A FINAL MESSAGE

Fellow Members:
Now that the season is at an end, and this the last issue of the Weekly, it has always been the privilege of the president to say a few final words. This year has been a very enjoyable one for me. I feel that to be president of such an association as this is a great honor, and little did I think thirty years ago, when we first came to the Island, that I would ever hold this office.

I thank the executive that served under me for their wonderful cooperation and their untiring efforts. It is unnecessary for me to mention any one chairman, as they all gave the best they could. We tried to make you all enjoy yourself, and if you did we are pleased.

To the president-elect and his executive I wish them success, and may next year be better than ever.

Thanking you again for your cooperation.

S. Frank Staneland.

WARD'S ISLAND CHURCH

Last Sunday's service was another splendid one. The message by Mr. Ashton and the two fine solos rendered by our own Mrs. Dixon were much appreciated. Unfortunately the summer is drawing to a close and next Sunday morning is the last church service this season. It has been a wonderful summer, and we have had a good time together. We invite all to gather with us at this final service.

A special message and special music. We invite specially all bowlers and their wives, also, as there is no Sunday school, we invite all boys and girls to the church service. Come and let us fill the shelter.

The committee of church management wish to acknowledge with sincere thanks the very kind references and vote of thanks which was made at the executive of the W. I. A.

Our church services this season have been very successful in every respect, thanks to the splendid services of our youthful preacher, Mr. Ashton, and also the ladies and gentlemen who contributed in such an acceptable manner in the way of music, our own residents constituting the greater part of this very necessary part of the church service, and last but by no means the least, the great number of our residents who came out in such' large numbers and supported the committee in such loyal manner.

On behalf of the committee I thank you all.

John F. Hillock, Chairman.

Doug Sanderson and Ev Marshall staged a contest the other evening which went the full route before Doug nosed out the decision in the final game. The match was notable for long drawn out driving exchanges with some sudden dashes to the net for kills. Both players were hitting too accurately to make it safe going to the net very often, as the drives were lightning just inside the tapes. Aiter Ev had accumulated what looked like a safe lead, he decided to ease up for a few moments to gain a much needed breather, but just about that time Doug hit into a streak of his best tennis, overcame the lead and nosed out the deciding game. This match was the last one between scratch players, and now Doug will go on to meet one or more players who have a handicap advantage.

The final match for the ladies single championship produced first class tennis on the part of both contestants, Eileen Parker and Dorothy Wright. An appreciative audience watched the two players each win a set, and will no doubt be on hand when the deciding set is played later. Unfortunately darkness prevented the finish of a splendid match last Monday evening, but by the time this number. is printed a winner will be declared. It is too bad that both these stellar players cannot be winners as both gave all they have, and that is plenty, from a tennis standpoint. Dorothy Wright, as we mentioned earlier in the season, is a very much improved young player, with a lovely forehand drive and the basis of an all round game. Eileen seems to play as well as ever and has the advantage of tournament experience over Dot - but win or lose the game both these girls play is a treat to watch and a credit to our Island club.

Edgar Tolley has been elected chairman of tennis for next season, and we wish to offer our hearty congratulations. Eddie was coming along splendidly this year, until his unfortunate accident put him out of sport for the year. Let's all get behind Ed and help make tennis even more of a delightful activity than in the past.

Dorothy Wright won a hard three set match some time ago from Flossie Mottram, to enter the final round. Flossie played very well, as usual, but Dot's hard and accurate driving was a factor that proved a shade too much for Flossie to cope with in the final set. Flossie Mottram, Eileen Parker and Dot Wright are all splendid young players, very evenly matched, each capable of making it interesting for the other. Whoever wins out this year will have fully realized that they have been in a tournament, and the losers will get almost as much glory as the winner, even if they don't get the silverware.

Harold Lloyd Counter, who recently fell out of a motor and broke his journey, is quite recovered-he can swing a racquet without regard to loosened ribs and hemstitched scalp - but he does miss the girls' words of sympathy.

Jack McKnight had a most engaging smile when he commenced a set of singles with Marjorie Guest the other evening. As the score mounted against him Jack continued to smile, and when we asked him about the final result, his only reply was a smile. Jack must be a good sport.

Both the men's and ladies' tournaments are well advanced, and should be finished in a very short time. These tournaments have always been handicap affairs, designed to give every player a chance to win. Whether these long drawn out tournaments should continue or a ladder competition should be tried out, is something for next year's committee to decide. In many clubs the ladder idea has been very successful, and at least is something to consider for the future.

Doug Sanderson was given quite an argument by another left hander when he won a recent match from Freddie Mottram. Freddie depends almost entirely on a backhand sliced drive, but Doug's fast and well placed forehand shots proved a little too much for Freddie to handle. With more attention to his forehand Fred should hold his own with the best of them.

Chairman Al Pierce has kept tennis activities going smoothly, without fuss or bother, and is in line for thanks from the members. The inter-island matches were ably directed by Al, assisted by the ladies who served refreshments to visiting players from our rival clubs. It is really a difficult job to keep all the members of a tennis club happy, but by his tact and diplomacy, Al has certainly done that little trick.

