

vince. In St. Andrews he had himself rode 20 miles on a Railroad. Mr. B. next entered into a long defence of the merits of the Saint Andrews Line, accompanied with a proposition for constructing Railways in this Province. It contained, he said—17,376,560 acres of Land, of which were granted—6,528,239 acres. The whole quantity granted and ungranted in the several Counties were as follows, in 1853:—

LIGHT HOUSES.

Board of Commissioners for the several Light Houses in the Bay of Fundy.—Robert W. Crookshank, John Ward, Isaac Woodward, Hon W. F. W. Owen, John Wilson, Lieut. Charles Hare, R. N., and John James Robinson, R. N., Esquires.

Isaac Woodward, Esquire, Surveyor of those Light Houses in the Bay of Fundy belonging to New Brunswick, and also of those belonging to Nova Scotia which are partly supported by this Province.

Cape Sable Seal Island Light.—The first Light in approaching the Bay of Fundy, is on the South Point of the Seal Island. This is a plain white Light, elevated about 80 feet above high water mark, and may be seen in approaching the Island from any point of the compass. A very dangerous rock, under water, but upon which the sea always breaks, called Blonde Rock, lies about $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles S. by W. by compass, from the Light House. Between this rock and the Island, there are some dangers—the ground is rocky throughout, and large vessels, therefore, ought not to attempt passing between them.

Brier Island Light.—In advancing up the Bay, the next Light is situated on Brier Island, about half a mile N. E. from the N. W. point thereof. A plain white light.

Digby Gut Light.—The next light on the coast of Nova Scotia is placed on the west side of Digby Gut—from Brier Island North Eastward. The coast is very bold and not indented; the Light is therefore chiefly intended as a guide into Digby Basin—A white Light.

Gannet Rock Light.—This Light is intended to warn vessels of their approach to a very dangerous range of shoals and ledges, which extend from the Old Proprietor to the Seal Islands off Machias, a distance of about twenty miles. It is a flash light—white—twenty seconds dark and forty light in each minute. The Light House is painted in stripes, vertical, black and white.

Bearings and Distance by Compass from the Gannet Rock Light House. This Light bears from the Light house on Brier Island, N. N. W. $\frac{3}{4}$ W. 22 miles.

From the Gannet Rock to the Old Proprietor E. $\frac{1}{2}$ S. distance 7 miles.
From the Gannet Rock to the Black Rock, off White Head Island, N. E. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. 7 miles.

From the Gannet Rock to the South West Head of Grand Manan, N. N. W. $6\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

From the Gannet Rock to the Northernmost of the Murr Ledges, N. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ N. $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

To the Southernmost of ditto, called Saint Mary's Ledge, W S. W. 2 miles.

From the Gannet Rock to Machias Seal Island, W and by N $\frac{1}{2}$ N. 12 miles.

NOTE.—Between the Northernmost and Southernmost of the Murr Ledges, there is a range of dangerous rocks and shoals, many of them always above water, and which extends Westward from the Light House about four miles; from this range, farther Westerly, about six miles from the Gannet Light, lies a dangerous breaker called the Bull. This may be avoided by keeping three remarkable headlands near the S. W. end of Grand Manan, open.

From Brier Island Light to the Old Proprietor, N. and by W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W.
18 $\frac{1}{2}$ miles

The Blonde Rock from the Southernmost point of the Cape Sable
Seal Islands S. and by W. $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles distant.

Machias Seal Island Lights.—There are two fixed white lights upon the Machias Seal Islands, elevated about forty-five feet above high water, and bear from each other E. S. E. and W. N. W. distant about 200 feet, by which circumstance of two Light Houses at the same station, they will be immediately distinguished from all other lights upon the coast, (British or American) Both the Buildings are painted white. The following are the bearings from them, viz:

To the Southernmost Murr Ledge, (St. Mary's) E. S. E. easterly.

" Gannet Rock Light E. by S. $\frac{1}{4}$ S 13 miles.

" Southern Head of Grand Manan, E. by N. $\frac{1}{2}$ N.

" Northern Head of Grand Manan, N. E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E.

" N. E. Rock, distant 2 miles, N. E. by N.

" Little River Head, N. by W.

" Libby Island Light House, (American,) N. W. by W.

Vessels standing to the Northward, between these Lights and the Gannet Rock, should tack or haul off the moment they bring these Lights in one, as they will not then be more than three fourths of a mile from the Murr Ledges, if more than five miles to the East of the lights.

[It is recommended that the Ship's Compasses should be well compared and adjusted (particularly in new ships), before they leave Partridge Island, as serious errors have frequently occurred from want of attention on this point; and as the variation in the Bay of Fundy is seventeen degrees Westerly, or ($1\frac{1}{2}$ points) it will be found by the latest published Admiralty Charts, that the course from Partridge Island down the Bay (South Channel) between the Old Proprietor and N. W. Ledge, is S. W. $\frac{1}{2}$ S., but the course to be steered must depend on the direction of the wind on leaving Partridge Island.]

