PREFACE.

In presenting the "Gazetteer and Directory of the Counties of Haldimand and Brant" to the public, the compilers wish to state that their object, which they hope they have attained, is to provide a work which will prove not only useful, but interesting, and that every exertion in their power has been made to render it full, complete and reliable; and though, from the variety of sources from which the necessary information was obtained, and the impossibility of avoiding all mistakes in a work of this nature, inaccuracies will be found, particularly in the orthography of proper names, the publishers trust that as few errors will be discovered in this work as in any of a similar character, and that it will deserve the approbation of its Patrons.

We deem it our duty to return our sincere thanks to those who have so liberally aided the undertaking, by providing us with valuable information, as well as in a pecuniary sense. We are particularly indebted to the editors of the several papers in the Counties.

COUNTIES OF HALDIMAND AND BRANT.

HALDIMAND is bounded north by Brant and Wentworth ; east by Lincoln and Welland ; west by Norfolk, and south by Lake Erie. It contains twelve municipalities: the townships of Canboro, Cayuga North, Cayuga South, Dunn, Moulton and Sherbrooke, Oneida, Rainham, Seneca and Walpole ; and the villages of Cayuga, Caledonia and Dunnville. Oneida and Seneca formerly belonged to the Gore District, and Rainham and Walpole to the Talbot District. The remaining townships formed a part of the Niagara District.

THE COUNTY OF BRANT is bounded north by Waterloo ; east by Wentworth and Haldimand ; south by Haldimand and Norfolk, and west by Oxford. It contains eight municipalities ; the townships of Brantford, Burford, Oakland, Onondaga, South Dumfries and Tuscarora, and the towns of Brantford and Paris.

At the termination of the war of Independence, the Six Nations Indians of the Mohawk Valley, (a branch of the Great Huron Iroquois confederacy), the firm allies of the English Crown from the earliest colonial times, became apprehensive that consequences injurious to their interests might result from their hunting grounds being within the territory of the United States, and deputed their Chief, Captain Jos. Brant, Tyendenaga, to represent their fears to General, afterwards Sir Frederick Haldimand, then Governor of the Province of Quebec. Their claims upon the Government were acknowledged, and by a proclamation dated October 25th, 1784, it was declared "That they and their posterity should be allowed to possess and enjoy a tract of land six miles in depth, on each side of the Grand River, running into Lake Erie, being part of a large tract lately purchased by Government from the Chippewa Indians." This grant was confirmed, and its conditions defined by a patent under the Great Seal, issued by Lieut. Governor Simcoe, and bearing date January 14th, 1793. The original extent of the tract was 694,910 acres, but the greater portion has been since surrendered to the crown, in trust, to be sold for the benefit of the tribes. The following is a list of the principal surrenders :

January 15th and February 6th, 1798—The land now forming the townships of Dumfries, Waterloo, Woolwich, and Nichol, extending downwards on both sides of the river from the northern extremity of the reserve ; and the greater part of Canboro and Moulton on the eastern side of the entrance of the Grand River, 352,707 acres.

April 19th, 1830—The site of the town of Brantford, 807 acres.

April 19th, 1831.—A part of the township of Cayuga, 20,670 acres.

February 8th, 1834.—The residue of Cayuga, the township of Dunn, and a part of Canboro and Moulton, 50,212 acres.

March 26th, 1835.—A confirmation of the preceeding surrenders.

January 18th, 1841.—The residue of the land, with the exception of a reserve of 20,000 acres, and the lands actually in the occupation of Indians, amounting to upwards of 220,000 acres.

Of the earlier surrenders, the greater portion has been sold, and the proceeds invested either in consols in England, or in the Grand River Navigation Stock.

