Of More Than Ordinary Grace

We went to nearly five hundred Paris shops and selected from perhaps half as many, that you might choose from a selection of the best that Paris can achieve. Never in the history of our Millinery Department have we been quite so proud of our display of new Parisian Hats, of the excellence of our other imported models and of the individual smartness of the Holt, Renfrew designed Hats.

A pressed shape of Black Hatter's Plush caught at the side with two fan-tied Ostrich plumes, one of Black, one of Resida Green.

Your inspection of these new Hats will prove a delightful occasion, and the moderate prices will more than please you.

Embroidered hats are all the rage, but they must be, in order to be of the smartest style, embroidered over their entire surfaces. Some of them are made in little, tight shapes that fit around the heads like veritable caps and others are shaped into turbans and toques in the most amusing manner. They have very little trimming, if any, and most of them rely absolutely upon their decorated surfaces to make them famous. The beauty of these little and colorful things is that they can be worn with almost any of the street clothes — with anything from the draped crepe dress in wool or silk, to the strictly tailored suit, they look entirely well. They are mere spots of color to carry out and accent the beauty of a gown that is otherwise quite plain and neutral in its coloring. Some of them are embroidered in different tones of wool, others in strands of thick and heavy silk, and still others have colors mingled with silver and gold and copper, until the hat takes on the most vivid and sparkling of appearances. Over a pair of bright eyes it is at its best and the expression of the face, as well as of the eyes, becomes crushed into nothingness, only to emerge with all their original freshness intact and correctly in place.

These little hats that are made of ribbon have only the ornamental pins to trim them or buckles of one sort or another. They are shaped softly to conform with the lines of the head and after their making has been accomplished, there seems very little left to be desired in the way of trimming. They are smartly correct in themselves and trimmed, as it were, in the making.

The tam o' shanters are carried out in both the embroidered hats and those that are made from ribbons shirred in a succession of rows.

Somehow in every group of wedding gifts there is one gift which is the centre of attraction — of universal admiration.

Examine such a gift and you will find that its appeal lies not in the dollars which it cost — often such a gift is quite inexpensive — but in that irresistible charm of individuality and character. Such gifts reflect the good taste and good judgment of the donor. They compliment the recipient. They outlast all other gifts and best of all they carry a true message of good wishes — not a mere formality.

The Store of Quality and Service

Replete with startling situations and shattering time honored traditions of the stage, The Last Warning proved an immediate and enduring success at the Klaw Theatre in New York where it remained for two hundred and thirty-six consecutive performances. The play is described as a laughter-novelty melodrama and is easily the best of its school. Thomas F. Fallon wrote the play from the novel of Wadsworth Camp entitled "The House of Fear". Many intimate side lights, on life behind the scenes are revealed, this being a direct violation of an old theory of the theatre which is based on the contention that such revelations tend to destroy the illusion of the stage. This theory is, however, consistently disproved by the emphatic success of The Last Warning. For obvious reasons the plot of the play can not be disclosed in advance without affecting the enjoyment of the performance and it is therefore withheld by the producers. The story is unfolded in three acts of rapidly increasing momentum, the intensity reaching such heights in the final act that police officers are stationed at the exits of the theatre. The Last Warning is a play to be long remembered.

Experience is what you get while you are looking for something else.

A certain painter is confined in an asylum. To persons who visit him he says:

"Look at this; it is my latest masterpiece."

They look, and see nothing but an expanse of bare canvas. They ask:

"What does that represent?"

"That? Why, that represents the passage of the Israelites through the Red Sea."

"Beg pardon, but where is the sea?"

"It has been driven back."

"And where are the Israelites?"

"They have crossed over."

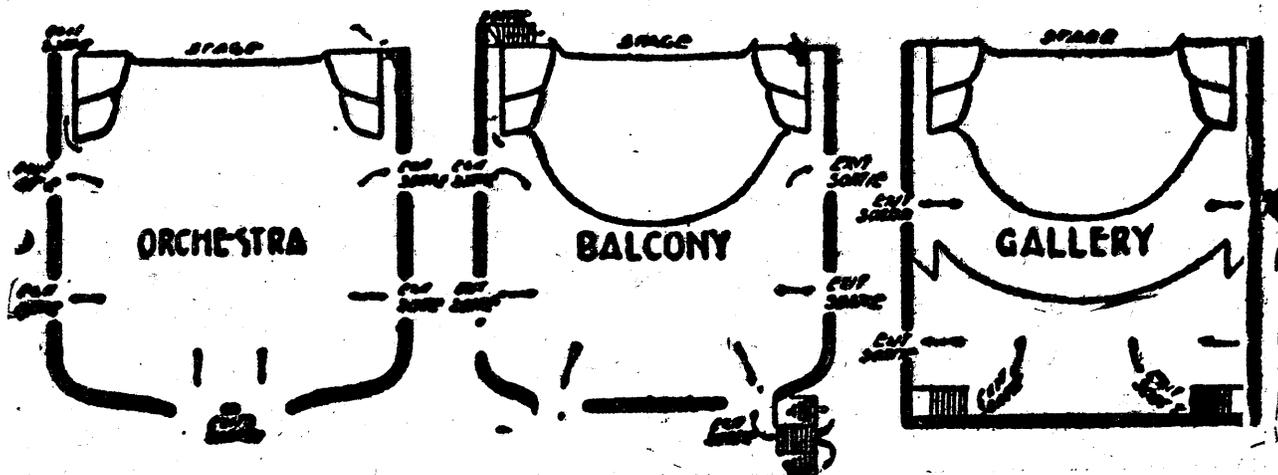

"And the Egyptians?"

"Will be here directly. That's the sort of painting I like — simple and unpretentious."

V-63

Expect Great Things in the New Cadillac

Even the superb quality which you have long associated with the name Cadillac is no adequate measure of the merits of the New V-63.

The simple truth is that Cadillac has advanced its own standards and achieved, in this car, heights of quality which are strictly NEW.

Your attention is directed, particularly, to these three elements:—

THE NEW CADILLAC V-TYPE 90°, 8-CYLINDER ENGINE — harmonized and balanced by entirely new principles of design to a degree of smoothness unapproached in automotive manufacture.

NEW BODY STYLES — destined by their graceful, symmetrical design, distinctive finish and exquisite appointments, to be the center of admiration in any company.

CADILLAC 4 WHEEL BRAKES — a safety factor developed with the care and thoroughness characteristic of Cadillac engineering.

New delights await you also in enhanced dependability, ease of control, riding restfulness and, indeed, in every phase of car performance.

It is entirely logical that Cadillac, pioneer-leader of eight-cylinder manufacture in America, should now raise multi-cylinder practice to an even higher pitch of excellence.

This is exactly what has happened in the New V-63, and Cadillac urges you to approach this fine car with GREAT EXPECTATIONS.
