

DEAN'S SIXPENNY

PAPA PLEASE YOU WELL SERIES

THE
THREE TINY PIGS.

Printed and Published by DEAN & SON,

11, Ludgate Hill,
London.

E. JEWITT

THE THREE TINY PIGS.

ONCE upon a time, there was a sow who had three tiny pigs, and as she could not give them enough to eat, she sent them to seek their fortunes. The first tiny pig that went, met a man with a bundle of furze; so the tiny pig said to the man, "Please, man, give me some furze, that I may build a house, as I have none to live in." The man gave him some furze, and the tiny pig built a house with it.

Soon after he had finished the house, a wolf knocked at the door, and said, "Tiny pig, tiny pig, let me come in." The tiny pig answered, "Oh, no, by the hair on my chinny chin, chin." Then the wolf said, "I'll huff, and I'll puff, and I'll blow your house in." So he huffed, and he puffed, and he blew the house in; and then he ate up the tiny pig.

The second tiny pig went to seek his fortune, and met a man with some sticks; so the tiny pig said to the man, "Please, man, give me some sticks to build a house with, as I have none to live in." The man gave him some sticks, and the tiny pig built his house with them. Soon after he had finished it, he heard a knocking at the door, and said, "Who's there?" The wolf, (for it was the same wolf that had eaten the first day (said) "Thy pig, thy pig, let me come in." "Oh, no," by the door on my other side, "Then the wolf said, "I'll kill and I'll kill, and I'll show your bones to the wolf, and he roared, and he roared, and he roared, and at last he blew the house in; and then he ate up the pig."

The man that was next to each of the trees, and not a man with a pig, so the man that was next to the man, then a man gave the man that to find a man with a pig next to him. The man thought it was very bad, but he did not know a horse to ride in, so he and the man that was next to him, and the man that was next to him, and the man the first tiny pig,) said, "Tiny pig, tiny pig, let me come in." "Oh, no, by the hair on my chinny chin, chin." Then the wolf said, "I'll huff, and I'll puff, and I'll blow your house in!" So he huffed, and he puffed, —and he puffed and he huffed,—and at last he blew the house in; and then he ate up the tiny pig.

The third tiny pig went to seek his fortune, and met a man with some tiles; so the tiny pig said to the man, "Please, man, give me some tiles to build a house with, as I have none to live in." The man thought it was very hard for the tiny pig not to have a house to live in, so he gave him some tiles, and the tiny pig built his house with them; but he had scarcely finished it, and was thinking what a nice house he had made, when he heard a loud knocking at the door. "Who is there?" said the tiny pig. The wolf answered, (and it was the same wolf,) "Tiny pig, tiny pig, let me come in." "Oh, no, by the hair on my chinny chin, chin." "Then I'll huff, and I'll puff, and I'll blow your house in." So the wolf began,—and he huffed and he puffed, and he puffed and he huffed,—and he huffed and he puffed,—but he could not puff this house down.

Faint, illegible text at the bottom of the page, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is too light to read accurately but appears to be several lines of a letter or document.

When he found it was of no use his huffing and puffing any longer, as this house was too strong for him, he said, "Tiny pig, tiny pig, I know where there is such a nice field of turnips." "Where?" said the tiny pig. "In Mr. Brown's field; if you will be ready to-morrow morning, I will call for you, and we will get some for dinner." "Very well," said the tiny pig, "at what time will you call?" "At five o'clock," said the wolf. Well, the tiny pig got up very early, and went to the turnip field, and was back, before the wolf came; when knocking at the door, he said "Tiny pig, tiny pig, are you ready?" The tiny pig said "Ready?—why, I have been there, and brought home enough for dinner." The wolf felt vexed at this, so he said, "Tiny pig, tiny pig, I know where there is such a nice pear-tree." "Where?" said the tiny pig. "In Sweet Garden," replied the wolf; "and, if you will not deceive me, I will call for you."

“ At what time?” said the tiny pig. “ At four o’clock,” said the wolf.
“ I’ll be ready,” said the tiny pig.

Now the tiny pig thought he would get up very early, and get the pears before the wolf came. So he started off at three o’clock, and was up in the tree, when he turned round and saw the wolf, which frightened piggy, who said “ They are such nice pears.” “ Are they,” said the wolf. “ Beautiful!” said tiny pig; “ I’ll throw you some down.” And he threw them such a long distance, that while the wolf went to fetch them, tiny pig got down and ran home as fast as ever he could.