In reference to the first surrender, the schedule specifies the following tracts :

Block No. 1, now forming N. & S. Dumfries, about 94,305 acres, was sold to P. Steadman for.....	£8,841
Block No. 2, sold to Richard Beasley, James Wilson, and John B. Rosseau.....	94,012 “ 8,887
Block No. 3, Wm. Wallace	86,078 “ 16,364
“ “ 4, Hon. Thomas Clark—no price named	28,512 “
“ “ 5, now forming the township of Moulton, to W. Jarvis, afterwards sold by him to Lord Selkirk, and subsequently to Henry J. Boulton,	30,800 “ 5,775
Block No. 6, given originally to John Dochstader, and by him sold to Benjamin Canby, now forming the township of Canboro.....	19,000 “ 5,000
	352,707 £44,867

These transfers were subsequently the cause of great annoyance and perplexity. The views of the Indians were expressed in an address made by them to the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, dated April 18th, 1811, in which the following sentences occur :

“ We thought when the Servant of our Father (Governor Haldimand) gave us, in his name, the lands on the Grand River, that we should be secure, and, without interruption, enjoy it as our own. In this we have been most egregiously deceived, and to our great surprise and grief we find ourselves, by the contrivance of artful, faithless and wicked men, stript of our property. What little is yet left us we are denied the lawful right of controlling or disposing of without our master's leave.”

The townships comprising the counties of Haldimand and Brant, with the exceptions of Rainham and Walpole in the former, and Brantford and Oakland in the latter, were comprised in the original Indian reserve.

The soil of these counties is diversified, consisting in places of high table land, the foundation of which consists of limestone and freestone; water lime and gypsum are also found in considerable quantities in the townships of Cayuga, Oneida, and Seneca. The land is generally rolling, of excellent quality, consisting of a mixture of clay and loam, in those portions timbered with hardwood, and of light sandy soil where the wood consists of pine. In some parts, especially in Brantford and Burford, there are extensive oak plains, easily cleared, and capable of producing excellent crops.

The counties are watered by the Grand River, which enters Lake Erie between the townships of Dunn and Sherbrooke; the Chippewa or Welland, and Canning rivers, and their tributaries, and several smaller streams.

The Great Western and The Buffalo and Lake Huron Railways pass through Brant, intersecting at Paris, and the latter through Haldimand.

THE SIX NATIONS embraced the following cantons or tribes: Mohawks, Oneidas, Senecas, Cayugas, Onondagas, and Tuscaroras. The latter being adopted into the confederacy subsequent to its first establishment. The Five nations were called Iroquois, from the Indian approbatory exclamations "Yoe! Haugh!" by the French. The origin of the Iroquois is very obscure. Their own tradition is that they originally descended the river Ottawa and resided as a small tribe at Hochelega, (Montreal) subject to the Adirondacks (bark eaters) or Algonquins, from whom they learned the arts of war and husbandry. In an attempt to gain their independence they were defeated and compelled to leave the country. They ascended the St. Lawrence, coasted the southern shores of Lake Ontario and entering the Oswego river, scattered themselves in separate bands throughout the present State of New York, but subsequently at the desire of the Onondagas, for mutual protection, they formed a league under the title of Ho-de-no-san-nee, or "People of the Long House," their territory extended from the river Hudson to the great lakes of Canada. The Mohawks guarded the eastern boundary, and the Senecas the western. This league suggested the union of the thirteen colonies in the Revolutionary war. The confederacy was formed about the year 1540, and was successfully maintained for upwards of 200 years, indeed it has never been formally dissolved. The Tuscaroras were admitted in 1712. In 1723 the Ne-ca-ri-a-ges a remnant of the Hurons at Mich-il-i-mac-i-nac (the "Great Turtle" abbreviated to Mackinaw) was nominally admitted. By the Algonquins the Indians of this celebrated league were known as the Mingoës, and by the Hurons and Ojibwas as Nod-a-was or "Adder Enemy." In their protracted wars they extirpated the Eries, utterly destroyed the power of the Hurons, defeated the Adirondacks and Utawas, and thus placed Canada under their sway.

In 1640-1670, they drove the 'An-das-tes and At-ti-ouan-di-rous, or "Neutral Nation," and the Petuns from the Niagara Peninsula and the Lakes; and after their conquest of Canada, established colonies along the northern shores of Lake Ontario. In 1740 they reached the zenith, and after the close of the American Revolution their power began gradually to decline. They afterwards removed to Canada and settled at Brantford, Tyindenaga, on the Bay of Quinte, and on the River Thames.

