COMPILER'S NOTICE.

In laying this second Directory of the City of Kingston before the public, it may be well to offer a few remarks in explanation of the many inaccuracies that crept into the former edition; owing to circumstances beyond his control, the publication of the Directory passed from the hands of the compiler into those of another party, who either could not, or would not, correct the many palpable errors that appear in the work, and who made many alterations in the text, hence its incompleteness and inaccuracy. The publication of the present edition, however, is in the compiler's own hands, and no pains either in compilation or correction, have been spared, in order to make it as complete and accurate as it is possible for a work of this kind to be; any omissions or inaccuracies therefore that may be found in the body of the work, may be chiefly attributed to the backwardness of the parties themselves, in withholding the necessary information. He would beg to tender his best thanks to those gentlemen who have kindly aided him by affording him much valuable information, and assistance in the compilation of the work, and would particularly mention the valuable assistance derived from the excellent prize essay of C. W. COOPER Esq., of this city; also the kindness of W. ANGLIN Esq., City Chamberlain, and M.

FLANIGAN, Esq. City Clerk, A. J. McDONNELL, and J. MEAGHER Esqs., in affording much useful information in their respective departments, and to MR. J. A. GEMMELL for his assisting in arranging the statistical and other matter.

Having at the outlay of time and labor as well as of pecuniary means, got the present Directory so far towards correctness, he trusts that the public will duly show their appreciation of his labor, as it is intended to continue the publication from time to time as may be deemed necessary, to show the growing importance and business capacity of this City.

KINGSTON, September, 1857.

INTRODUCTION

IN introducing a work like the present to the public, it may not be deemed amiss to give a brief sketch of the City, its environs and surrounding country, together with such other information as may be useful to the tourist and general reader.

THE CITY OF KINGSTON is situated in the Township of Kingston, in the County of Frontenac, and is the capital of the United Counties of Frontenac, Lennox and Addington; it lies on the shores of a beautiful bay, formed by Simcoe and Wolfe Islands on the south, Point Frederick on the east, and the City and environs on the north and northwest. This bay forms the main channel by which the waters of Lake Ontario debouch into the noble and majestic St. Lawrence, with all its fairy scenery of the "Thousand Isles," and its foaming rapids, down which the resistless torrent rushes with a lightning speed that threatens to dash the voyagers' bark to pieces, or to bury it in some of its foaming gulfs, filling the mind of the uninitiated with dread and dismay, which soon give way to awe, and admiration of the sublimity of the scene. But to return to the City; the distance from Montreal by Railroad is 173 miles; from Belleville, 50 miles; to Cobourg, 90 miles; and to Toronto, 158 miles; the present Railroad Depot is two miles from the City, but a branch is now being constructed which will have its terminus at the centre of the harbor.

On approaching Kingston by water, the first object of interest is Fort Henry, formerly called Fort Frontenac, from the name of the last French Governor who held it. It is situated on a high point, formed by the St. Lawrence on the south, and the Cataraqui on the west, across which there is a very long bridge, connecting the Fort and adjoining village of Barriefield with the City ; here also was formerly a naval station adjoining the Fort, but it is now disused ; the Fort is well worth a visit from the tourist, who can always obtain a pass for that purpose from the Town Major, Lieut. Col. Bouchier.

The City contains many handsome and substantial buildings, among which may be mentioned the City Hall ; it is of cut limestone, and cost nearly $100,000. The view from the dome on a fine day can scarcely be surpassed. The Bank of Montreal and the Commercial Bank are both very fine buildings ; the old Court House has been taken down and on its site are now being erected two beautiful and costly buildings, to be occupied as a Custom House and Post Office, respectively at a cost of £10,000. The new Court House, now in course of erection at a cost of £20,000, is beautifully situated, fronting the City Park and promises to be an ornament and credit to the city ; the Park will be a great boon to the citizens, having been lately tastefully laid out with walks and planted with shrubbery ; a neat little observatory has also been erected upon the ground ; it is a beautiful spot of about fifteen acres, and was the gift of the Government to the City, having been formerly used as an Artillery parade ground.

The streets are well supplied with gas, and with water of the purest quality, being drawn from the current of the river, entirely free from all shore impurities.