Head Harbour Light.—Next in order after passing Grand Manan and the plain white Light, (American) on West Quoddy Point, is Head Harbour Light. This is placed on the North East extremity of, Campo Bello, and is a guide to vessels entering the main Channel to West Isles, Moose Island, and the inner Bay of Passamaquoddy; it enables vessels also at all times to enter Head Harbour—it is a fixed white light. The building is painted White, with a red cross on it.

Point Le Preau Lights.—Upon this projecting head land two lights are placed, one above the other, in the same house, and distant 28 feet—Both lights can be seen from every point of the compass, where they may be useful—both are fixed and white. The Light House is painted red and white, in stripes of five feet broad each, horizontally.

Partridge Island Light.—This light at the entrance of the River and Harbour of Saint John, having been established upwards of forty years, requires no particular notice, further than that it is a fixed white light, and that the Light House is red and white, in vertical stripes.

Beacon Light.—Within Partridge Island, and upon a Spit or bar which extends about half a mile S. S. E. off Sand Point, and which dries at two-thirds ebb, stands the Beacon Tower. Upon this Tower a light is established, which is eminently useful to the coasting trade of Saint John, and to all other vessels having pilots on board, as it enables them to enter the harbour at all hours of the night. A fixed white light. The House is white and black, in stripes vertically.

Quaco.—A revolving white light is placed on a small rock off Quaco Head, showing twice full and twice dark in a minute. This light can be seen from any quarter where a vessel can approach. The Light House is painted white and red in horizontal stripes.

Cape Enrage Light.—On the point of that name, in Westmorland, nearly opposite Apple River Harbour, N. S. A plain white light. The House is painted white, and is about 120 feet above tide mark.

West Quiddy Light.—This is an American Light, and is placed on the West side of the entrance into the Saint Croix by Lubec and Eastport.

Cape Forchu Light.—On Cape Forchu, on the western side of the entrance to Yarmouth (Nova-Scotia), in lat. 43, 39, N. long, 66, 8, W. It exhibits a plain revolving light—visible one minute and a quarter, and invisible half a minute. The building is painted white, and is elevated 135 feet above the level of the sea.

An Iron Bell Buoy (painted red) was laid down off this Harbour on the 28th September, 1852, similar in all respects to the Bell Buoy of the Port of Liverpool, G. B. It bears from Partridge Island Light House S. S. W. by compass $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

TIME FOR GOING THROUGH THE FALLS—(near Saint John.)—The Falls are level or still water at about three and a half hours on the flood, and about two and a half on the ebb, so that they are passable four times in twenty four hours, about ten or fifteen minutes each time. No other rule can be given, as much depends on the floods in the River Saint John, and the time of high water or full sea, which is often hastened by high winds, and in proportion to the height of them.

A year ago ! a year ago !

How chequer'd is that lapse of time,
Though brief its space ;—what grief and woe,

What steps towards the verge of crime,—
What changes may the spirit know

In twelve short months—a year ago.

A yea: ago—that Parent tree,

In green old age its branches spread,
And circling arms to shelter me,

Now number'd with the silent dead ;

And shrouded is that head of snow,

Where wisdom dwelt—a year ago.

The wintry wind blows chill and drear,
 And fast the snow is falling—
 Not one pale star shines forth to cheer
 The Watchman's weary calling.
 Still paces he his lonely beat,
 Now up and down the gloomy street
 With stiffening limbs and aching feet,
 His night song hoarsely bawling
 "What of the night! Ho! Watchmen tell!"
 "Past ten o'clock, and all is well!"
 Locked in sweet slumber's welcome chain,
 The weary world is resting,
 Nor dreams of him whose faithful heart
 The wintry storm is breasting.

MARCH.

[1856]

The day is dark, and cloud and gloom
Are sadly shadowed through my room;
The music of the gentle rain
Has changed its patter on the pane,
For shriller shrieks and wilder song,
As swept by borean winds along;
But still the sun is shining high
Above the melancholy sky.
The angry clouds are floating low
The trees are swaying to and fro;
A deeper gloom, a deeper shade
Is on the meadow, hill, and glade.

• How pleasant is the opening year :
 The clouds of Winter melt away ;
 The flowers of beauty reappear ;
 The songster carols from the spray ;
 Lengthens the more refulgent day,
 And bluer grows the arching sky ;
 All things around us seem to say—
 “ Christian, direct thy thoughts on high.”
 In darkness through the dreary length
 Of Winter slept both bud and bloom ;
 But Nature now puts on her strength,
 And starts renewed as from the tomb.

Behold an emblem of thy doom,
 O man!—a star hath shown to save—
 And morning yet shall re-illumine
 The midnight darkness of the grave!
 Yet ponder well, how then shall break
 The dawn of second life on thee—
 Shalt thou to hope—to bliss awake?
 Or vainly strive God's wrath to flee;
 Then shall pass forth the dread decree,
 That makes or weal or woe thine own;
 Up, and to work! Eternity
 Must reap the harvest, Time hath sown.

JUNE.

Summer again with her fragrance and bloom,
 Sunshine and music, soft light and perfume—
 Wreaths of rich roses upon her glad brow :
 Radiant and joyous one what bringest thou.
 Silver, thy foot upon the green hills,
 Murmuring music floats over the rills ;
 Gladsome and gay at thy presence is earth—
 Thy presence all music and gladness and mirth.
 Pass in thy beauty and brightness and mirth,
 Gay peerless Summer, along the green earth—
 Scatter thy treasures of leaf and bright flower :
 Thou hast a charm for sorrow's dark hour.