THE COMPANY FOR THE PROPAGATION OF THE GOSPEL IN NEW ENGLAND AND THE PARTS ADJACENT IN AMERICA, commonly called the New England Company, was constituted in the year 1649, the Hon. Robert Boyle, the first Governor, bequeathed the corporation a handsome annuity and several subsequent bequests and grants enabled the Society to support various missionary establishments in New England in the seventeenth century. Their operations were, for a time, interrupted by the Revolutionary war, and have since been carried to Canada and New Brunswick, where, in addition to schools and other establishments for the education of the Indians, they have contributed largely to the erection of churches, payment of teachers, &c. In the year 1702 this Society sent missionaries to the Mohawks in the neighbourhood of the English settlements. In 1714 the Liturgy of the Church of England was translated into the Mohawk, and a few years after the whole "Common Prayer" was also translated.

The Mohawk Church, one and a half miles from Brantford, is an object of interest, not only from the evidence it gives of the educational and religious status of the Indians at the time of its erection, but also from the fact of its being the first English church built in Canada West, that at Niagara being the next. We are happy to state that measures are being taken for its restoration and preservation. The Indians have in their possession a communion service of silver, the gift of Queen Anne. The church bell was also supposed to have been a gift from Her Majesty, but it was found to have been made by "John Warner, Fleet Street, London, 1786," and was doubtless procured by Joseph Brant, at the time of his visit to England, in the same year.

THE MOHAWK INSTITUTE, erected 1857, at a cost of $4000, about one mile from Brantford, is a handsome and commodious three-story brick building, pleasantly situated near the Grand river and in the old Mohawk village, now deserted. In this establishment about eighty pupils, male and female receive their board, clothing, and education in English branches. The building is well suited for the purpose—the dormitories dining and school rooms are spacious, well lighted and well ventilated. The proficiency of the pupils reflects great credit on the teachers, Mr. Thomas Griffith and Miss Ruth Hartley. The establishment is supported by the New England Company. Mr. and Mrs. W. Bauslaugh are caretakers of the premises.

A large majority of the Indians on the Grand River are Christians, and the greater part belong to the Church of England; there are a few Methodists and Baptists. A considerable number, however, of the Cayugas, and a few Senecas and Onondagas, are still Pagans.

The Grand River Indians, including also a few Delawares, Muntures, Tutulies, Nanticokes, and a considerable body of Massassaugas (Credit Indians), are under the superintendence of an officer of the Indian Department, residing at Brantford; they receive medical aid and annual payments from the fund of the tribes. In 1843 they numbered 2,223 individuals, forming about 500 families, and probably at present (1867) they amount to upwards of 3000.

JOSEPH BRANT (Thayendanega), a Mohawk of pure blood, was born on the banks of the Ohio, in 1742. He is said to have been a grandson of one of the five Sachems or Chiefs who visited England in 1710, during the reign of Queen Anne. In the Revolutionary war he took sides with the British, and as a prominent chief of the Iroquois, he influenced several Cantons of that celebrated league to join the British standard. During the war he was chiefly engaged on the border settlements of New York and Pennsylvania in conjunction with Sir William Johnson and Colonel Butler. He received a good education at Lebanon, Connecticut, and during the war held a Colonel's Commission from the King.

Brant was a warrior from his boyhood, being only thirteen years of age when he fought his first battle. In 1765 he married the daughter of an Oneida Chief, and settled near Canajoharie.

The town of Brantford, the county of Brant, and the township of Thayendanega, on the Bay of Quinte, where a number of the Mohawks had settled, were named after him. He translated the Gospel of St. Mark into the Mohawk language; and in many ways exerted himself to promote the temporal and spiritual welfare of his people. He was greatly respected and beloved by them and the English. In 1783, he visited England, and died near Wellington Square, Canada, on the 24th November, 1807, aged 65 years. His remains were removed to the Mohawk village, and interred by the side of the church which he had erected there. He was a noble specimen of a Christian Indian, and humane as he was brave.

His son John led the Mohawks at the battle of Queenston, October, 1812, and, in 1827, was appointed by the Earl of Dalhousie to the rank of Captain and Superintendent of the Six Nations. He died in 1832.

The Slab erected to the memory of Brant, bears the following inscription :—

THE GRAND RIVER OR OUSE takes its rise in the township of Amaranth, about fifty miles above Fergus and passing through the Counties of Wellington, Waterloo, Brant, and Haldimand, enters Lake Erie at Port Maitland. The Grand River is navigable for large vessels as far as Dunnville where the feeder of the Welland Canal enters it, and for smaller craft to within a short distance of Brantford, sixty miles above Dunnville, where a canal three miles in length, with three locks, has been constructed to enable vessels to reach the town. The damming of the river to supply the Welland Canal, has caused it to overflow much of the land near its mouth. Its principal tributaries are the Canestoga, Speed, and Irvine.