The City is well supplied with Churches, there being no less than fifteen of various denominations, among which the Roman Catholic Cathedral is a large and imposing structure, and when finished will, with the adjoining Bishop's Palace, form a striking point in the view of the City. The interior, in the Elizabethan style, is a splendid specimen of the composite order of Church architecture and is one of the finest in North America. There is generally no great taste displayed in the appearance of the Churches, there is however one exception to this rule, namely, the new Methodist Church erected a few years ago, which would be an ornament to any city in America, the building costing £8000, the organ £500, and the bell £200, having ample accommodation for nearly a thousand sitters; the pulpit and interior is worthy of a visit, as its numerous gas lights even more than compensate for the evening shade.

ST. GEORGE'S (Episcopalian) is a very fine substantial cut stone building, erected in 1825, at an expense of £14,000, partly raised by the congregation and partly by a grant from Government. In 1840 it was much enlarged and improved; the Rector, the Venerable Archdeacon Stuart, and the assistant Minister, Rev. W. M. Herchmer, each contributing £1000 for that purpose. It has a beautiful chancel window of stained glass; it also covers the remains of many officers and distinguished citizens, among whom may be mentioned the late Lord Sydenham, the best friend that Kingston, and in fact Canada, ever possessed. The organ and bell are both very excellent of their kind, and the accommodation is ample and convenient.

ST. ANDREW'S—In connection with the Church of Scotland, is a roomy but plain structure, to which is attached a very neat and comfortably Manse, with the appropriate grounds very tastefully laid out.

CHALMERS' CHURCH (Free Presbyterian,) is a plain substantial building, with large accommodation, and is very conveniently situated near the centre of the City.

BROCK STREET CHURCH (Irish Presbyterian,) is a very plain and unpretending building, which is generally well filled with a numerous and respectable congregation.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Johnston street, is a plain frame building with pew room for six hundred sitters, and has also a numerous and respectable congregation.

BAPTIST CHURCH,—A neat rough cast building, has a large congregation, with good accommodation, and is very respectably attended.

PRIMITIVE METHODIST CHURCH, is a simple and plain frame building, and is attended by a numerous and very respectable class of the citizens.

CATHOLIC APOSTOLIC CHURCH, Queen street, is a large stone building, and has a numerous and influential congregation.

EPISCOPAL METHODIST CHURCH, is a good sized frame building, and is generally very well filled.

ST. PAUL'S (Episcopalian) is a roomy but unpretending structure; it was destroyed by fire about three years ago, but has been rebuilt with a fire-proof (slated) roof, the only one of the kind in the City; the interior is finished in a chaste but plain style.

ST. JAMES' (Episcopalian) is a plain and substantial building, in the western part of the City, and affords ample accommodation to a large congregation.

There are a Roman Catholic and a Presbyterian College in the City, also a Grammar School, two Classical and Mercantile Academies and a number of Common Schools; there are three daily and three weekly papers published in the City, a pretty fair proportion for a place of its population, besides an extensive supply of extraneous periodicals and general literature.

There are five Foundries in the City, at which engines of the largest size are manufactured. There is also an extensive factory for cut nails which produces immense quantities of all kinds; the same engine which propels the nail machinery is also the moving power of a large grain elevator. For description of Foundries see pages 207 to 209.

The wharves and shipping stores are excellent, and afford every facility to the merchant and ship owner. Among the public buildings must not be omitted the Crystal Palace, erected by the City and County as a place for holding the County and Provincial Agricultural Exhibitions, costing about £8000.

The Marine Railway is favorably known for the construction and repair of vessels; some of the finest steamers on the lakes have been built here, and here also have been built several splendid sea-going vessels varying from 300 to 900 tons; the fact of Dr. Rae, the Arctic navigator, having had his new vessel "The Iceberg," built here, is sufficient proof that there is more than local prejudice in favor of Kingston built vessels. Some idea of the immense capital invested in this business may be gained by a glance at the list of vessels hailing from this port, which will be found on pages 277, 278, and 279, to which many others might have been added, could correct information have been obtained. It will be seen that from the building of the "John By" in 1831, the steam craft alone of Kingston, has taken up a capital of nearly $1,500,000, besides a further amount of nearly $500,000 invested in sailing craft. While other places have been getting credit for what they have never done, Kingston has not even got credit for what she has done, in many instances for the benefit of other rival cities.

