Jelly into Glaffes, if you think proper; but take care to paper them as you do your Pots. Take care to keep them in a Place that is perfealy dry, that no Damp may come to them,

To make Rafberry-Jelly,
To one Pint of your Currant-Jelly put a Quart of Rafberries, and mafh them well together; then fet them over a gentle Fire, in a clean Sauce-pan, and keep them firring till you find they boil. In about Half a Dozen Minutes afterwards they will be enough. Pour your Ingredients into Gallipots, or Glaffes, and. paper them as you would your Currants. They will keep good, and have the full Flavour of the Rafberries for two or three Years fucceffively, if required.

Having now purfued my Infructions through Cookery, Paftry, and Confectionary, $\xi^{\circ} c$. as far as I humbly conceive, is requifite for anfwering the End propofed; I imagine it will not be amifs to add the following Tables, to prevent my young Pupils from being impofed on, by any of the Tradefmen with whom they muft have Dealings, almoft every Day, for one trivial Article, or another.

Thefe Tables will ferve for various Purpofes, and Thew the Amount of any Number of Things, at a fixed Price for one Thing fingle in Weight, Meafure or Tale; alfo they fhew the Price of one fingle Thing, at any Price for 100 , or 104, or 105 . or 112 , or 120 ; all which feveral Numbers, are in fome Trade or other called $A n$ Hundred thus-

A Serious Exhortation to Maid-Ser-

 VANTS, in regard to the Regulation of their Conduct; with flort Prayers, and Hymins for their Devotional Exercife every Day.THE firf Duty incumbent on you, in that humble Station allotted you by Providence, is to pay a juft Regard to all the lawful Commands of thore in Authority over you; and this Obedience is exprefly required of you by the Apoftle Paul, in his Epiftle to the Epheffans, Chap. vi. ver. 6. Servants, fays he, directing his Difcourfe particularly to that Clafs of People under his Care, obey in all things your Mafors, and Miftrefes, &cc. And this Obedience mult be paid without the leaft Murmur or Complaint ; not ruith EycService, as Men-pleafers, lut in Singlenefs of Hcart, that is, with Chearfulnefs and a willing Mind, whether abfent or prefent. And in order to induce them to fuch an immediate Compliance, they are to reflect, that this Duty is to be paid to the Lord, and not unto Men: And fuch a Motive may well make them do it with Good-Will, and with Pleafure too, how harfh or unworthy foever the Mafters or Miftreffes Deportment may poffibly be towards them ; but more particularly, if what the Apofle in the before-mentioned Epiftle farther urgeth, be but taken into their ferious Confideration, and that is, that there is a Reward to be expected from God for it.

The fecond Duty incumbent on a Servant is Fidelity to the Truft that is repofed in her ; and that may be of two different Kinds; the firt, as urged in dircet Oppofition to Eye-Service; and the laft, to every Action of Injuftice. The former is the doing of al true Service, not only when her Miftrefs's Eye is over her, and when Punifhment may juitly be expected as the natural Confequence of her Neglect ; but at all Times and Seafons, even when 'tishighly improbable that her Miftrefs frould difcover her illegal Practices ; and that Servant, (Male or Female) that makes no