The towns and villages of Dunnville, Cayuga, York, Caledonia, Brantford, Paris, Galt, Preston, Elora and Fergus, are on the river. (See page 107.)

THE WELLAND CANAL connects Lakes Erie and Ontario, and thus overcomes the Falls of Niagara. Its length is twenty-eight miles.

It has twenty-nine locks, and surmounts 334 feet. This important work was projected in 1818 by the Hon. W. H. Merritt, commenced in 1824, and completed in 1829. The original design of connecting the lakes through the Welland and Niagara Rivers having failed, the Grand River was adopted as the feeder, and the difficulties of the descent were overcome by numerous locks. The Grand River feeder is about twenty-two miles in length. There are two entrances to the canal on Lake Erie—Ports Maitland and Colborne, and one on Lake Ontario—Port Dalhousie. This work cost nearly seven millions of dollars.

THOMAS McLEAN,
IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER, WHOLESALE & RETAIL,
DRY GOODS & READY-MADE CLOTHING,
 COLBORNE AND MARKET STREETS,
 BRANTFORD.

CAYUGA—NORTH & SOUTH.

The township of Cayuga was divided by Act of Parliament in 1849, into North Cayuga and South Cayuga, the dividing boundary being the Grand River. These townships have improved rapidly. In 1835, the whole contained only 296 inhabitants, and in 1852, the number had increased to 2837. The settlement of the townships commenced about the year 1832. The following were among the earliest settlers : David McClung, Edmund, Robert, and Abner DeCew, Donald Campbell, and Hiram Ferris. The land is rolling, the soil clay. The townships are well watered. Limestone, sandstone, and gypsum, are also abundant.

THOMAS M^CLEAN,

6 Colborne, and 3 Market Streets,

BRANTFORD,

IMPORTER AND MANUFACTURER,

GENERAL DRY GOODS,

MILLINERY AND MANTLES,

AND

READY-MADE CLOTHING.

MOULTON AND SHERBROOKE.

These townships are united for Municipal purposes. Moulton is bounded north-east by Wainfleet and Gainsborough; north-west by Canboro, and south by the Grand River, Sherbrooke, and Lake Erie. In 1835 it contained 426 inhabitants; the number had increased in 1850 to 1451. In 1850, seven thousand five hundred acres were under cultivation. A large swamp is situated in the south-east of the township and extends into Wainfleet. The feeder of the Welland Canal is formed through the south of the township, and enters the Grand River at Dunnville.

SHERBROOKE is the smallest township in the Province. It is bounded north-east and north by Moulton, west by the Grand River, and south and south-east by Lake Erie.

POST OFFICES.—Dunnville, Port Maitland, Stromness.

CENSUS OF 1861, MOULTON AND SHERBROOKE.—Occupiers of land 240; amount held in acres, 18,968; under cultivation, 7,297; under crops, 4,202; pasture, 2,872; gardens and orchards, 223; wood and wild lands 11,671; cash value of farms, $258,516. Population 1,791. Equalized assessment, 1866, $309,310.

MUNICIPALITY.—William Mossop, Reeve.

Oneida is bounded north-east by the Grand River; north-west by Tuscarora; south-east by Cayuga, and south-west by Walpole. The land is rolling, the soil loam, and the timber chiefly pine. In 1845, there were only 1,700 acres of land under cultivation in the township. It is well watered by several small streams, and there is a bed of excellent gypsum near the Grand River. The Hamilton and Port Dover road passes through the township.

POST OFFICES.—Dufferin, Hagersville, Mount Healy.

CENSUS OF 1861.—Occupiers of land, 348; amount held in acres, 31,927: under cultivation, 20,891; under crops, 12,021; pasture, 5,172; gardens and orchards, 401; wood and wild lands, 14,033; cash value of farms, $1,037,104. Population, 3,050. Equalized assessment, 1866, $473,706.

RAINHAM.