Thanks to all my friends and girls who elected me chairlady of girls' work.

Auntie Pat (Douglas).

HEARD ON THE STREET

Dear Editor:

Some weeks ago you spoke of silhouettes that you had apparently observed during your midnight (or earlier) peregrinations. If you want a real treat just put on your ear phones when walking around and take a listen to what goes on.

If you had listened carefully a few nights ago when passing Bill Stewart's palatial mansion, you would have heard Bill snoring peacefully and giving an excellent imitation of a trained seal. It would have been no surprise to hear Phat when he came in, ask: "Will I throw you a fish?"

That's on Fifth Street.
Meander down Fourth and hear the evening discussion as to what daddy will have for next day's lunch, with a roughneck next door adding his rude jab "two eggs on bread."

Or perhaps you might be interested in that slamming screen door on Third Street. The neighbors nightly discuss the possibility of some out-of-work Islander securing an agency for "rubber doors, guaranteed noiseless." (A suggestion for Fred or Phat.)

If you happen to meander around earlier in the evening, listen to the enthusiastic barnyard golfers. Language! oh, boy! and a new one every minute. Old and young seem to have caught it - just like measles.

The bowling green in former years was a fruitful source of inflammation, but they are tempering with age, and even Bill Brown's "I like it" has vanished. "That's the shot, tell 'em,' h'as taken its place, no matter where it may ultimately come to rest.

The ladies still stick to "goodie, good," but all the emphasis of much stronger language still lingers.

Yours lovingly, Snooping.

And now we are done and have compiled all results for publication in this issue.

Enough could not be said for the splendid way in which the girls have conducted themselves throughout the season-the sportsmanship, the skill, and the enthusiasm always in evidence with a smile. A list of all winners is given below:-

The nymphs are our 6 and 7 -year old girls. Unfortunately, when one must keep two senior teams busy and two junior teams busy at one and the same time, there is very little time left to devote to the nymphs. After all, these young children, not yet adapted to organized play, should have constant attention, and to better supervision we would suggest volunteers or a regular assistant to take charge of these little tots.

Since there is only one prize cup for the winning teams, the respective captains of the Spartans and Phun Phiends will have to share it for half-year periods.

After searching for the treasure on Thursday afternoon, we climaxed a successful season with a supervision picnic on the beach. Needless to say, a good time was had by all.

RESULTS OF JUNIOR GIRLS SWIMMING MEET

Through a slight misunderstanding the girls' results in the Junior Swimming Meet, which was held at the Lagoon on Saturday, Aug. 8, have not as yet been published in the Weekly. Anyway, better late than never, as the old adage goes, so we are pleased to give the following results:-

6 yards, free style, Class G.- 1 , Adele Wickett; 2, Maureen Lynn; 3, M. Randall.

8 yards, free style, Class F.-1, Marion Naylor; 2, Eileen Hangar; 3, Ethel Ivy.

10 yards, Class E.-1, Ruth Redford; 2, Norma Fraser; 3, Kay Brown.

15 yards, Class D.-1, Evelyn Meek; 2, Margaret Mullinger; 3, Jean Cameron.

18 yards, Class C.-1, Peggy Knox; 2, Margaret Moffatt; 3, Eileen Fraser.

21 yards, Class C:-1, Jerry Garnham; 2, Ruth Thompson; 3, Dorothy Hangar.
25 yards, Class A.-1, Margaret Baker; 2, Lucille Staneland; 3, Maxine McClure.

50 yards, free style, Open-1, Marg. Baker; 2, Lucille Staneland.

Neat Dive, Standing-1, Marg. Baker; 2, Ruth Dolson; 3, Lucille Staneland.

Neat Dive, Running-1, Marg. Baker; 2, Ruth Dolson; 3, Lucille Staneland.

MAE TO ETHYL

Dear Ethyl:
Well, Ethyl, the big kickers' meeting is over. You remember you were here for it last year. It was a flop as far as kicks go, Ethyl. There was nobody had anything to kick about. Or at least they wouldn't get up and spill it. That big man with the glasses gave his annual speech until some one offered him a job. But, Ethyl, you're not interested in it so much now you can't come this year.

Tom was supposed to be down in Montreal on business last week for a few days. I was doing a little tidying up and I missed his flannel shirt and other fishing stuff. I don't suspect anything, Ethyl, but you can draw your own conclusions. He's got Junior out for a walk now, and the girls are watching the ball game, so I have a few spare moments to write you in. Tom will help me clear up the supper dishes when he comes back. I have such a pain in my back and my legs fairly ache. I think a few days in the country away from the baby would do me good. I wish you would kind of drop a hint to Cousin Bertha to accept an invitation that I am sending her today to bring the family here for a visit. I could sneak away for a few days and leave Junior with her. One more to her flock wouldn't make much difference. The girls can look after themselves and Tom could eat out.
Well, Ethyl, badminton play-offs are on. Really, Ethyl, it's a treat to watch them. I don't feel that I am good enough or have the time to enter the tournament. You should see the serious faces on the women while they are playing, Ethyl. It's a scream, Ethyl. And the spectators, Ethyl, are almost as bad sitting there with their eyes bulging, looking for pointers.