In the Provincial Penitentiary are several extensive manufactories, such as cabinet ware, farming implements, shoes &c., where the convict labor is made available towards their own support. Large quantities of cut stone are also shipped from it, some as far as Chicago. Although not strictly within the City, yet as all the contractors for convict labor belong to the City, and have their warehouses here, it may be taken as a branch of City industry. In fact it is a considerable City itself, or rather a citadel, being surrounded with high walls of the strongest masonry, and the area within being filled with workshops, dormitories, offices &c., of the best and most substantial stone.

X.

One of the largest establishments of its kind in America is Mr. James Morton's Brewery and Distillery; consuming about 200,000 bushels annually, it gives regular employment to over 100 men; the barns connected with this establishment are capable of containing from 1000 to 1200 fattening cattle, and are generally leased for that purpose by the enterprising firm of J. & W. Breden, of this City. On the premises are two valuable mineral springs, the medicinal value of which may be understood from the following analysis:

The Population of the City and Suburbs is from 15 to 16,000. Assessed value of Property, £79,353 4s; taxes, 3s 6d in the pound. It is divided into seven wards, each of which sends two Aldermen and two Councilmen to the City Council. The situation is exceedingly healthy, lying as it does upon a wide open Bay, with a constant rapid current; no stagnant or impure water ever accumulates on its shores, while its generally elevated position not only assures a constant supply of fresh air, but furnishes ample opportunities for thorough drainage; as a proof of the salubrity of Kingston, may be mentioned the comparative mortality of other cities:—Quebec, 1 in 39; Montreal, 1 in 33; Kingston, 1 in 81.

Kingston has been urging her claims to be the seat of the Provincial Government, though not perhaps as energetically as might have been the case. In selecting Kingston in 1841, Lord Sydenham fully intended that it should remain the Capital of United Canada, and it was not only a gross violation of justice to the City, but a most unwarrantable disrespect to the memory of a great Statesman, to belie his distinct promise, by the removal of the Seat of Government, in 1844. Many suffered severely in a pecuniary point from this breach of trust, and the Province has ever since been saddled with the enormous expense consequent on a periodical removal. Business, however, is now in a safer condition and on a more secure basis than for many years, rash speculation having in a great measure given way to a more sound and healthy state of things; whether, therefore, the Government ever returns here or not, Kingston may be expected to progress in wealth and business.

A great part of the surrounding country was formerly comparatively unproductive, partly from deficient cultivation, and partly from a want of good internal communication; both of those drawbacks are now in a great measure overcome; a new generation of Farmers have risen up who are no longer contented to see their neighbours surpass them in all that characterizes a good farmer; better stock, better implements, and a better mode of cultivation have already had great and visible effects, while 200 miles of first-class roads within the counties lead in every direction to 21 Villages, and afford immensely increased facilities for bringing produce to the market; there are now nearly fifty Post Offices in the United Counties, and facilities for both personal and epistolary communication are not surpassed in Canada; in order to show that the inhabitants of the Counties are neither the poor nor the ignorant class that they have been represented, it may be mentioned that there are within them 272 Schools, many of them of a very superior description.

In the suburbs surrounding Kingston, are a large number of Villa Residences, a description of a few of which may not be unacceptable to the reader.

ABERCHALLADER,—The residence of A. J. Macdonell, Esq., is a very genteel and comfortable two story stone building, with about forty acres of land attached, well laid out and planted with trees; it is in a very pleasant and healthy situation, commanding a beautiful and extensive view of the Lake Harbour, village of Portsmouth, &c., and with the addition of a few years growth to the trees and shrubbery, will doubtless become a place of note with tourists and pleasure seekers.

ALWINGTON,—The residence of the Baron de Longueuil, is a very plain and unpretending stone building, formerly the residence of the late Lord Sydenham, and some other Governors of Canada; it forms the boundary of the city on the west, and although the grounds are not extensive (about 15 acres) it contains one of the very richest and most recherche gardens in Canada, as the prize lists of innumerable Agricultural and Horticultural Exhibitions amply attest.

BEVERLY LODGE,—The property of John Breden, Esq., is a finely situated and picturesque establishment in the western part of the city; in the hands of its present owner, it will ere long equal any of the same extent in Canada.

CALDERWOOD,—The property of Maxwell W. Strange, Esq., is a very tempting suburban residence, on the extreme western limits of the City; the grounds are very tastefully laid out, and the many beauties, both of situation and style, need only be seen to be appreciated.