The fragrant rose that blooms beside the wall,
 By zephyrs swayed, is wafted to and fro;
 Along the path the varying shadows fall,
 Now dancing swiftly—moving now more slow,
 Soft, fleecy clouds that glide athwart the sun
 Float o'er green fields, and waters deep and clear;
 Their shadows, oftentimes sombre, dark and dun,
 Scud o'er the landscape as impelled by fear.
 Sweet shadows play upon a beauteous face,
 Expression giving to each feature fair;
 Imparting unto all bewitching grace,
 As they with rosy light alternate there.

AUGUST.

This morning stood the verdant spears,
 All wet with diamond dew—the tears
 By night serenely shed;
 This evening, like an army slain,
 They cumber the pacific plain
 With their fast fading dead.
 In idle mood I love to pass
 These ruins of the crowded grass,
 Or listlessly to lie,
 Inhaling the delicious scents
 Crushed from these downcast verdurous tents,
 Beneath a sunset sky.

Lift your eyes, the fields are white,
Harvest days are drawing nigh;
Every farmer's heart grows light,
Spare the rust and spare the fly.
Now the waving grain appears,
In its golden mantle clad;
How we ought to bless the years—
Plenty makes the poorest glad.
See, the harvest day has come;
See, the grind-stones all a-turn;
Men of nerve are earning "some"—
Money makes the pocket burn.

OCTOBER.

Hear the clatter of the rifle
 On the wide, old cradle-scythe;
 Sturdy farmers never trifle—
 How the grain begins to writhe!
 See the raker follows close,
 Binding up the golden sheaf;
 Turns the corner, takes a dose,
 Says it gives a "GREAT RELIEF!"
 Now the cart is loaded down—
 How it groans beneath the weight!
 Hurry up! the heavens frown—
 To the garner drive it straight.

NOVEMBER.

[1856]

Now the threshing day has come—
Boiled the pork and baked the beans ;
Hark ! the thrasher, how it hums,
Closing up the harvest scenes.
See, the yellow straw is stacked !
See, the farmer's bins are full !
See the merchant's head is racked
How he'll on him make a pull !
Now he flatters, fawns, and bows,
With his eyes upon the wheat ;
Talks of horses, hogs, and cows—
Eye him sharp, he's bound to cheat !

The silvery snow! the silvery snow!
 Like a glory it falls on the fields below;
 And the trees with their diamond branches appear,
 Like the fairy growth of some magical sphere;
 While soft as music, and wild and white,
 It glitters and floats in the pale moonlight,
 And spangles the rivers and founts as they flow!
 Oh! who has not loved the bright beautiful snow.
 The silver snow and the crinkling frost:
 How merry we go when the earth seems lost;
 Like spirits that rise from the dust of Time,
 To live in a purer and holier clime.

AGRICULTURAL.

CULTIVATION OF CORN.—I shall learn to be more explicit in my inquiries hereafter. The method of planting corn, pursued here, is this: The ground after being plowed and harrowed, is marked into four feet squares by two men crossing the field, lengthwise, and then at right angles to that, with a long pole to which are attached four heavy ox-chains, four feet apart. Men then proceed with hoes and hole it where these lines cross each other. They are followed by a load of manure, which is thrown by the handful into each hole; boys then drop five kernels of corn in each hill, which is then covered by the hoes of those who follow them. This method is so slow that last season the corn on one side of a 19 acre lot was up and ready to plow when they had finished planting the other side.

DECOMPOSITION OF SOILS.—Query. Do green crops when buried in the soil, undergo such a fermentation (acetous?) as to decompose certain portions of the soil, and thereby render them available for the food of crops?

In my native country (England,) a poor man once had all the mould of his garden carried off for the purpose of manuring poorer land, and had nothing left in it but the strong clay subsoil. He tried an experiment, which was to thoroughly dig through his garden every week to the depth of about fifteen inches, during several weeks. He afterwards sowed his garden seeds without manure, and never had a finer crop.

Again—near to where I lived was a small tract of country, about the poorest that I ever saw; the subsoil was sparry, pebbles and sand of the same nature. This was used to a considerable extent for macadamizing roads, garden walks, &c. It was reckoned to be no better than poison to be laid on fertile lands, yet a person having carried some to a considerable distance to lay a garden walk on a soil of a very different nature, soft slate mixed with clay, obtained the finest grass where the gravel was laid that he ever had on his farm.

SOUND ADVICE.—A word in the ear of the young farmer, especially on sandy soil. Keep as much stock of cattle, sheep, hogs, and poultry, as you can, and convert as much as possible of the crops into animal substance—save all the manure and offal, feed the land with it, and you will soon find that the more stock you keep the more you may keep.