Tom has passed the tent a couple of times now with Junior, but I don't look up. He don't come in because I told him to walk Junior to sleep in his carriage, and, of course, the cute little fellow is so excited at having his daddy take him out that he won't go to sleep for a long time.

Tom was put out in the bowling tournament, so he might just as well be pushing Junior around as not. Eh, Ethyl. Believe me, Ethyl, I never get away fishing, but he who laughs last laughs the loudest, as we used to say.

Well, Ethyl, I want to write that note to Bertha and don't forget to encourage her to accept. Use the Ex. as an attraction.

Well, Ethyl, my dear, I must close this off, or sign off, as they say now. Here's hoping, Ethyl.

> Yours sincerely, Mae.
P.S.: I have just invited mother over for a week, so if Bertha can't come I can leave the youngsters with her, maybe.

This is the first opportunity I have had of publicly thanking those who helped me with the boys' show. Mrs. Douglas tied all the bows. Ed Vaughan and some good man from the camp whose name unfortunately I don't know, did the painting of the boys. I don't know who washed it off. Percy Millar, Nels Craig and Bill Wickett helped look after the stage. Joe Leake assisted in trimming off the rough spots on the soloists and the chorus. And last, but not least, Dorothy Wright; where her equal could be found for patience, ability and good nature, I don't know. And just think of the inconvenience Mr. and Mrs. Had Wright put up with for three weeks, with all the row. I hope I haven't missed anyone. Thanks.
E. M. Dillon.

EDITORIAL

We took a great deal of pleasure in reading last week's issue, chiefly because it was the best one of the season, and also because we didn't have anything to do with it. As a pinch-hitting editor, Wallace Findlay takes the blueberry pie or whatever it is they give on such occasions.

According to all the laws of the Medes and Persians and the latest system of Roman numerals, this is No. 10 issue of Volume 15, and the last one of the season. We feel like shouting three cheers and a tiger and a half a dozen tiger's pups.

Somehow or other we have managed to fill the sixteen pages every week. Instead of being called "Editor" the head of this publication should be called "author." What an opportunity you folks miss when you don't contribute to this paper. You could make it a real interesting paper if you would write in about all the things you discuss in your back kitchens. As it stands now, the pages are filled by inserting a few formal announcements and accounts from the various chairmen, a few letters from residents, and then the editor sits down and writes till the space is filled up. No wonder a well known resi-dent referred to us as "emptyheaded" on the boat one evening.

We strongly advise against "panning" anyone on the boat. Their relatives or friends coming over on a visit may be sitting right next to you.

We would like very much to print the names of those who have helped us with letters and contributions this season. The only reason we don't is because it would give our readers too much worry looking through the back issues to fit in the names. To those of you who have helped we are very grateful. May you treble in number for next year's editor.

We know of nothing that has been published this year for which we should apologize. If we have given offence, we are sincerely sorry. No offence has ever been intended. Only one complaint has been made to the editor, and it was so trivial we have forgotten what it was. So we thank you, gentle readers, for your patience and consideration. If you have enjoyed our little effort we have enjoyed making it. Good-Byeeeeeee. Good-Byeeeeee, so long, au revoir.

The annual meeting is off at last. My goodness, but the executive are late getting it going. There are the benches for them up at the front, but they are like a bunch of violets - shy - the benches are empty. Charlie starts to read last year's minutes, when a howl of "Louder" goes up from the rear. Jim Wilson suggests he be given something to oil his throat, but there is no use. The minutes bring back memories of a good old meeting. Hope this one will be as exciting. "You have heard the minutes." Subdued laugher, but they are adopted as read with no audible objections. Things are dull. Frank hasn't got anything stirred up apparently. Bill Stewart kind of whispers something about roofs, but it causes no discussion, as progress is reported. Frank goes on to talk about Mrs. Fairman's Tuesday afternoon blow-outs. He leaves the glasses out of the inventory, but is promptly checked up by Mrs. Dedman. Yes, there were 3 dozen glasses and 8 finger bowls; no sugar bowls have been donated out of the proceeds. (Lour applause.) Up gets Jim Wilson with a vote of thanks. Reade Davis seconds it, but omits Jim's suggestion as to serving lunch. Too bad; we could do with a cup of tea after executive meetings.

Bill Stuart ably assisted by Fat Millar moves that Al Randall carry on with these tea parties. It's carried, Jim Wilson and us voting against it. We did all we could, Al. Now Frank is getting wound up. He's dragging out the basket and starting to distribute the flowers. Duck! the bouquets are being thrown. He's going to go down the list. Oh, dear, why can't the scrutineers hurry up and save us from all this. Well, he's going down the list; nothing short of a flood will stop him. He's talking about us now. The big - Well, it's O.K., Frank, with us if it is with you. He's finished. (Loud applause.) Scrutineers not here yet.

Jim Wilson says "Why not fill in by hearing from those elected by acclamation?" Good idea, Jim. Call on Reade. He gets up without coaxing and throws the bouquet right back at Frank.