Confcience of this, is aliogether unworthy of the Name or Character of a faithful Servant ; this Eye Service being by the Apoflle before-mentioned fet in direct Oppofition to that Singlenefs of Heart which he recommends to their Practice, and requires at their Hands. The other Kind of Fidelity confifts in the honeft and fair Management of all fuch Things, whether of great or little Confequence, as are entrufted to their Care ; that is, the not wafting his Goods (as the unjuft Steward was accufed to have done, who is recorded in the Gofpel of St. Luke) whether by carelefly embezzling fuch Effects, or by converting them to her own private Ufe without her Miftrefs's Knowledge or Confent. This latter is that Purloining, of which the fame Apoftle, in his Epitle to Titus, cautions every Servant not to be guilty; and, indeed, fuch a clandeftine Practice is an abfolute and arrant Theft ; of this Kind are all thofe under-hand Dealings, whereby any Servants make a private and illicit Gain to themfelves, either by Bribery or Corruption, or entering into any Contracis to their Mafter's apparent Prejudice and Diiadvantage. But give me leave to add, that fuch Acts of Infidelity are worfe, and of a more flagrant Nature than common Theft; as the Breach of that Truft which is repoled in them, is an Aggravation of their Guilt. As to the other Kind of Infidelity, that of Embezzlement, though without any real Profit or Advantage to themfelves, the Difference is not very wide; fince the Mafter may poffibly be as great a Sufterer one way as the other. It is much the fame with refpect to him, whether his Lofs arifes from his Servant's Avarice or Neglect. And is it not the very fame Breach of Truft? For every Mafter is fuppofed to entruft his Effects as well to the Care, as to the Integrity of his Servants ; for it would prove but of little Advantage to the Mafter, to be fecured that his Servants would not cheathim themfelies, when in the mean Time, by their Remifsnefs, they give others an Opportunity to defraud him. Such Servants therefore (Male or Female) that do not carefully and diligently look to their Mafter's Intereft and Advan-

Advantage, breaks their Truft as much as they that unjuftly provide for their own Emolument.

A third Duty incumbent on Servants is the Exercife of theirPatience andMeeknefs, when they find themfelves under their Mafter's juft Refentment; they are not to anfwer again, that is, not to make fuch faucy and furly Replies, as may aggravate and heighten their Mafrer's Dirpleafure ; a Practice too frequent among Servants of both Sexes, even upon the moft juft Provocations; Whereas Peter, the Apofle, direets them to fuffer with Patience, not only when they are undefervedly corrected, but when they even fuffer for doing rvell. This Patience, and Meeknefs, however, is not all that is required of them; for they muft mend the Fault for which they have received Rebuke; and not think they have difcharged their Duty by their Silence, and turning a deaf Ear to what is laid to their Charge. I fhall mention but one Duty more as incumbent on all Servants, and that is, to be induftrious in their Calling. Servants are under an indifpenfable Obligation to attend conftantly on all fuch Things as are the Duties of their Station, and not to loiter, or give themfelves up to Indolence and Eafe; nor yet to be addicted to Company-keeping, or what is ftill worfe, to Gaming or any other irregular Courfes, whereby their Mafter's Bufinefs is neglected.

Now all thefe are neceffary Duties, which Servants ought confcientioully to perform, not fo much to efcape their Mafter's Difpleafure, as the Anger of the Almighty, who will moft affurenly call each of them to account, and either punifh or reward them hereafter according to their Deportment here on Earth.

A MORNING PRAYER.

0Almighty Lord God, who never flumbereft nor fleepeft, I blefs thee for the great Mercy of delivering me the Night paft from the Peftilence that walketh in Darknefs, and all the manifold Misfortunes that might pofibly have attended me whilt I was flumbering and fleeping. I humbly pray, that thy Providence, which was my Protector in the Night, may be alfo my Preferver in the Day. May I be fo quided by it, that I may rot come where Sin or any Mifchief may befal me! Preferve my Soul in Innocence, and my Body in Safety. Profper the honeft Labour of my Hands. Give me a Heart to commiferate the Diftreffes of my Fellow-Creatures, and to relieve them, as far as my Circumftances will admit me. Keep me from being feduced by any idle, worthle's Wanderer, and from leading any FellowServant aftray by my own evil Example. Grant, that I may do Nothing, the Remembrance whereof may pruve grievous to me at Night, or which may be inexcu'able at the laft Day of Accounts. Deliver me from the Misfortunes that attend a deluded Judgment. Let me not think that to be allowable or good, - hich thou wilt one Day cenfure as an Impiety and a a Abomination ; but enable me to difcern clearly Pight from Wrong ; and upon the Difcovery, to efchew that which is Evil, and cleave to that which is Good; all which I beg, not for the Sake of any Thing that I have done, but for the alone Merits of my Lord and Saviour Jefus Chrit, in whofe moit holy Name and Words, I defire farther to call upon thee, faying.

Our Fatber, &ec.

An EVENING PRAYER.