THERE are few things in which farmers in general exhibit such gross waste and want of forethought, as in their treatment of their woodlands. Dependent as the great majority must always be for fuel; diminishing rapidly as they must be in our climate annually; a large proportion timbered with trees that do not readily shoot up, and will not grow again without some protection; we still see the noble trees of our original forests as carelessly and uselessly felled as though they were not the growth of centuries. Have you not some vacant spot in your orchard, or garden, some unplanted road side, some place in your yard where a few trees might be planted to advantage? Look around and see if there is not room for some, or perhaps many, of the kinds useful for timber, or their fruit, or ornamental purposes. You may have attended to this matter last spring, but the chances are that you will on examination, find room for more trees. If so, November is a very good time to supply the deficiency; not so good, perhaps, as the spring would have been, but too good to be allowed to pass without improvement. Trees may be transplanted at any time after the growth of the season is over, with perfect safety, and they may be removed at any time if the fine roots are undisturbed, and during removal retain their hold on the earth.

TO KEEP BUGS FROM VINES.—Take the feathers from a hen's wing, and dip them in spirits of turpentine, and stick one or two in a hill, and after every shower they will want to be dipped over again.

CARE OF HORSES, &c.—Is not the practice of going to supper and leaving a team meanwhile in the field, without any refreshment, both cruel and injurious? Should a horse or ox ever be worked more than five hours at a stretch? Does not colic very frequently take place from long fasting and the greedy stuffing which is apt to follow it? Has not the death of some animals been owing to long fasting and its usual concomitants?

THE USE OF LEAVES.—The office and utility of leaves are becoming better understood by cultivators than formerly; yet we find a good many still adhering to the old belief that the sun's rays, directly shining on forming fruit, are what perfect it, independently of other influences.

On this subject, theory and practice have been invariably found in perfect accordance with each other. The principles of physiology teach us that the sap of a tree, when it passes in at the roots, remains nearly unchanged in its upward progress through stem and branches, until it reaches the LEAVES, where, being spread out in those thin organs, to light and air, it undergoes a complete change, and thus becomes suited to the formation of new wood and new fruit. Strip a rapidly growing tree of its leaves at mid-summer, and from that moment the supply of new wood ceases, and it will grow no more till new leaves are formed; and if it have young fruit, the growth and maturity of the latter will cease in the same way. A few years since, a Yellow Gage plum tree lost all its foliage from leaf blight, when the plums were not fully grown, and while yet destitute of flavor. The fruit remained stationary and unaltered, until, in a few weeks, a second crop of leaves came out. They then swelled to full size, received their crimson dots, and assumed their honied sweetness of flavour.

CULTIVATING FRUIT.—Why is not fruit cultivated more extensively? If a person will take this question, and in travelling through the country, put it to every man he meets, he will receive a different answer from almost every one. Some will say they have not room, time or means; others, that they are too old to receive any benefit from it, or that the market for fruit will soon be glutted, and with a wise look they will tell you "that they don't mean to get their fingers burnt in that way." All these various answers serve only as mere shadows, to screen men's indolence and utter thoughtlessness upon this subject; for were they to give it a candid investigation they would be ashamed to utter them.

It is a fact that cannot be denied, that the cultivation of fruit is one of the most profitable, sure, healthy, and noble employments in which mankind can engage. It is profitable, because its returns are large, when compared with most other agricultural pursuits, considering the land occupied and the labor employed; and the profits are sure, because the demand increases faster than the supply. It is healthy, because it gives exercise to the muscles and mind, without over-taxing either, and because good ripe fruit is the healthiest food human beings can eat. It is noble, because it is the employment, the first employment, ordained by God for man, and therefore the most congenial to his nature.

But let us look at the subject in a practical light for a moment. There are thousands of farms that are well adapted to the raising of fruit, and many of them have been cultivated by two or three generations, without there ever having been one dollar expended or one day's work employed for the improvement of fruit; and the wild grape vine that grows by the side of the brook or river, or climbs to some tree or stone pile and covers their unsightliness with its beautiful verdure, is only tolerated because it is out of the way. The berry bushes that spring up here and there in out-of-the-way places, are hunted and destroyed as if they were so many wolves. Even the apple tree that springs up by chance in the field, is trimmed to mere poles, to prevent its shading the ground. Indeed I have seen large orchards trimmed to mere poles, with a little tuft of twigs on the end, perhaps twenty feet from the ground, for this avowed purpose. This is all the result of ignorance. Be assured these men do not read the COUNTRY GENTLEMAN—in fact they seldom read anything. Many people because they are not posted up in all the details of fruit-raising, think that the whole subject is entirely beyond their comprehension. Now this is a mistake; and any man that knows enough to raise a good crop of corn, can raise good fruit; in fact the most that is wanted, is to know enough to follow or imitate nature.

Plant trees or shrubs as nearly as possible as they grew; give them good rich soil, and keep down the weeds, and depend upon it they will grow.