There he goes talking about the honor done him in electing him president. If it were anyone else but Reade we would say something, but a fellow like him is too sincere about things to wise crack about. Reade is a good speaker. He is brief. Now comes Jack Mortimer, vice-pres.-elect. Good old John. More honor done. Another banner year in view and the community spirit is developing. Another good speaker. Chas. Blaver isn't here. He's sick. Well, too bad, we would liked to have heard Charlie (Ward's Island Beau Brummel.) An interruption-How about that spirit in the new glasses. Call for Wallace Findlay. He forgets to say he feels honored. May be he doesn't. Thanks for the applause. That's O.K., Wallace, you won't get any more till next annual meeting. Mr. Mullinger has a few words to say. Very tew. He's a good speak. er, and really says why he took the job. The only reason why anyone should. Mrs. Mullinger for badminton, but she's out of town. Well how about Fred Clinckett. Yes, he's here and he starts in just like a bishop giving an after luncheon address to the ladies' auxiliary. Fred has a few good words to say too. Fred is always worth listening to. Call for George Counter. We haven't heard him. Yes, he is here and up he gets. He says he feels it a duty to serve the Association. That's the right idea. Tom Pocklington is going to help him. Good stuff. Boys, read up your Dickens this winter. Nice work, George, we will be right on hand to see your shows. That seems to complete the acclamations.

Mrs. Sinclair wants to know how about the new diving board, but Frank rules her out. We feel like rising to a point of order. Here come the results. Mr. Art Lynn is elected as chambermaid to the ball diamond. Edgar Tolley has a sore foot, but he won't play any tennis next year. He'll be too busy collecting fees. Aunty Pat is going to look after the girls. Loud applause. Dancing Jack Wilson, or rather Jack will be in charge of the dance hall (and orchestra). Bill Vinson will carry the horse shoes. He's at it now.

We're going to have speeches from the elected. Al Randall first. He's only had one woman to contend with. Well, he ${ }^{\prime 2}$ have more now. Al is making a regular campaign speech. Jump into it, ladies, he says. Frank brings Al's attention to Bill Stuart's motion, and Charlie reads it. Pardon, says Al. He's getting deaf. What's this, hegoing to revive the babies? Oh, no, baby day.

Art Lynn says he got in on the strength of cigars or strong cigars, but baseball is going to be big next year.

Edgar is spotted outside, but he's coatless. Somebody lend him a coat. Here he comes, crutches and all. Boy, this tennis must be rough stuff. He looks as though someone had made a ringer on his big toe with a quoit.

Dancing Jack is going to be tickled to death. He doesn't say whose going to do the tickling.

The chair is informed that Bill Vinson and $100 \%$ 's pa are not here. So that's the lot.
Any further business? Yes. John Mortimer wants a cupboard for those glasses.

Now the auditors. Same ones again? Yes. Jim Wilson says Mrs. Davies gives her consent, so the motion carries.

Reade suggests we hear from the roof committee chairman, Mr. Soules. He clears his throat and gets going. He has some interesting news. He, too, is a good speaker. Good stuff. The euchre and bridge is announced again. Bert Adams speaks about Sunday night.

What a fine looking row that new executive make! Thanks to the scrutineers. It carries without any serious opposition.

This is a quiet meeting. No, here's hope. Bert Adams is getting up. He may start something. No, just another vote of thanks. Lots of those to-night. Last year's executive get this one.

Mr. Soules is back again, wanting some argument about assessment. We can't help him there. We could get him an argument out of this crowd on almost any other subject.

Frank's kids are peeking in to see how the old man is making out.
Jim Wilson wants to adjourn. He must have some of that throat oil waiting for him. Al Randall has another vote of thanks on tap. This time for the church committee and the sing-song committee. Now that is a good one.
Jim adjourns again and it's carried.
"God Save the King."

DOMINION STORES

For Quality
"SCOTTY" FOR SERVICE

General Brock Tupper and his loyal band of 35 followers decided that they would attack General Stanbury in the latter's stronghold on the 22nd day of August, 1931. The hour set for battle was 2.30 p.m.

Not knowing whether Capt. Joe Taylor and his band at Centre would adopt a policy of strict neutrality, Tupper did not deem it advisable to go by foot or send his cycle detachment along the lake shore. After very careful consideration, Col. Adams was instructed to meet the civic authorities, with the result that the S.S. Luella was chartered.

All on board were looking to the coming struggle and the party made a safe landing at 2.25 p.m. Tupper did not take any chances, and sent a small detachment of cyclists forward under Lieut. Riddell, who reported that the enemy was camped along the lagoon. Tupper did not underestimate their strength, but it was reported that Capt. Joe Taylor was marching on the Point on our left flank.

