W. C. CHEWETT & CO.,

In issuing this Catalogue of PRESENTATION BOOKS, for the coming Season, would refer to it with pleasure as an evidence of their determination to spare neither trouble nor expense to put before their friends the character and style of the GIFT and JUVENILE BOOKS now on hand at their Establishment.

An Illustrated Catalogue,

Which is worthy itself of a place on the Drawing Room Table, is not only unique in this country, but is rare even in England, where much greater facilities for its production exist. By the help of the various publishers, however, they are able to accomplish this; and they trust that the presence of their friends during the Holidays will amply compensate them for the large outlay necessarily involved in the production of this Catalogue.

There are various other Illustrated Works announced, in addition to those contained in this Catalogue. If issued in time to reach us during the Season, they will be added to our Stock.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"The LEISURE HOUR has every quality that should command a large circulation. The illustrations are numerous and superior. The contents are so written or selected as to have a direct bearing on the topics and events of the day, and have a living interest for every one, while its fictions have no lack of adventure."—The Times.

"We would pay a tribute of warm commendation to this capital periodical."—Quarterly Review.

"There is nothing like it at its price in periodical literature."—Morning Herald.

"Full of entertaining literature."—Daily News.

"We can honestly say that we have found nothing in it but what is worthy of praise, and not a line which we could wish unwritten."—The Press.

"For beauty, richness, and correctness of typography and illustration, few secular periodicals will bear comparison with the LEISURE HOUR."—The Bookseller.

"For literary presents few can be better, and none at all comparable for the price."—The Eclectic.

VERY HANDSOME VOLUME.

THE
SUNDAY AT HOME,
 VOLUME FOR 1865;

CONTAINING

Scenes from the Life of St. Paul, and their Religious Lessons, by the Rev. Dr. Howson, Discussions on Infidelity; Forty Acres, or Dancing the Old Year out and the New Year in; Fisher Bill, a narrative of Scottish Coast Life; the Two Voyages, or Midnight and Daylight, by W. H. Kingston; the Old Manor House, by G. E. Sargent; Ministerial Recollections; the Herod Family; Biographies and Portraits of the Archbishop of York, Bishop Crowther, Rev. Dr. Grey, and other eminent Christians; a Sermon for every Sunday in the Year; a Monthly Religious Record; Narratives; Illustrations of Christian Life; Pages for the Young; Bible Enigmas and Exercises; and a variety of Miscellaneous Papers.

The volume is enriched with Coloured Frontispiece, from a design by John Gilbert, and with 11 other Illustrations, Coloured or on Toned Paper; also with 155 Engravings, in the best style, by eminent Artists. See Specimen, coloured illustration, "The Dog and the Shadow."

$1 75 in cloth boards.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"The SUNDAY AT HOME aims at religious instruction, although essentially in a popular form. It is a work which cannot be too heartily commended to the homes of the middle orders and the laboring classes—not that there is any reason why it may not be found equally acceptable in the castles and mansions of the gentry."—British Quarterly Review.

"We have turned over the pages of the SUNDAY AT HOME with very sincere pleasure."—Saturday Review.

"The SUNDAY AT HOME is a family book of first rate value."—Christian World.

"A welcome guest in every Christian home."—Waterford Mail.

"The SUNDAY AT HOME and LEISURE HOUR hold their own with undiminished vigour, attractiveness, and fitness to universal usefulness. A general excellence is hardly maintained at so high a point, as to both literature and illustrations, by any similar publications."—Nonconformist.

"These volumes are marvels of cheapness, and contain a mass of wholesome reading for which we are especially thankful."—The Churchman.

"Wonderfully cheap. We rejoice in the wider spread, year by year, of those volumes; but we would have their circulation increased a hundred fold."—Watchman.

PHOTOGRAPHIC ALBUMS.

We were the first in Canada to reduce the price of these elegant and useful novelties, which have become an indispensable adjunct to every house. We have imported largely of French and English makes, and have a stock which we believe to be one of the most extensive and the cheapest in the Province.

All our Albums are in morocco binding, with deep antique embossing. We now import no other styles.

The high price of American Albums (as of all other American manufactures) has almost excluded them from this market. We have however a few, very good, which will please those who like a well made article.

We do not give a list of prices, as that conveys but an indifferent idea of the value. We have them to hold 50 cartes, from 60 cents each, with two clasps, bound in imitation morocco.