Rainham is a triangular-shaped township bounded west by Walpole, east by Cayuga, and south by Lake Erie. Its settlement commenced in the year 1793, and in 1817 it contained, with Walpole, 247 inhabitants. There were at that period in the two townships no school, store, or tavern. In 1835, the population of Rainham was 552; in 1852, it had increased to 1618, and there were 15,000 acres under cultivation. The land is of good quality, and the township is well watered.

CENSUS OF 1861.—Occupiers of land, 269; amount held in acres, 23,745; under cultivation, 13,255; under crops, 10,395; pasture, 2706; gardens and orchards, 154; wood and wild lands, 10,490; cash value of farms, $699,732. Population, 2116; equalized assessment, 1866, $368,756.

POST OFFICES.—Balmoral, Fisherville, Rainham, Rainham Centre.

MUNICIPALITY.—John Law, Reeve; Dilman Fry, Hiram Gee, Isaac Honsberger, Jacob Malenbacker.

WALPOLE.

This township is bounded on the east by Rainham; north and north-east by Tuscarora, Oneida and Cayuga, and south by Lake Erie. The settlement commenced in the year 1793, and in 1835 contained only 683 inhabitants. In 1850 the population had increased to 2,778, and there were 37,000 acres under cultivation. The soil is of good quality, generally loam, the timber hardwood and pine. It is well watered by small streams running into the lake. The road from Port Dover to Hamilton intersects the township.

CENSUS OF 1861.—Occupiers of land, 686; amount held in acres, 60,296; under cultivation, 32,592; under crops, 22,587; pasture, 9,668; gardens and orchards, 337; wood and wild land, 27,704; cash value of farms, $1,491,918. Population, 4842. Equalized assessment, 1866, $474,854.

POST OFFICES.—Cheapside, Erin, Hullsville, Jarvis, Nanticoke Selkirk.

TOWNSHIP OF BRANTFORD.

This township is bounded north by Dumfries, east by Ancaster, Co. Wentworth, west by Burford, south-east by Tuscarora and Onondaga, and south-west by Oakland. This is a fine township containing excellent and numerous well cultivated farms. It is watered by the Grand River, which passes through it, the river Canning and several smaller streams. The soil is generally a sandy loam, and that part of the township west of the town is of the kind known as Oak Plains, easy of cultivation and capable of producing excellent wheat. The roads are numerous and generally good.

TOWNSHIP OF BURFORD.

This township is bounded north by Blenheim ; east by Brantford and Oakland ; west by Oxford and Norwich, and south by Windham. The land is generally rolling, and the soil a sandy loam. The north of the township consists principally of oak plains. It is well watered by several small streams.

The settlement of Burford commenced in the year 1793, when wild land sold at five shillings per acre, and the first conveyance of land was made to George Forsythe and John Symington in 1798. In 1817 the population numbered 550 ; in 1841, about 2,000, and in 1852 the number had increased to 4,133. In 1866 the total of real estate was valued at $1,333,052, and the number of acres assessed was 66,654.

TOWNSHIP OF SOUTH DUMFRIES.

This township was originally united with North Dumfries, which forms part of the County Waterloo. Dumfries, north and south, was settled in 1816, by the Hon. William Dickson. In 1817, the settlers numbered thirty-eight, making with their families a population of one hundred and sixty-three, of all ages. There were in that year two hundred and forty-five acres cleared, and the business of the township, apart from agriculture, consisted of one saw mill and one store.

South Dumfries is bounded north by North Dumfries, Co. Waterloo; east by Beverly; west by Blenheim; and south by Brantford. The Great Western and Grand Trunk Railways pass through it, and there are two good roads from Paris to Ayr, and from Paris to St. George. It is well watered by the Grand River, and is one of the best townships in the Province. Large quantities of gypsum, invaluable for its fertilizing qualities, are found in beds on the bank of the river in the vicinity of Paris.

TOWNSHIP OF OAKLAND.

This township was formerly known as Townsend Gore, and more recently Burford Gore. It is triangular in form, and bounded north-east by Brantford; west by Burford, and south by Townsend. It was surveyed in the year 1798 by Thomas Walsh. The land is generally of good quality, and the greater part is under cultivation. There is a cedar swamp in the north-west. It is watered by Malcolm's creek, and its tributaries. In 1852 the population was 840.

POST OFFICES.—Oakland, Scotland.