This movement somewhat unsettled Tupper, but the latter's numerical superiority was expected to turn the tide of battle. The scene was a picturesque one, Hanlan's Memorial Course on our left flank and the palatial palace of General Stanbury in our rear. Tupper, knowing that this was his last chance to inflict a crushing defeat upon the enemy before winter set in, decided to attack at once. Rallying his men around him he instructed them to pour in as many shots as possible and wear down the opposition early in the fight. At this stage Capt. Taylor came into action against Major Hangar, and while the latter made several "Counter" attacks, he was eventually put out of action. Lieutenant Baines' detachment at this stage was also cut down, and the outcome was still doubtful. Nurses Tupper, Randall, Adams and Withrow arrived on the scene at this time and took a position just outside the gates. Our men rallied after the first onslaught, and Stanbury found Capt. Ken Robinson giving him a lot of trouble. The latter's contingent put in shot after shot on the generalissimo of the Point, who retired beaten after a great struggle. Capt. Durnan was still holding out against Adams' forces, and Tupper told Withrow to lead against them. Adams' men slowly drove them back, but someone spread the news that Col. "Al" Randall was lying shot. This was unbelievable to our men. However, Durnan brought his heavy artillery in action and at one time poured in 10 shots to Adams' 1.

General Tupper's face turned pale, and he was at this moment debating whether he would send a runner through Durnan's forces, but after calling Adams to headquarters he decided to follow the system according to original plans, and Adams' last shot glanced off one of the enemy and killed any chance that Durnan had of victory.

It is reported that "Al" Randall has been promoted for the brilliant part he took in the previous engagements (See this week's Gazette.) Now you know how Bert (not Bill) Adams won the battle of Hanlan's Point.

It was a great day for Tupper's men, capturing the spoils of war. Ken Robinson, with H. Gee, E. Lye and Bert Garrett, took the honors of the day.

Bert Adams' detachment ran him a good second, while Capt. Joe Taylor, of Centre Island, took away some loot in the nature of third prize, and Charlie Downs' men got through the barrage to capture fourth prize. It was a great victory. A small force was left behind to see that the water supply was not cut off.

The losers (Hanlan's), always great in defeat, entertained the combined force (including the Florence Nightingales already referred to) and on behalf of our Club I want to thank them for the wonderful hospitality extended to us on this occasion.

MEN'S BOWLING By S. Brock Tupper

As this is the last issue of the Weekly for the 1931 season, I take this opportunity of thanking my committee for the wonderful support they have given me; as a matter of fact, they have done practically all the work, and whatever success we have achieved is due to their efforts. Mr. Bert Adams, our vice-chairman, with his wide experience, has been of great help to me and has so capably taken charge on those occasions when I was unavoidably absent. To $\cdot \mathrm{Mr}$. Harry Baines, our official broadcaster, we extend our appreciation. Through him the Islanders have been kept well posted as to our activities, and he has made my duties still brighter by looking after the collection of the fees. Our grounds committee, Mr. Bill Brown and Mr. Had Wright, have worked hard to see that everything in connection with the green has been properly arranged and taken care of.

I wish to thank all the bowlers for the support and co-operation they have given me. Gentlemen, it has been a real pleasure to work with you, and I only hope you have enjoyed the season's bowling as much as I have.

We are unable to give you the winners' names of all the events as the activities are not yet concluded, but we can announce the winners of the schedule as follows:

First: J. H. Wright, skip; O. Orr, F. Willis, C. McAree. Second: K. Robinson, skip; S. Mitchell, B. Garrett, C. H. Mullinger.

Congratulations to these gentlemen. I am sure that every bowler will agree with me that they have deserved the honor of being listed as the best bowlers on Ward's Island for the season of 1931.

The doubles and singles competitions are now up to the semifinals, and we expect to have them finished this week.

In conclusion, I wish to congratulate the bowlers on their selection of a chairman for next season, Mr. C. H. Mullinger. I know he will fill this office to more than your complete satisfaction, and you are indeed lucky to secure him. My committee and myself will be very glad to assist him in every way possible, and if you give him the same generous support that you have given us the success of the men's bowling on Ward's Island for 1932 is assured.

As we look out of the office window we see a group of very distinguished looking gentlemen standing on the ball diamond. They seem to be engaged in pleasant conversation. We don our blazer and go out to investigate. It is the mayor and the controllers. Then we remember this is prize night.

We have never had such a closeup view of these gentlemen before and we are surprised to find that they do not look like the pictures we have seen of them in the press.

They are here to assist in presenting the prizes. In due course the meeting gets going and the dignitaries are introduced. Reade Davis prefers to term "presented" as he makes us acquainted with Mr. Chambers.
As a rule we have found public dignitaries rather disappointing on closer acquaintance, but we are free to say that these gentlemen are a pleasant surprise. Mayors are supposed to be this and that, and sometimes they are and sometimes they are not.

Mayor Stewart, or "Bill Stewart" as we feel like calling him, certainly handles this presenting business nicely Never have we seen it done as well. He must have had a lot of practice, because it is a hard job to do gracefully. And the controllers, Messrs. Hacker, Simpson and Ramsden, are right there too. It is not the first time Mr. Chambers has made a presentation either. It's just like a big family party. Everybody seems happy and glad to meet each other. Mrs. Stewart and the two Misses Stewart are here too. We hope they feel comfortable up there on the platform. We know Frank Staneland doesn't. A lot of nice things are said all round, but there is one we would like to put on record. "Gentlemen, we are more than glad to have you come over and visit us at any time. You are always welcome."