IRemember, O Lord, with unaffected Sorrow and Contrition the Errors and Provocations of the Day paft, and upon the Recollection, I deteft and abhor myfelf for having committed them. They are very grievous to my Soul, and the more, becaufe thy great Goodnefs and Mercies have deferved better Returns at my Hands. 'Tis a fincere Affiction to me, that I have moft fhamefully and ungratefully wounded the Breafts which gave me fuck; but if thou wilt gracioufly blot them out of thy Remembrance, I will endeavour, to the utmoft of my Power that they fhall never again defile my Converfation. I dare not lie down to reft, till I have in fome Degree appeafed the Anger of thy provoked Omnipotence Spare me, O Lord, fpare me, and let not thine Anger confume me in the Night. Let the Shepherd of Ifrael, who neither flumbers nor fleeps, be my Protector now, and my Sancifier hereafter. Preferve me from all Danger, and being refrefhed with a moderate Degree of Reft and Sleep, let me rife in the Morning to do thee more laudible Service. Keep me from all Tranfgreffions in the Night; let not the Remembrance of my paft Frailties be pleafing to me upon my Pillow; but let me ever think of them with Horror and Indignation; and may the Impreffions of thofe Reflections caufe me to naufeate the Pollution which cleav'd unto me! If I have been deficient in any Branch of my Duty as a Servant, open mine Eyes, that I may difcern it, and amend the Error of my Ways. Grant this, O Lord, for the Sake of thy dearly beloved Son Jefus Chrif, my Lord and Saviour, in whofe moft holy Name and Words, I defire farther to call upon thee, faying; Our Farber. &c.

A general Prayer for a Servant.

0Moft mighty God, and the great Lord and Mafter of all the World, who beholdeft with thine all-feeing Eye, thy great Houhold and Family here on Earth, look down upon me thine unworthy Servant, I humbly befeech Thee, with thine Eye of Providence ; grant me a contented Mind in that State thou haft placed me in, fo fhall I enjoy a continual Feaft. Alfift me, O Lord, with thy heavenly Grace, that I may perform Obedience, and be fubjeet to my earthly Mafters, whom thou haft been pleafed to fet over me, whether they be virtuous or wicked, courteous or froward. Profper all the Defigns I fhall take in hand, in this my Servitude, which are not in Oppofition to thy Commands. Preferve and keep me from all Evil, that no Enticements may allure me either to embezzel away any Thing entrufted to my Care, or have Society with fuch as are Enemies to my Mafter's Houfe. Let me chearfully proceed in my Service, that the Glafs of my Time may run out with Pleafure, and I in the End may be made free of that City of thine, the Nerw ferufalem, where I may reft for evermore. Amen.

An Hymn for the Morning.  I.

AWake, my Soul, and with the Sun Thy daily Stage of Duty run; Shake off dull Sloth, and joyful rife To pay thy Morning-Sacrifice.
II.

Thy precious Time, mifpent, redeem;
Each prefent Day thy laft efteem;
Improve thy Talent with due Care;
For the great Day thy felf prepare. III.

In Converfation be fincere ;
Keep Confcience, as the Noon-tide, clear :
Think how th' all-feeing God furveys
Thy fecret Thoughts, and all thy Ways.
IV.

Direct, controul, fuggeft this Day,
Whate'er, O Lord, 1 do or fay,
That all my Pow'rs, with all their Might, In thy fole Glory may unite.

An Hymn for the Evening.

1.

AIL Praife to Thee, my God, this Nigho:
For all the Bleffings of the Light:
Keep me, O keep me, King of Kings, Beneath thy own Almighty Wings. II.

Teach me to live, that I may dread.
The Grave as little as my Bed;
To die, that this vile Body may
Rife glorious at the awful Day. III.

O may my Soul on Thee repofe,
And may fweet Sleep mine Eye-lids clofe!
Sleep, that may me more vig'rous make, To ferve my God, when I awake.

> IV.

Q may my Guardian, while I fieep.
Clofe to my Bed his Vigils keep!
His Love Angelical inftil,
And flop each Avenue of 111 !