CENSUS OF 1861.—Occupiers of land, 117; amount held in acres, 10,401; under cultivation, 7,533; under crops, 6,555; pasture, 819; gardens and orchards, 159; wood and wild lands, 2,868; cash value of farms, $402,978. Population, 1,087.

A flourishing incorporated village and station of the Buffalo and Lake Huron Railroad, on the banks of the Grand River, principally situated in the township of Seneca, a small portion on the opposite side of the river being in Oneida. A swing bridge, erected in 1843, subsequently destroyed by ice and reconstructed in 1865, joins the two portions of the village: the bridge is about 750 feet in length.

That part of the village in Oneida was laid out as a village by the Grand River Navigation Company in 1835—the plot contained sixteen acres and the village was named Oneida. In the year following the same company laid out another village plot on the opposite side of the river, about a mile below Oneida, which was called Seneca. In 1843 the government laid out a village plot under the name of Caledonia, which also included the village of Seneca. The village was incorporated in 1852, Ranald McKinnon first reeve. The post office was established in 1842, James Little, P. M. Among the first settlers of Caledonia were Thomas Bryant, Ranald McKinnon, James Little, John Jackson, Jacob Turner, G. & J. Bingham and Wm. McKenzie. The first general store was opened in 1842 by Ranald McKinnon, and the school in the following year.

At present Caledonia contains five churches. Episcopal, Rev. Mr. Hill; Presbyterian, Rev. James Black; Canada Presbyterian, Rev. Dr. Wilson; Methodist New Connexion, Rev. Mr. Pearson; and Roman Catholic, Rev. John McNulty. The last named is built of brick, the others are of frame. The manufacturing establishments are three flour mills, two woollen mills, two saw mills, a cabinet factory and several mechanics' shops.

The town hall, a commodious and handsome building, was erected about ten years ago.

Distances from Caledonia.—Hamilton, 14 miles; Cayuga, 11; Port Dover, 23; Brantford, 18; Hagersville, 9; Hullsville, 12; Jarvis, 15; Indiana, 3; Ballsville, 7; York, 5.

Daily mails. Stages to Port Dover, Hamilton and Cayuga. Population, 1,300.

CALEDONIA FLOUR MILLS.—R. McKinnon, built 1863, frame, stone foundations; water power, four run of stones; employs 8 hands; capacity upwards of 60,000 barrels per annum. The main building is 60×45 feet, the storehouse 50×30.

CALEDONIA WOOLLEN MILLS.—R. McKinnon, brick; water power; main building, 100×50 feet; employs about 40 hands manufacturing cloths, tweeds, blankets, flannels, &c.

BALMORAL FLOUR MILLS.—Wm. Hicks; water power; three run of stones.

SENECA WOOLLEN MILLS.—Thos. Lees. This establishment occupies the site of a similar factory erected in 1834 and destroyed by fire. Water power; four power looms; employs five hands.

SENECA FLOUR MILLS.—Wm. Tait, lessee. Water power; four run of stones; employs three hands. Capacity 60 barrels a day.

VICTORIA FOUNDRY.—Christopher Young; steam, engine 14 horse power; employs six hands, manufacturing agricultural implements, stoves, &c. A large blacksmith shop is attached. The proprietor is also extensively engaged in the manufacture of tin, copper and sheet iron ware.

CALEDONIA FOUNDRY.—Scott & Co.; steam, 16 horse power; employs from 20 to 30 hands.

CALEDONIA CABINET FACTORY.—John Builder; steam, 12 horse power; averages 10 hands.

CANFIELD, C. W.

CAYUGA.

The County Town of Haldimand, pleasantly situated on the Grand River, in the Township of Cayuga. The town plot was reserved at the time of the original survey by Sir John Colborne, and contains fourteen hundred acres. The settlement of the village commenced about the year 1836. In the following year a store was opened. Cayuga was incorporated in 1858. The court house, including the gaol and county offices, is a handsome building of stone, designed by Messrs. Cumberland, Ridout & Co., of Toronto, it is beautifully situated on a rising ground in an extensive enclosure, and has every convenience necessary for such a building. Cayuga does not possess many manufacturing establishments, and its distance from railway communication is detrimental to its prosperity. There are two excellent hotels in the village, the "Campbell House," and the "Exchange."