Three cheers for the Mayor and he departs to keep another appointment. He leaves behind him the very pleasant impression of a kindly, sincere gentleman ably supported by a board eager to co-operate in any proposal for the general good of Toronto's citizens.

The prize presenting goes on for at least another hour. It is quite an occasion. It always is. Every one is enjoying this part of the season's programme. Even the editor is presented with a gift from the boys in the minstrel show. No one seems to be forgotten. It's just like Santa Claus at Christmas. No one is disappointed in what they receive. It is our last gathering of the year. We close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. Editor:

Permit me through the Weekly to express my appreciation of the excellent services rendered by Messrs. Adams, Wilson, McAree and Mortimer at the Sunday evening song service.

I am sure that every resident of Ward's Island, together with the city visitors, will join with me in saying "Thank you, gentlemen," and we hope you will be at the helm again next year.

> A. F. Gay.
(Note: You speak for a lot of people, and us, too, Art.)

BASEBALL NOTES

This issue of the Weekly has been held over in order that the winners of all the various sports might be incorporated in the final edition for the year. The finals between the Brownies and Osoeze are not yet complete (Sept. 4th), and it is impossible to await the final verdict. Jack Smith's Brownies have won two out of three games from Harry King's Osoeze's and the fourth game has been postponed three times on account of the misbehavior of the weather man. There is a possibility that Harry may win the next game and then still another be necessary to settle the honors. The series has been very interesting and large numbers of spectators have been at all of them. Any one of them has been worth a year's membership fee, and they have been enjoyed by both members and non-members alike. There are always quite a number of the latter at every game, and we sometimes wonder just what would happen if the rest of the Islanders were content to sit back and "let George do it."

Bill Wickett.

Mr. Ev Rennie has donated a shield for horseshoe doubles. And what a shield! You can bet there will be a crush around the old barnyard next season. Thanks from everybody, Ev. Get in the contest next year and we will pair with you and just win it.

LOOKING FORWARD

Dear Editor:
I know you are a man after my own heart. I know you enjoy this Island in the spring and fall when there is no hustle and bustle, when there is no crowd outside your tent and no one banging on the piano every night in the week. So I feel called upon to remind the dear ones who are about to leave us (except for week ends) of the good times that are coming. Soon now the Ex. will be over, the kids back to school and some tents down for the last time. When we all get our permanents there will be a lot of fun missing in the way of "taking down" and "setting up parties."

How will Frank Staneland get over for a week end? What excuse will Fat Millar have to come over? And Al Pierce, where will he get off at? Dear me, Mr. Editor, let's rally round this fall and have a bang up taking down shindig with a corn roast and everything.

If Winter Comes.

(Ed. Note: You have been reading our mail. We don't know what kind of parties you refer to, but we see no reason why as good a time could not be had painting a shack as wrestling with an old tent fly.)

Mr. Editor:

I think a line is in order to compliment you on your paper. Doubtless others will be writing to you for this purpose, and you in your modesty will not print them. I know I speak for a great many, so kindly publish this letter and accept our appreciation of your efforts. I sign my name, but don't print it.

Satisfied.

(Ed. note: Oh Yeah!)

EVENTS WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE AGAIN ON WARD'S ISLAND

Fat Millar setting up the shelter Saturday night for Sunday church.

Alec Carmichael playing first base in the play-off.

Al Randall trolling for pike in the lagoon.

Alec Sinclair in the $100-y d$. dash.
Charlie Priestman riding his bicycle down Bay St.

Frank Ward leading the sailors home in a yacht race.

Bob Greniaus on the bowling green.

Al Pierce winning a pot on deuces.

Frank Staneland moving over on the last boat.

Wally Randall putting up his tent.
J. Lawrason pitching soft-ball.

Mr. Miles donkeys for the kids on Gala Day:

An Association corn roast.
A diving board on the pier.
Our girls in a war canoe.
An election for every office in the Association.

Bill Corman giving a box lunch party.

A stag party at the Q.C.Y.C. Pre War Vintage.
(Mr. Editor, you should be able to add to this.)

Note: We surely can. How about the following? Messrs. Carter, Cutler, Davis, Staneland, Stuart, Dodds and Elder dancing with their wives (and others)?

Ote Lyons in the masquerade as "Little Eva."

The R100 night shirt parade.
No boats on Sundays.
Jim Wilson with a beard.
An old fashioned spider fight in the P. B.

John Hillock get another note.
Another editor.

STOP THE PRESS!

Jack Carter and Lou Hubbard were winners of the men's bowling doubles.

PERMANENT ROOFS

It is deemed advisable that you should know that this question and the problems arising in connection therewith are in the hands of a very capable committee. You may rest assured that your interests are being well taken care of. Our thanks are due to Mr. Soules, as chairman, and Messrs. Sinclair, Davis and Mortimer, who support him. If there are any privilages to be obtained these men will take care of it.
P.S.-Mr. Weir has sent over his tent and fly for the use of the Association. Remember Gala Day, folks. It's a godod idea. Thanks very much.

