PREFACE.

In submitting the Windsor, Amherstburg and Sandwich Directory to the public, the publishers are desirous of returning their thanks to those who, by their liberal advertising and subscription patronage, have afforded them material assistance in the enterprise.

The correct compiling of a Directory, even one of this size, is an undertaking of considerable difficulty, and let one be ever so careful, errors, both of omission and commission, can in some instances be discovered by persons who are disposed to look for them. Entire accuracy, in books of this class, has never yet been attained, and owing to various reasons which need not be specified here, it is more than probable, never will be. Such being the case, indulgence is claimed for any mistakes that may be found in this work, the more especially as it is confidently believed that they are as few in number as those that occur in other books of the same description.

In fact, the greatest possible care has been taken to render the work thoroughly reliable, and, excepting the few errors that will creep in, in spite of the utmost vigilance, it can be depended upon as being, in the main, perfectly correct.

WINDSOR.

An incorporated town and port of entry of Ontario, County of Essex, on the Detroit River, opposite Detroit, and at the western terminus of the G.W.R. 110 miles from London; 223 miles from Toronto. It contains churches of five denominations. St. Alphonse Church, dedicated July 1st, 1873, is one of the finest structures of the kind in the County of Essex. building is fast nearing completion, $30,000 having already been expended in its construction. It is estimated that further expenditures to the amount of $15,000 will be necessary for furnishing and completing the tower and interior. The seating capacity at present accommodates 1,000 people. The congregation, all told, numbers 2,000 souls, over which two priests are located—Rev. Father J. T. Wagner, presiding Pastor, and Rev. Father James Scanlon, Curate. In connection with the Church is a Convent and St. Mary's Academy, founded some eight years since, and erected at a cost of $25,000. At present there are eighteen sisters connected with the institution. are seventy-five boarding and thirty day scholars in regular attendance at the Academy. The building, however, is capable of accommodating one hundred boarders, besides ample room for fifty day scholars. St. Alphonsus Hall, another of the Church buildings, is situated between the Church and Convent. and is used for Sunday Schools and meeting of the diffierent Catholic Societies—St. John the Baptiste, Catholic Union and others. The Church grounds consist of about four acres, beautifully situated near the centre of the town, four blocks from the river, the whole being under a high state of improvement.

Three branch banks, a High School, agencies of two telegragh and several assurance and insurance companies, two printing offices, issuing weekly papers, breweries and distilleries, and one manufactory of tobacco and cigars (Wright & Tisdale, 72 Sandwich st., west); also manufacturies of brooms, leather wooden ware, wine, vinegar, soap and candles, boots and shoes, carriages, &c.; also several first-class hotels, and several as fine mercantile establishments as can be found anywhere in the Dominion.

The houses and stores have recently been uniformly and thoroughly numbered, which greatly facilitates the delivery of goods and parcels by the merchants, besides being of immense benefit to the public at large. Windsor bids fair to become the leading place in Ontario. Present population about 7,000, an increase of about 30 per cent. since the census of 1862.

A Yankee's Version of Windsor.

The Town of Windsor is pleasantly, and in a commercial sense advantageously, situated on the Detroit River, about 18 miles above the old town of Malden, directly opposite the American village of Detroit, Mich., and $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles S. W. of Hog Island (Belle Isle.) As a commercial centre Windsor is "simply immense." A large portion of the local trade is imported (i.e.) across the river in the shape of bustles, calves and other prominent expansions, to whom nature has thus far, and probably every will remain a stranger.

Windsor is the western terminus of the Great Western R.R., which connects with Detroit, Podunk, Flat Rock, Wyandotte, and other places of considerable importance on the American side of the great river;

Distances—from Niagara Falls, 229 miles; from Toronto, 221 miles; from London, 110 miles; from Hamilton, 186 miles.

It began to be settled during the last century, and, lying on the route between New York and Michigan (via G.W.R.) it early became cleared and peopled by inhabitants, many of whom, by their sterling industry and perseverance, have reaped their reward in amassing in many instances a handsome competence for themselves and families.

The soil is principally composed of dirt, intermixed with puddles of water.

The present population of the town is larger than most people suppose, numbering about 7,000, and would now be very much larger had it been settled a few years earlier.

Strangers admire it for its pleasant, clean and healthy appearance, and very many take up their abode here in the summer season.

A large number also are attracted here (from Detroit) on account of the superior facilities possessed by Windsor merchants, whereby they can arrange their wardrobes in such a manner as to elude the vigilant Custon House Man on the other side.

No town in the Dominion surpasses it for children ("sweet little cherubs"), who, of a summer's evening, completely pack the sidewalks, and amuse passers-by with unearthly yells and showers of mud.

Windsor—like other enterprising Canadian towns—has a town hall, a common council, hotels, barber shops, billiard tables, and an extensive brigade of bootblacks (who stand around the ferry docks and fight "fur dat job.")

The above is a new invention recently patented by Pearce & Maycock, and intended for the route between Windsor and Learnington. It is highly recommended by the "Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals," as it enables a man to get his horse out of the mud without pounding.

The county town of Sandwich is connected with Windsor by a street railway, on which a one-horse car is run each way every half hour. This is a big thing for vagabonds and others convicted before the Police Magistrate, as it saves being jostled about in the "Black Maria."

In the opposite direction is the thriving and prosperous town of Walkerville, with a population of some 200 inhabitants, mostly males and females, besides several yards full of hogs, connected with the distillery, and fed upon the mash and slop.