HOW TO MILK A KICKING COW.—It is merely to place the patient in a stall with a beam over head, and fixing a running noose over her horns, throw the end of the rope over the beam, and pull away, so as to raise her head pretty high in the air, but not so as to lift her legs from the ground; in this position she will not only be disabled from kicking, but will give down her milk without the least hesitation.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MATTERS IN THE MOON.—What a curious almanack these good people in the moon would have! There, days are as long as years, and day and year are equal to our months, twenty-nine days, twelve hours and forty-five minutes. The seasons differ but very little from each other. On the equator there reigns eternal summer, for the sun is ever in the zenith; the poles are buried in eternal winter. The days are of equal length throughout the year, all days equally light, all nights equally dark. The absence of an atmosphere deprives the moon of the sweet charms of a twilight, and glaring day would follow gloomy night with the rapidity of lightning, if the slow rising and setting of the sun did not slightly break the suddenness of the transition. Human eyes, however, could not bear the fierce contrasts of light and shadow; they would long in vain for the soft intervals between the two extremes, the other colors, which beautify our world with their joyous variety and soft harmony. The sky there is not blue, but even in daytime black, and by the side of the dazzling sun the stars claim their place and light in the heavens. Near the poles the mountain tops shine in unbroken splendour year after year, but the valleys know neither day or night, scantily lighted as they ever are by the faint glimmer reflected from the surrounding walls.

The side of the moon which is turned from us, has a night of nearly fifteen days; the stars only, and planets, shine on its ever dark sky. The side we see, on the contrary, knows no night; the earth lights it up with never ceasing earth shine, a light fourteen times stronger, than that which we receive from the moon. We recognize our own light, lent to our friend, in the faint, grayish glimmer of that portion of the moon which before and after the new moon receives no light from the sun, but only from the earth, and reflects it back again upon us. Mornings in fall show it more brilliant than evenings in spring, because in autumn the continents of the earth with their stronger light illumine the moon, while in spring she only receives a fainter light from our oceans. Our orb appears to the Man in the Moon as changeable as his home to us, and he might speak of the first or last quarter of the earth, of new earth and full earth. The whole heaven moves before him once in 29 days around its axis; the sun and stars rise and set regularly once in the long day; but the vast orb of our earth is nearly immovable. All around is in slow, unceasing motion; the mild face of the earth alone, a gorgeous moon of immense magnitude, never sets nor rises, but remains ever fixed in the zenith. It there appears sixteen times larger than the moon to us, and daily exhibits its vast panorama of oceans, continents and islands. Bright lights and dark shadows are seen in ever varied change, as land or water, clearings or forests appear, new with every cloud or fog, and different at different season. The Man in the Moon has thus not only his watch and his almanack daily before him in the ever-changing face of the earth, but he may, for all that we know, have maps of our globe which many a geographer would envy on account of their fullness and accuracy. Long before Columbus discovered America, and Cook New Holland, our lunar neighbour knew most correctly the form and the outlines of the new continents. There was no new world for him, and there is none left. He could tell us the secrets of the interior of Africa, and reveal to us the fearful mysteries of the Polar Seas. But how he on his side must marvel at our vast fields of snow, our volcanoes and tropical storms and tempests—he who knows neither fire, nor snow, nor clouds! What strange fables he may have invented to explain the shadows of our clouds as they chase each other over sea and land, and hide from him in an instant the sunlit landscape! And stranger still, on the side of the moon which is turned from the earth, he knows nothing at all about us, unless news reach him from the happier side. Or he may undertake—the great event in his life—a long and painful journey to the bright half of the globe, to stare at the wondrously brilliant earth star with its unread mysteries and marvellous changes of flitting lights and shadows. Who knows what earnest prayers may rise from the moon, full of thanks for the floods of light and heat we pour upon them, or of ardent wishes that their souls might hereafter be allowed to dwell in the bright homes of the beautiful earth star.

ADVICE FROM AN "OLD INHABITANT."—1. Patronise your own traders and mechanics. This is doing as you would be done by; and is building up the town you live in.

2. Pay your debts; so that others can pay theirs.

3. Quarrel with no man; and then no man will quarrel with you.

4. Do not steal your preaching; a man was once struck blind, you know, for stealing fire from heaven.

5. Send your children constantly to school; and look in now and then yourself to see what they are doing there.

6. Keep all neat and clean about your dwellings; for cleanliness, you know, is the handmaid of health, and a distant cousin of wealth.

7. Avoid scandal; for this is a pest to any community.

8. Be liberal in respect to every laudable public enterprise; for the good book says, "the liberal soul shall be made fat."

9. Empty your liquor bottles; for you have already "forked over" quite enough for them.

10. Visit the sick, the widow and the fatherless; for that is one part of that religion which is "pure and undefiled."

11. Keep your children in of a night; for the evening air is bad for them, and finally,

12. Feed your mind as well as your body; for that, you know, must go into the scales at last.

N. B. These are not the twelve rules of President Jefferson; but they are much better than his, for there is more of the gospel in them. Please read them over again.

THE MORE you have to do, in a given time, the more time you will have left. Time is like an India-rubber bag—the more you crowd into it, the more it will hold.

THE SECRET OF GOOD WRITING.—The grand secret of good writing seems to be in this very simple maxim: Be sure you have an idea before you attempt to express it. If you clearly comprehend in your own mind what you wish to communicate, nature and reason, together with a little practice, will most certainly teach you how to say it in an appropriate manner.

A single idea is fully sufficient for one mind to manage at one time. And it may be added that if the idea is of much importance, it would be the most dignified by being honored with a private carriage.