Daily mails. Stages to Caledonia and Canfield. Population, 800.

DUNNVILLE.

An incorporated village and station on the Grand Trunk Railway situated on the Grand River at its junction with the feeder of the Welland Canal, in the township of Moulton. The settlement of the village commenced in 1829, and the Post Office was established the following year. A. S. St. John, first post master. It is a place of considerable business and large quantities of farm produce, lumber, gypsum, &c., are shipped from it. Goods intended for places on the upper portion of the river are generally re-shipped here into vessels drawing less water. The value of the imports of the port of Dunnville for the half year ending December 31st, 1866, from the United States, amounted in the aggregate to $21,634, and the exports for the same period to $186,556.

Dunnville was incorporated in 1860, John Jarron, M.D., first Reeve. There are two grist mills, two saw mills, and a woollen factory in the village. The subjoined list will give all necessary information of the professional, mercantile and manufacturing standing of the town.

INDIANA.

(FORMERLY GRAND RIVER RAPIDS.)

A post village pleasantly situated on the Grand River, township of Seneca, three miles from Cayuga, eight from Caledonia, and sixty-two from Toronto. It contains two Churches—Presbyterian, Rev. A. Grant, and Roman Catholic, Rev. J. McNulty; a flouring mill, distillery, woollen mill, saw mill and pail factory, brick and tile yard, two general stores, two groceries, three taverns, and two blacksmith shops. A bridge spans the river here of 500 feet in length, built by the Indiana bridge company.

To render the Grand River navigable and to overcome the falls, eight locks were necessary. The first of these in ascending the river is at Indiana, where there is a fall of twelve feet; the next at York, with a fall of five feet nine inches; Sim's lock, or number three, is about one and a half miles from York, with eight and a half feet fall; the next at Seneca, with five feet nine inches fall; the next at Caledonia, with a fall of seven and a half feet; from thence there is a level water or slack water navigation for twenty-five miles, that is to within two miles and three quarters of Brantford, where there are three locks, each having a fall of eleven feet.

Among the early settlers of Indiana were Joseph Young, David Thompson, W. Fell, Daniel McKenna, John Darling, Aaron Helmer, and Robert Wilson. The Post Office was established in 1837.

BRANTFORD.

Brantford, the County Town of Brant, is beautifully situated on a high gravelly ridge, skirting the north bank of the Grand River, at the head of navigation, and on the Buffalo and Lake Huron Railway. Its name is derived from the celebrated Mohawk chief Brant. The site of the town, consisting of eight hundred and seven acres, was surrendered by the Indians to the Crown on the 19th April, 1830, and was surveyed the same year by Lewis Burwell, Esq., and immediately after lots were sold at an upset price of ten pounds. As early as 1834 there were a few settlers on the site of the town; stores were kept by Messrs. Wilkes, Douglas, and Gage; shoe shops by W. D. Dutton and A. Huntington. Messrs. Page and Lewis built the first grist and saw mills. The Grand River Navigation Canal, commenced in 1840, added materially to the early prosperity of the town. The capital stock of the company was £50,000, the greater part of which was held by the Indians. The object of the canal was to remove the obstruction to navigation by the falls on the Grand River below the town; its length is about three miles, and it is capable of admitting vessels of three and a half feet draught to reach the town.

In a commercial point of view, few towns in Canada possess greater advantages than Brantford. Situate in the centre of one of the wealthiest and finest agricultural districts in the Dominion, possessing first class manufacturing facilities, and having direct water and railway communication with all parts of the country and of the United States; It is rapidly increasing in wealth and prosperity, and must, at no distant day, become one of the most important towns in Canada.

The public buildings are numerous and elegant, the principal are the Court House, a handsome brick structure erected in 1842 at a cost of $32,000; the Registry office, Market house, Banks, Churches, Schools, &c. Ker's Music Hall is a fine building; it contains a stage, a gallery, dressing rooms, &c., is well lighted and ventilated, and is capable of seating eight hundred and fifty persons, There are also numerous elegant private residences.