Windsor can boast of some of the finest private residences in the county, more of which are being now erected, which shows the cultivated tastes of the inhabitants. Within the past few months many local improvements have been made, among which we can testify is one as much needed as the best, i. e., the numbering of the houses. Should yourself or friends be at a loss to locate the residence of a private friend, just turn to Charlton & Co.'s Directory.

The next best improvement to the above is the lighting of the streets after dark. Several experiments have been made during the past season with varied success. As a general thing, "cloudy nights excepted," the original and only plan works well for the first twelve or fourteen nights immediately following the "New Moon."

BARRETT'S LION.

The enterprising proprietor of the "American" has recently chained a British Lion to a pedestal placed on top of his hotel, which is intended to protect the inhabitants of the town against any sudden attack from a foreign foe. This animal rises once a year (upon the anniversary of American independence), and "wags his tail" in defiance.

The Windsor Water Works are of immense value to the inhabitants at large, and especially to saloon and hotel keepers, as in nearly every one of the latter can be found a pipe connected with the works, upon the end of which is nicely arranged a small funnel that exactly fits a whiskey bottle. This accounts for the immense profits and early retirement from business of those connected with the liquor traffic.

Windsor has four incorporated banks, to wit;——Merchants' Bank,

Molsons Bank, Canadian Bank of Commerce, and the Southern Bank of the Detroit River—the latter being a "stock concern," well secured, and extending from Walkertown to Sandwich in nearly a straight line, the deposits being chiefly coal yards, docks, saw logs, sand, gravel and Bourke's distillery.

Windsor has been and is being rebuilt after the fires with which it has been visited, and we question whether any town of the same size in Ontario would, under similar circumstances, have recovered more quickly or successfully such great calamities.

There has always been a sort of petty contention existing between Windsor and Detroit, Mich. They both appear to be ever vieing with each other for precedence, which fact we may say is not as yet very definitely settled.

Windsor has the advantage! Situated in a region where a deep furrow can be drawn through the richest of soils for 30 miles or more (if you plow straight back from the river and "shy around the stumps.") Nowhere on this continent is it easier to make highways—railroads and canals. instances, two ditches, with a track of iron between, would make Not much of the land is hilly; most of it is flat enough for utility and beauty. Blest are the eyes that see the broad acres lying immediately back of Windsor, at a season of the year when the grass is green and the sky is clear! It is an enchanting world of azure and billowy emerald, where, from the summit of a green wave twenty feet high, you see—straight up as far as you choose to look. The absence of all dark objects, such as woods, roads, rocks, hills and fences, gives the visitor the feeling that never before in all his life was he so completely out of doors. It is a delicious sensation, when you enquire the way to a place 10 miles off, to have a fellow tell you he "don't know, but if you'll take the trouble to enquire of Jo Clark, at the International Hotel, he can tell you all about it;" and the reply is generally correct, for mighty few men in this county know better how to keep a hotel than Jo.

A commercial man from Chicago recently remarked that his town was far ahead of Windsor in enterprise, by alluding to a Chicago firm who were "always ready to furnish cottages, villas, school houses, stores, taverus, churches, court houses or towns, wholesale and retail, and to forward them, securely packed, to any part of the country."

We're willing to pit Windsor even against that. Look at OUR POST OFFICE! Not a man that rents a box in that institution but who finds it nearly half full (of dust) every time he goes for mail.

Windsor can also boast of possessing one end of the Great Detroit River Tunnel. The other end terminates at Detroit, Mich. Both ends terminated in quicksand, which ex-terminated the project; but Windsor holds her grip nevertheless.

> "A little nonsense now and then, Is relished by the best of men."

The statistical matter of Windsor, limited as it is, has so often been presented to the public in directories and through the columns of both local and neighboring press, that we consider it would be like "stuffing victuals down an already over-fed child" to repeat it under the cover of furnishing new and authentic items. We, therefore, "sing the same old song" and introduce "A Yankee's Version of Windsor," merely for reading matter and to help fill up the book.

Our teutonic friend "Fritz," having rendered himself generally useful, desires space to "speak his little piece." We will, therefore, allow him to conclude the argument.—Publishers.

AMHERSTBURG.

An incorporated town in Essex Co., Ont., on the Detroit River, five miles above its junction with Lake Erie, and at the western terminus of the Canada Southern Railway, 18 miles from Windsor. It was at one time a garrison town, and was called Malden, the name of a fortress in the town. It contains a court house, several churches, saw and grist mills, sash, door and blind factory, an iron foundry, about sixty stores, several good hotels, and a telegraph office. Amherstburg is a port of entry.

Steamers run daily between Amherstburg and Detroit, Mich. Detroit is also reached via C.S.R. crossing from Amherstburg to Grosse Isle, by railway ferry, and from thence to Trenton, via Trenton Bridge, a beautiful and costly structure erected by the Canada Southern Railway. The fare from Detroit to Amherstburg by rail being sixty cents, and by boat fifty cents. Population about 2,600.

SANDWICH.

A thriving post village of Ontario, capital of the County of Essex, on the Detroit River, opposite the city of Detroit. About two miles N. E. of the village is Windsor, the terminus of the Great Western Railway.

Sandwich contains Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches, (and, until recently, a newspaper, The Dominion, which is at present published at Windsor), telegraph office, brewery, a number of stores and several mills. The noted Sulphur Springs are situated a mile below the village. A street railway connects the village with Windsor; steamers and vessels also land. During the summer season large numbers of people from Detroit, Windsor and other places flock to the springs, when, for a season Sandwich is full of life and gaiety, two steamers plying daily between Detroit and the Springs—fare, 25 cents for the round trip.

P. S.—By all means visit Sandwich Springs in the summer season.