HUMORS AND RUMORS, INC.

Doc Roach may be a good dentist, but as a horse he's flopped.
It wasn't some poor patient whose tooth had been pulled who dumped him anyways.

How's your permanent?
Wave or roof?
How about the much talked of father and son banquet this winter?

Al Randall is the bravest man on the Island.

If you have any doubt, will you take the ladies' bowling?

Mrs. Jack Williams entertained at bridge on Thursday evening last. There were four tables and sixteen husbands minding the children. Delightful refreshments were served and Mrs. Arbuthnot presented a moving picture of scenes on the Island beach, including bathing parties composed of some of our most prominent residents.

TENNIS NOTES

To stimulate a keener rivalry among our "up and coming" tennis players, there will be offered in 1932, by Mr. J. C. Sanderson, on behalf of the Dominion Typewriter, Co., 68 Victoria St., a silver trophy, known as the "Typewriter Cup," to be competed for annually open only to those who have never won it before.

Mr. Editor:
A few weeks ago you promised to publish an interview with a prominent resident in every issue. I'm not kicking, mind you, but I would like to know why it was never carried out.

Curious.
(Ed. Note: Time and space forbid us giving all the reasons, but the main one was our interviewer weakened under the strain.)

The Boys' Supervision has come to a close for this season, and the medals, badges and prizes will be presented to those who have earned them on Thursday evening, September 3rd.

A hectic battle in baseball was played last Friday to give Jack Todd and his Tramps the decision over their worthy opponents, Ralph Naylor's Hoboes, in both baseball and team championships.

The Blackhawks, captained by Jerry Mohun, finished first in the team race for the Midgets. A final series in baseball was played between Frank Beard's Orioles and Evans Davis' Redwings; the latter winning two out of the three games played. So the Redwings are the midget baseball champions.

Bill Tasker was presented with the gold medal that is given to the junior champion, and Jerry Mohun and George Crase each received a silver medal, having tied for the Midget championship. Ben Swain is champion of B Class and Tom Thompson is champion of D Class.

Some 22 medals and 36 badges have been presented to different boys for their season's work.

Bob Cooper, Bill Tasker, Fred Clinckett and Ralph Naylor were successful in their tests for the bronze medallion, which they will raceive from the Royal Life Saving Society in due course of time. The tests were made in the gap on Monday afternoon. The examiner expressed to me his pleasure in the following words: "There is no fooling about these boys; they certainly know the work."

The following boys received medals with bars attached, indicating championships and attendance: Jack Todd, Fred Clinckett, Ralph

The above list is exclusive of special medals, cups and prizes.

I firmly believe that with the end of this summer's activities a really successful season has drawn to a close. I am sure the boys will endorse this statement. We have had lots of fun and a good share of work, and I take this opportunity of saying that a finer group of boys, instilled with the fundamentals of co-operation and good sportsmanship, will not be found in any other community. That's a broad statement, but I'll leave this island with that impression embedded in my mind. I would like also to thank the paients and all those both responsible for and helpful to supervision this year.
R. E. Smith.

DANCING

As the season draws to a close I would like to thank our patrons on the Island who have supported the dance so well this season.

I would also like to thank, even at this late date, Mr. Frank Staneland, Mr. Reade Davis, Mr.Ev. Rennie, Mr. Norman Boyd, Mr. Frank Willis, Mrs. Charles Leake, Mr. Brock Tupper and the executive committee for their generous donations to the Gala Day dance, which was very successful. More particularly would I thank Mr. Fred Cutler, Mr. Charles Leake and "Bunny" Cooper for the wonderful help they have been with the actual work during the season, which is not nearly so hard when you have men like that with the helping hand.

Now that the election is over, might I ask for the support of all dancers to the newly-elected chairman, Jack Wilson.

The last dance of the season will be Saturday, Sept. 5, 1931.

> E. Tolley.

Any time you see Charlie Sullivan this winter, ask him if he can count tickets yet.

Mr. Editor:
Judging from your recent remarks you have been receiving anonymous letters which you refuse to publish. Why not print a list of their names so we may all know who stoops so low.

Kicker.
(Ed. Note: Well, well, and a couple of more wells. Hope you fall in one.)

SUNDAY EVENING SING SONG

On Sunday evening, Ang. 23rd, a very enjoyable time was spent.

At 8.30, the children's story hour was well attended. Many beautiful slides were enlarged by the camera showing our Canadian National Exhibition of former years.

At $9 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. the song service was well under way. During the hour we were favored by a beautiful sacred reading by Miss Isobel Counter, a solo by Miss Gwen Baines, a solo by Mr. Geo. Counter, and two selections by a Ward's Island trio, Messrs. Baines, Arnott and Counter. All these were well given and much appreciated by the large audience. Mrs. Had Wright presided at the piano.

During the season fast drawing to a close we have had very able assistance from Mr. Tom Wilson, Mr. McAree, Mr. Davie, Mr. Mortimer and others, also from friends of our Islanders who have sang. Mrs. Dixon has been particularly generous.