Divide and conquer is as valuable a rule in literary as in military tactics. The more extensive the theme which the writer proposes to himself to discuss, the less, usually, he has to say upon it. Some subjects can be mastered with ease only by descending from generals to particulars, and treating of the subjects in their individual parts.

There is nothing more popular, especially with young writers, than brilliancy of style. This manner of writing is certainly excellent in its proper place, but there are many topics which do not require this quality, and many are much injured by it. The language of every dissertation should be that which is best calculated to express the thoughts in the happiest manner.

As the ray of the sun will not enkindle a blaze unless brought to a focus, so the thoughts of the writer will not set the hearts of his readers on fire, unless all are made to converge to a single point.

Some writers seem unable to express themselves in a cool rational manner on any subject. With them every virtue is God-like, every fault villainy, every breeze a tempest, every molehill a mountain. They appear to think their manner of writing is sublimity; but their judicious readers (if they have any such) call it tragidity and absurdity.

The design of language gives expression to thought—that style of writing, therefore, must necessarily be the best which most perfectly conveys to the reader's mind what the writer intended he should understand.—Gæthe.

AMUSING MISCONCEPTION.—Home, the author of Douglas, one day entertained at lunch the Lady Randolph of his play, the celebrated Mrs. Siddons. She was asked at table what beverage she would take, and replied, "A little porter." Ringing the bell—"Bring a little porter for Mrs. Siddons," said the reverend dramatist to his servant. The servant returned in a few minutes, bringing in from the street the least of the Gaelic porters he could find on the stand. Mrs. Siddons was convulsed with laughter—just as Faulkner, of the Durham Circuit, was, when, between two acts, running about the stage after he had been slain as Rolla, he roared to the property man, "Where's the bier?" and a little urchin answered, "Here, sir!" thrusting in his face "a gill of ale," which he had been intrusted to take behind the scenes from the Green Dragon.

WASTE—WASTE—WASTE.—What is there a man cannot waste? and that, too, without a single instance of lavish profligacy; but solely by those minute, scarcely perceptible squanderings, which, like the constant dropping of water upon the rock, wear away that which seems most likely to endure. He may waste his health by little indulgences of pernicious habits—by constant irregularities, slight in themselves, and their effects in single instances scarcely perceptible, but which, as violations of the laws of his being, will work gradual, but certain inroads upon the strongest constitution, until the energies decay, the fountains of life are dried up, and premature old age sinks like a crown of thorns upon the head of early manhood. He may waste fortune in early squanderings—time and talents on trifles, or in listlessness and idleness. How many a giant has been frittered away in pursuit of the benefitting objects of low ambition! How often do we see powers perishing for lack of thought—shrivelling into insignificance for want of intelligence to feed upon, which use might have polished to the highest brilliancy, and exercise would have made equal to achieving the noblest purposes! How many scatter, in idleness, or indifference to their value, the little minute particles of time, till golden hours, and days and years are wasted, the treasures of life all scattered, and death finds nothing but a poor naked and useless thing at the last.

ANECDOTES OF LORD NORTH.—This good humoured minister was always ready with a joke, and always appreciated one, even though it was at his expense. One night he rose to deprecate the too great readiness to give and take offence which prevailed in the house. "One member, for example," said he, "called me 'that thing called a minister.' Now to be sure (patting his portly sides) I am a thing; when, therefore, the gentleman called me a 'thing' he said what was true, and I could not be angry with him. But when he added, 'that thing called a minister,' he called me the thing which of all others he himself most wishes to be; and, therefore, I took it for a compliment." A prosing old sailor, well known for his lengthy orations, began to speak on an admiralty question. Lord North said to one of his supporters, "Now—— will give us a history of all the naval battles, from that of Salamis to that of last year. I shall take a nap; wake me when he gets near our own time. After an hour's infliction the friend nudged Lord North. My lord, my lord, wake up—he has got to the battle of Van Tromp." "Oh dear," said the sleepy minister, "you've waked me a hundred years too soon!" On his last night in office his antagonists had collected for a grand battle: Lord North rose in his place and declared the Administration at an end. Of course the house adjourned immediately. It was an awful wet night, and in those days cabs were not; the members, expecting a long debate, had ordered their carriages at 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning; and Lord North, as he passed through the baffled and imprisoned crowd of his opponents to his own chariot, bowed to the right and left, saying, with a smile, "Adieu, gentlemen; you see it is an excellent thing to be in the secret."

CONSCIENTIOUS.—A congregation raised the salary of their minister from $300 to $400. The good man objected, for three reasons. First, said he, you cannot afford to give more than three hundred; secondly, because my preaching is not worth more than three hundred; thirdly, because I have to collect the salary myself, which heretofore has been the hardest part of my labours among you, and had I to collect an additional hundred it would kill me.

A NICE QUESTION.—Sam—You'll get it for hooking dat turkey last night. Mas'r knows it. Pompey—I did'n't hook it. War'nt de turkey mas'r's? Well. Ain't I mas'r's? Well, I eat de turkey, did'nt I? Well. Ain't de turkey part o' me? Mas'r ain't got so much turkey, but ain't he got more nigger? I tell you de turkey only changed places.