The next day, the wolf came and said, “ Tiny pig, tiny pig, there is a fair at Merry Town, this afternoon; will you go?" "Oh, yes," said piggy, "I should like to go; are you going?" "Yes," said the wolf, "and I will call for you at three o'clock." So the tiny pig, as usual, went off before the time, and got to the fair; where he bought a small barrel, which he was carrying home, when he saw the wolf coming, looking very savage. For a moment or two, piggy did not know what to do, but he thought he would get into the barrel to hide himself; and in so doing, it turned over the barrel, which rolled over and over, and round and round, with piggy in it, which so frightened the wolf, that he went home, instead of going to the fair. Next morning, the wolf came to the tiny pig's house again, and told him how frightened he had been by something rolling down the hill. "Ah," said the tiny pig, "it was I who frightened you; I went to the fair and bought a barrel, and when I saw you, I got into it, and it rolled down the hill." At hearing this, the wolf was very very savage, and ground his teeth, and told tiny pig if he did not let him in directly, he would get on the top of the house and come down the chimney. The tiny pig seeing that the wolf really meant to do it, put some straw and sticks upon the fire, which made a great blaze; and the wolf, who came down the chimney head first, caught upon a hook, and was burnt to death. Do you not think, my dear little readers and hearers, that this was a just punishment for his wickedness?

DEAN & SON'S COLOURED SIXPENNY BOOKS.

PAPA PLEASE-ME-WELL'S SERIES.

Aladdin, & Wonderful Lamp
Beauty and the Beast
Cocky Locky & Henny Penny
Courtship & Marriage of Cock
Robin & Jenny Wren
First Lessons in Dancing
Little Man and Maid
Pretty Alphabet, easy spelling
Sleeping Beauty in the Wood
Second Toy Shop Alphabet
Sick Robin, and kind Nurse,
Jenny Wren
Three Bears
Three Tiny Pigs
Trial of the Sparrow for Shooting Cock Robin

MISS MARY MERRYHEART'S SERIES.

Ali Baba; or, Forty Thieves
Blue Beard
Butterfly's Ball, and Grasshopper's Feast
Dame Wiggins and her Cats
History of Austin Brent
Jack, the Giant Killer
Little Goody Two Shoes
Little Red Riding Hood
Robinson Crusoe
Robin Hood
Scenes from the Seat of War
Seven Champions
Toy Shop Alphabet

BROTHER SUNSHINE'S SERIES.

Children in the Wood
Cinderella and Glass Slipper
Death & Burial of Cock Robin
Dogs' Grand Dinner Party
Historical Alphabet
Jack and the Bean Stalk
Old Mother Hubbard
Pleasing Pastimes
Simple Simon, & other Stories
Sing a Song of Sixpence, &c.
Steam Boat Alphabet
The Wonderful Brothers
Watts's Divine & Moral Songs

UNCLE HEART'S-EASE SERIES.

A, Apple Pie
Alphabet of Birds
Johnny Gilpin
Little May and Her Brother
Little Pig's Tale
The Donkey's Party
The Funny Old Lady
The Merry Miller
The Posture Alphabet
The Sunflower's Ball
The Three Useful Giants
Uncle Buncler's A B C
Visit to the Crystal Palace, Sydenham.

MERRIMENT SERIES, AND LADY-BIRD'S SERIES.

Alphabet of Flowers & Fruit
Cats' Tea Party
Charley Countwell's Comic
Ciphering
Deborah Dent & her Donkeys
Monkeys' Wedding Party
New House that Jack Built
New Mother Goose
New Puss in Boots
New Story about Cock Robin
Peep at the Zoological Gardens
Rhymes about Royalty
Scripture Historical Alphabet
The Toy Grammar

AUNT BUSY-BEE'S SERIES.

Alphabet of Flowers
Alphabet of Nouns & Objects
Alphabet: Horses, Dogs, Ships
Comic Alphabet, with verses
Gamut & Time Table in Verse
Little Frog and Pretty Mouse
Little John and Silver Shilling
Mouse in a Christmas Cake.
New London Cries
Peter Paganini
Stories: Horses, Dogs, Ships
Two Brothers and the Echo
Whittington and his Cat

COUSIN HONEYCOMB'S SERIES.

Alphabet of Trades & Industry
Amusing Multiplication
Aunt's Ball: a New Alphabet
Popular Nursery Rhymes
Popular Riddles and Puzzles
Railway Alphabet
Royal A B C, & Spelling Book
Tales of the Months & Seasons
The Mouse and her Sons

GRANDPAPA EASY & GRANDMAMMA EASY'S SERIES.

Alderman's Feast: Alphabet
Cock Robin Alive & well again
Dame Bantry and her Cat
Jacko's Merry Pence Table
Lion and the Unicorn
Little Jack Horner
Little Pig's Ramble
Merry Multiplication
Poor Molly Goosey
Queen of Hearts & the Tarts
Stories of the Alphabet
Tom Thumb and his Mother
Wonders of a Toy Shop

MAMMA LOVE-CHILD'S SERIES.

King Donkey's Doings
Lions' Grand Ball.
Mrs. Dove's Party
New Mother Goose
New Nursery Rhymes
Our Old Friends' Ball
Three Little Kittens

SCRIPTURAL SERIES, NEW SUNDAY BOOKS.

Ten sorts, 6d. each; or bound in One Volume, cloth, gilt edges, sides, and back, price 5s.