On Aug. 30th, we were favored by our old friend Mr. Chapman. No season is complete without our former member of our Island giving such a treat. Thank you, Mr. Chapman.

May I extend my thanks to all. H. R. Adams, Chairman.

SOCIAL

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cutler and family, of Calgary, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Shoemaker for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boehmer and family, of Kitchener, are also visitors on the Island for two weeks.

We missed the smiling faces of our Editor and Mrs. Dillon last week. They were on a motor trip through Western Ontario.
(Ed. Note: Really now, would you believe it.)

LADIES' BOWLING

The ladies' bowling is just about over so far as schedule games go. Mrs. Lyons' team wins the cup, while Mrs. Swain's team is in second place. Our singles will be completed within the next few days. We have had a wonderful summer, as not one game has been lost on account of the weather, and we hope to have a few more good games yet.

Our afternoon euchres have been a wonderful success both financially and socially, and I extend many thanks to the ladies who helped to put them over. As a result, I am pleased to state we have placed the following equipment in the club house: 1 porcelain top table, 1 tea pot, 1 tea kettle, 1 dish pan, 4 doz. cups and saucers, 4 doz. small plates, 4 doz. large plates, 4 doz. tea spoons, 3 doz. glasses, 8 sets cream and sugar, 2 trays, 12 -burner electric plate.

We will certainly be pleased when we have a cupboard to arrange them in.

> Mrs. Fairman.

(Reade Davis please note:)

Mr. Editor:

Molly Hamilton and our old friend George Ward were meandering along the board walk, taking in the scenic beauty of the beach when their reverie was shattered by a sweet invitation emitting from the lips of Mrs. Alex Sinclair requesting the august presence of George at the family table. George, with a burst of Irish wit, came through with the following reply: "There was nothing on that bone you gave me last time."

BOW-WOW.

(Ed. Note: This was signed Mrs. Sinclair, but don't ask by whom, because we won't tell you, so there.)

CHAMPIONS IN THE MAKING
Ward's Island are fortunate in the fact that year after year a new crop of ball players develop, and the supply seems to be unlimited. One Islander has performed a lot of good work this summer without anything having been said about it, and future championship teams will will show the result of his work. Probably the most enthusiastic baseball fan we have is Joe Leake, erstwhile official at the Maple Leaf Stadium, and the official umpire of many city leagues. Day after day during the year he has umpired the games among our juveniles, no matter how hot the weather man might have made it. Plays as they were made were used as an example to show the boys what should have been done, and why it should. When the game was over he would take the infields and give them instruction on how and why certain plays were made, and he had those juveniles stepping so that they could have beaten many of the seniors if they could have avoided stage fright. Joe has performed a real service for Island baseball and we are pleased to have the opportunity of publishing this article as an expression of the appreciation of this year's executive to Joe for his work, and interest.

Mr. Dillon:

Will you please publish in your paper this letter expressing my thanks and appreciation of the gift I received on prize night from the minstrel show boys. I really enjoy preparing the show, and the boys seem to have a good time at it too. Judging from what I hear, the adults look forward to it as well. So everyone is satisfied. I will now have no excuse for not appearing well shaved every morning. Thanks, boys. See you next year.
E. M. Dillon.
(Ed. Note: Glad to welcome you to our columns. Come again.

QUOITS AND HORSESHOES

A very enjoyable season for this activity has drawn to a close and the winners declared. In the horseshoe doubles, Frank Hanger and E. Harding are the champions, with Had Wright and Frank Willis winning second prize. In the singles, Bruce Lackey is the champion, with Reade Davis winning second prize.

The quoit pitching championship was won by Al Pierce and Jack Wood.

On Saturday evening we were favored with an exhibition game of horseshoes between R. McCuaig and A. Kennedy from the city, and the W. I. A. champions, the result being a victory for Ward's.

So much interest was manifested in this game that our visitors agreed to a return engagement and will be here to play again on Saturday evening at 8.45. Seating accommodation will be provided. Everybody come.

To Mr. Sam McBride and to Mr. Blackhall, who have each donated prizes, let me say "many thanks." We are all looking forward to quoits and horseshoes being a banner sport on the Island next season.

Ev Rennie.

BADMINTON

The doubles championship was decided when Mrs. R. Davis and Mrs. Arbuthnot defeated Mrs. Mullinger and Mrs. Tom Wilson.

The singles finals, for which Mr. Al Randall is giving a prize to the winners, was won by Miss Jenkenson, runner-up, Isobel Lyon.

Thanks are due to members of this year's badminton club for many helpful suggestions. The brightest of these came from Mrs. Art Lyon - to have the courts lighted to enable play to continue in the evening. Here's hoping for next year!

Frances L. Findlay.

SENIOR SPORTS DAY

At first the committee thought that this day was due for a failure as there was only one entry for the first event, therefore no race, but after that the old crowd started to gather and we had one of the best sports days that Ward's Island has seen.

We want to thank the committee for their splendid work. The name of George Golding was omitted from the programme in error. We want to thank George for his assistance.

The list of winners is as follows:

100 yd . dash, single men-1st, L. Blockburn; 2nd, Nels Craig.
