PLANS FOR 1927

For the coming year each issue of The Canadian Horticulturist will contain regular departments on gladioli, irises, roses, peonies, shrubbery, dahlias, and the kitchen garden. These will be conducted by well-known horticulturists. Mrs. E. S. Rutherford, Nelson, B. C., will have a special department entitled "The Spirit of the Garden." The Question Box and Readers' Corner will be two departments through which readers may have questions answered and express their opinions. There will also be a special department for the Prairie provinces. You'll be delighted with the information which each issue will bring you.

WHAT READERS SAY

Mrs. W. M. Graham, Lakefield, Ontario, says—"I regard The Canadian Horticulturist as a most helpful aid to all flower lovers and to the amateur gardener especially. It covers the entire field most comprehensively. The Question Box is a boon in itself, and the contributors are like household friends."

Albert Sheath, Toronto, says—"I can hardly understand how you can publish The Canadian Horticulturist for the price. I would not be without it for $1.00 per year, as we get a full year's value every month."