The large Cottage and surrounding grounds of F. A. Harper, Esq., on the upper part of King street, are finely situated, with a splendid view of the bay, the lake and the island, opposite the city. The gardens and other grounds are decorated in a chaste and pleasing style, and are as well worthy of examination as those of any other private gentleman in the country.

ST. HELEN'S,—the charming residence of James Morton, Esq., is situated on King street, fronting with a delightful slope upon the bay shore. The grounds, 12 acres, were very tastefully laid out by the former proprietor, and have been greatly and expensively improved under Mr. Morton's well known liberal charge, and would well repay a stranger for the time necessary for a visit, where he will be sure of a hearty welcome, from Mr. Morton and his amiable lady.

The spacious mansion lately erected by Colin Miller, Esq., and its ample surrounding garden grounds, form a pleasing feature midst the bustle and business of a principal city thoroughfare.

The beautiful villa residence of E. H. Hardy, Esq., has only been a few years erected, but nevertheless is already surrounded by a rich and beautiful garden, and its situation, near the centre of the city, together with its uncommon (Italian) style of architecture, renders it a standing point in the memory of many a passing stranger. The same remarks are equally applicable to the residences of John Carruthers, John Frazer, A. C. Campbell, Esquires. Opposite the above is ROCKWOOD, the seat of Donald McIntosh, Esq., unique in style and unrivalled for its fine view of the bay and surrounding country.

There is also, besides the spacious mansion of Colin Miller, Esq., near the City Park, and those of J. Paton, T. Kirkpatrick, G. Moyle, W. Bowen, S. Taylor, N. Palmer, J. MacPherson, Esquires, Mrs. R. D. Cartwright, with that of the Hon. J. Hamilton, and of the late Hon. John Macauley, and several others, including the spacious new residence lately erected by Kenneth McKenzie, Esq., Judge of County and Division Court, and the "Crimean Terrace," the property of Mr. Sheriff Corbett.

The house and grounds of John Watkins, Esq., on King street, between the City Park and bay shore, are a fitting residence for a gentleman whose persevering business habits have enabled him to retire from the bustle of mercantile life.

LOYOLA COTTAGE, UNION ROAD.—This very pretty property, the residence of Jeremiah Meagher, Esq., is a splendid specimen of the rural Cottage, ornee; the grounds abound with the richest exotics, and every attention that wealth and a cultivated taste could bestow, has rendered it a place of more than ordinary elegance and refinement. The situation will no doubt ere long become the favorite building ground of every person of wealth and taste in the place.

ROCKWOOD,—Lake Shore Road, the present residence of J. P. Litchfield Esq., M.D., Medical Superintendent of criminal lunatics in the Penitentiary, has lately been purchased by the Government, for the purpose of being converted into an Asylum for the criminal lunatics confined in that Institution, for which its retired and healthy situation most admirably adapts it. The County Court at its last sittings has also granted a license for the protection of a limited number of paying patients within the Asylum.

The Cottage residence of F. A. Harper, Esq., with its beautiful garden and out-grounds is finely situated on the west end of King street, with a splendid view of the bay and opposite islands.

The very handsome residence of Hugh Frazer, Esq., with rich surrounding shrubbery, is also situated near the above, and forms an attractive point of view in that part of the City.

W. Fergusson, Esq., also occupies a very handsome Villa in this part of the City which is finely covered and surrounded by shrubbery, gardens, &c.

The Cottage residence of the Rev. H. Mulkins, Episcopal Chaplain of the Penitentiary with very neat gardens and pleasure grounds on the western side of the City.

Also the residence of the Rev. F. Dobbs, a neat Stone Cottage, nearly opposite the above.

ELDON HALL,—Bath Road, the seat of John Flanigan, Esq., formerly Mayor of the City; is a very extensive and substantial stone building and appurtenances, surrounded with 14 acres of tasteful pleasure grounds, and 120 acres of tillage land attached; the view is unsurpassed in this portion of Canada, and with a few years further growth, the surrounding shrubbery and gardens will fully equal the owner's wishes and designs.