A CANDID LAWYER.—“Do you think I will get justice done me?” said a culprit to his counsel. “I don't think you will,” replied the other, “for I see two men on the jury who are opposed to hanging.

CONVINCE a wise man of his error, and he will thank you; convince a fool and he will insult you.

WHITE MAN VERY UNSARTIN.—Boy, who do you belong to? asked a gentleman the other day as he stepped on board of a steamboat and saw a darkey listlessly leaning on the guards. I did b'long to Massa William, Sir, when I came aboard, but he's been in the cabin playing poker wid de captain 'bove an hour; I don't know who I belong to now.

PATIENCE.—A parson who could better preach of patience than practise it, was always irritated when he found his grandchildren in his study. One day one of those little children was standing by his mother's side, and she was speaking to him of heaven. Ma, said he, I don't want to go to heaven. Don't want to go to heaven, my son! No, ma, I'm sure I don't. Why not, my son? Why, grandpa will be there, won't he? Why, yes, I hope he will. Well, just as soon as he sees us, he will come scolding along, and say, Wheer, wheer! what are these boys here for? I don't want to go to heaven, if grandpa is going to be there.

FLINT AND CHESTER.—Several merry farmers of Chester were drinking at an inn, in Chester, when a Welshman from Flintshire joined them. One of the Cheshire fraternity, supposing himself wiser than ordinary, commenced teasing the poor Welshman, saying: Why are you Welsh folk allowed to speak twice, and we only once? O, quoth the Welshman, the reason is quite plain—you Englishmen are such blockheads that you must be spoken to twice before you will understand. The Welshman proceeded, permit me, sir, now to ask you one question. What is the reason that your beard is white, when your hair has preserved its original color? The sage acknowledged his ignorance. Well, said the Welshman, the reason is, that your chinbone has been exercised much more than your brains.

LAY by a good store of patience, but be sure and put it where you can find it.

REPROOF.—I can't find bread for my family, said a lazy fellow in company. Nor I, replied an industrious miller—I am obliged to work for it.

PUNCH'S DUST CART.—Some persons take more trouble in looking for pins than they would for stars.

There are two bores in Society—the man who knows too much, and the man who knows too little.

An Annuity too long Deferred maketh the heart sick.

Travelling, now-a-days, consists of living on railways, and sleeping at hotels.

The oddest Husbandry we know is when a man in clover marries a woman in weeds.

Remorse is the tight boot that pinches the sole.

The bread of Repentance we eat is in many instances made of the wild oats we sow in our youth.

CHURNING.—In churning butter, if small granules of butter appear which do not "gather," throw in a lump of butter, and it will form a nucleus, and the butter will "come."

TO REMOVE RUST FROM KNIVES, &c.—Cover the knives with sweet oil well rubbed on, and after two days, take a lump of fresh lime, and rub till all the rust disappears. It forms a sort of soap with the oil, which carries off all the rust.

GLOSS ON LINEN.—To restore the gloss commonly observed on newly purchased collars and shirt bosoms, add a spoonful of gum-arabic water to a pint of the starch as usually made for this purpose. Two ounces of clear gum-arabic may be dissolved in a pint of water, and after standing over night, may be racked off, and kept in a bottle ready for use.

AN INGENIOUS INVENTION.—An inventive genius, desirous of promoting the domestic rearing of hens, has invented a contrivance to keep them from scratching up the garden. It is a small instrument, somewhat resembling a very long spur, attached to the hind part of a hen's leg. The instrument is so arranged, that when the hen is about to scratch the earth, the spur catches in the ground before her foot has fairly descended, and obliges her to bring her foot down quietly and harmlessly a little in front of the place which she aimed at. The hen thereupon tries the other foot, with a like result. She keeps on trying, and before she is aware of it, the machine has walked her right out of the garden. This will be just the thing when the "hen fever" returns.

TO PREVENT BOTS IN HORSES.—A person of much experience in veterinary science is never troubled with this disease in his horses. His simple practice during the fall months is, to keep a greasy cloth in the stable, and once a week rub with it such parts of the animal as may have been attacked by the nit-fly. Grease destroys and prevents the eggs from hatching.

THE HEART AND THE SWORD.—It is recorded of the great Duke of Luxembourg, that on his death bed, he declared that he would have cherished more deeply the memory of having given a cup of cold water to one of his fellow creatures in poverty and distress, than all the victories he had achieved, with their scenes of blood, desolation and death. An admirable lesson is conveyed in this brief expression of opinion.

FLUIDITY.—The velocity of Electricity is 200,000 miles per second.

When glass is rubbed with silk the equilibrium of the electric fluid is disturbed, the silk imparts it to the glass; and hence the former, losing electricity, becomes minus or negative, and the latter, acquiring electricity, becomes plus or positive.

HEART work is better than head-work; and it is a better temper to be prevalent in charity than in disputes and contentions.

A TABLE
For Foretelling the Weather through all the Lunations of each Year forever.

FORMED BY DR. HERSCHELL, AND REVISED BY DR. ADAM CLARKE.

