PRIZE NIGHT

Once again we have had a successful evening. The prizes as displayed on the table in the Shelter made quite a showing. The presentations were made by Miss Faulds, Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Pocklington, Mr. Reade Davis and the chief. There were so many that it took about two hours.

Very few recipients were absent and their prizes are to be had from Mr. Randall or Mrs. Pocklington.

The ladies' prizes were quite beautiful and the purchaser evidently was possessed of considerable taste. The men's prizes were real useful articles in the majority of instances and of excellent quality. Some of the special prizes donated were enough to make anyone jealous.

Of course there will be some who are not satisfied with what they received. That is human nature. It would be a good suggestion if those who have a complaint to make would hand their names in and next year they could be formed into a committee to handle the prizes. That would be the last time they would complain.

The difficulty, if any, is caused by the executive endeavoring to make the money go as far as possible. The rule is that one person can only win two prizes in any one day's sports. In a great many instances the value of these two prizes is lumped together and one article bought. So it may happen that a person who actually won several events would get one article and another who actually won fewer events may get two articles. Then the fact that the prizes for all the sports being distributed at the same time makes it more confusing as it is then possible for one person to receive four prizes. The list of winners was carefully checked by different members of the executive at least three times. A value was put on first and second prizes and when lumped the value of both was given.

It was a heavy task to undertake and the executive hope that a maximum of satisfaction was given.

CHURCH NOTICE

On Sunday morning the church service will be held as usual. Let us have a real big turnout. Some of the regular attendants have moved back to the city.

All you folks who have been saying, "I must go over to the church service Sunday morning." Do it to-morrow while you have the chance. Dorothy Wright and Effie Warden will sing.

JUNIOR BOYS

Chief Hicken has completed his period of service among our boys; the mats and other equipment have been carefully stored for the winter months, and the season of 1927 has come to an end in so far as supervision is concerned, so we may not look back upon our activities and profit by the experience and possible failures.

Your committee feel we are indeed fortunate in the selection of Mr. Fred. Hicken as supervisor, and his example and interest has undoubtedly left its impress on members of the group, many of whom are already planning to be with him at Central Y.M.C.A. during the winter season. Work, well and conscientiously done, has had its reward in friendships formed.

We have also to thank the parents and many friends of the boys for their kindly interest and co-operation which made possible a pleasant and successful season. It is impossible to again mention individually the many kindness shown the boys throughout the summer, but we do want to express thanks to our President, Mr. Al. Randall, not only for his many gifts but for his keen and sympathetic interest in all of the work of the boys; to Mr. Nat Mills for making it possible to include archery in our programme, and to Messrs. The T. Eaton Co., Ltd., for their generosity in presenting a most beautiful cup for annual competition, and prize to the winning boy; to Mr. Vinton of Camp Cenymca for a second prize for archery, and to Mrs. Smith for her splendid gift of two boxes of candy as prizes for a "Treasure Hunt" held by the boys during the summer, and which were especially appreciated as it showed a kindly interest, even though Mrs. Smith had found it necessary to mention to your chairman certain objections which we endeavored to correct.

The boys' council recommended the season's programme, which was successfully put into effect by the chief and The Leaders Corps, composed of the older boys who met each morning at 9.15 o'clock for special instruction, and while we cannot claim perfection, we have reason to believe that a useful and helpful course of instruction has been had.

There were only minor discouragements during the entire season being the unsportsmanlike conduct of a very few boys on several occasions. The fact that 23 members of the W.I.A. voted against supervision of the Junior Boys, and the comparatively few who voluntarily contributed toward the Supervisor's Fund. While this season it has been unnecessary to make a special appeal in this direction, it is well to remember that the Association may not always be as prosperous. Should a subscription for this purpose be necessary again and it is sincerely hoped that it never will be, give it the unqualified support it has received in the past.

In conclusion may I personally express thanks to the Junior Boys' Committee, Messrs. Harry Tasker, Ernie Dillon and Jack Mortimer for their willingness to co-operate and assist at all times; and finally, to ask for my successor, Mr. Eddie Dillon, the same kindly interest and help that has characterized the entire W. I.A. membership toward the 1927 chairman.

EDITORIAL

Well, we have only one more of these to write and you have only one more to read. Possibly it will be a relief to both of us.

The is something sad and sorrowful about the appearance of our Island these days. Here and there the skeleton of a tent, that harbored a happy home, all summer, stands out among the faithful remaining like a—well we don't know what, but there it is anyway.

We do not think there is anything that looks quite as desolate as a tent "taken down." Neither is there anything quite as cheerful and delightful as a well-kept tent full of people enjoying themselves. They seem to go from one extreme to the other.

Our mail box this week was not very well patronized. Everyone is too busy attending the Exhibition we presume. However, there are still a few taking an interest in the "doings" on the Island.

There seems to be a lot of "crabbing" going on over the baseball final. Surely it is hardly necessary and we feel quite sure it does not arise from the ideal of true sportsmanship.

The "Osoeze" team deserve credit for the leniency shown to their opponents by way of substitutes. Let us all get together to-night for what should be the last game and have a real good time.