SOUTH ROAD,—the delightful Villa residence of John Counter, Esq., whose splendid Gold Medal, voted by the Corporation tells that "He was eight times Mayor" of Kingston; is a well situated and comfortable establishment, on Union street, and has often been admired for its plain but substantial style, partaking more of home-comforts than the flashy ornaments now too prevalent in this country.

WOODSTONE COTTAGE,—Lake Shore Road, is the neat Cottage residence of James Hopkirk, Esq., Collector of Customs at this port, and has very neat gardens and pleasure grounds.

The quiet and retired residence of Mrs. Atkinson, on the "Forty-foot Road," is the very pleasant mansion of an elderly lady, who devotes herself to that retirement which her residence is so well suited to furnish.

NEW COURT,—Lake Shore Road, the beautiful Cottage residence of Wm. Willson, Esq., is delightfully situated on the bay shore, to the west of the City; it is surrounded by some 40 acres of land in a very fine state of cultivation, occupied as Lawns, Gardens, &c., and forms as comfortable and retired a residence as a man of business could wish to retire to after the the fatigues of the day.

ROSE LAWN,—the homestead of Henry Smith, Junr., Esq., Solicitor General, is a large heavy stone building surrounded with fine grounds, and forming a residence fit for any gentleman in the country, and with the tame deer sporting through the rich Lawn, forms a picture far too seldom seen in Canada.

The Villa residence of Thomas Briggs, Esq., situated at the corner of the Bath and Napanee roads, deserve special attention from the passing traveller, as well for the fine style of the building as for the exquisite taste displayed in the improvement of surrounding grounds. The situation is one of the most desirable.

The neat Villa of Wm. Breden, Esq., is situated on the Napanee road. It is in Italian style, and with its neatly laid out surroundings forms a pleasant picture in the minds' eye of the traveller proceeding city-ward.

The residence of Judge McKenzie, facing the City Park, and that of A. Thibodo, Esq., form a pleasing prospect of City residences.

The Cottage of A. Campbell Esq , is nicely situated, and although but lately erected, the surrounding grounds are rapidly improving under the extreme care of the proprietor.

The neat antique Villa, erected by the late F. M. Hill Esq. although not quite furnished at his decease, will in a few years become a very delightful suburban residence.

CALDERWOOD, the splendid property of Maxwell W. Strange Esq. is an elegant villa residence on the Western line of the City, and with its extensive grounds, which afforded the present proprietor ample room for improvement and embellishment, now shows what a Canadian gentleman, on retiring from his daily business, considers necessary to the due and comfortable enjoyment of his "Otium cum dignitate."

In the City there are many Hotels of the first class, where travellers will meet with every accommodation, amongst these may be mentioned, the British American, Gilbert & Kent, Clarence street; City Hotel, Robert Stenson, Princess street; Iron's Hotel, Ontario street, and L'Hoist Restaurant, Wellington street.

The following shews the various descriptions of buildings in the City and liberties, many of them being of a most substantial and highly ornamental style, and erected within a few years back, some of which are noticed in the following pages.

NEWBURGH.

NEWBURGH.—This is a very prosperous Village in the Township of Camden, County of Addington, twenty three miles from Kingston, from which there is a good macadamized road. The main street is entirely of stone buildings, nearly all occupied as stores; it has also a large number of Grist and Saw Mills, Foundries, Inns, and Temperance Hotel, Churches, Grammar and Common Schools, Temperance Societies and a Division of Sons, D. B. Stickney, D. G. W. P.; Agricultural and other Societies. It vies with Napanee in its claims to become the County town at an early day, whenever the Counties may be divided. A very neat Weekly Newspaper, the "Index," appears to be well supported, and doubtless adds to the growing prosperity of the village. It contains Mechanics of every description. The village is beautifully situated on the Napanee River, and has a population of nearly two thousand. Douglas Hooper, Esq., Post Master. A stage runs daily to and from Kingston.

We may add, that the above Townships produced in the year of the last Census, 326 lbs. of Tobacco, 593 yards of Linen, 874 bbls. Fish, and 4075 cords of Wood; and when we further consider that the next Census will show an increase in the produce of the above Townships, ranging from 20 to 60 per cent., and which we may average at 35 per cent., we may safely venture to assert that one of the reasons given for the removal of the Seat of Government, viz: that the surrounding country would not produce sufficient for the maintenance of the increased population, has no supporters now, at least, and leads us to doubt if it ever had.
