SYNOPSIS OF SCENES.

ACT I.—The Old Curiosity Shop; London, 1840. Four weeks later.

ACT II.—Sampson Brass' Office, Bevis Marks.

ACT III.—The "Three Jolly Sandboys" Inn, on the road to Southampton. Three weeks later.

ACT IV.—Scene 1—Dick Swiveller's Lodgings. Scene 2—Quilp's Office, on Quilp's Wharf. Scene 3—Swiveller's Lodgings (as before).

INTERMISSIONS.

Between Acts I. and II.—7 minutes.

Between Acts II. and III.—7 minutes.

Between Acts III. and IV.—6 minutes.

NOTE.—The curtain will be lowered for 1 minute between the Scenes in Act IV.

The Performance will terminate Evenings at 11 p.m. and Matinees at 5 p.m.

Scenery painted by William Gill.

Mechanical Effects by Joseph Holliday and W. C. Tucker.

Properties by Chas. Henry and A. G. Stafford.

Costumes by Geo. P. Raymond.

Music selected and composed by Geo. Lowell Tracy.

NOTE.—The scenes, appointments and costumes were selected and designed by William Seymour, from the original illustrations of Charles Dickens' novel, "The Old Curiosity Shop," made by George Cattermole and H. K. Brown, and represent the manners and customs of London in 1840.

The light effects throughout the play, the rising and lowering of the curtain in darkness, and the final pictures of each Act were suggested by the recent Japanese performances given in Boston.

Crompton Corsets

HAVE A QUARTER CENTURY'S GOOD REPUTATION.

Each section of the Magnetic Corset is so formed as to maintain the vertical lines of the body and readily conforms to the figure of the wearer. It is stayed with strips of highly tempered spring steel, GUARANTEED NOT TO COR-RODE, and metal-tipped to prevent the ends from cutting through the fabric, making the "Magnetic" an unequaled garment in its durability and comfort.

SOLD IN ALL THE STORES.

“It would be impossible to describe the menu in any limited space, but it is no exaggeration to state that anything in the line of eatables which can be procured for money, is to be found there, and so low priced withal that one wonders how it is done.”—The Mail and Empire.

“It is truly palatial in its arrangements for the comfort and satisfaction of its patrons, and few places of the kind in Canada can surpass it for elegance. This ‘Delmonico’ of Canada is a model of its kind, and those who once patronize it will find it satisfactory in every respect.”—Toronto Globe.