The new waggon has arrived and looks like a dandy. See that it is properly used.

It is proposed to publish in next week's issue a complete membership list with city addresses. This will enable the curious to drive around and see where so and so lives. If you go past our shack drop in and say hello. We would like also to be able to put in the place of business with each man's name, but we have not this information. We suggest that you write your name and place of business on a piece of paper and let some member of the executive have it before next Tuesday. If we get enough to make a showing they will be published.

At the executive meeting on Tuesday evening Mr. "Al" Randall, our genial president, was presented with a beautiful mantel clock, suitably engraved by Mr. Reade Davis on behalf of the members of the executive.

Mr. Davis in presenting the token of appreciation expressed the feelings of all the executive, when he said that the year's work under Mr. Randall, had been a pleasure to him.

For once "Al" was stuck for words for a moment.

Whitecaps and Osoeze stayed two wonderful games on the holiday, Whitecaps won both, tying up the championship series at two wins each. Following are the box scores:

Morning Game

As the official scorer missed this excellent game and the box score was not kept, as we could not find anybody who would take on the job, so please be content with the total.

Fred Clinkett is the hero. He pitched two remarkably good games in the one day.

The morning game went 13 innings, Osoeze tied it up in the ninth, but lost out in the unlucky 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Mills viewed the game from millionaires row.

Sam. McBride joined the bleacherites at the evening game.

Everybody on the Island saw the morning game. Even Bob. Greeniaus was seen seated along the 3rd base line.

Clinkett bunted safely on his third strike in the 5th innings. Pretty smooth Fred.

When Mrs. Syd. Randall is lured to a ball game it must be real thrilling. Mr. Randall was noticed in the crowd at the morning's game and again in the evening.

Mac. Carmichael, Big Alex's little brother, was lured from his bed about the end of the 7th inning in the morning game. He says he dreamed that Alex. was a winner. No doubt he was in the afternoon?

Wilf Cutler got some jolt when he got in the way of Bob Clewlo's terrific drive in the eighth. The game was delayed for five minutes until the elongated pitcher recovered from the blow.

Freddie Mottram made a great running catch of Lackey's hit in the eighth innings of the morning game. Freddie played great ball all the way.

Harry King drove in the winning runs in the 13th.

Ab. Henderson took Alex. Carmichael's place in the twilight fixture and played a swell game. He doubled Fred. Mottram at the plate in the 2nd innings with a perfect throw. Then he ran the circuit in the 9th when he hit to deep centre. This was the only run scored by Osoeze.

Goddard could have made first on his slow roller along the foul line in the 4th. He thought it was foul and neglected to run it out. Moral: Run everything out.

Alex. Carmichael was thrown out by forty feet trying to steal 2nd in the 3rd inning.

Deputy Sheriff Shields appeared behind the press box in the 6th innings.

Jack Smith has played the best ball of his career in this series. He sure whips them across with great speed and accuracy. Did you notice his play in the 7th inning of the last game when he scooped up Clinkett's hot one, touched 3rd retiring Allsop and then lined the ball to first for a double play.

Vinne Allsop found his batting eye on the holiday.

The final battle should be a hummer. The game will be played on Saturday the 10th, at 6 p.m. sharp. May the best team win.

We trust no substitutes will be necessary so that there can be no alibis.

GOSSIP

If you have a canoe for storage over the winter you can have it in the club house for the small charge of $3.00.

The Q.C.Y.C. also have facilities for the storage of all types of boats.

If you have found anything of value during the season and the owner has not claimed it, hand the article to Mr. Dodds and the owners will enquire from him.

Our President appreciated receiving his weekly so regularly that he made a cash donation to the two delivery boys. These two boys are worthy of recognition.

A little three year old youngster was heard to say to his dad, "Take me back to that church where they dance." It is certainly a very versatile shelter.

Bill Stewart has resigned from the Sunday morning discussion club and is attending the church service.

This week will see the departure of a good many residents. We don't wish them any bad luck, but we hope the weather keeps fine.

The public had no idea that the chief had the boys' athletic and swimming tests so well classified and thoroughly organized. The presentation of prizes disclosed the fact that any boy who graduates from the final class should be able to look after himself in any company.

The question of the hour to a great many is, "What kind of boat service will we have after the Exhibition?"

Have you seen Tommy McClure's new carpet suit?

The beach combing season is here again.

Things seem pretty slow in the evening when there is no ball game. The diamond care taker, Ab. Henderson, is probably glad to have an evening to himself.

I told you that fly would go another year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Randall and children of Syracuse, spent a few days on Ward's. They enjoyed their stay immensely and say we have a wonderful place, full of good times. Come again folks.

Ken Robinson, one of our live wire members, is available for work of any kind, either on the Island or off. Here is a chance to get that job done right. See Ken at 4 Bayview.

You will hardly believe this but it's true. The adhesive tape has disappeared from the first aid box and appeared on the handles of the tennis raquets.

The first aid kit is useless if it is treated in this way. It shouldn't be necessary to keep it locked.