The Victoria Square, in the centre of the town, is beautifully laid out, and planted with ornamental trees and shrubbery. The population of Brantford (1867), inclusive of the military, is 8,029, The total value and amount of real and personal property and income is $1,944,610.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

A village on the Brantford and Simcoe road, in the township of Brantford, five miles from the county town. The site of the village was laid out by Captain Joseph Brant, in 1801, who leased about 200 acres at the normal rent of a barley-corn a year for ninety-nine years. This was afterwards surrendered to the Government by the Six Nations in 1831. Henry Ellis, and Amos Sturges, were the first settlers. David Burtch opened a hotel here in 1812, and F. Yeward a store in 1815. The post office was established in 1826, Abraham Cook first P. M. The village contains three churches, Episcopal, Presbyterian, and Wesleyan. Grammar and common schools, and grist and carding mill. The surrounding country is remarkable for its beauty and fertility.

PARIS.

An incorporated town and station of the Grand Trunk and Great Western Railways, beautifully situated on the Grand River in the townships of South Dumfries and Brantford. It was laid out in 1830, by Hiram Capron, Esq., and received its name from the large quantities of gypsum or plaster of Paris found in the immediate vicinity. It is divided into the upper and lower town, the lower town being within the forks of the river, and the upper on the opposite side of Smith's Creek, in the township of Brantford. The town is beautifully situated in the midst of a rolling country and surrounded by excellent and well cultivated farms. Paris possesses every facility for becoming a place of great manufacturing importance, having the advantage of very extensive water privileges.

The settlement of the village commenced about the year 1820. In 1829, Hiram Capron, Esq., purchased one thousand acres, including the site of the town. In 1850, it contained a population of one thousand, and was incorporated as a village, and in 1855, as a town. Population, 1867, about 3000.

A reference to the subjoined list of residents, will give a sufficient idea of the mechanical, mercantile and professional prosperity of the town. The chief manufacturing establishments are the new Paris flouring mills, containing six run of mill stones, and capable of manufacturing 400 barrels a day, employing fourteen hands; the Paris mills, capacity 200 barrels a day; the brick mill, chiefly employed in gristing; Brown & Vivion's tobacco factory, employing thirty hands, and manufacturing about 800 lbs. a day; The British American Sew ing Machine Co., employing twenty hands; the Paris foundry, plaster works, two potteries, tannery, &c.

ST. GEORGE.

A thriving village, situated on lot No. 6, third concession, township of South Dumfries, nine miles from Brantford ten from Galt, eight from Paris, and three from Harrisburgh station. It was settled in 1829 by Peter Bouslaugh, and the post-office was established in 1835, George Stanton, first P. M. The village contains three churches—Presbyterian, Rev. Robert Hume ; Wesleyan Methodist, Rev. Thos. S. Keough, and Baptist, Rev. Joel Reddick ; and two schools, averaging 130 pupils. The business consists of two grist mills, flax mill, foundry, cheese factory, three general stores, and waggon, blacksmith, cabinet and harness shops. The village is beautifully situated in the midst of a highly cultivated and fertile country, and is justly celebrated for the purity and excellence of its water, Mill Creek, which flows through it, affords ample power for its manufacturing establishments. In the summer of 1866, a company was formed for operating in digging for oil, but the attempt has been for a time abandoned.

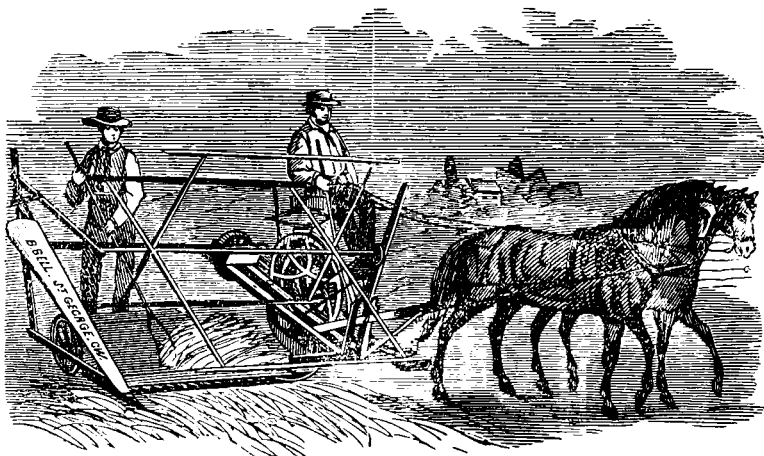

Daily mails. Population, about 500.