This table and the accompanying remarks are the result of many years actual observation, the whole being constructed on a due consideration of the attraction of the sun and moon, in their several positions respecting the earth, and will by simple inspection shew the observer what kind of weather will most probably follow the entrance of the moon into any of its quarters, and that so near the truth as to be seldom or never found to fail

If the new moon, the first quarter, the full moon, or the last quarter, happens	IN SUMMER.	IN WINTER.
Between midnight and 2 in the morning,	Fair.	Hard frost unless the wind, s. or w.
2 and 4 morning,	Cold and showery	Snowy and stormy.
4 and 6, "	Rain.	Rain.
6 and 8, "	Wind and Rain.	Stormy.
8 and 10, "	Changeable.	Cold Rain, if the wind be w ; snow if e.
10 and 12, "	Frequent showers.	Cold, and high wind.
At 12 noon, and 2 p. m.	Very rainy.	Snow or rain
Between 2 and 4 p. m.	Changeable.	Fair and mild.
4 and 6, evening.	Fair.	Fair.
6 and 8, "	Fair, if wind s. w	Fair and frosty, if wind is s. or s. e.
8 and 10, "	Rainy, if s. or s. w.	Rain or snow, if s. or s. w.
10 and 12, "	Ditto.	Ditto.
10 and midnight,	Fair.	Fair and frosty.

Observations — 1. The nearer the time of the moon's change, first quarter, full and last quarter, are to midnight, the fairer will be the weather during the seven days following

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

3. The nearer to midday or noon, the phases of the moon happen, the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next seven days.

4. The space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio.

5. The moon's change, first quarter, full and last quarter, happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e. from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather ; but this is mostly dependent on the wind, as is noted in the table.

6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring, yet, in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

7. To prognosticate correctly, especially in those cases where the wind is concerned, the observer should be in sight of a good vane, where the four cardinal points of the heavens are correctly placed.

GENESEE NURSERY,
NEAR ROCHESTER, N. Y.

The hole for the tree should not be less than four feet in diameter and fifteen inches deep; select the richest and best earth for the bottom of the hole and about the roots; fill the hole to the surface, treading it down well about the roots, being careful not to mar or injure them; add a pail of water unless the earth is quite wet; the tree should stand about two inches deeper than it did in the Nursery; be careful that all the roots are perfectly straight and natural in ground; cut off the ends of all the roots with a sharp knife, so as to have them free from bruises made by the dull spade in taking them up; stake them up strong and tie with a wisp of straw, so as not to gall the tree; if the ground is clay and inclined to be wet, great care should be taken to plow the land into high and narrow ridges, so it will drain perfectly, and plant on the top of the ridge; trim the trees when you plant them, leaving such limbs only as are necessary to form the top; each limb forming the top should be cut off one-third the length; this will insure a much larger growth the first year; trees planted in the fall should not be trimmed until spring; spread half a wheelbarrow load of well rotted manure around each tree, and cover it six inches deep with earth, after being planted as above mentioned, this will keep the roots moist in case of drouth; it is necessary to keep the land in a hoed crop, this will insure you fruit two or three years earlier, and will keep the orchard in a more thriving condition than if you lay the land down to grass. Distance for an orchard 25 to 30 ft

THE TRADE ON THE UPPER ST. JOHN.—The Woodstock Sentinel says:—Sixty-seven trips were made above Fredericton. Of those, the Richmond made 20 to Woodstock, 5 to Tobique, and 3 to the Falls; the Doon made 19 to Woodstock, 5 to Tobique, and 3 to the Falls; the Reindeer made 6 to Woodstock, 4 to Tobique, 2 to the Falls—bringing in the aggregate, from Fredericton, some 9,600 barrels, and 3,500 passengers. The freight, we may observe, is all reckoned in barrels, 250 lbs. being called a barrel. To show the length of time the boats were able to run last spring and fall—

RICHMOND commenced April 26th, stopped June 17th; commenced July 5th, stopped August 22d; commenced September 26th, stopped October 13th.

DOON commenced April 29th, stopped June 22d; commenced August 15, stopped August 22d; commenced September 27th, stopped October 14th.

REINDEER commenced May 10th, stopped June 17th; commenced September 26th stopped October 10th.

In addition to the above, we have had a fleet of some twenty tow-boats on the river; some of them during the whole season, some only for the fall months. These have brought—as far as we can learn from the best available sources of information—about 15,000 barrels to Woodstock, and above; in addition to probably some 5000 barrels way freight between Fredericton and Woodstock. Thus the amount of freight in various kinds of merchandise, amounts to nearly 30,000 barrels, shipped at Fredericton for the Upper St. John, the freight on which has, at a low figure, amounted to about £4,000.

While in the above, we have in figures the immense trade of the Upper St. John, it must not be forgotten that these supplies are brought to districts which in an agricultural point of view are second to none in the Province, where large quantities of the necessities of life are raised for home consumption, and from which large quantities are, and with superior facilities, immensely greater quantities would be exported, in the shape of stock, meat, butter, cheese, grains, &c., &c.

It may not be amiss for us to state, that from the concurrent testimony of many on whose judgment we must put confidence, we consider that the present Commissioner for the improvement of the navigation of the river, has been pursuing the duties of his office with considerable success.
